Seniors to Have Baccalaureate Services Tomorrow Afternoon

Baccalaureate services for members of the graduating class will be held Sunday at 3 p.m., in the College auditorium, with the Rev. Hugh O'Donnell, president of the University of Notre Dame, speaking on "The American Postulates." The services are open to the public.

In the evening at 7:30, the annual college sing will be presented by the women's glee club and a cappella choir.

Seniors will assemble at 2:30 p.m. in front of Olds hall and the Woodshop, to the east of the signs indicating the different schools, for the processional to the baccalaureate service.

Follow Platform Party

Forming two single lines facing the Kedzie chemical laboratory, seniors will follow the platform party to the auditorium. The platform party is composed of Pres. John A. Hannah, Father

The correct way for seniors to wear caps is to have the flat top parallel with the ground. Women with pompadours or who roll their hair should rearrange the "hair-do" to conform with the foregoing. Latest standard practice no longer calls for shifting the position of the tassel when the degree is conferred.

Corsages should not be worn by senior women. There is a certain dignity about commencement which should be followed to make the exercises effective.

O'Donnell; Dr. D. Stanley Coors, minister of the Central Methodist church, Lansing, and Mac Cropsey, class president.

In case of rain, the profession will form in the basement of the auditorium.

The baccalaureate program will open with the processional to Victor Herbert's "Victory March" played by the MSC orchestra, under the direction of Alexander Schuster, professor of music, after which Dr. Coors will give the invocation.

Senior Soloist

... Well, He Tried

Lt. Ellis Brandt, public relations officer and former editorial director of the State News, took mercy on Edward Kennedy, Associated Press bureau chief, banished from Paris for didn't his premature flash of the V-E Day, and wangled him passage on the USS General Gorden about to sail. After helping Kennedy pack and seeing him off at the boat, Brandt learned that the ship was bound for Trinidad, not New York. Kennedy is taking the long way home.

... Foiled By A Bug

Man is certainly a wonderful creature when considering all the synthetic things he can make. Just ask Bob Williams, Marquette freshman. After working diligently for 25 minutes trying to mount a butterfly, Bob finally asked his instructor, Prof. E. I. McDaniels, to name this elusive creature, only to find the "insect" a synthetic, man-made bug of six or seven different nature-made insects. Phil Rosenblatt, Ialip, N. Y., sophomore, is responsible for this "thing" now on display at the Entomology lab.

Rifle Team Places Fifth in National Meet

Michigan State's rifle team placed fifth in the National Collegiate championship held last month. The University of Pittsburgh placed first with a score of 7710 out of a possible 8000. State followed with a score of 7518, only 192 behind the national champs.

The marksmen from MSC had previously piled up a list of championships, winning the Sixth Service Command meet, and the National William Randolph Hearst trophy.

State won the Sixth Service Command trophy by a score 200 points higher than any other competitor. In the shooting for the Hearst trophy, the marksmen hit 937 out of a possible 1000. The Hearst trophy now hangs in the ROTC office in Demonstration hall.

High Man in Meet

John B. Hill, an AST who is no longer on campus, was high man in both the national meet and the Sixth Service Command shooting. With a score of 771 out of 800. See RIFLE TEAM, Page 3

Skilled Actors Offer Shaw's 'Pygmalion'

Echoing to the finest dialogue since the production of Shakespeare's Othello three years ago, Fairchild theater last night was filled by an enthusiastic audience who witnessed the first performance of the drama department's production of Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion". The story of the flower girl from the gutter who was transformed into a lady of culture and distinction seems as fresh and challenging now as when it was first written.

A well rounded cast of which no individual member was outstanding maintained skillful pace and presented clearly the author's ideas. Paul Geisenhof, instructor in speech, as Henry Higgins, Edward Brink, Grand Rapids freshman, as Col. Pickering, and Patricia Beechler, Charlotte junior, as Eliza Doolittle carried the heaviest roles. William Thielicke, Escanaba junior, as Alfred Doolittle and Frances Joyner, Battle Creek sophomore, as Mrs. Higgins, gave thoughtful interpretations. But so evenly balanced was the entire cast that individual scenes stay in the memory rather than individual performances.

The scene of the tea party stood out as it does in any performance of "Pygmalion," and Liza's conversation with Pickering in the last act was another high point of the play.

Any of Shaw's plays makes taxing demands upon its cast and director. Subtlety of thought, penetrating wit, and social satire are offered against a background of polished manners and innate good breeding. Last night's cast was most successful in presenting the social satire. The sacrifice of subtlety, however, made the theme of the play clearer to the audience and was therefore, perhaps, justified.

Don Buell, director, is to be congratulated for undertaking such a difficult vehicle and thanked for bringing to the campus a play worthy of the time and efforts of the cast.

The play will be repeated this evening at 8:15.—T.R.

*U.S. Troops Drive South-From Shuri Against Dwindling Jap Resistance

GUAM, June 2 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner, Jr.'s 10th U.S. army troops completed capture yesterday of the fortress city of Shuri, battered keystone of Nippon's smashed southern Okinawa defense line, and drove southward against diminishing resistance.

Howland's Band To Play Tonight At Senior Ball

Ending an activity-filled week for the seniors will be the annual senior commencement ball to be held tonight in the Union ballroom from 9 to 12. This semi-formal affair will feature Rosemary Howland's all-girl band, a familiar music-making group at campus dances.

Adding to the cokes which are on the refreshment menu, will be intermission entertainment. Doug Hird, Farmington junior, will act as master of ceremonies during this part of the evening.

Yvonne Behler, Grand Rapids sophomore; Betty Lou Ruhling, and Roy Kroth, Hamtramck senior, will sing a trio number. Eugenia Libby, Okemos freshman, is also scheduled to perform a dance routine. Jacqueline Bullen, Jackson junior, will sing a solo.

Patrons for the dance have been announced as being Prof. and Mrs. M. M. Cory and Prof. and Mrs. E. B. Hill.

Tickets have been limited to 200 couples with the seniors getting the first chance to obtain them. All underclassmen and outsiders may also buy them now. Tickets may be bought at the Union desk and Administration building.

Committee members in charge of the arrangements for this event are: seniors Althea Kraker, Beulah; Audrey Stein, Wayne, and George Borst, North Quincy, Mass.

French Stop In Syria

LONDON, June 1 (AP)—A "cease fire" order by French commanders brought at least temporary peace to troubled Syria today as the United States agreed to act as mediator in the dispute which had cost at least 400 lives in Damascus alone and had threatened to plunge the Arab world into revolt.

The central areas of the American lines, which had bulged badly northward as four divisions virtually encircled Shuri while the Japanese held tight in that citadel, were straightened and shortened by the day's gains. Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz reported in today's communique.

Penetrate Southward

Strong elements on both flanks made new penetrations toward the south into enemy held ground. Progress was so great that Nimitz reported "mopping up operations were in progress in newly captured areas behind the lines."

Several hours earlier, Maj. Gen. John R. Hodge, commander of the 24th army corps, told Associated Press Correspondent Al Dopking that only weather now could stop the Yanks. He said that to all outward appearances, organized Japanese resistance on Okinawa was on the verge of collapse.

Detailing the ground action, which was supported strongly by marine aircraft and heavy naval guns, Nimitz reported:

Resistance at Kokuba

The 6th marine division moved forward to occupy about 1,000 yards of the north bank of the Kokuba river. It met considerable resistance from Japanese in the vicinity of Kokuba village, but forward elements crossed captured Shichina hill masses after an advance of about 2,000 yards, which gave them positions overlooking the Naha-Honabaru highway crossing the island from east to west.

Launching a powerful attack on the east, the 7th infantry division advanced 400 to 1,000 yards to capture positions in the southern Ozato Mura hills, meeting the most stubborn resistance of the day.

Delta Gamma Sorority To Organize Chapter On State's Campus

Delta Gamma, national women's social sorority, will establish the Alpha Xi chapter on campus Friday when 23 women will be pledged. The University of Michigan Xi chapter of Delta Gamma will be on campus that day to officiate at the formal pledging ceremony.

Pledges will be initiated as active members next fall term and formal rushing will begin in January in accordance with the new PanHellenic delayed rushing rules.

The group next year will include a number of Delta Gamma transfers from other schools who will act as guidance members, and the new pledges who have been personally interviewed and selected by Lansing alumnae and the province secretary.

Delta Gamma was organized in 1874 at Lewis School, Oxford, Mo., and is a charter member of the national PanHellenic congress.

IT HAPPENED THIS WEEK

By BOB KAMINS

PACIFIC:

Increased action wherever the Jap is located is the order of action in the Pacific theater of operations. Superforts in ever-larger numbers are blasting the industrial areas of Japan into nothingness. The Japs have admitted that the center of Tokyo has been wiped off the map by B-29 smashes, and that their major port of Yokohama is burning fiercely from air bombardment.

As an example of what is yet to come, General James Doolittle has been assigned to duty in the Pacific in command of his eighth air forces which so effectively helped crush the Germans in Europe.

Nazi generals have stated that it was Allied air might that forced the Germans to finally surrender unconditionally. With Doolittle's appointment and our air attacks on the uptake we may assume many uncomfortable ideas are running through the minds of the Nip war lords.

Okinawa fighting saw a bit of a let up this week with torrential rains. However, when U. S. forces did get into action, some appreciable gains were registered. The capitol city of Naha finally fell to doughboys and marines, but when they entered the town they found it deserted.

Shuri castle, also a main key-stone in the Jap defense, was taken this week and it appears now that American forces are entering the final phase of this blood-bath battle.

American forces have suffered severe casualties, both on land and sea, but after almost two months of fighting, the tide appears to be turning.

EUROPE

The danger of a general explosion among the allies as a result of the critical situation in Syria and Lebanon seems to be building up rapidly. Heavy fighting has spread throughout Syria. Arab forces are said to have captured a town 60 miles south of the embattled capitol of Damascus. Both London and Paris plainly show nervousness, and both the French and British cabinet have held emergency sessions.

London has disclosed that the British are taking military steps to ease the crisis in the middle east. Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, told the House of Commons that the British commander in chief in the middle east has been ordered to intervene to prevent any more bloodshed.

He said the London government profoundly regrets that it has to take such action, but that it is necessary to act in the interests of the security of the whole middle east.

A responsible French spokesman, implying that the British were involved in causing the trouble, asserted that a direct collision between Britain and France over Syria was possible.

The other big news in Europe is that the war crimes commission got started in London in an atmosphere of intense secrecy. The representatives of 16 of the United Nations are meeting behind closed doors, laying the groundwork for the trial of Nazis.

HOME FRONT

President Harry S. Truman has been making most of the important domestic news this past week. He asked Congress for sweeping powers to reorganize his executive branch of government to meet the coming post war era. Strong opposition is expected to materialize.

In Michigan a big news item is the closing down of the Willow Run Bomber plant, throwing an estimated 200 thousand men out of work. Government officials say that at the end of this year 5 million men will be unemployed because of reconversion.

This column concludes the series of "It Happened This Week."

LETTERS

To the Editor

AN open letter to the Basic College faculty—

Dear Sirs: We have sufficient trouble passing these comprehensives without having to contend with the mass cheating which was perfectly obvious during the English comprehensive last week and which will no doubt be present in the remaining exams.

The Basic College students have been aware all year of tests having been passed from one section to another, but they placed their faith in the certainty that the comprehensives, being fair, would eliminate the previous dishonesty. Even this has been denied them.

During the English comprehensive, students were allowed to wander in and out as they chose, pooling information on their extensive leaves. They held conversations not only outside but also inside the auditorium during the exam.

One would expect that high school graduates, with the added advantage of a year of Basic College, would at least have grown up enough to do their own work; and if they cannot refrain from cheating, they should be forcibly kept from cheating.

Since we have to base our whole year's work on one exam, we, who came here seriously intent on getting an education, should at least be guaranteed the right of fair competition, minus cheating.

Finkbeiner to Captain Spartan Track Team

Wayne Finkbeiner, 23 year-old discharged serviceman from Hastings, has been named captain by his mates of the 1946 Spartan track team.

The election gives Finkbeiner his third captaincy and a rare distinction as a leader of athletic teams at two colleges. In 1939 and again in 1941, Finkbeiner captained the cross country teams at Western Michigan which he attended prior to entering the army.

Weekly Letter to Men in the Service

June 2, 1945

DEAREST JOHNNY, Why didn't you tell me about all those citations? I almost slipped when your mother wrote me that you had more than enough points to come home. And when she said that you'd be on your way soon, I mashed my molars and tried to think what I could salvage from last year's clothes. In my excitement, I completely forgot about two term papers, so try to hold off just until I graduate. After the ninth, I'm all yours.

We had a breather this week on Memorial day, after having had a memorial convocation on Tuesday. There were several picnics and more than several sun burns on Thursday, so I think I can safely predict that red will be in vogue this season.

The sorority sing was held Sunday in front of the bandshell. The groups performed beautifully with obligatos by a few trains, ducks, and Beaumont tower. The Thetas won with their "Clair de Lune" and an Irish medley. They surely deserved to win, as did Pat Fisher, who has led the Thetas for four years. The Sigma Kappas and Alpha Phis took second and third places.

The Big Sisters went over the top on their recruiting quota even without your help, having signed up over 1,000 coeds to lead next fall's freshmen into the paths of righteousness for the college's sake. It sounds as if they will be well taken care of.

Seniors will get rigged up in their caps and gowns tomorrow afternoon for their baccalaureate service at which the Rev. J. Hugh O'Donnell, president of Notre Dame, will speak. By commencement time, they should get over the diploma jitters, with swingout and baccalaureate processions to their credit.

I'm getting the jitters too, about seeing you. I hope I can remember those old jokes you used to laugh at. My repertoire took a furlough when you went overseas.

Romantically yours,
PEG.

Let's Go - PUT THE BIG DRIVE OVER!

- ★ The Seventh War Loan is an "all out" call to victory.
- ★ No American can falter. No American can afford not to answer this vital call.
- ★ Victory comes high. Every day it is delayed costs us dearly in American blood and lives.
- ★ Last year there were two War Bond Drives by this time. The Seventh is doubly big because it's two drives in one.
- ★ That's why this is the most urgent war loan of the war. No matter how many bonds you bought in the past, you must buy more in this great Seventh.
- ★ If you have any income, from any source—whether from work, land or capital—you have a personal quota to make in the 7th. Look for it in the box to the right.
- ★ We must all buy bonds in proportion. Let's meet our quota—let's exceed it if we can.
