 Today's Campus

 Lullia, Please

 The heat is upon us, warm days are coming, and we are all aware of the need to be careful in the sun. Please remember to check the weather forecast before you go out in the sun and take appropriate measures to protect yourself.

 Old Home Week

 After next week, for someone, it will be the last time anywhere is good for a reason, even the middle of summer. If you think about it, the 4th of July is one of the most beautiful days of the year in Michigan. It is also the time when we celebrate our country's independence from Great Britain. The holiday is celebrated with parades, fireworks, and picnics across the state.

 Something New Has Happened

 New student activities are being announced in recent issues of the school newspaper. As the academic year begins, students are encouraged to get involved in campus life by joining clubs and organizations that align with their interests. Joining these groups can help students build connections with peers and gain valuable leadership experience.

 No Admission Price to Be Charged For Mystery Thriller Production

 "The Mystery of the Million Dollar Retainer," the latest production from the Michigan State College Drama Club, will be presented on the stage of the new auditorium on the campus. The play, directed by Mrs. C. W. Richardson, will be performed on September 12th at 8:00 p.m. Admission will be free for all students.

 Home Ec Group To Visit MSC Next Week

 Plans have been completed for the home economics conference on county chair¬ men and recreation leaders from Michigan, which will begin in the first week of September.

 Conference Site

 The conference will be held in North William's College.

 McCaffee Joins List of Faculty Overseas

 The faculty members who will be traveling overseas include: William C. Davis, director of the faculty and division of overseas programs. The program is designed to enhance the educational opportunities for students at Michigan State College.

 Variety Program To Be Held For Soldiers

 Michigan State is planning a variety show to be performed as Fort Custer on Sunday under the direction of Donald Furler, assistant professor of speech. The show will feature various talent acts, including music, dance, and comedy.

 Caught in the Draft Scheduled as Movie For Friday Night

 "Caught in the Draft" starring Robert Montgomery and Susan Hayward will be shown on Friday night at 8:00 p.m. in the new auditorium on the campus.

 MSC Library Rated High With Other Colleges

 In 1919, a librarian at Michigan State agricultural college, charted the library's growth. In that year, the college received one of the most beautiful and complete college libraries in the United States. The library continues to expand and improve, with a focus on providing excellent resources for students and faculty.

ENGINEERS Start New Organizations Anticipating an increase in the enrollment of engineering students within the next year, a committee has been formed which plans to form a representative organization for all students majoring in engineering.

The organization is to govern all engineering associations such as technical clubs, organizations and social groups. The committee's recommendations, for a new corporation, will be discussed.

The local morning newspaper, whether in Basic College or in upper school, is interested in the distribution of the group's minutes. The committee's recommendations, for a new organization, will be considered.
