Council Questions Trailer Housing For Married Vets

Lansing city council members met Monday night to take action against arrangements completed by Michigan State to house war veterans returning to college this fall.

Unknown to the council, the college had closed a contract with the federal public housing authority for the use of a trailer camp on Lyons avenue near Mt. Hope road, Lansing, to accommodate the families of married veterans enrolled in the college.

Vote Removal

Aldermen voted unanimously for the city attorney to start action to have the trailer camp, as well as another project on North Grand River avenue, moved outside the city.

The council introduced the resolution as a result of complaints made by residents in the vicinity of the Lyons avenue camp who are demanding that the units be moved away.

Trailers Well Equipped

The camp, which has never been used since it was set up for war workers, has 50 trailers in large and small sizes, which will rent for $25 and $20 a month. Each trailer contains an oil heating stove, gasoline range, rollaway bed, ice refrigerator, divan, chairs, tables, and other

Playing the role of the Duke of Mantua is Ernice Lawrence, tenor, and native of Texas.

The company consists of between 65 and 75 artists and technicians. During its tour the company travels an average of 8,000 miles and gives six or seven performances a week.

Rules Rush In

Women Students To Discuss Laws With AWS Heads

Women students are urged to take advantage of the Women's convocation today at 4 p.m. in College auditorium so that they may meet Sue Averill, president of AWS, and other members of the women's governing body. All 4 p.m. classes are excused.

The informal roundtable discussion will answer many student questions about AWS and the rules under which all women students live. Details concerning the test on the laws and by-laws in the AWS handbook, to be given on Oct. 18, will be fully explained at the convocation.

Home Ecs to Publish Weekly Paper

Home economics students are taking their hands from the bread dough to plunge them into the ink pot at least long enough to publish a paper, "The Home Ec Herald," every Monday morning.

The first issue was a surprise extra for the home economics banquet last May. Monday a new issue, the first of 12 for this term, made an appearance in the form of two mimeographed sheets.

News Features

At present the paper includes local and national news of interest to home economics students. Later a feature page containing new developments and interesting facts in the field will be added. This page will perform the two functions of providing information and also practice in writing to students intending to go into commercial work after graduation.

Responsible for the first issues were Jane Helbig, Cleveland Heights, O., junior; Marie Matte, Detroit junior; Virginia Atkinson, Cleveland Heights, senior; Carol DesJardins and Suzanne Hummitch, Lapeer juniors.

Need Workers

At present the staff is loosely organized to accommodate any necessary changes and additional members. There is a need for workers in the editorial, business and art staffs. All those interested should contact Jane Helbig by signing the list on the home economics bulletin board.

Durant to Speak To College Staff

... WILL DURANT ...

"What is Truth?" will be the first topic discussed by Dr. Will Durant, author of philosophy and literature, in his series of six lectures beginning at 8 p.m. Monday in the Fairchild theater for staff members, wives, guests and graduate students.

Tuesday evening Dr. Durant will lecture on "What is Man?" and his four following topics are "What is Mind?", "What is Morality?", "What is Beauty?", and "What is Civilization?"

He began his literary career as a writer of the famed Haldeeman Julius "Blue Books," pocket treatises on philosophy, history and literature. Durant first came to the attention of the general public with the publication of "Story of Philosophy," a work which sold three million copies and made literary history.

Graduate students will secure tickets from Ralph C. Huston, dean of school of graduate studies, 200 Kedzie Chemical laboratory. Staff members will get them from the dean of their school.

'Blythe Spirit' Castings Will Be Settled Tonight

Final selections for the parts in the term play "Blythe Spirit" will be made tonight in the Spartan room of the Union at 7:30, according to Don Buell, director of the play.

Students wanted for this last try-out will be called by Buell. All those who were not able to attend the first try-outs Monday, Tuesday or yesterday should come to the final auditions tonight, Buell said.

State Art Professor Will Have Exhibition

A display of painting by Walter Quirt, assistant professor of literature and fine arts at MSC, will be exhibited by Durlacher Brothers in New York City during the month of October.

near the semi-circular drive with short talks by Pres. John A. Hannah and Coach Charley Bachman. Red Schneider, Lansing junior, will act as master of ceremonies.

Following songs and fight yells, the college band will play and the MSC cheerleaders, under the direction of Bob Turner, Lapeer, Ind., sophomore, will lead a snake dance around the campus to the bonfire which will be lit across the Red Cedar river.

Council Directed

Working under Student Council co-chairman Bud Smith, Dearborn senior, IFC has planned the pep rally program with Dick Hubbard, Huntington Park, Cal., junior, in charge of arrangements.

Dick Snook's orchestra will play for the dance from 5 to midnight, which has been arranged by Union Board members to follow the pep rally.

Second Rally Scheduled

Another rally for next week was discussed at the council meeting, this time to be planned in conjunction with the Lansing Downtown Coaches association.

Schneider will head the committee for this program which is tentatively arranged to include a parade from Pennsylvania avenue to the capitol building in Lansing.

Cleveland Splits Double-header With Detroit

BRIGGS STADIUM, Detroit, Mich. Sept. 26 (AP) — Steve Gromek, a Detroit boy who got away, pitched the Cleveland Indians to a tense 3 to 2 victory over the Tigers in the second game of today's vital double header after the Detroiters had clinched a tie for the American league championship by slugging out on 11 to 0 win in the opener.

More than 41,000 fans, who jammed into Briggs stadium in hopes of seeing the Bengals sweep the twin bill and sew up the pennant instead saw the tribe claw from behind with a three-run rally in the sixth inning of the nightcap and win going away as Gromek throttled the home team with a single hit in the last four frames.

As a result of the split the Tigers will leave for St. Louis Friday night still needing to win one of their final two games against the Browns to take the title and avert a play-off with the Washington Senators here next Monday.

Spartans In Service

By MARSHALL STUART

CAPT. DEAN M. CHAPMAN . . .

43, of General Patton's tenth armored division, is home on a forty-five day furlough from Paris where he was last stationed. He has been overseas fifteen months and holds the bronze star for gallantry. He was a business administration student at State.

LT. PAUL THOMPSON . . .

43, is now on duty with the Chinese combat command, a unit of the U. S. army working in the field with our allies. He arrived in China with the American 475th infantry regiment when most of that organization was blown from Burma by the air transport command.

He was commissioned from the field artillery school at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, and was stationed at Camp Carson, Colorado, before going overseas in October, 1944, to become a platoon leader of the 475th.

Lieutenant Thompson has been presented with the combat infantryman's badge and is entitled to wear two stars on his Asiatic-Pacific theater ribbon.

CAPT. GERALD L. CRANE . . .

42, has been doubly honored for his meritorious operational combat service to the 12th air force. The bronze star medal and the DFC were awarded the twenty-six year-old flying officer by the commanding general of the 12th air force.

has been advanced to the rank of lieutenant colonel. He is serving as assistant quartermaster for the AAF headquarters of the middle-Pacific area, which are located in the Hawaiian islands. On April 27, 1941, Lt. Colonel Kincaide entered the army as a second lieutenant and he served overseas for fourteen months.

He was graduated from the engineering school at State in 1940.

East Lansing Stores Offer Footwear Line

With prospects of shoe ration coupons becoming only a war-time memory, two new shoe departments have been opened to serve the footwear needs of Spartan men and women.

Jacobson's have restored a shoe department which will provide many different kinds of shoes for coeds, according to Ralph Link, shoe department manager. Both rationed and non-rationed shoes, dress pumps, bedroom slippers, casuals and stadium boots, are included in the stock.

New to East Lansing is Shepard's shoe store under the management of Homer Shepard and located across from the home economics building. The store is carrying several lines of shoes, including Freeman's shoes for men and Tread-easy, Jane's and Healthy-feet for coeds. Cosmetics and jewelry are also being offered by Shepards.

That Does It

By MARION HECKEL

WELL, here we go again. By this time, everybody has been to just enough classes to discover that the professors are really kidding when they say they don't assign much work, and already the plaintive cry of "quiet please, I'm studying" is echoing down the halls of campus and off-campus residences.

Besides these pieces of evidence, the lines around the restaurants in town are proof enough to any passerby that Michigan State is definitely back in session.

After a summer session of wondering whether anybody else is wandering around the campus, the milling mobs look good from here, but the mystery of the week is where are they all living and eating . . . or are they?

THE incoming class of freshmen will never know just what it means, at least we all sincerely hope they don't have to learn, to be "at war for peace." Now, after four years of grinding the old belt, we're getting back into the swing of things, and the best evidence of this is the big pre-Michigan pep rally everybody is going to tomorrow night.

State didn't play football for a year and last year, despite a six-game winning streak, the Spartan spirit just wasn't up to the peak. But the team goes into action Saturday morning against State's ancient and traditional enemy, and tomorrow night's rally will be the first organized display of Michigan State feeling since V-J day.

After three years of complaining that MSC students are lethargic and disunited, school is starting with an attitude of "let's get going," so make the pep rally only the beginning, and keep the Spartan spirit on the move.

Serious Shortage

Pres. John A. Hannah said he had not been informed of the council's intention to have the project removed, and there was little possibility that the decision of the council would be acted upon.

Hannah stated that veterans attending the college were assigned to the camp through the counselor for men and that a serious housing shortage existed for the approximately 130 married veterans at MSC.

MSC Counts On Flying Z For Victory

Spartans to Use Play Against Michigan In State's First Game

When Coach Charlie Bachman's boys invade Ann Arbor next Saturday, Michigan will be up against something new and different. Charlie Bachman will be using his flying Z for the first time against Michigan.

Used last year in the Spartan seven game schedule, it paid off large dividends, in that the MSC men won six out of seven games. The only loss was against Michigan.

Started using it, Grant that Bachman first used the Flying Z offense, a system run on the balanced line theory that every play should hit or threaten the middle of the line before discussing the rest of the line.

The Flying Z lines up in a seven-man line with the fullback half-step ahead of the fullback. The original buck line is run by the fullback. Allows deception.

The fullback actually receive the ball and passes through his own hands to the man who handles it in the usual running manner. It permits deception and power without loss of yardage as a blocker.

Interesting because it's new, the Flying Z named because of the figure suggested by a line down to connect each backfield player. It will be closely watched this year.

Card Dance Honorary Reorganizes Plans For Membership

Orchestrated national dance honorary on campus, held its first meeting of the year Tuesday, at which time reorganization of the club was discussed. As a result, future plans for Orchestrated include the abolishment of the junior and senior branches of the dance group.

Hereafter there will be just one division working under the name of Orchestrated with prospective members drawn from the dance world.

All present members that have been elected into either of the two former groups will be eligible for membership in the new organization.

Plans were also under discussion for the annual dance program offered by the group.

State Offers Triple Threat With Centers

Whatever tactics the Michigan eleven may employ in Ann Arbor on Saturday, one thing is certain, there will be little plowing through the center of the line.

Brady Sullivan, junior veterinarian from Steubenville, O., will be playing his last season at center and expects to make it his best. Honorary captain of the 1944 State football team, Brady was the stabilizing force that contributed much to the making of the Spartan's fine record last fall.

Freshman Player

Weight: 240; height: 5 foot, 11 inches; a description that spectators are going to become familiar with this season. That's Walt Vezmar, Detroit freshman, veteran of the army campaign at Anzio, an all-state selection in high school ball before entering service, one who shows promise for a bright future in college football.

Center Candidate

Another candidate for the center position is Ralph Wenger, Saginaw freshman. Fortified by three years of experience, Ralph is a hard worker and is likely to see a lot of action on the Spartan line.

Run, Ump, Run Cards Gain Hope At Cubs' Expense

CHICAGO, Sept. 26 (AP) — In one hilarious inning which featured just about all the comic touches in the book, as well as a few new laughs, the St. Louis Cardinals waltzed five runs home to crush the Chicago Cubs 11 to 6 today and keep the fading fires of their National league pennant hopes burning.

And when it wound up, there was still a joker in the deck, for jolly Cholly Grimm, the Cubs' pilot, had played the game under protest from early in the seventh inning onward, when the four umpires handling this set reversed themselves in the Cubs' favor.

The protest was made officially before any of the five St. Louis runs romped across the plate in the silly seventh, and while one of the larger crowds of the season—42,989 (including 42,289 paid)—watched. The entire squads of both clubs took turns chasing the umpires around the premises.

Games Will Be Aired On College Station

All Michigan State college football games, both at home and away, with the exception of the Miami game, will be broadcast this fall by Don Wattrick, over radio station WKAR.

The play-by-play description of Spartans in action on the gridiron are to be brought to listeners through the courtesy of the Coca Cola company, over a specially designed network.

Arranged by the college department of publications, the network will include, beside WKAR, East Lansing; WKZO, Kalamazoo; WJEF, Grand Rapids, and WCAR, Pontiac.

Spartan Swimming Coach To Return From Italy

Coach Charles McCaffree, on leave of absence when the Spartan tankers brought home a National title last summer, will return within the next two weeks. Coach McCaffree left Italy sometime last week, but did not know when or where he would hit the States.

Coach McCaffree was in charge of the swimming rehabilitation program in Italy. He maintained his headquarters in Rome, where he occupied the pool formerly owned by Mussolini. The roof of the pool could be slid open if the weather permitted. Also the diving boards could be adjusted to any height desired. Concluding his two months abroad, Coach McCaffree arranged and held a swimming meet for the armies of Italy and North Africa. In this meet were brought together former stars of the United States and other countries.

When Coach McCaffree returns home he will immediately set about to organize his tankers for a season of winter competition. At present all the men have returned who won for State its first National A.A.U. title last summer at Akron, O.

CIO Threatens Nationwide Oil Strike

Union Executive Council Authorizes New Action If Conference Fails

CHICAGO, Sept. 26 (AP) — Oil industry labor and management continued at loggerheads today over a union 30 per cent wage increase demand as government conciliators strove to effect a settlement and avert a threatened nationwide oil workers' strike.

The CIO oil workers international union exploded an announcement that its executive council had authorized a nationwide strike if this conference fails—a conference which Secretary of Labor Schwollenbach said "must not be permitted to fail."

A union spokesman said a national strike would affect 250,000 workers, the men who run refineries, principally, which produce the gasoline now available to motorists without ration cards but already curtailed by a seven-state stoppage of 35,000 men.

"Nothing has been accomplished; the position of both sides is unchanged," said an industry spokesman, Daniel T. Pierce of Sinclair refining company, during one recess.

State Department Announces Letter Delivered to Franco

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP) — The stilled voice of Franklin D. Roosevelt delivered a stinging indictment of Generalissimo Franco today and expressed fervent hope that Spain would get rid of its Fascist regime.

The late president's denunciation was contained in a letter he wrote last March 10 to Norman Armour, United States ambassador to Spain, which was made public by the state department.

He asserted bluntly that Franco had been "helped to power by Fascist Italy and Nazi Germany," that Franco's government was "totalitarian" and that it had tried "to spread its Fascist party ideas in the western hemisphere." The letter contained at least an implied threat that the United States would withhold substantial economic assistance from Spain until the Franco regime was thrown out.

College Women Entertained at AAUW Reception

The American Association of University Women entertained approximately 300 college women at an open reception Tuesday evening. The guests, chiefly from the vicinity of Lansing, represented colleges from all parts of the nation. In the receiving line was Mrs. Maurice Gonon, counselor for women at MSC.

State was also represented by Dean Marie Dye of the home economics department. Others of the home economics faculty present were Beatrice Grant, Alice Towson and Elizabeth Walbert.

Others representing State were Irma Gross, Dorothy Greig, Jessie Finley Klocke, Marjorie Gesner, Leona McLeod and Esther Everett.

Also Dorothy Benson, Corrine White, Arlene Brill, Ann Cord, Zoe McCormick and Mary Moore.

Concluding the list of guests were Joan Plumber, Mary Gephart, Mary Alice Phillips, Jane Werden, Eloise Bishop, Elizabeth Morrison, Henrietta Alubowicz, Mary Jean Keiger and Mary B. Wood.
