Women Attend Convocation

A mock AWC council meeting was presented to the women students who crowded College auditorium Tuesday night for the women's convocation. The meeting was deviated to accomplish two specific purposes. First, to acquaint the audience with the work of the women who are already occupied as officers and systematic work in the women's governing body. Secondly, the meeting provided an opportunity to illustrate the actual working of an on-campus women's council meeting of the American Women's Cooperative Union.

Procedure Followed

The meeting followed the usual pattern of the student council and the convention, with the women, members of the Student council and the convention, with the women, members of the Student council, in order. The meeting was opened by President T. M. Thomas, of Dearborn. The meeting was recessed for a short time during the business session. Some of the other duties include study of the student council, chairman, director of the college, social committee, and president of the MSC club.

Large Book Purchase

Stulls Michigan State Library Collection

Purchase of a 10,000 volume project from the estate of the late Dr. R. K. St think the MSC library to well over 200,000 volumes. A CWU official, who was present, presented this year, indicated, announced yesterday. CWU drama and fiction of the eighteenth and nineteenth century were particularly represented in the collection. There are, and it is considered valuable to the Shakespearean collection, as a basis of general biography and travel. The library will be temporarily stored, when it is completed. The books in the series serve as an effective nucleus for a broadening collection. The suburbs will own several books which will be purchased at the board of education, and will be placed in the school library. The books will be distributed among the school districts, and will be available to the public.

Hirohito Talks To M'Arthur In Record Call

Unceremonious Meeting Symbolizes Decline Of Jap Empire

TOKYO, Sept. 27 (P)—Empire Hirohito banded, the exalted position of Japan’s throne today in a historic call on the foreign ruler of his broken empire, asking for 35 minutes with General MacArthur—possibly about the dark and rich future of Japan—without a word about denunciation.

A spokesman declared that Hirohito himself selected the occasion, which symbolized the meeting of Japan from the proud and arrogant first power in Asia to a fourth-rate nation. The Japanese central function is that both allied heads—Hirohito and the imperial government—had "reached an agreement" to deal the topic of the conference in secret.

It was assumed, however, that they discussed problems of American occupation, and possible abdication, which again was being rumored without any contermarization.

Hirohito’s call on MacArthur was in keeping as it was right to engage with strong. The emperor arrived at the American embassy in a dark, somewhat old automobile bearing the imperial flag but not painted in the imperial colors. The black curtain was drawn.

The Editor:

Dear Editor,

I am writing to voice my concern about the current state of our local government. While I understand the challenges that come with leading a community, I feel that the recent decisions made by the council have not taken into account the needs and desires of the residents.

Specifically, I am concerned about the proposed budget cuts that have been announced. These cuts will result in the reduction of essential services, such as police and fire protection, which are crucial to the safety and well-being of our community. I believe that these services should not be compromised in order to save money.

Furthermore, I am concerned about the lack of transparency in the decision-making process. It seems that important decisions are being made behind closed doors without adequate input from the public.

I urge the council to consider the impact of their decisions on the residents and to engage more actively with the community. Only through open dialogue and collaboration can we ensure that our community is well-served.

Sincerely,
[Your Name]

The Editor:

Dear Editor,

I am writing to express my gratitude for the recent changes made to the local government. These changes have been long overdue and have truly made a positive impact on the community.

Specifically, I am referring to the decision to increase funding for education and social services. These changes will not only benefit our children and families but also strengthen our community as a whole.

I also appreciate the efforts made to improve transparency in decision-making processes. The council has been more open and accessible to the public, which is a step in the right direction.

Thank you for your commitment to serving the community. I look forward to seeing more positive changes in the future.

Sincerely,
[Your Name]

United States Plans Policy Revisions

Actions of Argentina Causes Review of U.S. Political Attitude

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP)—The United States government disclosed tonight that a general review of U.S. policies in Argentina is imminent, because of recent political developments in that country.

The disclosure came in response to requests for comment from Acting Secretary Dean Acheson on a letter made by the former ambassador to Argentina Spruille Braden.

Returning to this country, Braden said at a news conference in Puerto Rico that the American nations could not sit idly by and watch the course of events in Argentina.

ArgentineSZ

The regime there has repudiated the war of 1846 and had caused the wholesale arrests of a number of leading intellectuals. These actions provoked sharp comment by several members of the United States congress, who condemned the trend of diplomatic relations and the imposition of economic sanctions.

Plan to Wait

Through a state department spokesman, Acheson wrote that he would have to consult with President Truman, Secretary of State Byrnes who is expected in a day or so from London and with others before making any statement.

Three Special Ag Enterprise Courses To Be Offered This Fall to Veterans

Aimed at returning war veterans, these special training courses have been started this fall at State in agricultural enterprises.

Combining on-campus instruction and training on-the-job, the project will operate on a 16-weeks basis and run parallel to the regular college curriculum. Offering one-year courses in forest practice and farm equipment service and sales, and also a two-year course in nursery and landscape management, the work will be on a cooperative basis with the college and agricultural industries of the state.

Applicants with three years of high school, an honorable discharge from the armed services, or satisfactory working experience, and at least 19 years of age will be considered.

The program, announced by W. T. Tenney, director of short courses, started Sept. 21.

A joint committee representing the college and the industry planned the training program.

One term of college campus instruction will be done and three terms of college work will be required of all work in the college.
