LETTERS . . . To The Editor

DEAR Sir:
I am a transfer student from the University of Kentucky. She was a fine and true Alma Mama to me. In fact, my poem on Kentucky, pledging my everlasting love for her, graces the fly sheet of the 1945 Kentucky year book, the "Kentuckian."

Now another fine and true Alma Mama has taken me under her wing to guide my wayward impulses. This Saturday afternoon, my two great Alma Mamas are to meet in a mighty battle upon the gridiron. How can I yell "Go get 'em, Kentucky" and "Rock 'em and sock 'em, Michigan State" at the same time? I is a misable personage.
Bill Almy

TO the Editor:
I have no idea why I'm addressing this letter to you for I know that you can't do any more about this car ban than we can, but I just had to get this idea on paper some way so I took the liberty of pretending it was for you.

This is what I have to say. It's about time that we stopped this useless muttering among ourselves and writing letters to the editors which no one read but people who feel the same way about it as we do. It's time that we wrote to the people who can do something about the "no driving" law. That's right. The people who passed the law or the man or men who control this group of people.

On the whole most of us are reacting to this situation as we do to the weather. We all talk about it, but no one does anything about it. The time is now. Let your ideas be known to the men in power. If every student at MSC would make some move to regain our rights, the result

Mad As Hopps

By JANICE HOPPS

ORDINARILY I'm on the side of the war veteran and I hope I'm still on his side. But at present my ill will is aimed at either some disgruntled veterans or a touching bit of ersatz journalism.

The college housing situation this year, be it for veterans or be it for untouched civilians, is a problem that everyone's aware of, griping about and temporarily stuck with. Whether we'll admit it or not, it's a fact that the housing problem is enjoying national fame at the present time. The stigma is not confined to MSC.

Connecting my temporarily distorted opinion on war veterans and the facts on MSC housing, I refer to a recent issue of a Detroit newspaper in which GI students at State are quoted as saying: "We've just moved from the barracks of Bataan to the barracks of MSC, and from France's foxholes to Lansing's cubbyholes."

From thence went the story on the evils of trying to live and go to school in East Lansing, an obvious preference on the part of the administration for civilian students and an implied inertia on the part of the college where former military personnel were concerned. These feelings were attributed to various war veterans now attending Michigan State.

On the assumption that this one piece of journalism wasn't pure ersatz, although it appears that the story was set up and facts obtained to fit the story, I feel a sermon coming on. Someone on the campus must have assisted with that twisted piece of publicity and whoever it was or they were had some twisted impressions to guide them.

It's probably a true, and perhaps an unfavorable, statement to say that the administration is not bending over backwards in deference to the returned veterans. At the same time, the Servicemen's Institute is leaning in that direction like the Tower of Pisa, and that's more assistance than a lot of colleges have provided for the former GIs.

The housing problem reached its peak this fall, and its cause was sudden and unavoidable. A moderate increase in enrollment was expected in the course of normal events. By last spring enrollment was meeting expectations, but the suddenness of V-J day and the more rapid return of veterans changed feeling from the contentedly full to the over-stuffed.

No one, not even a war veteran, could expect the college to refuse admittance to students who put in their applications prior to the time the emergency hit. As for the students who applied for admittance after the situation became critical, all were informed of housing difficulties and told to come to East Lansing at their own risk.

In the meantime the administration hasn't been inert. One favorable plan after another has been established and then abandoned because of restriction outside the college. With the coming acquisition of building sites, the qualms of college authorities should be eased; but the qualms of students can't be. Rome was not built in a day and neither will the new dormitories be.

SWL Plans Revealed At First Meeting

Spartan Women's League held its first general meeting of the year Wednesday night in the Union. Adoree Evans, Manistee senior and president of the organization, announced the plans for the coming year. These include arrangements for Women's Day, the Spinster Spin, and the annual Carrousel.

General meetings of SWL will be held the first Wednesday of every month and group meetings the second and third Wednesdays.

WKAR Schedules Weekly Book Review Programs

"The Bookman," a 15-minute book review by E. J. Knittel of the speech department, will be presented every Tuesday, and Thursday at 10:30 a.m. over station WKAR. Knittel plans to review one or more new books on each program, giving an explanation of the book, its background and how it came to be written.

The two books reviewed this week were "Townsmen" by John Sedges and "Portable Poe" by Phillip Van Doren Stern.

Students to Sign Up for Volunteer Red Cross Work

Students may sign up for volunteer Red Cross work from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the Union lounge, according to Chenev, chairman of the campus Red Cross unit.

A production class is being offered this year, volunteers are needed to help assemble Christmas boxes at the downtown hospital. Interested in volunteering to assist the Greyhound and there will be a new nursing class offered.

A new Red Cross group will assist in the campus Red Cross drive. Students who are talented in way are urged to sign up for camp and hospital entertainment group. They will entertain soldiers at Fort Custer and Jones.

Those interested in doing Cross work may obtain pamphlets at the Union desk daily, describing each class in detail.

Five New Faces Will Appear As First Team Starters In Tomorrow's Game

Johnson and Jones Slated for Backfield Spots, While Vezmar, Huey and Zeigler Also Join Probable Lineup Against Kentucky

Rehearsing and revamping was still the order of the day for the Spartan eleven as head football coach Charlie Bachman searched for an effective backfield combination that will stop the onrushing line of Kentucky tomorrow.

As a result of this shifting only six of the starting line-up from the Michigan game are slated to be in the Spartan's beginning line Saturday against the Wildcats from the University of Kentucky.

The elevation of at least five second stringers to the roles of starters was made by Coach Bachman partly because of the slack play against the Michigan Wolverines of several veterans who apparently had won permanent first string berths. Two of these men were shifted because of injuries received by first string players.

When practice resumed this week, Bachman said, "I told the boys that all eleven of the positions were open to the boys that showed us that they could play ball." That showed results and several players proved their worth for starting berths.

Probable changes in the line-up will find State's 240-pound former center, Walt Vezmar, at tackle in place of the injured Dan Goldsmith.

Warren Huey, 178-pound freshman from Punxsutawney, Pa., will be at right end for the veteran Dick Massuch, with possibly Dick Ziegler, another 185-pound freshman, at left end in place of Tito Barbas.

The Spartan backfield has received the biggest shakeup, with two old and two new faces in the starting line-up on Saturday for State. Former fullback Jack Breslin will be halfback along with Steve Contos.

Glenn Johnson will fill the quarterback slot and in the fullback spot will be Breslin's former understudy, Milford Jones. Another possible starter this Saturday is William "Will" Mas-kill, a shifty runner and an accurate passer.

CONTOS is a speedy halfback that caught everyone's eye last Saturday in the Michigan game. He will start Saturday's tilt with the Kentucky Wildcats.

Loss of Dave Seibold To Service Weakens Swimming Team

A big link has been taken out of the crack Spartan swimming team, with the loss of Dave Seibold, ace Spartan breast stroker. Seibold reported Tuesday morning for the armed forces.

Hailing from Jackson, Seibold had the main slot in State's summer swimming team which copied the national AAU title at Akron, Ohio.

In these meets he placed first in the 200 meter breast stroke, and also in the 300 meter individual medley. In addition to these two firsts he swam a leg of the winning medley relay team.

In high school Seibold was of national interest as he captured both the junior and senior AAU titles. In addition to these he took all of the possible state titles.

17 Native Chinese Now Enrolled In MSC Courses

Four Chinese students have enrolled at MSC for advanced study in the fields of bacteriology, horticulture and soil science. Two are graduates of the National Central university, Chungking; one of the army veterinary college of China, and the fourth from the National University of Crekiang.

The Agricultural association of China sent these men to the country in cooperation with the Chinese ministry of education. Their tuition and maintenance will be paid by the college.

With the enrollment of these men the total number of native Chinese enrolled at MSC is 17, 11 of whom are receiving instruction in veterinary medicine. There are also several American-born Chinese attending college here.

The point now is that no one has a legitimate gripe, unless it's the administration against all the snags they've run into as they tried to provide for every student. Students who were on the campus previously knew what was coming. Those who are now on campus may feel like they've lost a good pair of rose-colored glasses. No one was promised a bed of roses, so it's a case of grinning and bearing it, not of making a statewide issue of it. Thus ends the lesson.

ETO Coach Returns to MSC

Fencers to Buy Foils in Brazil

America's Good Neighbor policy will have a direct effect on State this year, according to Fencing Coach Charles Schmitter, who said that "all of the good fencing equipment is now coming from Brazil, and that "is where we will have to get ours."

Prior to the war nearly all of the world's fencing equipment came from France and Italy, but the European war put an end to their industry, and fencing schools have been getting by with what foils and sabers that they could scrape up.

"We have enough good equipment on hand for intercollegiate competition this year, but hardly enough for class room work," Schmitter said.

He added that "only two companies in America produced satisfactory fencing foils last year, and until more companies are back in production we will have to go to Brazil."

Firms Ask To Interview Graduating MSC Seniors

A number of business and industrial firms have requested interviews with graduating seniors to discuss positions after graduation. It is necessary for those interested to send their student records to Tom King at the placement office. These records will be sent to the firms who will send interviewers.

Coach Charles McCaffree, Michigan State's swimming guide, has returned from Italy to resume his coach duties on the campus. McCaffree has been on a 90-day leave from the college with the special service division of the army service forces.

A part of the command unit installed in the war areas occupied by the United States army, McCaffree's job was to teach officers and enlisted men the function of a mass athletic program and then it was the duty of these students to return to their own units and set up similar programs.

His stamping grounds while he was in Italy was the site which had been planned for the 1948 Olympic games. Mussolini's own private swimming pools in Foro D'Italia was his laboratory while coaching.

McCaffree returns to take his old place as coach of the Spartan swimming team and to find several of his crack tankmen gone the way of the army.

With the loss of Dave Seibold, Ralph Mercer, and Don Eaton, his remaining varsity team is but a skeleton of the team that took national honors this summer.

One bright spot in the scene is the returning of Jim Thomas, former Spartan swimmer from the air corps. According to McCaffree, all men who would like to try for the team should report to the swimming pool in the fieldhouse Monday at 5 p.m.

Truman Orders Seizure Of Striking Oil Firms

Navy Gets Job of Handling Plant Operation

WASHINGTON Oct. 4 (AP)— President Truman tonight ordered government seizure of the plants of 26 oil producing and refining companies which have been shut down by strikes.

The navy was directed to seize and operate the plants.

The President said in a statement it was necessary to act to maintain adequate oil reserves "for the needs of our armed forces."

During the past two weeks, he said, some 50 petroleum refineries, together with a number of related transportation and distribution facilities, had been shut down.

Shut Downs Effect

He estimated the capacity of the shut down facilities at 1,675,000 barrels representing about one-third of the total refinery capacity of the nation.

"The plants remaining in operation," he said, "are insufficient to produce enough petroleum to supply both the direct military requirements and the minimum essential war supporting activities on the home front."

"Nothing will be permitted to stand in the way of adequate supplies of any kind for our armed forces and for our proper redeployment and demobilization," he declared.

"The public interest in an emergency of this character, transcends the interest of any group."

President Grants Authority

The President clothed the secretary of the navy with authority over plant operation, processing and transportation of the products.

He cited as his authority section nine of the selective service act of 1940 as amended by the war labor disputes act. That is the Smith-Connally act.

The navy secretary was authorized to seize and operate any plants and facilities he deems necessary in carrying out his mission. He can retain present managements where he deems it desirable.

CARLOS PICTURES

Any coed, other than those already contacted, that desires Carlos pictures, should send a postcard immediately to Pat Beechler, 810 W. Grand River, East Lansing. On the card she should state: name, address, telephone number, and class schedule. A minimum order of pictures consists of three, six or eight pictures. Appointments will be made at a later date.

AWS EXAMINATION

Examination over the AWS handbook will be given next Thursday evening at 7. An AWS representative will administer the test at each sorority house and dormitory. All girls living in annexes will go to their respective dormitories to take the test.

Girls living in co-operative houses or off-campus houses in East Lansing (this does not include girls living either in college-approved residences or their own homes in Lansing) will go to the Music auditorium.

Farmers' Club Meets

R. W. Tenny, director of short courses, announced that members of the State Farmer's club are assembling on campus today to set up a program for their annual fall meeting.

Also announced was a staff meeting of the School of Agriculture, which takes place in the Music auditorium at 4 p.m. today.

Mason-Abbot, Co-ops Choose Fall Officers

Juniors took the spotlight in the Mason-Abbot election of officers with all four key positions going to members of the class of '47. President for the coming year will be Grace Johnson, Robinson, Ill., and vice president, Doris Baird, from Ionia. The secretary's duties will be handled by Kathleen Lines, Lake Orion, while Louise Eltinge, Chicago, Ill., will be in charge of the treasury.

Continuing the roll-call of new officers for fall term in dormitories and off-campus houses is Esther Patterson, Benton Harbor, new president of Robinson house; Merrelyn Bird, secretary-treasurer; Polly Hanson, social chairman, and fire chief, Clarice Woodruff.

Sanford house elected Mary Person, Rock Island, Illinois, as president; Edna Beyer, secretary-treasurer; Doris Lovejoy, Saginaw, dietician, and Mary Van Velzor social chairman.

Additional Heads

At Rochdale house, Ellen McCann is the new president; vice president and social chairman, Bernice La Freniere; secretary, Ruth Koski; treasurer, Lelah Bacon, and fire chief, Cebelia Dutcher.

At Taft house Jane Hansen, Eaton Rapids, presides as president; vice president, Sarah Jane McDonald; treasurer, Adele Barrett; social chairman, Mary Slack, Saginaw, and fire chief, Ethel Spike, Saline.

Other Elections

Potter house president is Bernice Cleland, Deckerville; vice president, Daisy Phillips; secretary, Emily Coleman, Haslett; treasurer, Doris Guth, Ovid; social chairman, Ruth Thursby, Lakeside, and fire chief, Gerry Emmert, Flint.

The remaining women's residences have not completed their elections as yet.

Coed Carnival Plans Undergo Discussion

Plans for the Coed Carnival, an all-college function for women, were discussed last night by the activities board of AWS. The purpose of the carnival will be to introduce to the women students of MSC, the different clubs and organizations on campus and their activities.

Each club will have a booth at which they will offer information and entertainment; refreshments under the sponsorship of the Home Economics club will be sold. The tentative date and place set was Oct. 23 in Demonstration hall.

Music Hath Record Charms

By PEG HUMPHREY

In a sunny room on the second floor of the Music building, is the music library. Open for the use of all MSC students, it contains records, books, musical scores, and musical periodicals.

Librarian Mrs. F. A. Moran

an, a graduate of Western State Teacher's college, who is replacing Miss Lucille Price, was formerly a high school librarian in Louisiana. She is assisted by four student librarians, Marjorie Sunnen, Chatham, Ontario, senior; Norma Lou Gregg, Lansing senior; Doris Schestag, Grand Rapids sophomore, and James Backus, Chicago sophomore.

The works of Bach, DuBussy, Brahms, Chopin, Strauss, and Gershwin are only a part of the record collection designed for student use.

The library has five listening rooms, which may be used for an hour at a time by any student. One group of records, including works of many of the major composers, is available for circulation for one week periods.

All books, except a few which are on reserve for music classes, may be taken from the library. On the shelves are found books on composers, history of music, harmony, great performers, music appreciation, operas, concertos, and reference books such as "Oxford Companion to Music" and "Grove's Dictionary of Music and Musicians." Bound scores of many major works are also available for circulation.

The periodicals, among which are "Music News," "Musical America" and "Musical Quarterly," must be read in the library.

Back issues are kept in the files. The library is open from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, 1 to 5 p.m. and 7 to 10 p.m. Monday through Friday; 10 a.m. to 12 noon and 2 to 5 p.m. Saturday, and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday.

C-54 Completes First Global Flight of Air Transport Service

NATIONAL AIRPORT, Washington, Oct. 4 (AP)— The first flight in the first regular around-the-world air service was completed tonight by the United States Army Air Transport Command.

A C-54 (Douglas skymaster) sixth used on the six and one-quarter day flight, landed at 9:42 p.m. eastern standard time. It flew the 2,500-mile hop from San Francisco in 18 hours. The global flight started from here at 3:58 p.m., EST, Sept. 28.

Lieut. Gen. Harold L. George, commanding general of ATC, termed it "the fastest war flight ever made at near earth's greatest circumference. It covered 23,279 miles in 48 hours and 44 minutes, including ground time of 33 hours and 10 minutes.

Seven men and a woman were passengers on the first trans-ATC's new schedule, known as the "Globester."

Planes will depart every day over the same route—across the Atlantic to North Africa, thence around the globe by way of such stops as Cairo, Calcutta, Kunming, Manila, Honolulu and San Francisco.

There was one mishap. Minor trouble developed over the Pacific between Guam and Kwajalein. The plane returned to Guam on three engines. Passengers changed to another C-54 and resumed.

INFORMATION

INTERNATIONAL CLUB

All members of the International club are asked to be present at the meeting tonight at 7:30, according to Gregory Dean, Detroit sophomore.

HILLEL EXTENSION

Hillel extension will open its first meeting Sunday at 7 p.m., in the Spartan room of the Union. Rabbi Abba M. Fineberg will be the guest speaker.

BACK STAGE WORKERS

Anyone interested in working on set construction for the term play "Blithe Spirit" should come to room 47 in the Auditorium on Monday and Friday from 1-5 and on Tuesday and Thursday from 1:30-5, according to C. H. Nickle, assistant professor of speech, who is in charge of settings.

ATOMIC LECTURE

A lecture on "Atoms and Energy—The Atomic Bomb," designed especially for a non-technical audience, will be given by Professor Thomas H. Osgood, head of the department of physics and astronomy, on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the physics lecture room, 101 Physics building. The lecture will be illustrated by lantern slides. The program will be open to members of the faculty, students and guests.
