Loves Labor

Students said that true love never comes smoothly but he said that the green eyes of a girl named (may her soul be forgiven) was hotly pursued by a letter from a man that he had been dating a girl named Chrysele and Mimm (She read on the same finger as he wrote that his girl if she ever had hands was going to name them Mimm and Mavis. But her hands clasped her with the fact that a minimum of anger produces a maximum of joy.

YW and YM Hold Joint Meeting

The meeting, which will be held in the student parlors of Peoples church at 7:15 p.m., is open to all students interested in either YW or YM. Mrs. Ross, who will be introduced by Nancy Wyngarten, East Lansing junior, went to Egypt to teach and remained there during the war. After her talk the two groups will join in an informal get-together, according to general chairman Betty Souder, Lapeer senior.

Metropolitan Singer Patrice Munsel To Appear On All-College Program

Patrice Munsel, 20 year old Metropolitan opera coloratura star, will appear at College auditorium Tuesday at 8:15 p.m., S. E. Crowe, dean of students, has announced.

School dramatics, especially operettas, were also among her activities. In sports she was captain of the girls' football team and also belonged to the Campfire girls.

When Vladimir Bakaleinikoff, then associate conductor of the Pittsburgh symphony, commented enthusiastically on her voice, she went to New York to study Metropolitan Debut.

After winning the Auditions of the All-prize in 1942, Miss Munsel started her debut with Met-

All MSC Women Will Write AWS Handbook Exam

AWS handbook exam, which will be given this evening, holds precedence over all campus activities, and every woman student is required to write it.

If any person finds it impossible to take the test tonight, she must get in touch with her AWS representative before the exam. Failure to hand in a valid excuse for an absence will result in a severe penalty for the offender, according to Sue Averill, Birmingham senior and AWS president.

Tests will be administered by AWS representatives in the dorms and sorority houses. Women living in practice houses are to go to their regular college residence. All women living in off-campus houses are to meet in the Music auditorium at 7 p.m. although the auditorium will be open until 9 p.m. Everyone is asked to bring a pencil.

The test will cover the entire set of by-laws in the AWS handbook. No questions will be asked on the constitution, points limitations board or AWS officers.

Wild Life Expert To Speak on Birds

Dr. Arthur A. Allen, professor of ornithology at Cornell university, will speak Saturday at 8:15 p.m. in College auditorium. Dean S. E. Crowe announced.

Topic for the evening will be "Listening in on the Home Life of Birds." Dr. Allen will show motion pictures which he has taken during his travels.

Dr. Allen entered Cornell as a freshman intending to train in forestry. He became interested in birds and continued his study in that field. In 1925 he became professor of ornithology at the university.

Dr. Allen is a member of the American Ornithologists' union and of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He was a founder of the Society of Mammalogists and of the Wild Life society.

A member of the American Society of Naturalists, he is also a trustee of the American Wild Life institute and a member of the advisory board of the National Association of Audubon societies.

Borowy Taken From Mound Before Retiring Single Tiger Newhouser Fans 10 Cub Batters

CHICAGO, Oct. 10 (AP) — Finishing like true champions, the Detroit Tigers slammed Hank Borowy from the mound before he could retire a batter in the seventh and deciding game of the 1945 world series at Wrigley field today, to win from the Chicago Cubs, as they pleased, 9 to 3, behind Hal Newhouser's magnificent pitching.

Junior, Senior Elections Set In December

Student Council members voted last night to accept petitions for the three vacancies on the council from the cooperatives, dorms and the school of engineering. Pres. Helen Fisher, Grand Haven senior, set Wednesday as the deadline on the petitions, which, she said, should be turned in to the Union desk.

The student governing body met for the second time this term and under the discussion of old business voted to hold junior and senior class elections this year. Both elections will be run in December, the former for the first time since 1943, Miss Fisher added.

Committees Announced

Council members who will serve on the individual committees of the organization for the coming year were announced. Ann Cowan, Detroit senior, and John McCaughna, St. Charles junior, will form the finance committee.

Members who will direct the elections include Ora Smith, Dearborn senior, and Dale Brown, Sebawaing junior.

Other Committee Members

Margaret Foster, Detroit sophomore, and Bill Page, Muskegon sophomore, will be in charge of consideration of the council constitution. The organization committee will be in the hands of Juanita Soergel, South Haven sophomore, and Mary TePoorten, Pontiac junior.

Farmers To Hold Annual Meeting in January

Farmers' Week will be held at Michigan State college, Jan. 23 to 31, according to E. L. Anthony, dean of the school of agriculture. The information and entertainment program of this 31st annual event has been scheduled for four days.

Newhouser, chalking up his second victory of the record-breaking playoffs, fanned 10 batters and broke an all-time world series mark for seven games by running his total of strikeouts in the series to 22 against the previous best of 20 held by three other fingers.

Although the Cubs got to the tall left-hander for 10 hits, one more than the triumphant Tigers could manage off six assorted Chicago throwers, Newhouser stifled them in the clutches with his sweeping curve and fast ball and never permitted them to get in the ball game.

Cubs Vanquished

In fighting through to their first world title in 10 years the Tigers supplied a sad ending to Borowy's heroic efforts to pitch the Cubs to what would have been their maiden victory in the classic since 1908.

Sharing honors with Newhouser and helping him chide the hopes of 41,590 fans packed in the park was his battery mate, Skinny Paul Richards of Waxahachie, Tex., who drove across three runs with a mighty double in the champions' big five-run first inning and hammered another in with a two-bagger in the seventh.

Fans Cheer Richards

Even the Cubs' fans gave the veteran a sympathetic cheer when he was forced to leave the game in the eighth inning after a foul tip broke the little finger on his right hand.

The Tigers were dominant from the moment that Skeeter Webb, their lead-off man and Manager Steve O'Neill's favorite son-in-law, drove a single to right in the first inning until Newhouser throttled the last Chicago gasp in the ninth.

Publications Board Elects New Officers

Publications board, consisting of the heads of student publications and their advisers, met at 5 p.m. yesterday to elect officers for the year.

Elected were Leone Seastrom, Geneva, Ill., senior, chairman; Dorothy Englehardt, Lansing senior, vice-chairman, and Prof. Allan Scott, of the journalism department, secretary.

Action of the board decided that Joe M. Miller, Terre Haute sophomore, will replace Jo Brown, Fayetteville, Ark., senior, who did not return to school this year, as editor of the Veterinarian.

Don't Crab, Rules Were Worse When—

By HELEN GOVER

"Born 30 years too soon" could easily have been the cry of many MSC coeds of a few years ago if they could see the comparative freedom that the State women enjoy now.

The freshman of today may bemoan the fact that 10 p.m. comes around too soon, but her sophomore sisters can remember that last year the deadline was 9 p.m., and that many times the birds were still singing when Beaumont sounded the curfew.

Even the sophomores can't be as sad as women from "way back" who had to be in their dormitories by 7:45 p.m. three days of the week. If that last rule sounds like an exaggeration of an unwelcome truth, just consult an old AWS handbook.

In the days of yore, there was no need for smokers in the dormitories, and no quick cigarettes on the "upper deck." Under the AWS regulations, smoking was prohibited in all college residences and on the college campus.

The duties of the members of AWS were pretty evident in the "olden days," for most of their time was spent in signing permission for coeds who desired special privileges. One of the most common requests was for permission to attend any party or social gathering that was not sponsored by the college.

Nowhere in the rule book could one find any mention of late permissions, over-nights in hotels or 3 a.m. returns from formal dances. These are additions that have come in the last few years along with increased enrollment, and a greater demand for freedom in all fields by American women.

It would be a long fight to get MSC women back to getting up at 7:30 every morning or having their lights out at a certain time. Who knows? In a few more years cars may be back on campus.

LETTERS . . . . . To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE — All letters to the editor submitted with the intention of being published, must be signed by the writer. If he does not want his name to appear with the letter, it must be indicated. No letters will be considered for publication unless the writer is known. The opinions expressed are those of the writers and not necessarily those of the editors.

To the Editor:
For some strange reason I have been under the delusion that all Michigan State students would be permitted to attend the programs included in the lecture-concert series if they should so choose. In fact, during freshman week we were all reminded that these things were being brought here for our benefit.

I am not too anxious to form an unfavorable opinion of Michigan State. When I finally realized that I was actually coming here I set my hopes high—too high. I was so sure that everything would be "on the up and up." I was sure that I could have confidence in everything connected with the college.

Tonight my feeling of extreme confidence and hope dwindled away to a mere shadow when I saw the snug, pleasure-loving, self-satisfied citizens of Lansing breeze past us into College auditorium to enjoy one of the worthwhile things in life that was "brought here for our benefit." If we had been given a fighting chance, we would have no cause for complaint. But no! The good citizens of Lansing had it all planned well in advance. If we didn't have reserved seats, that was just our tough luck!

What can we do in the future to avoid such a confusion and misunderstanding as the one that occurred tonight at College auditorium?

Still with a good opinion,
Marilyn Anne Kull.

To the Editor:
In 1941-42 a few thousand of us students left MSC to serve in the various branches of our armed forces. When we left college for the far flung regions of the world, MSC had an enrollment of 2,000 more students than she has today. At that time, with all of her 7,000 students, each and every student had priority on all college entertainments.

No student was ever given the "brush-off" with "Nope, sorry, you're a day late, student tickets are all gone," but that is just what happened last week when students tried to get tickets to the presentation of "Rigoletto."

All three of us, like a million other Americans, received wounds in various theaters of the war: North Africa, German flak; Philippines, Japanese flak; New Britain, Japanese machine gun fire. Then when we finally return to college, we find that there have been drastic changes made.

For example, last week we were informed that there were no more tickets available, however, we were graciously informed that we could stand at the entrance for a couple of hours with the possibility, mind you, not CERTAINTY, that we would later be admitted to the auditorium.

Will Miss Robinson please note: Michigan State college is not exclusively a state school. It is a land grant college drawing appropriation from the federal as well as the state government. Furthermore, as with any land grant college, the prime purpose of MSC is to foster and perpetuate a true spirit of democratic education. In no sense has it been established as a profit making institution, as may be the case with many privately endowed schools.

Bachman Stresses Passing Tilt Against Pittsburgh

Coach Reshifts Spartan Backfield Positions, Uses Additional Weight, Throwing Power; Huey, Ziegler Added to Team Lineup

With the final emphasis on the forward pass, the Spartan eleven wound up contact drills in preparation for their game at Pittsburgh on Saturday against the University of Pittsburgh. Previous practice has emphasized running plays with on-

... few passes thrown in, in view of the Spartan success in the air last Saturday. Coach Bachman has placed more and more emphasis on the aerial attack.

Having reshifted the backfield to include more weight and passing power, Coach Bachman has moved up a pair of freshmen to the end positions on the team. They are Warren Huey, 178-pounder from Punxsutawney, Pa., and Nick Ziegler, 185-pound end from Cleveland, Ohio. Neither of these men have played in either of the two State games.

Under Problem

The problem of a man for the center post has popped up with the loss of speedy Ralph Wenger to the merchant marines. Sullivan is still the main plug in the center, but suitable relief must be found. Don Stewart, freshman quarterback from Toledo, O., has been featured at center during recent practices.

In addition to Stewart, Carl Campbell, freshman guard from Grand Haven, has shown a lot of promise in practice and probably see action in the Pittsburgh game.

Probable Line-up

Bass Reader has filled in for (Buddy) Maskill, who twisted his knee. The probable starting line-up against the Pittsburgh Panthers will be Dominic Smith at quarterback, Reader and Smith at the halves and Breslin full.

Scouting reports repute the Panthers to have a strong line, especially in guards Francis Attholl and George Ranit, and center John Kosin. The Spartans probably fall back on the growing arm of Breslin, and Bass Reader against Clark Laughness's eleven.

Army Officers Leave CSC for Fort Custer

Two men of the military department have left for the separation center at Fort Custer, according to Col. G. B. Egger, professor of military science and tactics.

CWO Glenn W. Holder, personnel director of the department, was relieved of active duty Oct. 1. Chief Warrant Officer Holder had been stationed on campus since May, 1944. He is expected to be discharged under the army's point system.

Sgt. Gerald B. Arrington reported to the separation center Oct. 5. Sergeant Arrington is assistant instructor of the ROTC since his arrival at the college Sept. 12.

Official volley ball battles began this week when two blocks went into action and produced eight new winners in the first round of the tournament.

Sigma Kappa suffered an unexpected upset in the fight with Mason hall's Precincts 1 and 3 losing 33 to 28. Captain of the victorious squad was Jeannette White, Niagara Falls sophomore. Without a fight Delta Gamma defaulted to Zones 1 and 3 before completion of the game.

Mason's Precinct 16 defeated East Mayo with a 36 to 27 margin. In the scramble between Ewing house and Alpha Xi Delta the Greek letter women settled for a 42 to 26 victory over their opponents. Gloria Oster, Highland Park junior, led the champion squad.

Captained by Joyce Halbert, Battle Creek senior, the Alpha Phi's scored highest honors against Alpha Gamma Delta. Final score was 42 to 22. North Campbell defeated Mason hall Precinct 8 by 44 to 6. Zone 5 rivaled Alice Cowles, taking the honors 25 to 23.

Cancellation of four games tonight was made necessary by the AWS test. These games are between Robinson house and Pi Phi, Kappa Kappa Gamma and South Williams, Mason 9 and Precinct 14, and Taft house and Alpha Omicron Pi.
