Today's Campus

... He Who Laughs

It was a great day for Joan Wilkin, Detroit senior, as she merely prepared for the tubbing of her friend Esther "Ricky" Erickson, Jackson senior. Last It's always fun planning things like that for other people and Jo little realized that other South Campbell friends were conspiring to subject her to the same treatment, having failed to do so at the time of her engagement a year ago. Maybe Jo forgot, but friends wouldn't let her leave college saying she hadn't gotten all that was coming to her.

... Men in Out

Conclusive evidence that women are not fit for military life was revealed in Prof. Carson C. Hamilton's English class the other day. An ex-soldier was giving as his explanatory speech a demonstration of how to salute. He explained that the right index finger should be placed over the right eyebrow and that was a certain "bump" on which it should be placed. 'Twas strange indeed that all the women in the class immediately located their own forehead bumps and felt quite foolish when Hamilton declared that said "bump" was exclusive to the male anatomy.

... Men or

Some people never believe anything unless they see it with their own eyes, but now there are two MSC coeds who won't even believe what they see. In fact, they aren't even quite sure they did see. Nevertheless, Frances Waalkes, Muskegon freshman, and Ada Rose Bampton, Trenton junior, left Williams hall last night to see nothing less than what appeared to be a dozen or so marines advancing over the embankment by the Red Cedar with fixed bayonets. Maybe they were the local boy scouts but the pair would like an explanation to calm their fears.

London Faces Crisis in Food Situation as Strike Goes On

LONDON, Oct. 12 (AP)—Prime Minister Attlee and his labor cabinet conferred today on the fast-spreading dock strike now paralyzing most major ports and threatening a food crisis. Minister of Labor George Isaacs turned down a request from the "wildcat" strikers that he intervene. He declared they must go through "the special channels" of the trade unions, whose orders to go back to work the men have ignored. Almost hourly throughout the day, more stevedores walked out of harbors from London to Glasgow, and by night more than 10,000 were out. Food estimated up to 100,000 tons lay spoiling in some of the ships tied up. Troops were unloading food supplies in at least two ports. Attlee and cabinet members held an urgent executive session to the strike this afternoon. No immediate announcement came from the meeting at No. 10 Downing street, but the ministry food declared the situation critical.

Coed Carnival Heads Women Activity List

One of the first "pre-war" activities to return to MSC's campus is the annual Coed Carnival to be held Tuesday night, Oct. 23, at 7 in Demonstration hall. This affair, introduced by AWS some 15 years ago, became a traditional fun-fest for all women. It was dropped four years ago along with many such activities at the beginning of the war, but this year it has returned under the sponsorship of AWS activities council.

The Coed Carnival was instituted primarily to introduce activities to all women. Every coed organization will be represented by a booth which will do business as a sideshow and give out information concerning its activities.

Booths will be operated by SWL, YWCA, WAA, Town Girls, Red Cross, Publications, Speech department and the Music department. Mortar Board will represent all honoraries and various clubs will be combined into one sideshow under the chairmanship of Doris Baguley, Lansing senior. Refreshments will be under the charge of the Home Ec club.

During the evening a main act will be presented and the best of MSC's talent will be presented. Chairman of the entertainment committee is Gayle Oviatt, Washington, D. C., junior.

Proper carnival atmosphere in the way of clowns and hawkers will be provided by Tower Guard under its president Judy Longnecker, East Lansing sophomore. Floor decoration will be handled by Jean Zook, Holland, N. Y., senior, co-chairman of freshman counselors. Ann Cowan, Detroit senior, representative from Student Council has charge of properties, and Jo Johnson, Detroit, senior, Mortar Board president, is chairman of the invitations committee.

Advanced Courses in ROTC Offered To Eligible Men

Authorization of the reactivation of the two year advanced ROTC course for Michigan State college has been made by the war department, according to Col. G. B. Egger.

The objective of this program is to produce college trained junior officers to meet the needs of the army during the postwar period.

To qualify for this course, students must be between the ages of 19 and 26 years, must meet the physical standard provided by army regulations, and must be enrolled at State. Honorably discharged veterans who have served for at least one year may enroll.

Students enrolling in the advanced course will attend a six weeks camp at a military reservation where the program will consist of theoretical and practical instruction in military tactics, technique, and leadership.

The pay of the seventh enlisted grade while at camp and travel pay at the rate of five cents per mile to and from the college are allowed.

Infantry, cavalry, field artillery, coast artillery, signal corps, and quartermaster corps courses will be offered. Those interested and qualified to enroll are to contact Col. G. B. Egger at Demonstration hall.

Hour of Charm Program Scheduled For October 25th Appearance

Phil Spitalny, nationally known Russian maestro, will present his all-girl orchestra in the "Hour of Charm" Thursday evening, Oct. 25, at College auditorium at 8:15, S. E. Crowe, director of the lecture-concert series, announced.

The orchestra was founded ten years ago after Spitalny had worked for years with men's orchestras. Personally auditioning more than 2,000 musicians, he organized a 35-piece orchestra. Members are graduates of leading music schools throughout the country. The women are chosen on the basis of their musical ability on a particular instrument, their singing ability and appearance, charm and background.

Outstanding soloists of the orchestra are concertmistress Evelyn who plays the violin, and Vivian, contralto.

The group has become nationally known through stage engagements, moving pictures and radio. The most well-known of these is the Sunday evening

"Hour of Charm" program.

Recent honor bestowed on them is the award of merit from the Women's National Radio commission.

This program is not on the regular lecture-concert series provided by the college, Crowe added.

Radio Parties, Open Houses Head Social Program List

By KATHIE MULL

Highlighting the list of social activities planned for the weekend will be two radio parties, two open houses, and Union board's date dance, all scheduled for tonight.

Music on the platter will be the order of the night when their dates from 9 to 12 at the chapter house. Lynn Zimmerman, Fowlerville junior, has arranged for special intermission acts to add novelty to the affair. Prof. and Mrs. Elbert C. Tabor and Prof. and Mrs. Edward K. Sales have been named as patrons.

FarmHouse men entertain

Wells Hall Entertains

Men residents of Wells hall annex will entertain their dates from 9 to 12 with the latest recordings.

Alpha Xi Delta women, who are opening the chapter house tonight from 8 to 12 to all returned servicemen on campus, will have competition from North hall women residents who are inviting all men students to a house party from 8 to 11:30.

Both open houses promise dancing, games, and refreshments to stag men, according to the respective social chairmen, Gwen Gorsline, Lansing senior, and Connie Hadley, Pleasant Ridge freshman.

Snook to Play

Dick Snook and his band will play for Union board's date dance tonight from 9 to 12. A limited number of tickets are on sale at Union desk, as there have been over-capacity crowds in the past, according to Jim Graves, Muskegon freshman.

Tomorrow afternoon from 1:30 to 4:30 all students on campus are invited to be guests at Union board's fill-in-hours protegee. The broadcast of the Pittsburgh-MSU game will be turned on in the men's lounge and dancing to juke music in the mixed lounge will be the program. There will be no admission charge.

A formal "farewell" dance, closed to all students except Company A and Company F of the ASTR units on campus, will be held in the Union ballroom tomorrow night from 9 to 12.

Temporary Student Directories Out For Use Until November

Preliminary student directories, to be used until the complete directories are issued in November when the first page may be exchanged for the final copy, can now be obtained at the Registrar's office, the College Book store, or the Union desk, according to Lloyd Geil of the publications department.

The preliminary directory contains information taken from the publication card filled out by the students at registration. Any errors made will be corrected in the final copy in which the faculty will be included.

The issuance of the new directory was made possible by the cooperation of the registrar's office and the publications department. In previous years students have had to wait until November before directories could be obtained, Geil said. The success of the new plan will be determined by student response. If the response is good, the same procedure will be followed next year. Otherwise publications will return to the old method, he added.

Red Cross Unit Adds Magazine to Library

A new Red Cross magazine entitled "The International Red Cross Committee in Geneva," has been added to the library, according to Marion Chenery, chairman of the student Red Cross chapter. The magazine is a new publication, and gives an interesting historical background of the Red Cross.

The Red Cross unit has posted a bulletin board in the Union west entrance. This bulletin board will contain any news and information concerning the returned veterans on cam. us.

Reduction Bill Goes to Senate For Approval

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 (AP)—Amid shouted demands for slashes in federal spending, the House passed today the first tax-cutting bill to enter Congress in 16 years—easing individual and business burdens by $5,350,000,000 in 1946. The vote was 343 for, 10 against.

For 1947 the legislation provides a $7,252,000,000 reduction below present levies.

Goes To Senate

Now tossed to the Senate, the bill takes 12,000,000 low income persons off the income tax rolls completely and gives at least a 10 per cent reduction to all other persons subject to this levy. The house measure, which may be revised in the Senate, provides this relief for taxpayers in 1946:

1. Lifts all income taxes from 12,000,000 persons and gives other individuals (there were 50,000,000 taxpayers when the war ended) cuts ranging from 10 per cent to more than 40 per cent. No person would get less than a 10 percent reduction. Income tax savings to individuals would amount to $2,527,000,000. Pay-as-you-go withholdings from wages and salaries would be reduced January 1.

No Use Tax on Cars

2. Eases corporation burdens by $1,388,000,000, including partial repeal of the war time excess profits levy and lowering of the business surtax rate.

3. Reduces sharply, next July 1, the record wartime excise on so-called luxuries, including liquor, luggage, furs, jewelry and cosmetics. This would save consumers $535,000,000 in the last six months of 1946. The liquor

All students who did not have a permanent address at the time of registration are requested to call at the office of the Counselor for Men and complete their registration cards.

Those students who have moved since registering are asked to leave their new address at the same office.

tax would be cut from $9 to $6 a gallon. About $160,000,000 in floor stocks taxes would be refunded.

Eases Corporations

4. Abolishes the 5 automobile use tax next July 1.

5. Freezes the social security tax in 1946 to one per cent each on employee's pay and employer's payrolls. Without the freeze the tax would jump to 2.5 per cent against each on January 1.

The House rushed through the bill with only four hours debate under a procedure that some members described as a "gag" rule. The rule did not permit consideration of amendments unless previously approved by the ways and means committee.

What Can the Matter Be?

Seems like ole MSC is going to burst wide open at the seams one of these days. And it isn't a nice feeling either. After a period of years at this institution there should be more of the school spirit and less of the spirit of antagonism.

The issues on hand are like so many thorns in the side. Perhaps the issues seem trivial to some, but to the student body, it is a matter of freedom of vote, the right to be treated as adults and the irritation against seemingly indifferent lawmakers.

It all boils down to the fact that things aren't as peaceful as they should be. And for all places for this to happen is at an institution of higher learning supposedly based on the theories of democracy. Maybe too much education makes a person have the right to dictate to the less learned.

We funny. As it stands now, the student voice has been ignored. That isn't even polite. But the whole business isn't very polite because it's a poor reflection on the whole sorry lot of us.

It may be a tempest in a pot of tea, but the tea's pretty strong and bitter.

LETTERS To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE — All letters to the editor submitted with the intention of being published, must be signed by the writer. If he does not want his name to appear with the letter, it must be indicated. No letters will be considered for publication unless the writer is known. The opinions expressed are those of the writers and not necessarily those of the editors.

To the Editor:
What is the reason I am considered unqualified to drive a car? The United States navy considered me able to fly a navy Hell-Cat, but my local state college says I still am unable to take the responsibility of driving a car while I am attending MSC.

In another year, namely, when I am 26, I will have "grown up" enough to drive here, but today this privilege is denied me. I would say it was horribly careless of my high school principal to have not noticed this back when I was about sixteen, but now, several years later, my college tells me I can't drive.

I thought that a college was organized to equip me to better meet the problems of the world as an adult, but instead I am treated as more infantile than when I was in high school. I am not complaining about driving on the campus, for I realize the traffic and parking problems, but can't I drive on highways my taxes help to build? Students, are we going to allow the nomenclature of "infant" to be attached to ourselves, or will we oppose this?

Maybe my high school principal was wrong, perhaps my navy commander was wrong, perhaps by buddy's army commander was wrong, but shall we revert to infancy now? If we want to have the rights of adults, we expect to be treated as such, and if you don't want to be fenced in by foolish regulations, join together, fellow students, and together, we can defeat petty politics. In union there is strength.

AN MSC ADULT.

Mad As Hopps

By JANICE HOPPS

SOME people still believe in the old slogan "Actions speak louder than words," and I'm one of them.

The usual number and variety of words have been flying during the past two weeks, more than usual in view of the increased number of students on campus. The point is that words in themselves are not likely to help a situation.

Perhaps everyone hasn't been adequately impressed with the "if you want anything go after it, don't stand around talking about going after it" philosophy. Perhaps this would be a good time to inaugurate that philosophy.

Letters to the editor gripes in the grill, and the student in the street are expressing dynamic opinions on the car ban, the lack of tickets for concerts, veterans' rights and the continued exile of the Spartan. Is anyone getting any place? Most of us are standing in one place, feeling relieved only because we're getting so much excess energy off our chests.

Complaints on a campus-wide issue are legitimate only when the complaints are campus-wide. And if students as a body have grounds for complaints, they should attack the situation as a body if they want results. This approach does not mean using underground tactics. For an above-board answer, ask an above-board question.

Last year students at Northwestern had their toes stepped on, they thought, when the administration raised the school's tuition. Tuition is beyond the students' control, but the students can demand an explanation. The result was an all-college convocation at which an organized student body voiced the complaint and the administration enumerated the causes for their action. That didn't solve the problem, but at least students knew what their problem was.

Let's talk about the car-ban specifically. Is anyone sure that he or she knows what the ban is all about? The many paths of action that have been taken seem to prove that no one is sure of the basic reasons. Some point to the traffic hazard, some to morals, some to just plain unreasonableness, but no one knows.

A convocation at this point is too late to erase the sentiments that have been aroused since the ban was announced. It should have been demanded the next day. Nevertheless, an all-college convo now will put everyone on the right foot from here on in.

If anyone wants to fight, do it over the table, not under it. There's not only safety, but power in numbers. Whether or not students learn the true facts underlying administrative action is up to an organized student body.

The representative body at State is the Student Council. If the Council has failed to act in accordance with student opinion, it's up to the students to force the Council into action. It's time for all the cards to be laid on the table. It's time for Spartans to make use of their student government.

Need For Dorms, Funds Revealed

That Michigan State college now needs at least six new dormitories and the funds to build them was the substance of what Dr. John A. Hannah, president of the college, told Gov. Harry F. Kelly and the state administrative board's building committee yesterday.

At the meeting arranged between the governor, Dr. Hannah, and President Alexander G. Ruthven of the University of Michigan solutions to the shortage of housing and educational facilities were considered.

Ag Men to Use Army Helicopter

Arthur W. Farrall, head of agricultural engineering department, announces that a helicopter is being obtained from Wing Field, Dayton, Ohio, to be used in preventing frost damage. The helicopter is being procured through the cooperation of Colonel McKinney of the army force, who is stationed at Nash-Kelvinator company, Lansing.

Farrall states that air 15 feet above the ground is usually five to 10 degrees warmer than air at ground level. It is for this reason that the helicopter is being put to use. Its function is to draw the warm air down to the ground.

The helicopter will arrive within a week, Farrall said. Tests will be started as soon as it arrives.

Football Squad Leaves For Clash With Pittsburgh Panthers

34 Spartans to Make Trip for Initial Out-of-State Game of Grid Season

Michigan State's Spartan eleven will leave this morning for Pittsburgh where tomorrow they will face the Pittsburgh Panthers in their first out-of-state game this season. Head Coach Charlie Bachman has named a travel squad of 34 players to make the trip.

The team will take the college bus to Detroit, where they will board day coaches for an eight-hour train ride. The men are scheduled to arrive in Pittsburgh at 8:15 p.m., where they will encamp for the game tomorrow afternoon.

Worked Out Yesterday
A light workout featuring passing, signal running, and blocking skills was held yesterday in preparation for the game. Chief guns in State's aerial attack against Clark Shaughnessy's eleven will probably be Jack Breslin and Russ Reader.

On the receiving end of the passes will be halfback Steve Contos, quarterback Don Conti, and two new freshman ends recently shifted to the first string, Warren Huey and Nick Ziegler. Both of these new recruits are speedy and good offensive play-

Malaga On Hand
Bob Malaga, Spartan conversion artist, will be called on to kick the extra points. It was Malaga's kick that gave the Spartans a 7 to 6 victory over the powerful Kentucky Wildcats last week.

With Dick Massuch sidelined from heavy duty because of an injured leg, big Matt Mazza will probably be used for the kickoff duty against Pittsburgh. Those named for the trip to Pittsburgh included: Brady Sullivan, center; guards, Don Aronson, Don Black, Kent Esbaugh,

Panthers Get Favor Signal Over State

Today the Spartans embark for Pittsburgh and their first out-of-state game this season. With them they take a record of one win and one loss. Neither of these games, however, would indicate a victory for State as they have looked poor in both previous starts.

Outweighed
Against Pitt, State faces a team with size, power and speed. The Panthers possess a line that averages 197, as compared with 175 for State. However, the center of State's line boasts four 200-pounders.

This gives them strength in a spot where State has shown weakness. As for speed, Pittsburgh possess the interscholastic champion of the east and the Spartans have no one who pretends to be a sprinter.

Use "T"
Pitt also has in Clark Shaughnessy one of the best coaches of the nation. Add to all this a "T" formation and there is what appears victory for the Panthers. State on the other hand has shown steady but slow improvement and may come up with what would be an upset. Bachman has shifted his backfield to a combination of Russ Reader, Steve Contos, Dominic Smith, and Jack Breslin seems certain to start.

Cross Countrymen To Open Fall Season Against Ohio State

The first cross country meet of the season will be held here tomorrow, with the Spartans running against the distance men from Ohio State.

Coach Lauren Brown said that he planned to include Walter Mack of Buffalo, N. Y., among the Spartan starters. Mack was a 1941 letterwinner before entering the navy. Walter Kalmbach, of Grass Lake, is Brown's only other returned letterman.

The varsity cross country schedule for 1945 is as follows:

- Sat., Oct. 13 — 2nd Annual Ohio State run.
 - Sat., Oct. 20 — 10th Annual Indiana U. run, Bloomington Ind.
 - Sat., Oct. 27 — *All-college run.
 - Sat., Nov. 3 — *4th Annual Drake U. run.
 - Sat., Nov. 10 — *Wayne U. run (teams "A" and "B")
 - Sat., Nov. 17 — 27th Annual I.C.A.A.A.A., New York city.
 - Sat., Nov. 24 — *7th Annual Nat'l. Collegiate run.
- *Home meets.

Interfraternity Bowling Gets Underway With League Series

In the second night of interfraternity bowling, the Theta Chi's picked up four points from the Alpha Gamma Rho. The big gun in the Theta attack was Bob Butler who knocked over 502 pins for high series of the night. John McCaughna, also of the Theta Chi's had high individual game of the night with a 205 game.

In the only other game played, FarmHouse picked up three points from the Lambda Chi outfit. The two teams tied in their first game, so they will have to bowl an extra frame to determine the winner of that game. High man in the FarmHouse outfit was Dale Brown who bowled a high game of 190.

The standings in the interfraternity bowling league after the first week are as follows:

1. Delta Sigma Phi—4 points
- Theta Chi—4 points
2. Delta Chi—3 points
- Alpha Tau Omega—3 points
- FarmHouse—3 points
4. Sigma Nu—1 point
- Phi Delta Theta—1 point

- 5. Lambda Chi Alpha—0 points
- Psi Upsilon—0 points
- Alpha-Gamma Rho—0 pts.

Michigan - Army Game Rated to Draw Large Football Crowd

National interest will swing this weekend to the Michigan-Army football game to be played in New York city Saturday. These teams are meeting for the first time on the gridiron, and at a time when the Cadets and the Wolverines are rated as the most powerful teams in the nation.

Michigan's line, which will meet its severest test against the Army, will again be minus the experience of right guard John Lintol. Lintol has been out of the past three games with a leg injury. But a bright star has appeared on the field with the return of Bob Derleth, 203 pound former guard from 1942.
