The successful flying "Z" formation employed by Coach Waite Bachman depends to a large extent upon the ability of the two guards to operate well at their respective positions. Consequently a Black and Bob Lamssies, deserve a great deal of credit for their performances so far this season.

Don Black is a husky 18-year-old freshman, standing 6' 8" and weighing 160 pounds. Don was in the starting line-up for State in the Michigan game, and although he was slightly injured in that contest, he has started every game since that time. A steady charger and accurate tackler, he has consistently displayed his powers in the games to date.

Played Against Canton.

While playing guard for Lincoln high school team in Toledo, Don earned two letters in that sport. Among the opponents that he played against was Waite high school. This Waite squad included eight halfback Steve Contos, and center Den Stewart, now at Michigan State, are teammates of Bob. Don is an engineering student and has a bright future in football at MSC before him.

The other regular guard is 163-pound Bob Lamssies, a 19-year-old sophomore from South Haven, Michigan. Bob earned a varsity letter at guard for State last year, but broke his leg before the season started, and it wasn't until this year that he really came into his own as a tackle of the Spartan line. All in all this should be a good year for the two guards.

STATE FACES TOUGH TEAM

By JOHN MAAS

When the Spartans face Marquette tomorrow afternoon it will be their first real test of strength since they were defeated by 11 points by Michigan. The opener. However, State is now at its peak and is expected to give the Hilltoppers a run for their money.

The Spartans have been reinforced by the return of sophomore Luther Lord, A. H., and Howard the line-up. All three named the Wayne game because of injuries. State could play a better brand of ball than they have shown at any time this season in order to conquer the Hilltoppers.

Marquette on the other hand has been weakened by three tough games, Purdue, Wisconsin, and Great Lakes. The Hilltoppers were defeated in a close contest, 13 to 14 by Purdue. In the second game they were preceded under Wisconsin, 49 to 13, and last week Great Lakes completed them 27 to 27.

In their only victory of the year Marquette defeated Kansas State, 55 to 13. However, the Hilltoppers have shown much spirit of brilliancy especially in the Purdue and Kansas State games.

The two teams will line up conservatively. State defending Marquette's 184 to 191. Marquette, however, has a heavy backfield, 185 as compared to the Spartans' 178.

Marquette holds the edge in the other important departments while State has the following advantage.

All in all this should be a good game. Both Minnesota players have played this year.
