

State Greet Alumni With Game, Dancing, Parties

Today's Campus

Apple for Teacher

Dean Granville, '45, graduate assistant in speech, asked Eleanor Koch, Detroit senior, if she had completed an assignment. Miss Koch said no, that she was worried about a term paper which was due that day and she didn't think she even had time to finish it. "Well," said Miss Granville, "forgetting she was the instructor, why don't you cut this class?" Miss Koch came to her senses, however, when she realized, "Oh, but I like your class."

High Fling

"Higher" education is Evart Hochman, Betty McLachlan's goal. To achieve it she climbed out a fourth floor window of the Home Ec building and took a stroll on the roof last Tuesday afternoon. Her only explanation was, "Well, I've always wanted to do it."

When Snow Falls—

The familiar MSC car ban is not even a minor concern to Quane Morrison, Shreveport, Conn., transfer student. Spending several winters in Switzerland he developed an independence of ordinary means of travel by becoming an expert skier. All he needs now is a heavy snowfall to make transportation to remote spots on the campus a push-over.

House Ghosts

Virginia Van Tassel, Detroit sophomore, was trying to frighten her masked audience by telling ghost stories at a Halloween party held by Precinct 11 in Abbot hall. What she hadn't counted on was the actual appearance of a ghost in the vapor-draped ghosts usually wear. After the screams had stopped Mrs. Elizabeth Thornton, supervisor at Abbot, emerged from under an ordinary sheet.

Play Ticket Sales To Start Tuesday

Preliminary tickets for the fall play "Blithe Spirit" will go on sale Tuesday, according to Gay Telfer, chairman of ticket sales. These tickets can be exchanged for reserved seats at the administration building beginning Monday, Nov. 12.

A new system for distributing tickets has been started this year to help students obtain tickets more easily. Miss Telfer said, "The chairmen have been appointed, one each for dorms, societies, fraternities, co-ops, off-campus women's houses, independent men and veterans, and will have charge of distributing tickets to those places."

These chairmen will appoint representatives to sell tickets at their respective houses. Tickets can also be purchased at the Union desk or from members of the Alpha Phi, dramatics society.

Stewart Greets Returning Grads

Once more the homecoming spirit is in the air. The charm of the campus in the fall, the association of old friends, the enthusiasm of the undergraduates and the hospitality of the college creates a setting for this celebration known to the alumni as HOMECOMING.

The outstanding purpose of the department of alumni relations is to unite the alumni and serve the college.

Look where you may, you will find no college or university of

Students may obtain their permanent identification cards by presenting their temporary cards at the Registrar's office. To avoid confusion these should be picked up according to the following schedule:

like nature possessing such heritage, so many worth-while alumni, such a fine foundation.

Today we especially welcome the men and women who have been wearing the uniform of our country. We are glad so many have returned to East Lansing for this festive day. We hope that your visit will be pleasurable and profitable, and that the 1945 Homecoming day will once again be a means of expressing interest in and fellowship for the college and the alumni.

Lawn Decorations
Show MSC Spirit

The Michigan State campus will go all-out this weekend to welcome back Spartans who graduated in years past. The occasion is the annual homecoming game which has been revived this year after several seasons of hibernation.

Returning alumni will register in the Union lounge during the morning. Glen Stewart, alumni secretary announced. They will gather between the halves of the MSC versus Missouri game and headed by alumni scholarship students, will parade by classes across the field.

Alums Will Parade

Other entertainment will be the appearance of a guest band between halves, and awarding of a trophy for outstanding fraternity and sorority homecoming decorations. Judging will start at 10 a.m. today, when all decorations must be up.

Although no trophy was given last year, outstanding decorations were displayed by Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Alpha Chi Omega and Kappa Alpha Theta which won first to third places, respectively.

A trophy has not been awarded since Sigma Kappa sorority took permanent possession of it in 1942, after it had won three successive years.

Two Cups to Be Given

Bob Nuttall, Waukegan, Ill., sophomore, is chairman of the decorations committee which will present an IFC cup to the winning fraternity, and a cup from PanHel to the winning sorority.

The annual Homecoming dance, sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, will be held in the combined ballroom and main dining room of the Union from 9 p.m. until midnight.

Gene Devine and his orchestra will provide music for the dance. A program of entertainment is being planned for the intermission at which time a door prize will be given and local talent will be displayed, according to Jesse Woodring, Lansing junior, chairman of the dance.

State Eleven Will Rely Upon 'Z' Formation

University of Missouri's football team, currently tied with Oklahoma in leading the Big Six race, will momentarily lay aside conference matters to tangle with the Spartans in today's annual homecoming game.

International House Will Open Doors For Visitors Tomorrow

The second open house for the fall term will be held tomorrow from 4 to 6 p.m. at the International center, according to Prof. S. C. Lee, director of the center.

This will give visiting alumni the chance to acquaint themselves with this organization which was started on campus just two years ago.

The center was formed as a means of organizing all foreign students who are enrolled at MSC. In this way men and women from foreign lands have been better introduced to State and her traditions, and at the same time made contacts which they otherwise might have missed. Anyone interested in meeting these students is welcome.

Nearly 15,000 fans, a crowd larger than any in three years, will witness the two teams unleash entirely different attacks in hopes of winning the sixth game of the hotly contested series.

Running from the "T" formation will be the Missouri Tigers, who are the largest and heaviest squad in college football today. Abandoning the man in motion variation, the Missourians rely upon either a concentrated running attack or a fast breaking lateral offensive.

Kekeris To Show Drive

The drive behind the running attack is often supplied by Jim Kekeris, 330-pound tackle who often shifts to the fullback slot in case of needed yardage. This ponderous lineman who played in last year's East-West shrine game, is a long distance place-kicker and conversion expert.

Carrying the ball for Missouri will be Bill Dellastatious. Rated as one of the finest backs in football, he and quarterback Leonard Brown pass the ball between themselves while on the run, and are the big reason why the Tigers have run up a list of four consecutive victories.

Losing their first two games to Ohio State and Minnesota, the Missourians came back with the aid of Dellastatious, and trounced in succession Southern Methodist university, Iowa State, Kansas State, and Nebraska university.

Setbacks For Tigers

As a result of the Nebraska rout, Missouri's line has suffered several set backs that will increase the Spartans' chances for victory. Norval Piepmeyer, 282-pound tackle, and Doyle McDaniels, 230-pound guard, have been hospitalized for the week and are doubtful starters for the Tigers today.

The overwhelming weight that is so noticeable in the rest of the team is lacking in the quarterback spot, where 139-pound Brown stands out as a wiry running back and signal caller. His punting in the Nebraska game was of notice when he sent one boot sailing 70 yards in the air and finished with an average of 48 yards per punt.

On the block will be Missouri's four game winning streak against State's three game string that was momentarily halted by last week's 13 to 13 tie with the Marquette Hilltoppers.

How About Some Action, Please?

A primary function of our schools should be to train the youth of America for good citizenship. In order to do this, the school itself must be run on a democratic basis and act as a kind of laboratory where students can learn to exercise authority, responsibility, initiative, co-operation, and fair judgment.

Here at State a student council exists for the expressed purpose of "training young men and women in the higher ideals of citizenship." During the war years just past its activity was minimized by the drastic cut in regularly enrolled men students. But now the scene is changing; men are back, and more will be coming every term.

Student government that may have sufficed last year is inadequate today. While war was upon us, our efforts and thoughts were directed to the winning of it. We had little time for extra-curricular interests. Then the student's aim was to get through school as soon as possible and make available his specialized training. Now that the war is over, however, the full benefit of a college education can again be had. We can return to student government in the real sense of the word.

So let's get back in gear, Student council! How soon will you become truly representative? When are elections for council representatives and class officers to be held? What's happened to the student proposals for amending the car ban? What organizations are going to sponsor all-college dances? Why isn't something being done about the flagrant violations of campus traditions? How about some action?

America's future is in our hands. As the citizens of tomorrow, it will be our task to maintain and preserve our free way of life. Our precious heritage of democratic government must be jealously safeguarded. It is the business of every one of us to know what democracy means and how it works. Student government can contribute much to these ends.

The elements of democracy can best be learned by practicing them.

Weekly Letter to Men in the Service

Nov. 2, 1945

DEAREST Johnny,

Big weekend coming up with homecoming, the game, the dance and everything. People have been sewing and hammering and shapping paint around to get their decorations up before the 10 a.m. deadline today. I almost broke my finger working a hammer and have been putting my best artistic foot forward, which, as you know, might be a laugh.

But come what may, I've got my hopes out for State and it ought to be a good game. Hope it doesn't rain.

Midweek has come and gone and from the general student opinion, exams have been hitting an all time in. I think I might have my share and a couple others too.

And Halloween has come and gone and there are only a few dried up pumpkins around to cheer for it. Was walking home from having my picture taken and three men screamed at me, and asked me where my broom stick was. Guess I know how I rate.

Along the concert line, is Paul Rodeson who is coming here Monday for a singing date. Tickets are sold out already and there will be plenty of unhappy students who won't be able to go. That includes me because I didn't get up at 7 a.m. with the rest. Sure sounds like it will be wonderful. The concert series are getting bigger and better but I'm still griping about the few tickets allotted to students.

The Websters is checking its shutters and has taken almost all the organization pictures already. Maybe we'll get the Websters on time this year, but that isn't any claim to that hard working group because they had to battle the war of shortages and year. And they guarantee that it will be a bigger and better book. And I believe me.

Add to the social line, parties are swinging back into full force with every weekend consumed full of radio parties, open houses, and Union board dances. The new year is a little ahead of itself this year but it seems good. And soon maybe, we'll begin having big dances in the auditorium and maybe some day you'll start burning my telephone wires. Maybe.

Well, Big Boy, don't seem to partake you with all the big State plans in the office, and after your last letter, I guess I'd better start building you up a Christmas tree. Would have started earlier but I thought for sure that you'd be home. Guess the question is how essential are you to the Tings hats and how essential are you to me?

Love,

DEE

MSC Women Teach Skills to Patients at Percy Jones

By SALLY DANCER

Each Monday night a group of six MSC coeds go to Percy Jones hospital to teach various arts and skills to patients.

These women have been trained to talk to the men and assist them in crafts such as:

making leather gloves, carving and wood design, making shell jewelry and plastic weaving. The purpose of this work is to give outside interest to the patients and to stimulate their morale.

To Percy Jones

The group is taken to Percy Jones hospital in station wagons. The Lansing Red Cross motor car and they spend about two hours there working with the patients. They work on three floors, get wheeling a small cart and the wards displaying the patients.

The student Red Cross aide approaches the patients and tries to get them in one of the handicrafts or else just talks to them. The men seem to want to know about their experiences, and they just want to talk about their families, plans, or special topics that interests them.

Teach Men

The coeds usually work with individual men, but occasionally they will become interested in learning a certain craft and teach several at a time, or various subjects with patients are mostly amiable cases, and they seem to like these Monday night visits. Several of them are amiable cases and special caution and skill is needed to work with them. The coeds are warned that a wrong word or remark could cause a serious relapse, for that reason they have had with experienced aides a few times until they are well qualified for this type of work.

Men Soars

The hospital staff reports that morale of the men is very high. The students are proud of their part in keeping up this morale.

This type of volunteer work is new and is in an experimental stage. Eventually more students will be needed to volunteer for this group. The women who go to Percy Jones hospital feel that they really are doing something for these men by bringing outside interest into their lives, and by keeping up their high morale.

MSC students who are participating in this work are: Mary Elizabeth George, Muskegon freshman; Marion Cheney, Lansing junior; Peggy VanRiper, Muskegon sophomore; Joanne Lawrence, Columbiaville senior; Shirley Rostow, Birmingham junior, and Martha Holly.

New enrollees are still being accepted in the Red Cross orientation course which meets every Tuesday night. Meetings are held in room 15 of the Union annex at 7:15 p. m.

Women's Sports

By TONI ERNER

THE volley ball tournament claims major interest for coed sporting fans as 44 battling teams contend for the championship title. Out of the six contesting blocks, 13 teams have managed to keep above board and remain undefeated.

In block 1, Mason Precinct 1 and 3 have showed greatest promise by stepping forward to claim three winning matches. Out of two games played, Mason Precinct 16 still remains the only unbeaten squad in the group.

Rivals in block 2 are the Alpha Phi, with two victories to their credit, and North Campbell, a three time winner. Pi Beta Phi and Kappa Kappa Gamma in block 3 are both undefeated and have two games apiece on the winning side.

Chi Omega boasted its fourth consecutive triumph and slacked into the lead for block 4, leaving West Mayo one game behind in the rival pursuit. Top place in block 5 is tied by Gamma Phi Beta and North Williams who have claimed three victories. Alpha Chi Omega is one game to the good and has suffered no losses.

Final results at the half way mark in block 6 show that two teams have emerged with two wins apiece. They are Kappa Alpha Theta, the champions of last year, and South Campbell.

Down the line, hockey fields are spurring with interest. Inter-class teams clash to determine the tournament victor.

SWL Party Will Honor Old, Future Members

Plans are now nearing completion for the social get-together which will be sponsored by SWL next Wednesday night in the forestry cabin. The party is under the general chairmanship of Margot Jaques, Grand Rapids junior, and all MSC women interested in membership in the organization are invited to attend.

The theme of the evening's entertainment will be informal and all women are asked to come dressed in slacks or blue jeans, and plaid shirts.

Standardization of All AWS Penalties Insures Fair Treatment for All Coeds

AWS, the women's governing body on campus, has this term made a definite step forward in making their judicial action fair and democratic.

In previous years the council was formed of the presidents of the various dorms and the majority of the organization's membership changed from term to term. This made for a lack of continuity in the policies of AWS as the new members had no past experiences on which to base their judgement on problems that came up.

This year the procedure has been changed and the membership of the body is a constant group representing all the women on campus.

Another practice which has been put into use for the first time this term is the standardization of penalties. Records of past offenses and the treatment given them were investigated thoroughly this last summer by Shirley Hamelink, Lansing senior, and Doris Baguley, also a Lansing senior. Reports of their findings show that penalties, varying from the very extreme to the very mild were given for the same offense.

Under the present plan, a certain penalty is set for every definite infringement of the rules. When the case comes up before the board, the situation is discussed and investigated and each individual letter is considered. The penalty is already set as soon as the seriousness of the offense is decided.

Reader, Contos, Breslin Head State Passing, Running Plays

The Spartans will work from the "Z" formation, originated by Coach Charlie Bachman, and will depend upon both a fast moving passing attack, and a powerful running combination. Although the Spartans will be outweighed by at least 10 to 15 pounds per man on the line, they will have the advantage in a smooth functioning back field, which has proved its ability to get around.

State's passing offensive, upon which the Spartans will depend mainly, will be headed by Russ Reader. At present he is the leading Spartan chucker, completing 25 out of 44 attempts for a .568 average. Doing the catching for State will be two freshmen ends, Warren Huey and Nick Zeigler. Both of these men have shown excellent ability on offensive and defensive work.

A trio of three hand running backs will be the nucleus for the Spartan running attack. Fullback Jack Breslin, workhorse of the 1944 team, Steve Contos, freshman, right halfback, and Russ Reader make up the trio.

Lineup To Be Unchanged

Coach Charlie Bachman has announced that the State lineup will remain as it was for the Marquette game. This places Walt Vennar and Bill Pichel, both of whom are 140-pounders at tackle, and center spot, respectively.

There is also a strong possibility that Bob Ludwig will return to the line-up in a substitute role at the left halfback position. Ludwig has appeared only in the game as a place-kicker, but for the past week has been working out in game to indicate that he will be ready to go. He was injured in the opening game, suffering a broken thumb.

Two New Men Appear

Two new faces will appear on the first string for the first time, as Coach Bachman shifted Carl Knappe and Harvey Beutler to new berths on the first string. Knappe, who has shown surprising ability recently on defensive work, tackling Breslin and Reader, and at a fullback, and Beutler has also been a bright spot in defense work. Playing guard and end respectively, these freshmen will add more power to the Spartan line on offense.

Probable starting lineup:

State	Pos.	Missouri
Zeigler	L.E.	Langley
Vennar	L.T.	Kekens
Breslin	L.G.	Eberhardt
Pichel	C.	Stewart
Langley	R.G.	Cook
Eschert	R.T.	Burt
Huey	R.E.	Oaks
G. Johnson	Q.B.	Brown
Reader	L.H.	Dedmon
Contos	R.H.	Brinkman
Breslin	F.B.	O'Connell

All students are required to have their seat reservations and activity books at all four home games, returning to L. L. Fanning, assistant athletic director, Campus No. 20 will be attached at the Marquette game at the stadium in the game. Students who are unable to attend tickets at the athletic office at the Jensen gym prior to 11:30 a.m. today may exchange their coupons at North No. 2 at the stadium. Students will enter only at gate No. 4 at the north end of the stadium.

Young Will Not Make Valued Trip to South

Three south for the Miami State football game are highly prized this year, but Eddie H. Young, State's athletic director, is turning one down.

Young will remain in the college to direct the running of the season's NCAA cross country run, an event in which he is a co-leader. The run is Nov. 14, a day after the Spartans close their football schedule with the Miami game.

Fraternity Touch Continues In Rain

IFC football progressive despite the rain of Thursday night found the Lambda Chi ahead of the AEPs by a score of 11 to 0.

Scoring in each of the second and fourth quarters, the Lambda Chi took the lead, but were threatened in the third quarter when the AEPs scored.

The second battle of the evening saw the Delta Chi lose a tough one to the Delta Sig by a score of 11 to 0. The highlight of the game came in the fourth quarter, when Van Emdy went 34 yards for a last minute score.

Gophers Go To Michigan

ANN ARBOR, Nov. 2 (AP)—Minnesota's Golden Gophers, on the rebound from defeat last week at the hands of Ohio State, will travel to Michigan today for their battle with the Spartans. Coach Glenn Foster hopes to have a line-up of 11 to 0. The highlight of the game came in the fourth quarter, when Van Emdy went 34 yards for a last minute score.

SPARTAN PLAYERS

Two 17-Year Olds Hold Their Own At End Positions On MSC Eleven

A pair of 17-year-old freshmen from out of State are the latest starters for this year's Spartan football squad. The first is Nick Zeigler from Cleveland, Ohio, and the second Warren Huey from Pennsylvania, Pa.

Although neither of these boys started the opening game, they have been coming along rapidly, and are now members of the regular team.

Nick Zeigler was co-captain of the Junior West Team which in Cleveland before enrolling at MSC. In high school, he was a starter at tackle, but is now concentrating upon end play. Nick played 67 and weighs 160 pounds, both qualifications which are an asset to his team.

Outstanding on offense because of his past catching ability, Zeigler was more than ready to give when playing defense. Most opposing teams have found him to be a particularly tough customer when they try to flank him.

With a few more pounds of weight and a little more experience, Nick Zeigler promises to become a first-rate college backer.

Warren Huey is the 174-pound halfback who displays enough ability in practice to gain a first

Predictions Point To Tigers Taking Hard-iron Victory

By JOHN HAAS

This afternoon the Spartans face the Missouri Tigers before a homecoming crowd that is expected to better the 15,000 mark. This will be the largest attendance of a game at Mackin field since 42.

In Missouri the Spartans face the biggest team in college football today. The Tigers average over 200 pounds per man. Because of their size the Tigers concentrate their attack on the center of the line. The Missourians use end sweeps sparingly and pass seldom or not at all.

Another T to Face

The Spartans must again prepare to face a team using the "T" formation. Missouri, however, does not run with a man in motion but relies on a running lateral. State has come up against the "T" in all its previous games and seems to have the solution in stopping this formation.

Missouri enters the game with a record of four wins and two losses. It defeated Southern Methodist, Kansas State, Iowa, and Nebraska. However, it was beaten by Ohio State and Minnesota.

Tigers Have Set-backs

In the past two weeks the Tigers have suffered heavily with injuries to some of their outstanding players. Among these are Freeman, tackle, McDaniel, guard, and Brinkman, right half. They have not, however, lost the use of their star 180-pound Jim Kekens, one of the best tackles in the nation and a possible all-American selection.

State, on the other hand, is in excellent condition as it has only Don Black sidelined because of injuries received in the Marquette game.

This week Coach Charlie Bachman has again stressed passing in an effort to continue the excellent attack shown previously in this season. The Spartans must rely heavily on their passing if they expect to defeat the Tigers.

Old Spurred Rivals

In the past these two teams have shown a spirited rivalry and today should be no exception. In previous Spartan-Tiger clashes State has emerged victorious twice and been defeated three times. The Spartans won in '38 and '37 but they were defeated in '35, '41, and '44.

Every game has its favorite and this one is no exception. So we will all along with the experts and pick Missouri by two touchdowns.

learn, both for himself. A two letter winner at guard in high school ball in Pennsylvania, Huey has switched to end in college and has done extremely well at his new post.

He is fast, alert and plays his position intelligently. His tackling has been a feature of his playing to date. While he has also handled his blocking assignments capably, eventually Warren will probably be coaching his own football team since he is a physical education major, but at the moment his principal objective is to keep in the lineup and help State to a good season of ball.

Cross Country Harriers Face Drake U Today

Intercollegiate Race Winners Will Run 4-Mile Course

By BOB CARRIER

Drake university, winner of last year's national intercollegiate race, will be the team the Spartan cross-country harriers will try to upset today at 10:30 a.m. on the college cross country track.

A victory by State over Drake would more than compensate for previous defeats by Ohio State and Indiana university.

Feller to Pace

The strong Drake team will be paced by Fred Feller, the NCAA cross country champion, who paced the Bulldogs to a 19 to 39 victory over State last year. Crowding him will be his teammate Dave Griffith, a strong contender for national honors in '41 and '42.

State harriers, who looked much improved in their last meet with Indiana, will be counting on Walt Mack, Buffalo, N. Y. junior, and Frank Higgins to get them some of these low points to help toward their total.

Low Score Wins

In cross country like golf the low score determines the winner. Points are scored in the order that the men come across the finish line, thus a team that had men finishing in the first five places would have the lowest possible score, which added up would be 15 points.

The finish of today's meet will be on the oval track next to the stadium. Coach Lauren P. Brown says that a few cheers in that home stretch might be just what his men need to give that extra spark needed for victory.

128 Piece Band To March Today

The guest band for the homecoming game will be the Muskegon high school band which consists of 128 pieces and is directed by William Stewart.

This band has the reputation of being one of the most outstanding high school marching bands in the state, and specializes in elaborate and colorful formations.

The band show at the half time today will commemorate the important dates of World War II, and will honor the alumni, the students and faculty of Michigan State college who have served in the armed forces.

A corps of baton twirlers and flag bearers are included in the band. Virginia Conway is the drum major.

As during past games, the Michigan State college band will play from the stands.

Vet With 117 Points Reports to State For Further Duty

M. Sgt. Wendell F. Anderson reported for duty with the ROTC unit at Michigan State on Tuesday.

Anderson, a native of Green Bay, Wis., re-enlisted in the army Oct. 22 after serving for the last eight years. In July, 1944, he went overseas with a field artillery unit of the third army. Later Anderson joined Gen. George C. Patton's ninth army and was given a battlefield commission in Germany on Christmas eve, 1944.

In July he returned to the States and was discharged with the rank of second lieutenant on the basis of his 117 points. He holds four battle stars for the Berlin drive.

Only Two Spartan Gridmen Have Played Varsity Before

Jack Breslin, Bob Lamssies Remain From Last Year

Competition for starting berths in the Spartan team this year was tough. An indication of the effort put out by some of the players, is shown by the fact that of the 11 team members who had played varsity ball before, only two remain to back up the team.

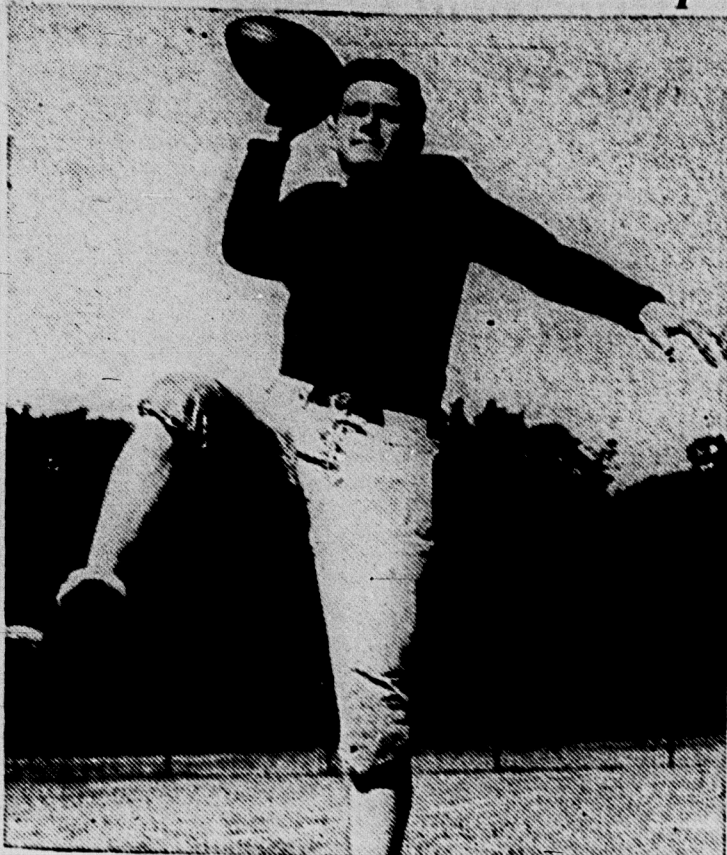

Fullback Jack Breslin and guard Bob Lamssies are the sole survivors of the battle for starting spots. Breslin was the guard behind the 1944 team that won six of seven starts, and Lamssies was a reserve guard last year.

Football Picks Up
Coach Bachman has voiced the opinion that demotion of his former veterans to lower berths is an indication of the return of college football to pre-war football standards. Bachman feels he knows where of the speaks, as six of his last year's starters are returning to the game from the bench.

This year's competition is tough and naturally the competition for the team positions was keen," Bachman said. "Besides, this year we're playing teams using military as well as civilian personnel, while last year we competed with the civilian trained teams alone."

Ready Fresh Players
Freshmen dominate the field, and only one of them has had military service. He is Walter Yemar, a 240-pound tackle from Detroit who suffered leg injuries with the Rangers at Anzio.

Other freshmen on the first string include ends Nick Zeigler, of Punxsatawney, Pa., tackle Kent Esbaugh of Grand Rapids, guard Don Black from Toledo, O., and center Bill Pagel of Blissfield.

Mixed Backfield

The backfield is a combination of freshmen, veterans, and transfer students. Steve Contos, the speedy right halfback who has been a consistent ground gainer, is a freshman from Toledo, O. Glenn Johnson, veteran of the 1941 squad, is at the signal calling post, and Russ Reader, a transfer student from the University of Michigan, is the other halfback slot.

All of this points in one direction, that football of the college brand is on its way back to the calibre that it once knew.

endar for homecoming weekend. Immediately following the game, Zeta Tau Alpha will have an open house for friends and alumni. After the open house a Halloween party will be held at the WAA cabin. Chaperones for the party are Mrs. Helen Nord and Betty Stell.

Many Open Houses

North Campbell hall will have coffee in the dormitory after the game. All former North Campbellites and guests of the coeds are invited. An informal program will be presented.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon is also holding an open house after the game with Missouri, at which time the SAEs and their guests will honor the alumni.

A buffet supper for Chi Omega and their friends is being given from 5 to 7 p.m. this evening, according to Shirley Trump, social chairman.

A get-together will be held by Kappa Sigma in the Union from 7 to 9 p.m. Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Smith will act as chaperones.

A dinner for the Farmhouse alumni will be given at the chapter house from 5 to 8:30 p.m. Prof. and Mrs. K. T. Wright and Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Freeman will be the chaperones, according to social chairman, Lynn Zimmerman.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur recommends elimination of the annual army-navy football game in the interest of unity among our fighting forces, it being the general's theory that the intense rivalry in such contests leaves an acid taste which lingers throughout the lives of the parties involved.

CHUNGKING, Nov. 2 (AP)—Twenty thousand Chinese communists led by one of their top generals are besieging Kweisui, capital of rich Suiyuan province in inner Mongolia. Chinese dispatches reported today.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2—Republicans and Democrats fought a new Pearl Harbor battle on the Senate floor today over Republican complaints that their inquiries into the disaster are being blocked. Senator Brewster (R-Me.) charged he had been misled by a senate-house inquiry committee, the right to check up that vital documents are missing from army and communications commission files.

Paul Robeson to Appear With Pianists at MSC

Famous American Negro Artist to Present Mozart, Popular 'Deep River' at State Concert Monday Night

By CARROLL BESEMER

Paul Robeson, great American Negro artist, will present a concert in College auditorium Monday night at 8:15. E. C. Crowe, director of the lecture-concert series, announced.

Though specializing in American ballads and Negro spirituals, Robeson's concert will include Mozart's "Overture to Don Giovanni" and two Shakespeare songs, "Take, O Take Those Lips Away" and "It Was a Lover and His Lass," both by Roger Quilter.

Robeson will also sing "Three Poet Masters" arranged by Roger Quilter, "John Henry" arranged by Hall Johnson, and "Deep River" as arranged by Lawrence Brown.

William F. Schatskammer and Lawrence Brown, pianists, will assist Robeson. Schatskammer will play "Polka in A flat major" by Chopin, Debussy's "Reflets du Lézard" and De Falla's "Ritmo de Fandango."

Outstanding Athlete

Born of a Princeton, N. J., preacher, April 9, 1898, Robeson won a scholarship to Rutgers university where he was class orator and a four-letter man. He was chosen all-American end on the football team for 1917-18 by Walter Camp.

He made the highest marks of any student since the foundation of Rutgers and won Phi Beta Kappa in his junior year and was graduated as class valedictorian.

While at Rutgers, Robeson was pronounced "the perfect type of college man."

Holds Several Degrees

Robeson holds a bachelor of law degree from Columbia university, where he took post-graduate work, plus honorary degrees from Rutgers and Howard universities and Hamilton and Moorehouse colleges.

In 1923 Robeson was asked to take the part of Brutus Jones in the play "Emperor Jones." In a scene in which Jones was lost in a forest, he was supposed to whistle to keep up his spirits. It was decided Robeson would sing a spiritual instead. Thus a great voice was discovered.

Two years later Robeson made his first appearance as a professional concert singer. The recital was held in New York's Greenwich village.

Has Sung For Royalty

He soon toured Europe where his bass-baritone was heard in Berlin, Budapest, Vienna, Prague, Moscow and Leningrad. He has sung before royalty in England, at St. James palace for the Prince of Wales, and King of Spain.

Upon returning to the United States, he introduced the song "Ballad for Americans."

Dennis Murphy Studies Theory of Carillon In Spare Time

By TOM KENNEDY

Every morning except Sunday, from 8 to 8:10 the Michigan State college campus is brightened by the cheery ringing of the carillon in Beaumont tower.

The carillon is also heard before and after every home football game at the college.

The man who plays the carillon is a talented MSC student named Dennis Murphy, who is a junior in veterinary school. He is 20 years old and his home is in Peoria, Ill.

Murphy started his study of carillon music at Iowa State university where he studied carillon theory. A further study was made at University of Michigan, and he now has a total of six credits in carillon music.

Murphy started practicing on the MSC carillon in his freshman year while Denzil Treber, a music student, was the regular player. Dennis has had the regular job since his sophomore year in 1944.

The carillon consists of 23 fixed bells, and Murphy says that more bells are needed badly.

In speaking of the carillon, Dennis remarked, "please don't call it a chime, because that's like confusing a juke box with a grand piano."

Today the carillon will be played before and after the game. Among the songs that Murphy will play are both Michigan State college and University of Missouri songs. There will also be played selected songs of Purdue and Kansas universities.

Student Requests, Student Talent To Be Aim of 'Spartan Varieties'

"Spartan Varieties," weekly broadcast from Union board's Saturday afternoon Party-party, will be an all college show, featuring what students want to hear, and entertainment by men and women of MSC, according to Chairman June McNitt, Detroit senior.

Band Director

Prof. LEONARD V. FALCONE (above) will lead the MSC band as it plays from the stands at today's game.

Home Ec Members Elect New Officers

Home Economics club majors groups have elected officers for the year.

Results of the vocational majors' election held recently are as follows: Jeanne Mosson, Lake Odessa senior, president; Pat Murphy, Grand Haven junior, vice-president; and Peggy Den Herder, Zeeland junior, secretary-treasurer.

Officers elected by the TCRA majors include Jean Straith, Detroit junior, chairman; Gayle Oviatt, Washington, D. C., junior, vice-chairman; Bobbie Needles, Grosse Pointe senior, secretary-treasurer. Others are Martha Christianity, Grand Rapids junior, publicity chairman; Donna Austin, Fenton senior, membership chairman; Jackie Taylor, Pickford junior, social chairman; Betty Lavine, Sparta senior, program chairman; and Tomiko Inouye, Detroit junior, student-faculty representative.

Dick Snook, whose orchestra is featured on the program, said that the Spartan song of the week will again be a highlight this year. In order that students may select their own favorite songs, a ballot will be published every week in the State News for song-voting.

A new addition this year will be the fraternity or sorority spot of the week, which will offer Greek music. Snook said that although some sororities have turned in their music for arrangements, many have not. He emphasized that music must be in next week if it is to be played on "Spartan Varieties."

First broadcast of this year will be Nov. 24 and the program will continue through most of winter term. Larry Frymore, WKAR program director, will be master of ceremonies.

In line with the policy of presenting programs which the students want to hear, Snook requested that any individual or group with talent to offer should get in touch with him immediately.

He hinted that this year's "Spartan Varieties" would offer another new feature, but said it would not be announced until sometime next week.

Dr. Sorokin Will Speak Tonight in Music Aud On Russian Policies

Pitirim Alexandrovich Sorokin, head of the social science department at Harvard university, will present a lecture tonight at 7:30 in the Music auditorium, according to Dr. Harry H. Kimber, director of the social science division.

Dr. Sorokin will speak on "National and International Policies of Russia" and his talk is open to all who are interested.

Active in revolutionary activities in Russia, Sorokin was accused of attempting to assassinate Lenin, and sentenced to death but was later banished from the country instead.

The social scientist has established an international reputation as a lecturer and writer.

Union Lost, Found Cubby-hole Holds Assortment of Strayed Belongings

By LOIS KENT

T. P. Bauer, who has charge of the lost and found department in the Union building, is just finishing the sorting of a six-months' accumulation of things which people lose and which they neglect to reclaim.

Every six months he has the task of disposing of all kinds of articles from fountain pens to head scarves, lampshades to college text books, laundry cases to track pants—articles which students evidently do not miss.

Come From All Over

Lost belongings are brought to Bauer from all the buildings on campus, excepting the Home Economics building and Jenison farmhouse, every week or few days. The auditorium is a big "contributor," Bauer said, because of the many meetings which are held there. After one meeting last week nine pairs of gloves were found and are waiting to be reclaimed.

Many of the things which are piled in the lost and found are the articles which students leave in the Union. Every night Bauer selects these stray belongings: notebooks, umbrellas (of which there are 16) and spectacles. In one night four overcoats were found.

Wallet Losers Notified

When any purses or wallets which contain identification are found, Bauer immediately sends a card to the owner to save him anxiety. Bauer emphasizes that if a person loses anything he should go directly to the lost and found department, which is open from 4:30 to 5 every afternoon in the basement of the Union, before advertising, because often the article will be there. To accommodate any student who has classes until 5 p.m. every day he will open the room to look for lost articles at other times during the afternoon, upon request.

Keep Trying, Please

Bauer advises students to keep returning to ask for lost articles. One woman lost a Stetson hat and returned several times to see if it had been brought in—now it has been found and she hasn't come to claim it.

The collection of lost articles includes clothing, such as coats, dresses, shoes, rubbers, gloves, and mittens; jewelry, pearls, identification bracelets, and rosaries; and one canvas overnight bag. Bauer cannot understand students' disinterest in the things they have lost.
