... Say There, Buddie

No less than five South Willcocks coeds, for some mysterious, unaccountable or otherwise reason, entertained Bud Cline, Owosso senior, for dinner at the dorm Tuesday evening. The reason for the fuss has not yet been disclosed to the general public — alone the lucky bum — er, bud, that is.

... Finger In the Pie

It seems that no less than eight coeds were pied at the Kappa Delta house Sunday night and no one will confess. The eight victims refuse to let the matter ride until the culprit is found. At first the hunt was for "a person without a sense of humor," but now that the madness of the affair has blown off, a search is out for someone with a sense of humor. The question at this point is — be... or not to be.

Publications Row Plans Open House

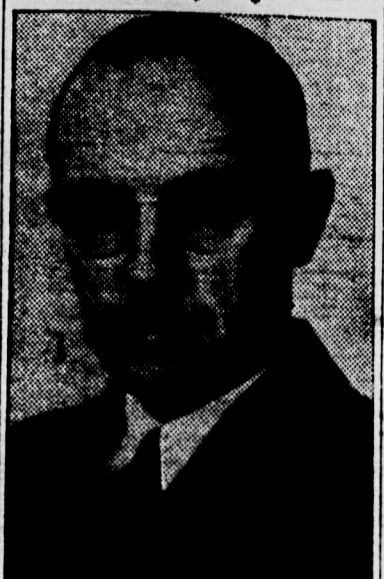

In keeping with an annual tradition, "Publication Row" has announced another open house for next Tuesday night from 7 to 9, according to Doris Englehardt, Lansing senior and business manager of the Wolverine, who will act as chairman for the event. She will be assisted by Marion Heckel, Birmingham senior and editor of the State News, and Jo Miller, Terre Haute, Ind., sophomore and editor of the MSC Veterinarian.

All students and faculty members are extended an invitation to the open house, where they may see a sample performance of the three publications at work. Guests will see the Wednesday State News as it goes from the printing and displays of the work involved in creating the 1946 Wolverine and the Veterinarian magazine.

Chamber Music To Be Offered

Collegium Musicum, the MSC musical group, will present a program of eighteenth century chamber music Sunday afternoon at 4 p.m. Dr. J. Murray Barbour, associate professor of music, has announced. The program will be held in the auditorium of the music building.

Osgood to Speak At YWCA Meet

Dr. Thomas H. Osgood, head of the physics department, will be guest speaker at an open meeting of YWCA tomorrow night at 7:15 in the social hall of Peoples church. He will speak to students, faculty, and townspeople on the social significance of the atomic bomb.

Before coming to Michigan State, Dr. Osgood was head of the physics department at the University of Toledo, and in Joseph Schuster will appear on campus Tuesday, Nov. 20, instead of today as announced in Friday's paper.

1942 he was with the division of war research at Columbia university.

Born in England, Osgood came to America and received his M.S. at the University of Chicago. He returned to England to obtain his doctor's degree from Cambridge. Osgood was also a Carnegie scholar.

Program chairman Pat Parks, Romeo sophomore, stated that anyone is welcome to attend the lecture. A reception will follow for YWCA and YMCA members.

Two Semi-Formal Dances, Sorority Parties Planned for Week-end

Thoughts concerning the pursuit of knowledge are forgotten on Friday and Saturday nights as students plan and participate in State's social functions. This weekend will obviously be no exception as many plans have already been made for these nights.

In the spotlight is the one and only semi-formal dance of the term which is open to all students. It is being sponsored by IFC and will take place in the Union ballroom on Saturday night from 9 until 12. Tickets for the dance will be on sale at the Union desk, according to chairman Dick Mosher, East Lansing junior.

There is also a semi-formal dance planned for Friday night, but it is closed to everyone except the occupants of Mason hall and their dates. It is slated to take place in the Union ballroom from 9 to 12. Besides the Mason hall dance, there are four others planned for Friday night. Benson and Potter

Dr. Henrik J. Stafseth, professor of bacteriology, granted a one-year leave of absence on Oct. 3, 1945, to head a mission of American veterinarians to China for the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation administration, sent the following letter to Dean Giltner of the MSC school of veterinary medicine.

"Last Friday (Oct. 12) at 4:15 the third 'Globester' took off from the Air Transport Command, AAF field, Washington, D. C., and I was one of about a dozen passengers. The plane was a C-54 and was equipped with seats such as are found on the best modern railroad coaches.

"This plane was to be my abode for the entire trip to Calcutta, with no stopovers except for refueling and a quick lunch. We arrived at Karachi, India, early Monday morning, after less than three full days of flying. Calcutta was reached that same day in the evening, and I was in Kunming, China, at 6 a.m. Tuesday.

Vezmar Ends Football Career With Great Lakes Ball Game

Walter Vezmar, 240-pound Michigan State college left tackle and bulwark of the Spartan line, will be lost to the team for the rest of the season and may never play again, it was announced yesterday.

Abruptly ending a promising football career, Vezmar said that his doctor, upon examining him after he received a head injury in the State-Great Lakes game Saturday, ordered him to quit the game. The bump in that game aggravated a previous head injury he had sustained in the army, fighting at Anzio with the Rangers. He stated that periods of amnesia resulted from the wound, and he fears that similar attacks would result if he is hit on the head again.

A former Detroit Northeastern linesman, he has played more minutes this fall than any other regular on the team. Though carried off the field after the injury in Saturday's game, he returned to the lineup after a brief rest.

Induced by Vezmar to come to MSC to play football, Mike Tesin, Detroit freshman, may replace him at the tackle position.

houses are uniting their efforts and planning a joint party which will be held in the faculty dining room from 8:30 to 12 midnight.

From 7 to 12 midnight on the same night the members of Chi Omega will entertain their guests at a radio party which will be preceded by a hay ride. The occupants of Sanford co-op house have also decided that Friday night is to be the night for their term party.

The party trend carries over to Saturday night for the Alpha Chi Omegas are planning an open house which will be held Saturday evening from 6:30 to 9. On the same night the Sigma Kappas' term party will take place from 8 to 12. The girls living in the Kappa Sigma house have planned a term party for Saturday night also, and theirs will be from 9 to 12 midnight. The final dance on the list is the one which the Forestry club will hold at the Forestry cabin. It will take place from 9 until 12 midnight.

Capacity Audience Will Fill Auditorium to Hear Cleveland Orchestra

Musicians, Conducted by Erich Leinsdorf, To Present Works of Walton, Debussy, Strauss, Beethoven in Concert Tonight

Tonight at College auditorium the Cleveland orchestra will appear before a full house in its first appearance at State in two years. The concert will begin at 8:15, as announced by Dean S. E. Crowe.

State to Sponsor Meeting of High School Principals

For the first time since 1942 Michigan State College is holding the Student High School Principal's conference, Saturday from 9:30 a.m. until 12 noon, in the college auditorium. Registrar R. S. Linton has announced.

This conference, the ninth of its kind, was formerly an annual affair on campus. It was organized to give high school and jun-

Graduates of 382 high schools schools 138 acceptances from rolled at State and from these and junior colleges are now encouncilors have been accepted. Many more are expected, according to Mr Linton.

Freshmen and transfer students from these schools will be contacted and schedules will be made for students to meet with their respective councilors. If necessary, students will be excused from conflicting classes.

The purpose of this conference is to give the principals an idea of how their former students are acclimating themselves to the college and how to advise others who might be interested in coming to State.

The councilors will be asked to pass on some of the data that might in turn aid the college.

Guest tickets to the football game will be presented to all visiting councilors.

Speech Program Featured Today

The second Reading Hour program will be presented today from 4 to 5 p.m. in room 49 College auditorium, according to Mrs. Moiree Comper, sponsor of the group.

Ted Brink, Grand Rapids sophomore, will give an adaptation of "Anything Can Happen", the autobiography of George and Helen Papashvily. The story tells of Mr. Papashvily, a Russian immigrant, and of his life after his arrival in America.

Dick Henderson, Detroit junior, will be heard in an interpretative reading of Stephen Vincent Benet's "Johnny Pye and the Fool Killer", one of the author's most effective stories. All students interested in the Reading Hour are invited to attend.

The orchestra, under the direction of Erich Leinsdorf, will present four numbers during the evening. They are: overture, "Portsmouth Point" by Walton; Preludes and Entr'actes from "Pelleas et Melisande" by Debussy; "Don Juan," tone poem, Op. 20 by Strauss, and Beethoven's Symphony No. 5 in C minor, Op. 67.

Founded 28 years ago, the orchestra has toured the same number of seasons, presenting a total of 1,100 concerts. The touring area of the orchestra has included the midwestern states to those on the Atlantic coast. Appearances have been made before audiences in Canada and Cuba.

Heavy Schedule
Present touring program of the group covers a 28-week season of 160 concerts. More than five appearances are made a week, which require four to five weekly rehearsals.

Concert master of the Cleveland orchestra is Joseph Knitzer. He was born in New York city in 1913 but spent his childhood in Detroit.

At the age of 14 he played Mendelssohn's Violin Concerto at a children's concert of the New York symphony orchestra under Walter Damrosch.

Under Stokowski
His official debut was with the Philadelphia orchestra under Leopold Stokowski.

Knitzer is head of the violin department of the Cleveland Institute of Music and a graduate of the Institute of Musical Art and the Juilliard graduate school in New York city.

At one time the only feminine member of the orchestra, Alice Chalifoux, solo harpist, is now one of three women members.

First Training
Miss Chalifoux was born in Birmingham, Ala., of French parentage. Her first training in music came from her parents, her father being educated at the Paris conservatory and her mother a child prodigy.

'Blithe Spirit' Student Tickets Still Available

Tickets for the fall term play, "Blithe Spirit," are still available at the administration building, Kay Telfer, Owosso junior, announced. Students who buy tickets this week can purchase reserved seats directly without buying preliminary tickets.

All students who have preliminary tickets are urged to exchange them as soon as possible at the administration building. More than 500 tickets were exchanged yesterday morning, Miss Telfer said.

TO the Editor:
Something new has been added on campus at MSC. Friday, Nov. 16, marks the opening night of "Blithe Spirit." We want to make it something to remember and at the same time establish a new and beautiful tradition on our campus. How would you like to see the opening night of each term play become a formal affair?

This term you will see many a Spartan coed, dressed in her loveliest and most frothy formal, take her place among the other "first nighters" at Fairchild theater. As long as many coeds are doing it, why not follow their lead? Let's make a real "opening night" of Nov. 16. See you there!
Eleanor Koch.

MSC Union Board To Uncover New Plans for Term

All sub-committees of the Michigan State college Union board will meet tonight at 6 with the executive board in the Union sunporch for the regular monthly dinner, according to Pres. Jack Breslin.

Breslin added that the executive council will meet at 5 p.m. to discuss new and old business. Among future Union board activities will be a weekly broadcast from the Union ballroom of "Spartan Varieties," all-student talent show featuring Dick Snook and his orchestra with Larry Frymire as master of ceremonies.

Snook said that several sororities and fraternities still have not turned in music to be played on Spartan Varieties, which will begin Saturday, Nov. 24, from 4 to 4:30 p.m. The broadcast will come directly from Party-Party which begins at 3 p.m. each Saturday in the ballroom. Dancing and card and board games are highlights of the affair, and refreshments are always on sale.

June McNutt, Detroit senior, and Jim Graves, Muskegon freshman, are chairmen of the affair. A week from Friday Union board will offer at its usual Friday Frolic, a special broadcast of the Miami-Michigan State game. The broadcast will be brought directly from Miami via Western Union telegraph wires. Details will be announced later, according to Graves.

Affairs of State

By TONI EBNER and SALLY CLARK

ANOTHER weekend passed us by leaving a few memories to paste in our scrapbook along with the bitter football defeat. Saturday's game left us with an empty feeling while down in Chicago the navy cheers are still echoing.

Speaking of our maritime friends, Eleanor Vander Weele, Dearborn sophomore, returned to the campus with a diamond from her new fiance, Ens. Robert Vaughan, of Bad Axe, now with the merchant marines.

But news of rings and things keeps this department on a full time basis. Vivian Lawry, Dearborn sophomore, recently became engaged to Lt. Fred Arner, 1943 graduate of MSC now stationed at Ft. Knox, Ky.

More diamond doings in the past week concern the engagement of Doris Hutton, Yale junior, to Cpl. Don McDuff, stationed at present in Nebraska, and the final note of romance struck for Gladys Stryker, Detroit junior, with her engagement to Fred Kircher, Lansing senior.

Pin passing put Barb Lucas, Owosso junior, in a whirl over the new ATO shield placed beside her Alpha Chi pin. Other partner in the campus romance is Nick Piccuito, Millburn senior.

The kite of Kappa Alpha Theta is really flying high this week. It seems there are four new actives and two new pledges over at the house. The actives are: Miggie Mead, Ann Arbor freshman; Ruth Mienke, Detroit sophomore; Bea Wilson, Grosse Pointe freshman, and Marion Somerville, Ferndale sophomore. The new pledges are Pat Zurbrick, Kenmore, N. Y., sophomore, and Gwen Sculpholm, Mineola, N. Y., sophomore.

Things are also happening over at the Alpha Xi Delta house. New pledges are Dorothy Guesquier, Grosse Pointe freshman, and Irene Drodnak, Detroit sophomore.

Not to be outdone by all the recent developments, the Delta Zetas have been doing some initiating, too. The new bearers of the flaming lamp are: Cassie Cook, Detroit sophomore; Marilyn Adams, Birmingham sophomore; Lettie Strayser, Muskegon senior; Helen Hunt, Detroit junior; Ruth Stoffel, Detroit junior, and Mary Elizabeth Sperry, Buffalo, N. Y., sophomore.

The Kappas have added some more active keys to their list.

Grim and Bear It . . . By Lick

"We wish to protest vigorously to the Allied Commander that we Germans need badly food, clothing, fuel, Atomic bombs"

Four women are flaunting the pledge pin of Alpha Omicron Pi. Recent neophytes are Phyllis Cronin, Fowlerville sophomore; Jean Ingerson, East Lansing sophomore; Alice Lodeesen, Royal Oak junior, and Phyllis Webster, Detroit freshman.

Noticed Sunday that part of the Great Lakes team stayed over to enjoy the campus. They seemed to like the territory.

Semi-formal Dance Sponsored by IFC

A semi-formal dance sponsored by IFC will be held in the Union ballroom this Saturday with dancing from 9 to 12 p.m.

Every student body member is invited to come as this is the only semi-formal given this term, announced Dick Mosher, general chairman.

Rosemary Howland's band will be featured and tickets for the dance will be on sale at the union desk. They should be purchased early for only a limited number will be sold.

Spartans Take Beating; Opposers Score 27-7

Aschenbrenner, Great Lakes Star, Makes 90-yard Run for First Touchdown; Hendricks Scores for Spartans

Playing one of their toughest games of the season, the Spartans bowed low to the vengeance-seeking Great Lakes eleven, 27-7 in a game marked with loose ball handling and with Great Lakes doing most of the handling.

At the start of the game, for a time it looked as if State would have a power drive for a score. However, the attack failed, and from then on it was Great Lakes all the way.

State Kicks Off
State kicked off to Great Lakes and Terlep took the ball on the 13, and returned it to the 24. On the next play they took a 15-yard penalty, and a third down run by Aschenbrenner returned the ball to the 17. Motley, Great Lakes fullback, fumbled on the next play, and Aschenbrenner punted to Reader on State's 32, who returned it to the 43.

For a time it looked as if State was going to drive, but fumbles and losses ended the push and Great Lakes took over on their own 36 on downs.

From there Great Lakes drove to the Spartan six, but Klenner fumbled on the one-yard stripe and Contos recovered for State.

Great Lakes Scores
Breslin quickly punted out and Aschenbrenner ran the ball out of bounds on the State 41. On the next play they fumbled again and left end Nick Zeigler recovered for the Spartans. After two plays netted a negative two yards, Breslin quick kicked to the Bluejacket seven.

At this point Aschenbrenner took the ball for a 90-yard romp, and Great Lakes steamed ahead 7-0.

Four minutes after the opening of the second quarter Aschenbrenner again scored on a punt return from his own 31. Great Lakes kicked off to Ludwig, who had gone in to replace the injured Reader, and returned it to the State 36. On the third down Don Hendricks fumbled and the Bluejackets recovered. Inside of three plays they were again over

Minisi Lauded For Brilliant Skill on Field

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (AP) — Tony Minisi may not make the all-American football team but Navy's sure-fire southpaw stands out as one of the year's smartest pinch players.

In Navy's last three games against top flight opponents, Minisi: Beat Penn on a brilliant catch of a forward pass in the last 25 seconds;

Saved the 6-6 struggle with Notre Dame by making a timely tackle on the one-foot line in the dying seconds;

Set a match to Navy's long-dormant attack as it came to life in Saturday's 33-7 victory over a good Michigan eleven.

Pinch Player
Commander Oscar Hagberg, Navy's head coach, today gave Minisi full credit for being an exceptional "pinch player" and a "naturally heavy competitor."

Hagberg was asked specifically by a reporter if Minisi's shoulder-high tackle of Notre Dame's Phil Colella was by accident or design.

"Minisi naturally tackles high," Hagberg said, "but I'm sure that he was conscious of the nearness of the goal line and purposely wrestled Colella out of bounds."

Skillfully Handled
He might have added that not many college players would have had the forethought and skill to handle that situation as Minisi did.

Minisi's winning catch against Penn on the dead run deep into a corner of the end zone also was far from removed from the ordinary. It was a fielding masterpiece of the type that Tris Speaker made at the height of his baseball career.

Against Michigan, Minisi started Navy off on its most impressive offensive work by expertly faking a run to the left, suddenly wheeling and throwing a left-handed pass diagonally into the arms of Leon Bramlett for the first touchdown.

the Spartan goal for another seven points with the score 20-0.

State Opens Up
In the opening part of the third quarter, Great Lakes scored for the final time, following a run by Aschenbrenner, making the score 27-0.

As center Bill Pagel recovered quarterback Ottele's fumble on State's own 41, the Spartans started their single sustaining drive of the game. From their 41 to the one-yard line the Spartans marched, but lost the ball on downs after being thrown for a three-yard loss.

Great Lakes took over and fumbled on their own one foot line, where Matt Mazza recovered for State. Hendricks took the ball from center and dove over for the score.

The game ended at a 27-7 score with the ball on the Spartan one-yard line, following a last minute touchdown drive by the sailors.

Roberts, Krakora Return to MSC Basketball Team

Ben Van Alstyne, Spartan basketball coach, received the news yesterday that two more of last year's lettermen are returning to State.

Robin Roberts, a forward from Springfield, Ill., and Joe Krakora, a guard from Berwyn, Ill., are both returning to start work outs this week.

Van Alstyne will now have eight lettermen to bolster this year's squad, which has anything but an easy schedule ahead.

Other veterans of the team include Sam Fortino, Alma senior, forward, and guards: Pat Pepler, Chicago sophomore; Oliver White, Cleveland, O., junior; Don Pjesky; Joe Beyer, Grosse Pointe sophomore, and Dudley Jones.

The center position is probably the greatest problem at present. Don Joyce, freshman from Fort Wayne, Ind., was shifted from forward to guard but is now playing the center position. Mat Mazza, Niagara Falls freshman, and Leroy Gunderson, Lapeer junior, both members of the football squad, are expected to report after the close of the football season and thus give more competition for the center slot.

In the early days crude oil was carried in barrels by horse and wagon.

Hendricks, Jones Star in Backfield; Both Excellent in Blocking, Running

When a team has a fullback the calibre of Jack Breslin, one might believe there would be no need for other gridders at this position. However, State happens to have not only one, but two men who are above average line smashers in their own right. They are Don Hendricks, Muskegon sophomore, and Milford Jones, Eaton Rapids freshman.

Against Great Lakes last Saturday the lone Spartan touchdown was scored by Hendricks with an effective leap over the center of the navy line. This tally climaxed a hard afternoon's work for Hendricks, who had been battling every minute he was in the game. He is one of the most important gridders that Coach Bachman has when it comes to defense, and can be counted upon to make his share of tackles.

Hendricks spent a year and a half in the navy stationed at Hawaii. He played football for a full year at Western Michigan previous to coming to MSC. He also was a catcher on the baseball squad there and will probably report for MSC baseball in the spring. Hendricks is from upper Michigan where some of the best high school ball players in the state are produced. A graduate of Muskegon Heights, he has punched over for three scores so far this season.

Communists Claim Nationalists Attacking Southern Manchuria

CHUNGKING, Nov. 12 (AP)—A Communist spokesman charged today that nationalist troops had launched an assault on the fortress city of Shanhaikwan, which stands at the southern threshold of Manchuria.

Without confirmation elsewhere, he declared more nationalist troops were streaming toward the front in an attempt to deal a "serious blow" to crack communist troops entrenched there.

The newspaper Ta-Kung-Pao, one of the few in China with a correspondent in the Manchurian capital of Changchun, reported the fighting had been raging "for days now and it may be imagined how hard it will be for national forces to fight their way deep into vast Manchuria."

Unconfirmed Report

An unconfirmed dispatch from the port of Chinwangtao, just south of Shanhaikwan, said Chinese nationalist troops were believed moving out of Shantung province to Manchuria by sea.

This account said that the communists were embarking at the Shantung port of Penglai, which lies 70 miles across the Yellow sea from the southern tip of Manchuria, and that 20 ocean-going junks had been spotted.

Defensive Fighting

Lt. Gen. Tu Li-Ming, newly-named nationalist commander for Manchuria, said yesterday his troops would move soon but said so far they had engaged only in "defensive fighting" pending the outcome of peace talks here.

The communist spokesman reported the fighting was serious but that Shanhaikwan, at the coastal end of China's Great Wall, still was in the hands of Chinese Reds.

Members of the football squad agree that Milford Jones is one of the team's better tacklers. A power-propelled fullback, Jones has an unusual amount of leg drive in his running. Having an ideal build for the position, standing six feet tall and tipping the scales at 180 pounds, he hits the line hard, and with experience should make a good name for himself at MSC.

Hampered somewhat by injuries received earlier in the season, Jones has not had too many chances to get in the game, but possibly will get his opportunity in the remaining contests with Penn State and Miami.

traffic between Kunming and Chungking, I could have made the entire trip from Washington, D. C., to Chungking in four days. At it was, I had to stay over at Kunming until the next day. Here I visited a laboratory where they make all the biological products for human beings for the entire country.

"That afternoon I called on the army veterinary unit in an engineering outfit at Kunming. I met seven or eight veterinarians. The U. S. A. had very extensive military installations at Kunming. As a matter of fact, I was amazed at our military power displayed at all stops, namely, Stephenville; New Foundland; Stanta Marie, Azores; Casablanca, Tripoli; Cairo, Egypt; Abadan, Iran; Karachi, and Calcutta, India.

Paratrooper Ship

"When we finally got a special plane from Kunming, it was an old battle scarred C-45 paratrooper plane. The weather was rough so we went far above the mountains and clouds. I know that we were 11,000 feet in the air once and that later the pilot 'gave her the gun,' but how high we went to reach smooth going I don't know.

"I do know that all hands were glad to set foot on Chinese soil when we landed at Brischy, twenty or thirty miles short of Chungking.

"We were told that the ATC field at Chungking was cloudy and that we would have to go by truck the rest of the way. There had been rain for several days, so the new road was washed out. Therefore, they took us over an old road in two army trucks. Was it rough going!"

SHOPPING SORTIE

For Women Only
By PAT DELAHUNTE

WHILE scouting the shops this week, your fashion finder discovered some sure-fire items for any college wardrobe.

First to claim the spotlight for that casual look that every coed loves to have, is a jumper with wrap around skirt and surplus front. The Style Shop has them in rayon herringbone twill, fashioned by B. H. Wragge, in oak brown and black. The rounded shoulders and cap sleeves make it a datable dress, or a sharp class-time outfit... wear it with a matching crepe blouse in black with potter blue or oak brown stripes. The wing sleeves and rounded shoulders make it a reversible style. The jumper, $29.75; the blouse, $10.95, in junior sizes.

Come winter — and thoughts turn suit-ward. Color in suits brightens the scene, and lightens every gal's heart. The new color for dark days is neon, a clear soft shade of blue. Town and College is featuring a slick battle jacket suit of neon light weight all wool. The straight tubular skirt has a trouser treatment for strictly tailored hips, and little slits at each side that announce its action ability. Buttons of carved silver add a feminine touch to this tailored suit... Just imagine the feeling of soft doeskin all over, and no one will be able to resist this fashion find. Priced at $39.95, it can be had in sizes 14 and 16.

With Christmas in the offing, everybody's scouting the shops for gifts. For the roommate or gal friends at home, just the right thing would be a name bracelet of aluminum, made in five widths to fit the wrist. Order them through Shepards before Dec. 10, for $1.00 to $2.50.

Every clothes-conscious coed is on the look-out for the new flang shoulder and wing sleeve lines this season. The find of the week is a Jacobson's budget dress that features the three-quarter length wing sleeve. Fashioned of grey chalk-stripe wool and rayon which resembles men's wear flannel, the dress has a fly front and a collarless neckline with one large braid button. It's a bargain at $12.95. Other budget dresses of jersey or rayon gabardine are moderately priced from $8.95 to $14.95.
