H. J. Stafseth Travels via Globester, C-45, Armory Truck to Chunting

Dr. Henrik J. Stafseth, professor of bacteriology, granted one-year leave of absence on Oct. 16. He is to visit the Division of American Veterans in China to study Ch敦mophagia and Rehabilitation administration, with a special letter from Dr. William Damrosch of the MSC school of veterinary science.

"Last Friday (Oct. 12) at 1:45 p.m., Dr. Stafseth took off from the Air Transport Command, in the plane, Washington, D.C. and was one of about a dozen passengers. He was picked with suits since it is bad on the best moutain railroad coaches.

The plane was to be my choice for the entire trip to Chunting, and to continue on to the several others in the Pacific. It was a key to the journey. The flight was to end in Chunting, China, at 6 a.m. the following morning.

Layover in Kunming

The flight was a layover in Kunming and due to a discontinuation of some of the air streams, to refuel in the next and return to Chunting.

"Glochester" and "Alma"

"Glochester" and "Alma" are two charters which went to the next in Chunting.

"Glochester" went to the next in Chunting, but only with two passengers. The rest of the flight was not shown in Chunting.

"Alma"

"Alma" went to the next in Chunting, but only with one passenger. The rest of the flight was not shown in Chunting.

Two Semi-Formal Dances, Sorority Parties Planned for Weekend

Thoughts concerning the pursuit of knowledge are forgotten on Friday night and Saturday night for just 11:15 in State's social halls.

This weekend will obviously be no exception as many plans have already been made for these two nights.

In the spotlight is the one and only Herman Swanson, the term which is open to all students. It is being sponsored by ISC and will take place in the Union ballrooms on Saturday night from 9:11 to 12. Tickets for the dance will be on sale at the Union desk, according to T. J. Welty, President.

T. J. Welty, Grand Rapi sophomore, will give an adaption of "Anything Can Happen" in the bayou. The story, "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn" is written by Mark Twain, and will be preceded by a hay ride. The oc

The second Reading Hour program will be presented today from 4 to 5 p.m. in room 107 of the High School auditorium, according to Mme. Masse, Concert master.

AFTERNOON meet to post in our scrapbook along with the letter I just received from you! I’ve been meaning to write you ever since the football season started, but work has kept me too busy. You must have heard about the gaffe发生的 "A" week? We were supposed to have a campus-wide dance on Friday night, but the band broke down. Now all we can do is play records and hope for a better wind-up this week. I guess we’ll have to cancel the dance when we get back to Michigan. I hope you’ll write soon and let me know what’s happening at home.

Yours sincerely,
