... Pledges Burn

Biddy Balz, Pontiac senior, really put her Alpha Gam sorority sisters in hysterics last night when she told them the only logical way for her, to file out of the sorority house should it ever catch fire is, of course, in initiation order!

... Does She Talk

There are people who don't get enough sleep and take it out on others, but Peg Farrall, East Lansing sophomore, carries things to the extreme. It wasn't enough that she had to tumble sleepily from her high stool in biology lab and disrupt the entire "Too" class, but as Peg went down with arms flaying wildly she caught friend Marjorie Landkamer, Melrose, Mass., sophomore, in the face with a book and started a nose bleed that would make the Red Cross blood center look anemic.

BULLETIN

JERUSALEM, Nov. 14 (AP) — Jewish crowds set fire to government buildings and stoned police at Tel Aviv, and advisers tonight declared British troops had fired on the rioters.

The reports of shootings could not be confirmed immediately.

Atomic Bomb Convo Nears End of Work

War Department Urges Domestic Commission For Atomic Control

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—The war department called today for quick creation of domestic controls over atomic energy, as American, British and Canadian leaders neared the end of their conference on international controls.

Secretary of War Patterson told a news conference that domestic legislation should be adopted promptly to clear the way for international action.

The war department's idea of legislation, he said, contemplates that a nine-man commission would control all atomic energy activities, including the construction of atomic bombs.

Control of Atom
President Truman, Prime Minister Attlee of Britain, and Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada met again at the White House. Allied diplomats speculated that if the leaders agree on any plan for control of atomic force through the United Nations, the plan would be immediately communicated to Generalissimo Stalin of Russia, and possibly to leaders of France and China as well. Those countries, with Britain and the United States would have primary responsibility for carrying it out as permanent members of the United Nations Security council.

Ballet Theater to Perform Again

Returning to State during its fourth annual coast-to-coast tour, the Ballet Theater will perform before a capacity audience Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 26 and 27.

The programs will take place at College auditorium at 8:15 p.m., according to S. E. Crowe, chairman of the lecture-concert series.

The company, under the direction of S. Hurok, consists of 125 persons.

Conductor of the ballet is Jascha Horenstein, who was born in Russia in the city of Kiev and was educated in Vienna. From 1925 to 1928 he conducted the Berlin Philharmonic chorus and the Berlin Symphony orchestra. Later he became chief conductor of the Dusseldorf opera.

Until Horenstein's arrival in the United States in 1933, he was conductor of major orchestras in Belgium, France, Russia, Sweden, Poland and other nations. In the western hemisphere he appeared with the New York Philharmonic symphony society and with the Montreal Philharmonic. He also appeared in Mexico, Chile, Peru and Buenos Aires.

While the Theater specializes in Russian ballet, the American touch has been added to recent creations. One of the outstanding numbers in this repertoire, which won the enthusiasm of the college audience last season, was Jerome Robbins' sailor ballet, "Fancy Free." New productions such as these will be included in this season's program.

Honorary Initiates 16 Mathematicians Into Membership

Pi Mu Epsilon, honorary mathematics fraternity, initiated 14 students and two instructors Wednesday evening, according to Dr. E. M. Stewart, assistant professor of mathematics and advisor to the organization.

The instructors in mathematics who were initiated are: Mrs. Madelyn Kintner and Mrs. Jennie Master.

Others include Eleanor Besonen, Escanaba junior; Joanne Attwood, Lansing junior; Virginia Snyder, Grand Rapids sophomore, and Katherine Weiss, Detroit junior.

Faculty Member Wins Ad Contest

Prof. Alan Scott of the college journalism department was informed yesterday that he had placed first in a victory bond contest sponsored by radio station WOV in New York.

Scott received a $500 bond for his participation in the contest, having sent in advertising ideas to carry out the station's theme of "WOV is the Key to Two New York Markets."

Material for WOV has appeared as full page ads in Broadcasting, the radio trade magazine, and Scott entered the contest on the basis of these displays.

Before coming to MSC in September, Scott was with the OWI in San Francisco and New York. His last teaching position was at the University of California.

Concert to Feature Well-Known Figure In Music World

Joseph Schuster, who will appear in a concert Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Music auditorium, has been playing with well-known music artists since he was 10 years of age.

When Schuster came to New York in 1934 he was immediately invited into the New York Philharmonic symphony society as solo cellist. Two years later, however, he resigned his position and has been devoting his time to a concert career throughout the country.

Some of the pieces that Schuster will play before the Michigan State audience are: "Introduction and Polonaise" by Chopin; "Concerto in D Major" by Tartini; and "Variations in E Flat Major" by Beethoven.

Students to Represent MSC at Hillsdale Meet

June Szosz, Elgin, Ill., junior, and Robert Ballard, Jackson senior, winners of the college extemporaneous speaking contest, will represent Michigan State at the Michigan Inter-collegiate Speech league to be held Friday at Hillsdale college.

Miss Szosz's topic will be "Inter-racial Relationships," and Ballard will discuss "National Security." The preliminary contest will last eight minutes, and the finals ten minutes.

Rumors On China Keep Situation In Confusion

CHUNGKING, Nov. 14 (AP)

—Crack communist troops were thrown back in savage fighting as they hurled heavy attacks at two major nationalist strongholds in inner Mongolia, an official dispatch said today.

The battles still swirled about the railway terminal of Paotow and long-besieged Kweisui, capital of Suiyuan province 80 miles to the east, where the communists threw in 10,000 reinforcements, the dispatch added.

The attack on Paotow, western terminal of the now-severed Peiping-Suiyuan railroad, opened at 3 a.m. yesterday and 3,000 communist troops forced the western gate, this account claimed. Eleven hours later they were expelled.

Kweisui Attacked
Gen. Ho Lung, famed communist commander, meanwhile was reported to have attacked Kweisui with five columns 10,000 strong.

The situation remained obscure on the southern border of Manchuria, southeast of this battle zone, where neutral advices had reported nationalist troops had captured the communist fortress city of Shanhaikwan (Linyo).

A communist spokesman declared the government had landed four armies at the U. S. marine-occupied port of Chinwangtao for the sole purpose of seizing Shanhaikwan and pushing on into Manchuria.

Difficulty With Russia
A foreign office spokesman, meanwhile, made the first official Chungking admission that China was having difficulty in negotiating with Russia for the entry into Manchuria.

Minister of Information K. C. Wu denied a rumor afloat in Chungking that Russia had granted Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek permission to fly 1,500 troops to Changchun, Manchuria's capital.

A government spokesman also denied a communist charge that American lend-lease material still was being sent into China for use in the campaign against Chinese reds.

'Blithe Spirit' to Have Gala Opening Tomorrow Night

MSC's fall term dramatic production, Noel Coward's "Blithe Spirit," will be presented Friday and Saturday nights at 8:15 in Fairchild theater.

The play, under the direction of Prof. Don Buell, is an improbable farce in three acts, revolving around

Charles Condomine, played by Robert Huber, Cincinnati, O., sophomore; his first wife, Elvira, played by Lois Banzet, East Lansing senior; and his second wife, Ruth, played by Patricia Beechler, Charlotte senior.

Other members of the cast include: Dorothy Blasko, Detroit sophomore, as Madame Arcati, the spiritualist; Barbara Hafford Jones, Glen Rock, N.J., senior, as Edith, the Cockney maid; John McCaughna, St. Charles senior, as Mr. Bradman, a friend; and Lois Robinson, Cincinnati, O., senior, as Mrs. Bradman, his wife.

The action takes place in the Condomine home in Kent, England. Charles Condomine is happily married to his second wife when the ghost of his first wife appears at a seance, conducted by Madame Arcati.

Double Trouble
The first wife plans to haunt Charles and to kill him. Instead she kills the second wife. Later when women appear as ghosts and Charles is confronted with the problem of getting rid of both wives.

Settings are under the direction of Prof. Cecil H. Nickle, who had charge of the set construction for the term plays at Michigan State for 14 years. The set for "Blithe Spirit" will be a living room with grey-green walls and a sloping ceiling.

The Speech Majors' club is planning to make Friday night a gala opening night. Members of the group will wear formal attire and all other women students will also wear them. Larry Emire will interview persons in the lobby before curtain time and the interviews will be transmitted into the theater by loudspeaker.

Immediately after the play, a party has been planned in the construction room, honoring the cast, crews, and director.

BUILDINGS GOIN' UP

There've Been Some Changes Made

By BOB BYERLY

"There will be some changes made—and make 'em big," has evidently long been the motto of MSC's administration judging from the history of State's campus.

What is now termed one of the most beautiful campuses in the country, was in 1857 frankly called by a casual sightseer (who, incidentally, wasn't from U of M) as a "jungle of brush, stumps, charred logs, and swamps."

Northeast of the present Women's gym lay a frog-and-snake-infested bog with one especially soggy section which loyal State students called a pond. Today that former swamp is the site of the Beal botanical gardens.

In the matter of college buildings, the agriculture board, like other higher powers, both giving and taketh away. Old College hall, which stood where Beaumont tower is now located, was the first building erected in America for the purpose of agricultural education.

However, that was not its only function: every class and social activity scheduled on campus took place in that one building, including church services, political club meetings, and entertainments.

Wells hall, named for the president of the board of agriculture, was built in 1876 to house the steadily increasing number of men on campus. A forerunner of Mason-Abbot dormitories, it lacked many conveniences of those huge and modern buildings. Aged alumnae tell tales of horror about the BMOCs of 1880 who were attacked by swarms of bedbugs and were forced to beat their mattresses every Saturday morning on the tree stumps studding the front lawn.

In 1906 fire destroyed the old building, but a second Wells hall was ready for occupancy by the fall of 1907. It still stands today, accommodating approximately 400 men.

Abbot hall, built in 1910 to house women in the division of home economics, was a two-story, red brick, colonial style building. Mason-Abbot today accommodates 880 students, and covers three city blocks.

Big Ten For State?

If a new member is being sought for the Western Conference, why shouldn't it be Michigan State college? Abandoning football entirely and sadly lacking in other sports, the University of Chicago became inactive in recent years, and, consequently, the Big Ten is now only nine. Michigan State, however, is up and coming in all sports, has a splendid plant, none better. State already plays several of the Big Ten teams, including Michigan. Geographically, State is so located that her teams could reach other stadiums and hers could be reached by the other teams with a minimum of expense and time lost. Ralph Young, director of athletics at MSC, has announced that if State were invited to join the Western Conference, the college most certainly would accept that invitation. Why, then is the invitation not extended?

Epsilon Chi Pledges National Sorority

Phi Sigma Sigma pledged Epsilon Chi, local sorority on campus to the national sorority last night. Miss Esther Malter, national executive secretary of Phi Sigma Sigma, has been on campus this past week to pledge the women. The six charter members include: Marjorie Silberblatt, Detroit junior; Shirley Ginsburg, Mt. Pleasant senior; Adia Winkelman, St. Ignace junior; Ruth Stein, Midland sophomore; Marilyn Moskovitz, Accord, Mass., sophomore, and Lois Rose, Detroit sophomore. After the ceremony the women were entertained by their sorority advisor, Miss Barbara Hoffman, at her home. Miss Hoffman is an assistant professor in the home economics department.

ELECTIONS

Junior and senior primary elections will be held Tuesday instead of Wednesday because of the Thanksgiving holiday. Helen Fisher, Grand Haven senior, announced. Any nominees for junior or senior class officers who wish to withdraw from the ballot must submit their resignation in writing to Bud Smith by Friday. Pictures and campaign literature should also be given to Smith by Friday. All women nominees for junior and senior offices must petition Points Supervisory board before the primary election, according to Gayle Oviatt, Washington, D. C., junior. Women who will exceed the points limitation if they are elected should indicate which activity they will forfeit.

Coaches Prepare Eleven For Strong Penn State

Spartans Work Against Single Wing Formation; Penn State Lions Lose One Game to Navy; Breslin, Reader, Vezmar to Start Game

Football practice swung into high gear last night as the Spartans worked out defensive tactics aimed at stopping Penn State's powerful eleven.

The good news that Walt Vezmar would be able to play next Saturday bolstered the strength of the line, while State's top backfield combination of Johnson at quarterback, Reader and Contos at the halves, and Breslin at fullback is also expected to be ready for action against the Lions.

Several Stars

With the return of Breslin, Reader, and Vezmar, Coach Bachman's chief worry is no longer that of replacement. Now strategy involves finding methods of stopping Penn State's star, Joe Tepsic, whose play this year has been a feature of all the Lions' games.

Tepsic has scored 49 points to lead the team, and Coach Johnny Pingel, who scouted Penn State's last two games, has confirmed reports that Tepsic is one of the best running backs in the east.

Defeated Only Once

Penn State's only defeat in six games this year came at the hands of a star-studded Navy team, 28-0. Since then, in their last three games, the Lions have rolled up 99 points to a total of 7 for their opponents. Spurring the team on is the possibility of an Orange Bowl invitation if their record remains impressive.

The fact that the Lions employ a single wing formation will appear as somewhat of a novelty to Spartan fans. The last four home games have brought teams which operate from a "T" formation.

This formation depends a great deal upon deception, whereas the single wing style is primarily a power offense. The ball is centered directly to the ball carrier, and each play's success depends not so much upon trickery as upon hard and fast blocking by every man. Despite this emphasis on powerplays, Penn State is also credited with a good aerial attack. Fullback Bellas and his alternate Ralph Ventresco are the team's leading passers.

Last night's practice session ended with a lengthy scrimmage with the regulars on defense against a reserve team running Penn State plays brought back by Scout Johnny Pingel in an effort to strengthen the line. Head coach Charlie Bachman experimented with a new system of al-

State Track Site For National Meet

Michigan State will be host for the seventh National Collegiate Athletic association cross country run to be held Saturday, Nov. 24, over the four-mile State course, according to athletic director Ralph H. Young. There are at present 93 entries from 12 universities and colleges.

Drake university, the defending champion, has filed an entry list of 10, headed by Fred Feiler, last year's individual champion. Also slated to run is Arthur Hawk, one of Feiler's teammates a year ago who placed second in the meet but since has transferred to Purdue.

Other schools entered are as follows: Miami (Ohio), Ohio State, Michigan State, Wisconsin, Iowa State, University of Chicago, Indiana, Notre Dame, University of Connecticut, and Wayne.

Probable entries before the deadline are Cornell college, Oberlin, Wheaton, and the United States Naval Academy.

Coach Lauren Brown of the Spartan cross country team says, "It's the biggest athletic event of the year."
