Spartan Players Will Battle Penn State Today

Today's Campus

... Refreshing Pause

One of the morning classes really had a treat this week when the class went together to entertain each other with a "coffee and rolls brunch." The task of making the brew fell on two of the married women who insisted that their husbands had always made the coffee. Two difficulties that developed during the snack were (1) serving fifteen people with only two cups, and (2) trying to recite with a mouth full of sweet roll.

... Brave New World

It was decided after consideration that there wasn't enough time in college for reading up on the pertinent things of life, and thus Mary Bestervelt, Kalamazoo Junior, has established the funny magazine hour at Mason hall. At the designated time all members of the organization meet with determined faces and reading matter tucked under their arm to cram for better living.

French Cabinet Feud Causes Resignation Of Gen. DeGaulle

PARIS, Nov. 16 (AP)— A political crisis stirred France tonight after Gen. De Gaulle's office announced he had decided to resign as interim president because of a deadlock with the powerful Communist party over his new cabinet. Sources close to the French leader, however, said his letter of resignation, as yet, not made public, indicated a willingness to continue efforts to form a government. There was an immediate flurry of political conferences. The Communist party, which won the most seats in the constituent assembly in the last election had demanded "political posts."

Ballet Theater Plans Two Performances

Ballet theater will appear two evenings at State during its fourth annual coast-to-coast tour.

The first performance will be offered Nov. 26; the second presentation, the following night. Both programs will begin at 8:15.

New Number

An outstanding number Monday evening will be a new composition, "On Stage." This number mingles jitter-bugging with classicism and introduces an innovation of dialogue in ballet.

"On Stage" tells the backstage story of a ballet rehearsal. The theater handyman and an aspiring ballerina imagine themselves to be stars of the world of ballet. After a rehearsal they dance together until the director realizes the ballerina is talented.

Classic Dance

Also to be presented during the first evening is a classic, "Swan Lake." The original, a three-act version of Tchaikowsky's music, was first performed in Moscow in 1876. Its present version was reconstructed by Serge Diaghileff in 1924 into one act.

The story is of a prince and his friends who come upon a flock of swans while hunting near a lake. The swans alight in a clearing

IFC, Sigma Kappa to Have Dances; Forestry Club Plans Term Party

Two semi-formals and one informal party have been planned for tonight.

IFC is sponsoring a semi-formal dance which will be held in the Union ballroom from 9 until 12. The room will be decorated with replicas of various fraternity pins.

Tickets for the affair are on sale at the Union desk, but only a limited number are available, according to Chairman Dick Mosher, East Lansing junior.

Howland's Band

Rosemary Howland's band has been contracted to supply the music for dancing, and the grill will be open for those wishing refreshments. Patrons for the party will be Prof. and Mrs. H. J. Wyngarden, Prof. and Mrs. O'Neal Mason, and Prof. and Mrs. E. A. Gee.

Chairman of tickets for the dance was John Potts, Jackson sophomore. Publicity was handled by Dick Henderson, Detroit junior, and Bud Cline, Owosso junior, was in charge of the decorations.

Forestry club will hold its term party tonight in the Forestry cabin from 9 to 12. Members and their guests will participate in games, singing, and broom and square dancing, according to Chairman Fred Schulte, Lansing sophomore. Chaperoning the party will be Prof. and Mrs. T. D. Stevens, and Prof. and Mrs. Karl Dressel.

Stork Club

Sigma Kappas are basing their term party on a night club theme, "The Sigma Stork Club". The dance which will be semi-formal, will take place from 9 until 12 at the chapter house. Dee Dearing, Pontiac senior, is chairman of the party and Prof. and Mrs. S. A. Gallacher, and Prof. and Mrs. Allan Scott have been invited to be patrons.

Alpha Gamma Deltas and Alpha Gamma Rhos will have Sunday evening lunch together tomorrow, according to Joyce Howlett, Howell senior.

Council Gives Official List Of Nominees

The official slate of candidates for the primary elections of senior and junior class officers to take place Tuesday from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on the lower deck of the Union, has been announced. The list has been checked for names of candidates who have withdrawn and for eligibility of nominees, according to Election Chairman Dale Brown, Sebawaing junior.

The ballot stands as follows: for senior president: Jack Breslin, Harold Daehler, Glenn Johnson, and Fred Meyer.

Candidates for vice-president: Lucille Albert, Dorothy Dearing, Margaret Irene Fox, and Bernice Horn. Others are: Maryita Mulvihill, Renee Scott, and Markine Traynor.

For treasurer: Joan Boyman, Jane Cade, Charles Costa, and Patricia Lord.

*State Eleven Hopes to Stop Lion's Prospects For Orange Bowl Bid

This afternoon the Spartans face the bowl-conscious Penn State Lions in what is hoped will be a bounce-back after last week's 27-7 defeat at the hands of Great Lakes.

Penn State, however, is one of the strongest teams in the country and brings with it an impressive record of five wins as against one defeat. This 28-0 loss was inflicted by the all-power Navy eleven. The Lions scored their five victories over Muhlenberg, Colgate, Bucknell, Syracuse and Temple.

Opening Night Of Term Play Wins Praise

"Blithe Spirit," as presented last night in Fairchild theater by the drama department, was a finished performance which delighted and thrilled a capacity audience.

A charming set, attractive or, rarer and more important, appropriate clothes, flawless technical staging, capable direction, and a well-balanced cast who showed an understanding of Noel Coward's flashy lines, all contributed to the excellence of the production.

While everyone in the cast gave a good performance, Robert Huber did not perform but seemed to live the part of Charles Condomine. Carrying the burden of an enormous role, he was at all times easy, authoritative, and completely comprehensible to the audience.

Madame Arcati

Dorothy Blasko showed range and vitality as the irrepressible Madame Arcati. Only occasionally did the undergraduate peep through the mediumistic robes. Patricia Beechler and Lois Banzet gave contrast as the two wives. Although Miss Beechler too often had overtones of the fishwife, she alone was not responsible for a too frequent note of disagreeable ill nature rather than of brittle sophistication.

Barbara Jones was a delightful Edith, and John McCaughna and Lois Robinson were properly stuffy and naive. Less determination that the audience get every syllable of dialogue would speed the tempo, particularly in the first scene where the author gives his cast remarkably little assistance.

The play will be repeated again tonight. —T. R.

Staffs Will Open Doors to Public

Staff members of the three student publications comprising the Board of Student Publications will be on hand to welcome visitors to their offices Tuesday night. Special attempts to explain the mechanics of producing a magazine, newspaper and yearbook to guests will be made, according to Chairman Doris Englehardt, Lansing senior.

"Open house" has been an annual affair in Publications row since it was instituted in 1941 by Sigma Delta Chi, men's journalism honorary, and Matrix, women's journalism honorary that has since become Theta Sigma Phi. All students and faculty members are welcome to attend and refreshments will be served. The open house will be in progress from 7 to 9 p.m. and will be held in the publications' offices in the Union annex.

Local Bands To Play At Half-Time Today

The half-time entertainment at the Penn State game this afternoon will be provided by the Lansing Eastern high school, combined boy and girl band of 118 pieces, and the Lansing Sexton high school all-boy band of 50 members.

The Eastern high band is under the direction of William R. MacIntire, and Bill Hocking is the drum major.

Directing the Sexton high musicians is Harold Ferguson who is a State alumni. The drum major is Don Ferne.

averages 187. However, they do run fast, tackle hard, and block well. It is upon this, the three basic fundamentals, that Penn State bases their whole attack.

State, on the other hand, has been working hard all week in order to strengthen its line and brush up its passing attack. The Spartans must show a decided improvement in the line if they intend to make any kind of a showing against the Lions.

Passing Stressed

Coach Charlie Bachman has also stressed passing, as this has been State's strong point all year and the Spartans will count heavily upon it this afternoon.

The Spartans tapered off this week's practice schedule with a light workout and signal drill last night. Although several men are favoring injuries, the Spartans will be able to start their strongest lineup today against the favored Penn State team. Game time is 2 p.m.

The contest will mark the third time these two teams have met since 1914, but it will be the initial appearance in East Lansing for Penn State. Both previous games were played in Pennsylvania with each team winning one game.

Last Home Game

Today's home game will not only be the last game of the year for Spartan fans, but it will be their last chance to see fullback

'Faith Without Works Is Dead'

As Washington waits for some sign from Russia, the future of civilization hangs heavily in the balance. The future of civilization means the future of every individual, even every student at Michigan State college. Atomic power, if unleashed, could without a doubt destroy that future.

A few days ago the problem was one of preventing the United States from leading the world into the most ferocious armament race the world has even seen through its control of the atomic bomb. In the proposal of the United States, Britain and Canada that control of atomic energy be placed in the hands of a special United Nations committee, we find the first step, and a hazardous step, toward solving the problem successfully.

The release of control from our hands takes faith, faith in the integrity of the other powers of the world. Also, it will require constant vigilance. That faith and that vigilance must begin now in the mind of every individual. A false step in this search for security may spell the final catastrophe of the world.

Weekly Letter to Men in the Service

November 17, 1945

DEAREST Johnny,
If I can keep my eyes open long enough to hit the right keys, I'll manage a letter to you. If things keep up at this rate, I'll be a hag in two years. I could check the bags under my eyes. But enough of that, I don't want to put you to sleep.

We play Penn State today, rain, shine, or snow, and from the looks of the weather it will be all three. But I'm a Spartan through and through and will go. Even though they are saying that Penn State is rated over State, I gotta be showed. By the way, this is the last home game so they should make it good.

Big news, Big Boy because of crowded conditions we are going to have some night classes and perhaps noon classes, too. That sure will be a good one. Nothing like meeting you in the shadow of Beaumont after my 9 o'clock. I think maybe I'll like that idea.

You'll be sorry to hear that Fred Patton of the music department is retiring in December. I guess everyone is entitled to a little rest, but he certainly will be missed.

Elections for senior and junior class officers are scheduled for Tuesday and the finals are slated for the first week in December, so politics are in again.

Term play got off to a flying Z last night with everyone putting their best dramatic foot forward. And they are doing it again tonight. My roommate made me wear my formal over, but when I got there I found out that it wasn't such a bad idea, after all.

Porpoise honorary is going to pick a queen for their aquatic victory parade and competition is running high. I sure feel sorry for those men having to pick a queen from all those queens. My girl friend Connie was going to nominate me but she decided that I wouldn't make such a good impression when I started to sink.

All for now, have to go and get that beauty sleep the mattress companies are always talking about.

Love,
DEE

Doctor Accuses German Officials

DACHAU, Germany, Nov. 16 (AP)—An inmate who survived Dachau concentration camp today accused guards and officials of tortures and murders, of bleaching human heads for souvenirs, and skinning human bodies to make handbags for their women.

The witness, Dr. Franz Blaha, identified 17 of the 40 Dachau war crimes defendants in six hours of testimony which frequently evoked gasps from the packed courtroom.

The slight Czechoslovakian physician, first former Dachau inmate to testify, charged that: Fifteen thousand persons died of typhus, but prison doctors were forbidden to report an epidemic because officials "didn't want a quarantine."

Naked prisoners were made to stand in line in front of the hospital for hours in all kinds of weather, while doctors examined them to see if they were able to work. This lineup was called the "slave market."

Scores of inmates were given nothing but salt water for five days to see what effect it would have on them.

Eight thousand Russian prisoners of war were executed in the spring in 1942.

Admiral King Declares Weakness of Navy

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16 (AP)—The ranking officer of the U. S. navy says it has been so weakened by demobilization that it couldn't fight a major battle now.

This remark was made on Capitol hill today by Admiral of the Fleet Ernest J. King, who went there to endorse peacetime training for all youths of 18.

Questioning about demobilizations by members of the house military committee led to the admiral's appraisal of the navy's situation as of now.

China's Communist Band Promise Air Attack If Assault Keeps On

CHINWANGTAO, Nov. 16 (AP)—Chinese nationalist troops punched through the Great Wall of China into Manchuria today, nationalist army headquarters announced.

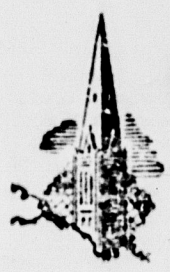

SHANGHAI, Nov. 16 (AP)—Shots fired from a communist-held village upon a train bearing a U. S. marine general brought a stern marine threat of punitive air attack today as Chinese communists and government forces maneuvered for possession of Manchuria and the rich northern provinces.

U. S.-China theater headquarters announced that the shots were fired yesterday at the train of Maj. Gen. Dewitt Pack, commander of the first marine division, from a village near Luwahsien, on the line between Tangsha and the port of Chinwangtao on the Gulf of Chihli.

The hundred yards of track and roadbed were destroyed by land mines which caused several casualties among Chinese workers. No American injuries were reported.

U. S. headquarters declined confirm reports that the marine had returned the gunfire. Maj. Gen. Keller Rockey, commander of the third amphibious corps, said he had directed emissary to inform the communists that "if firing continues will order an air strafing mission against the village."

MSC's Gridiron Prospects For '47 Seem Promising

Reader, Lamssics, Pajakowski, Conti and Black To Be Among Those Expected Back Next Fall; Fullback Breslin To Graduate This Summer

With but two games remaining on this year's schedule including this afternoon's encounter with Penn State, perhaps it is as good a time as any to scan the present roster and try to prophesy what members can be counted on to return next season.

Naturally with international affairs still in a state of emergency and the military draft continuing to operate, a good many of the freshmen who have done so well this year may not be definitely counted on for next year's ball team.

These situations constantly change, however, and the possibility of a few of them at least being eligible for competition in 1946 remains. Among these are: Don Black, Steve Contos, Bob Ludwig, Kent Esbaugh, Nick Zeigler, Warren Huey, Bill Pagel, Don Stewart and a few others.

These men will be difficult to replace if they are not available next fall.

Many Vets

On the other hand quite a few of the fellows on this year's team have already seen military service and therefore can be included in Coach Bachman's immediate plans for the future.

For instance, Joe Pajakowski is an air corps veteran and will undoubtedly be back next year at guard, along with Bob Lamssics, who has been the outstanding lineman of the entire season.

Potential tackles returning include Mark Blackman, also a veteran of the air corps, and Mike Tesin, who served in France with the army. If rugged Walt Veznar's physical condition verifies itself, he will be back in the forward wall next year.

Dick Massuch received his discharge from the navy prior to the beginning of this season, so he will be around again next fall for his third season of varsity play. In addition, Tim Barbas will be back to bolster the strength of the flanks.

Center Position Open

Consequently the center position is the only one on the line that must be completely readjusted for the ensuing season, the way things look this fall.

In the backfield the quarterback spot offers a great deal of encouragement in that all three from the present squad are eligible to play again in 1946.

Glenn Johnson saw action with the air corps. Conti, a 23-year-old, is also likely to be back. Bill Siler was in the service for a time and should return to the gridiron next fall.

Russ Reader, who has established a fine record this season, is also a veteran and is expected to be back to fill the halfback post next year.

At the other half, things are not as promising, although two fellows from the 1945 squad aggregation are back once more. They are Francis Cappaert and Corkie Foster.

Breslin to Graduate

Because he intends to graduate this summer, Jack Breslin will not be able for duty next year. Naturally, this will constitute a severe loss to the squad. But Don Hendricks, a former navy man, and Milford Jones, of the army, will be around to help fill the gap caused by his departure.

By all appearances and present indications, State should have the necessary seasoned veterans to form a nucleus of a good team for the grid season of 1946, which promises to be one of the toughest the school has seen in some time.

Lack of Fight Men May Cancel Meets

Lack of interest in the sport of boxing is creating alarm in the camp of Coach Leon "Brick" Berhans, Spartan boxing mentor. There are 14 candidates at present numbers are insufficient to hold an intra-mural tournament or to place a varsity team in competition, according to Berhans.

When confronted with planning a 1946 schedule Berhans stated, "if we don't have more candidates there will be no need for a schedule." This fact was verified by Ralph H. Young, MSC athletic director.

Young asserted that the problem of more candidates was all important. With the necessary number of candidates there won't be any trouble producing a good schedule, he said.

who was graduated from MSC in '42, has been decorated with the silver star and bronze star. The ceremony was held at the University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 26. He received the silver star for heroism with the 41st field artillery battalion of the seventh army in France, and the bronze star for meritorious service in combat at the Anzio beachhead. He also has been awarded the purple heart and seven battle stars. Jackson was in Lansing before he went out to the University of Nebraska where he is now an instructor in the military department.

U. of M., Purdue Fight for Title At Ann Arbor

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 17 (AP)—Purdue and Michigan, both still mathematically in the running for the Big Ten football championship, collide here today before an anticipated 60,000 fans in an expected wide open, free-scoring duel.

Either the Boilermakers or Wolverines still could win the Western conference crown outright providing the other records an assist by taking its Big Ten finale next week. Purdue from undefeated Indiana or Michigan from once-beaten Ohio state.

Each of the teams, Michigan with its widely varied offensive attack and stout defense and Purdue with its three-pronged assault built around freshman Bob De Moss' passing, Bill Canfield's catching and fullback Ed Cody's running, has won three of four conference games to date.

Injuries had both outfits below top strength and the Wolverines named six freshmen to the starting lineup.

Gil Dodds, Run Champ, May Enter Team in Cross Country Meet

Preacher Gil Dodds, nationally famous distance runner the past two years, has indicated he may enter his Wheaton (Ill.) college cross country team in the NCAA meet.

In bringing his team to MSC for the national meet Saturday, Nov. 24, Dodds would be returning to the scene of one of his greatest triumphs.

While attending Ashland, Ohio, as a divinity student in 1941, Dodds set a new NCAA record. He covered the old MSC four-mile course in 20:30.2. Since that time he has won indoor laurels while attending Boston Theological seminary.

Dodds retired from competition last spring. This NCAA event would mark the initial appearance of this famous harrier as a coach.

Eisenhower Seeks United Forces

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower declared today that "the era of atomic weapons" makes unification of the armed forces a must.

Not only is "unity of concept, indoctrination and training more necessary than ever," he told the Senate military committee, but "only through a single department can co-ordinated development of new weapons be assured."

Unless unification is achieved, and quickly, the general foresaw separate army, navy and air forces going their separate ways.

Acting Chairman Johnson (D., Colo.) announced that Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, who flew here from his Pacific command, would testify tomorrow

Senator Tells Jap Story Of Pearl Harbor Attack

War Planned Long Before Japanese Envoys Sent To Washington With Peace Offers

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16 (AP)—Senator Brewster (R., Me.) declared tonight a navy-prepared summary giving the Japanese story of the Pearl Harbor attack was designed to show that former Secretary of State Hull "was not responsible for the war."

Brewster said the navy summary had been quoted from by Secretary of State Byrnes recently to show that long before Hull made the final American proposal to Japanese "peace" envoys on Nov. 25, 1941, the Japanese had made plans for the attack on Pearl Harbor.

Rep. Keefe (R., Wis.) said these were tentative plans, adding that the decision to carry them out was not made finally until after the Hull proposals were handed the Japanese. The Japanese regarded the Hull proposal as an ultimatum, he said.

Hull Proposals

Brewster put in the observation that he wants to find out whether the Hull proposals "pulled the trigger" and set the Japanese plans in motion.

Keefe brought out in question of Rear Admiral T. B. Inglis that the carrier Enterprise had launched 18 fully armed scout bombers at 6 a.m. 100 miles west of Pearl Harbor on the morning of the attack which came about 7:50 a.m.

"Do you deduce," he asked, "that the commander of the task force had any knowledge at 6 o'clock that there was likely to be an attack on Pearl Harbor at 7:50?"

Routine Operations

Inglis said he thought the night represented routine operations of the task force under Admiral William F. Halsey, Jr.

Gearhart, after intimating as much in questions to Inglis, told a reporter during a recess that he had information the Boise, on convoy duty, had sighted at sea the Japanese force which made the attack. However, on further questioning by newsmen, he said it might have been another group of Japanese ships, not the one which struck Pearl Harbor.

"My information is that there was a fight aboard the Boise over whether they should break orders for radio silence and report it and the captain decided they should not," he said.

Senator Ferguson

The first mention of the Boise came from Senator Ferguson (R., Mich.) after he had developed from Rear Admiral T. B. Inglis that the navy on Nov. 23, 1941—12 days before Pearl Harbor—ordered merchant ships in the Pacific convoyed.

Inglis said he believed there were two convoys in the Pacific at the time of Pearl Harbor. The cruiser Pensacola was convoying eight ships west bound, he said, adding that he did not know the make-up of the other convoy.

Jack Breslin in action. Breslin plans to graduate at the end of next summer term, which makes this his last appearance before a home crowd.

His line smashes, punting, and general all-around good playing have earned him a great deal of praise as one of the country's leading backs. Last year he was chosen as one of the east's representatives in the annual East-West all-star game on New Year's day. Although bothered by

All students are required to have their seat reservations and activity books at all football games, according to L. L. Frimodig, assistant athletic director. Coupon No. 14 will be detached at the Penn State game as the students go in the gate.

Students who are unable to obtain tickets at the athletic office in the Jenison gym prior to 11:30 tomorrow morning may exchange their coupons at booth No. 1 at the stadium.

Students will enter only at gate No. 4 at the north end of the stadium.

a foot injury, Breslin can be counted on to be one of the big guns in State's play against the Lions today.

Quarterback Johnson

Glenn Johnson will call signals, while halfbacks Russ Reader and Steve Contos will provide additional offensive strength. Contos, specializing in reverse plays, has been one of the steadiest ground gainers in the Spartan lineup, while Reader has been the team's leading passing ace. He has built up an impressive percentage of completions aimed mostly at ends Ziegler, Massuch and Huey.

To Stop Powerhouse

In the center of the line State's coaches are counting on a combination of Black and Lamssies as guards, and Bill Pagel at center to stop Penn State's powerhouse. Blackman may also see plenty of action.

For Penn State, Joe Tepsic is expected to spark the running attack. This all-American candidate has been especially effective in off-tackle plays. Balancing his power plunges, will be passers Ralph Ventresco and Al Bellas.

Java Faces Economic Ruin and Starvation

BATAVIA, Java, Nov. 16 (AP)—Acting Governor General Hubertus Van Mook tonight summoned the new Indonesian nationalist cabinet to meet with him in an effort to save Java from economic ruin and starvation, and cabinet leaders indicated they would comply, perhaps by tomorrow night.

A government survey released at the same time, said 2,000,000 persons in western Java were in danger of starvation because of lack of transportation facilities for food.

While the British reported they were extending their control in embattled Soerabaja against diminishing Indonesian resistance, Van Mook told newsmen that further delay in attempting to end strife in Java "would be most harmful."
