Backfire

Just a word of reminder to all coeds who took the AWS hand-book test. They haven't been forgotten, so don't quit worrying. Results have been promised for the middle of next week when the last of 3,500 exams will be corrected. If anyone thinks that wasn't a job just ask Shirley Hamelink, Lansing senior. She contends that the test was harder to correct than it was to write, and she should know.

Cello Master Gives Concert

Last night at 8:15 the beautiful, precise touch of Joseph Schuster, master of the cello, moved and delighted the large audience in the Music auditorium.

Perhaps the most brilliantly played numbers were "Sonata" by Debussy and "Introduction and Polonaise" by Chopin. The latter had a particularly lovely piano accompaniment. "Fantasie-tuecke," by Schumann displayed an impeccable technique of Schuster, while Tartini's "Concerto in D major," "Rondo" by Weber, and "Spanish Dance" by Paganini were delightful short compositions.

Beethoven's "Variations in E flat Major," based on a theme from "The Magic Flute" by Mozart, as played by Schuster was as beautiful as to need no comment. "Prelude and Gigue" and the familiar "Adagio" by Corelli were deep and moving. Also familiar was "Fire Dance" by De Falla, Liszt's "Masks" from "Romeo and Juliette" by Prokofieff as unusual and brilliantly modern in that it was primarily in the minor key. —B. W.

Semi-Formal Will Head Weekend Party Slate

By LIZ CORRY

Although many students are planning on spending Thanksgiving weekend at home, those who do remain at school will find that as far as social affairs go it will be far from dull at MSC.

Foremost on this week-end's roster is the semi-formal dance which the American Legion Red Cedar Post No. 402 is sponsoring. It will take place Saturday night in the Union ballroom from 9 to 12. Eugene Batzer, Flint sophomore, is chairman of the dance and he has announced that Dick Snook's orchestra will furnish the music for the dancers. Batzer also stated that the dance will be open to all students. The Union grill will remain open for refreshments. Chaperoning the affair will be Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCaffree and Mr. and Mrs. John Holland.

Richardson said the Roosevelt plan, as described to him by the late Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, called for the establishment of patrol lines in the Pacific to bar Japanese ships from the Americas.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—Admiral J. O. Richardson testified today he heard with amazement in 1940 that President Roosevelt was considering shutting off all Japanese trade with the Americas if Japan moved against the British.

CHUNGKING, Nov. 20 (AP)—Chinese communists and nationalist forces raced today for strategic positions within Manchuria, said press reports which indicated the Reds were in the lead of the contest with entry into Changchun, capital of the huge territory.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—President Truman announced today the immediate retirement of Gen. George C. Marshall and the nomination of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to succeed him as chief of staff.

DETROIT, Nov. 20 (AP)—R. J. Thomas, president of the United Auto workers (CIO) today called a strike of the 325,000 employees of General Motors corporation but did not name the time set for the nationwide walkout.

NUERNBERG, Germany, Nov. 20 (AP)—Twenty top-flight Nazis, once masters of Europe, sat meekly in a small oak-paneled courtroom today and listened to a five-hour recital of war crimes for which they may answer with their lives.

PUBLICATION OF THE MICHIGAN STATE NEWS will be suspended with this issue until Tuesday, when regular schedule will be resumed, according to Manager Jan Hogg, Ypsilanti senior.

Adventure Series Slates Illustrated Lectures

Two illustrated lectures, "Lovely Bali Today," by Deane Dickason, and "We Live in Alaska" by Karl Robinson, will be presented this week as part of the World Adventure series, according to Dean S. E. Crowe.

DICKASON

Dickason, who has appeared on "America's Town Meeting of the Air," on his own radio program, and who has traveled widely over the world as an editor, author, photographer, and foreign correspondent, will speak on Bali tonight at 8:15 in College auditorium.

To Dickason the charm of Bali is its people rather than its scenery, and he is known as an authority on the subject.

Robinson's color film, which will be presented Saturday at 8:15 p.m. in College auditorium, gives a varied picture of Alaska.

Race for Junior President Between Mosher, Carrier

Finals Will Be Held in December

Primary election results placed Jack Breslin, Battle Creek, and Glenn Johnson, Grosse Ile, in the final running for senior class president, according to election co-chairmen Bud Smith, Dearborn senior, and Dale Brown, Sebawaing junior.

Fall Graduates Will Be Guests At Farewell

Seniors who will receive diplomas at the end of fall term will no longer receive a mere sheepskin, a shake of the hand and a "come back and see us some time," as a farewell gesture from Michigan State college.

Union Board, student activity planning group, announced last night that fall term graduates will be guests at a dinner in the Union Nov. 30 at 6:30 p.m. There will be no speeches or fond good-byes. Pres. Jack Breslin, Battle Creek senior, said.

Entertainment Planned
Following the dinner there will be a brief entertainment program followed by a dance at which graduates and their dates will also be Union board's guests. The band will be announced later, according to Dick Mosher, East Lansing junior.

Guests at the dinner will be Pres. John A. Hannah, Secretary Karl McDonel, Registrar Robert Linton, Dean S. E. Crowe, Counselors Tom King and Mrs. Maurice Gonon, and Alumni Director Glen Stewart.

Senior members of Union board will act as chairmen and hosts of the dinner. They include June McNutt, Detroit, general chairman; Shirley Trump, Franklin Village, dinner music and decorations; Barbara Jones, Glen Rock, N. J., publicity and invitations; Breslin and Union Manager Emery Foster, advisor to Union board.

Vet Trailer Camp Nears Completion

The veterans' trailer housing project, located on South Lyons road near Mt. Hope avenue, is expected to be completed by the end of next week, Secretary Karl H. McDonel announced yesterday.

The 30-acre plot has been leveled and roads constructed under the direction of Claude R. Erickson, directing engineer of the project and consulting engineer for the college. Also under his management provisions have been made to equip the site with light, water, and heat.

The trailers, collected from federal housing projects in Pontiac, Jackson, and Adrian, are due to arrive the beginning of next week, McDonel said.

ROBINSON

* Breslin and Johnson defeated Harold Dachtler, Charlotte, and Fred Meyer, Fairhaven, in the primaries held yesterday.

Vice President Candidates
Margaret Fox, Detroit, and Bernice Horn, Lansing, will run for senior class vice-president after defeating Lucille Albert, Ironwood; Dorothy Dearing, Pontiac; Maryrita Mulvihill, East Grand Rapids, and Renee Scott, Lansing. Markine Traynor, Swartz Creek, withdrew from the candidacy.

Of the candidates for secretary, Janet Johnson, Detroit, and Jeanne Meserva, Chelsea, triumphed over Marilyn Barley, Lansing; Barbara Christianity, Grand Rapids; Adoree Evans, Manistee, and Jean Gamble, Grand Ledge. Marcella Gast had declined to run.

Jack Carrier, Detroit, and Constance Helmer, Lansing, defeated Lois Robinson, Cincinnati, O., and Jean Zook, Holland, N. Y., in the competition for treasurer.

Mosher, Carrier Win
The race for president of the junior class left Dick Mosher, East Lansing, and Robert Carrier, Detroit, running in the finals. They came out on top over Robert Godfrey, Mt. Clemens, and Harold Sessions, Lansing. Marie Matte, Detroit, and Betty Card, Lansing, will run in the finals for vice-president after defeating Mary Jane Helbig, Cleveland Heights, O. Remaining candidates for secretary are Betty Middleton, Birmingham, and Gayle Oviatt, Washington, D. C. They defeated Pauline Prosser, Flint, and Shirley Schmuhl, Grand Rapids.

Jane Cade, Lansing, and Charles Costa, Detroit, will compete for treasurer after beating Joan Bowman, Almont, and Patricia Lord, Detroit.

Final elections will be held in the Union the first week in December, Smith announced.

Drama By Arch Obler Will Be Aired Today By Radio Workshop

Radio workshop will present "Alter Ego" by Arch Obler over station WKAR today at 4 p.m., according to Director Paul Geisenhof.

Jo Carter, Kalamazoo senior, will play the leading role of Joan and Maxine A. Eyestone, Lansing graduate student, will be heard as Joan's evil spirit, Carmen.

Thoughts for Thanksgiving, 1945

Our prayers of Thanksgiving day a year ago have been answered: World War II is over. Wholesale slaughter on a world-wide basis has ceased for the present. We fervently pray that the waging of peace, not war, will be our task in the days to come.

"Killed, wounded, missing in action;" families cut asunder to widows and orphans; husbands, lovers, and brothers gone; men left alive, but maimed in mind and body; the cost in blood and money; the regimenting of our lives—all this and more have we laid on war's exacting altar to bring us victory. Our sacrifices have been exceedingly dear.

The price for peace in an unfettered world has been paid. Now that we have captured the dove, let us not easily relinquish it, but rather justify our sacrifices made in its behalf by sustaining and perpetuating it.

This Thanksgiving holiday let us pray for strength and wisdom that we make this a better world to live in for our coming generations.

LETTERS To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE—All letters to the editor admitted with the intention of being published, must be signed by the writer. If he does not want his name to appear with the letter, it must be indicated. No letters will be considered for publication unless the writer is known. The opinions expressed are those of the writers and not necessarily those of the editors.

TO THE EDITOR:
We are thankful to God on this reverent occasion that our liberty has been preserved. We are humbly thankful today, to the millions of brave men who have given their lives on distant battlefields of the world, so that we here at home may enjoy the principles of justice, freedom and democracy.

Our freedom was valiantly fought for and sanctified in the blood of our comrades in the battles of the mid-western and eastern hemispheres, the conquest of Italy and Germany leading to the great climax—the inevitable triumph over Japan.

Our loved ones died for us because they knew no mutual agreement; they knew only that our freedom should not "perish from the earth." Our fighters refused to be turned back in the dark hours when the threat of defeat hovered constantly overhead; when surrender seemed the only alternative. The only invincible element present was courage, and this courage was displayed in such an exemplary manner that we should never regard this war as a memorable incident.

We prayed earnestly last Thanksgiving day, for peace to be restored to a world wracked with unprecedented human suffering and mass destruction beyond our comprehension. Our prayers were answered Sept. 2, 1945, when an official joint proclamation was issued by the allied powers, declaring that hostilities had ceased, ending the second world war. Shortly thereafter, our country staged its greatest celebration as a momentous tribute to climax the greatest of all wars.

Let us all on this Thanksgiving day, pray to God for strength to rehabilitate these nations; to shower the blessing of liberty upon people who have experienced living under brutal forces, using so-called, "protectorate powers," to retard civilization's progress.

We Americans were favored with victory so that we might extend to all the people of the world, the freedom that our fighting men died for, and were they living today, they might express in these words, "It is our sincere desire that there be established among the people of the earth, an infinite understanding of good will."

We have more to be thankful for this Thanksgiving day than ever before in our history, and we pause in reverent thankfulness to God while assuming the full responsibility of our dedication to the unfinished task before us.

Our flag is symbolic of the living spirit of freedom that every American feels within his heart and wishes to extend to all mankind. Remember grateful Americans—they would have wanted it this way.

That Does It

By MARION HECKEL

RANDOM notes on the hunt and peck machine:

Top position for lost souls on campus should really be awarded to the forlorn students who graduate from Michigan State college during either fall or winter term, because they miss out on all the activities of seniors and get no glory for their long hard years of struggle.

But their years of being ignored are over. Union board members have arranged to honor fall term graduates with a dinner and entertainment the last day of November, and the affair is on its way to becoming a tradition.

Stuck in the bottom corner of yesterday's paper was a small notice to the effect that students working on the Spartan magazine were having a meeting. Regardless of where it was, that notice, and previous ones on the same theme, probably attracted more attention in the past weeks than items of anything else—things are beginning to look up and humor seems just around the corner.

The organizers have hope, faith and lots of energy. At least they better have because preparing a publication of any kind is a job and a student publication can be a nightmare or maybe that's the wrong word to describe visions without benefit of sleep.)

It calls for planning, foresight, knowledge of the ways of writers, printers and type lice, and for a hearty constitution. But, as they always say, the results are satisfying. Hope there will be some excitement down the hall of publications row before June and graduation.

Elections and voting bring up that problem of eligibility which begins to be perpetual. In the past the situation of what year a veterinarian should vote in has come up, but now the other kind of vet is having trouble. So many of the ex-servicemen have taken credits during service that their exact status is questionable and is causing them trouble. Maybe it might be a good idea for such students to be allowed to vote on the basis of the number of credits they have, rather than their standings in classes.

Drakemen To Defend Track Title

Twenty-two schools have completed entries for the seventh annual cross country meet which will be run here Saturday morning and which may well prove to be the largest meet to date.

At 11:30 the starter's gun will signal the start for over 100 contestants who will tread down the four-mile course in quest of a national championship.

At the head of the list is Drake University, the defending champions, paced by Fred Feiler, who likewise is defending his national crown. However, Herbert Stevenson, from the University of Connecticut, has his eyes set on a national championship and may give Feiler some stiff competition for the title.

Other leading contestants include Wisconsin's Webster Knight who placed second last year in the national meet; John T. Hanley, of Dartmouth college, winner of the IC-4A this year; John Adams, who placed fourth in the national meet last year, and Thor Thomsen, who has paced the Ohio State harriers to several victories this season.

The teams entered include: University of Chicago, Drake, Indiana, Connecticut, Western Michigan college, Notre Dame, Ohio State, Purdue, Cornell, Wayne, Dartmouth, Michigan, Rhode Island State, Wheaton, Wisconsin, Army, Iowa State, Miami University, Michigan State, and Minnesota.

Running for State will be Walter Mack, Wayne Finkbeiner, Don Phaden, Walter Kalmbach, Paul Steerman, Lawrence Johns, and Edward Phillips.

Miami to See Final Spartan Football Game

Coch Coach Charlie Bachman and his Spartans will close their 1945 football season this Friday night with a tilt against the University of Miami. The game is to be played in the Orange Bowl, home stadium for the Miami team, and will start at 8:15 p.m.

Both the Spartans and the Hurricanes have chalked up impressive records, and State has recently added much to its standing by dropping the Penn State eleven by a score of 33-0. The Spartans have dropped two games, while tying one and winning five, while Miami has won six, tied and lost one.

To date the Spartans have defeated Kentucky, Pittsburgh, Wayne, Missouri, and Penn State while losing to Michigan and Great Lakes, Miami, on the other hand, has defeated Chattanooga, St. Louis, Miami (Ohio) Clemson, and North Carolina State, while losing only to Georgia and tying South Carolina. State has compiled a total of 113 points to their opponent's 107, and Miami has scored 144 to their opponents' 79.

Carrying the heavy duties for the Hurricanes is 155-pound half-back Gene Hancock, along with him is Bill Levitt, hefty tackle, who is being groomed for all-southern honors.

This game will not only close the Spartan season, but will climax the college football career of Jack Breslin, who has announced his intentions to graduate this summer.

Rabbi Fram To Speak For Hillel Extension

Hillel extension of Michigan State college will hold an open meeting next Sunday, Nov. 25, in the auditorium of Peoples church at 8 p.m.

Guest speaker of the evening will be Rabbi Leon Fram of the Temple Israel in Detroit and promoter of the National Zionist movement. His topic of discussion is "European Jews and Palestine: Their Goal."

Inter-City Lines Add Modernized College Coaches

Standing will be more pleasant in city buses because of larger windows in the six new coaches of the Inter-City coach line, according to James A. Gibb, president.

Six buses have been replaced on the Lansing-East Lansing route by General Motors coaches of the latest design.

Well-padded seats of green leather accommodate 36 passengers, which is an increase of nine over other buses used by the line, Gibb stated.

Fear of being caught by the rear doors as one left, and of being pulled persuasively along, may now vanish as rapidly as nickels dropped in the toll box. "Sensitive" doors are an important new safety device on the new models. Their mechanism prevents movement of the coach if a passenger's body or clothing should be stuck in the exit.

Slanted, anti-glare windshields, more adequate lighting, and wider aisles are featured, as are four-wheeled air brakes, a patented angle drive, and ball-bearing steering. Horns will also sound more mellow issuing from the new coaches, Gibb said.

WOMEN'S SPORTS

THURSDAY'S round of games brought a new light on the volley-ball tournament. A few of the games became the deciding ones for the contending champions of the blocks.

The race for first in block one is still hanging between Precinct 16 and Precincts 1 and 3. Precinct 16 added another victory by defeating the Delta Gammias 31 to 23. Zones 1 and 3, also in Block 1, tied with Catherine Black House at 25 all.

The Alpha Phis took the lead in Block 2 by defeating Alpha Gamma Delta, who brought North Campbell to its first defeat. The Alpha Phis have had no losses. The only other game played in Block 2 determined Lansing Zone 55 as the winner over Ewing-Benson House with a score of 38 to 31.

The neck and neck battle between the Pi Beta Phis and the Kappa Kappa Gammias was brought to a sudden end with the Kappas defaulting to Precinct 14, leaving the key position of Block 3 to the Pi Phis.

Three other games were played in Block 3. The Alpha Omicron Phis won two. They took a game from Mason Hall and one from Robinson House. The third game between the Pi Beta Phis and Tatt House ended with the scores of 40 and 12, respectively.

In Block 4 the Chi Omegas and West Mayo battled last night, and the sorority team took the block lead.

Another tie was broken when the Gamma Phis downed North Williams by the narrow margin of 4 points, making them the favored candidates of the block.

Block 6 is undecided between Kappa Alpha Theta and South Williams. The coming week should leave one or the other with the desired title of first in the block.

The next two weeks are also expected to produce both the winners of the blocks plus the champion of the tournament. The number of undefeated teams has already been reduced from 12 to 9. After the six block winners have battled it to a finish the prized plaque will be awarded to that team which has survived the contest.

Last year the Kappa Alpha Thetas gathered up the spoils by defeating the Kappa Kappa Gammias, with the Alpha Phis and Chi Omegas in third and fourth place, respectively.

This year's contest is still too undecided to allow any predictions on the outcome.

Ballet Theater Offers O'Henry's 'Gift of the Magi' As Theme

O. Henry's better known short story, "Gift of the Magi," has been transposed into ballet and will be given Tuesday night by the Ballet Theater.

"Gift of the Magi" has been called one of the most beautiful ballets from a pictorial point of view. The setting is a New York street with glimpses into an early 20th century American city flat, a beauty shop and a pawn shop. The plot is built around a young husband and wife who wish to give each other a most desired Christmas gift and the sacrifices they make to get the gift.

Another dance to be presented is Jerome Robbins' newest creation, "Interplay." This number uses the classical steps of formal ballet and counterpoints them with contemporary spirit. A series of children's games is the basis of the ballet with Morton Gould's "American Concertette" as the music.

Comedy in ballet is displayed in "Bluebeard" which tells of the musical domain of King Bobiche.

The king is plagued by the infidelities of his young wife and is tormented by the philanderings of his vassal Baron Bluebeard.

King Bobiche's daughter, who he abandoned as an infant, had grown into a beautiful maiden. She was discovered by the king's minister, Prince Sapphire, and by Bluebeard who is hunting for a sixth wife.

As Bluebeard's prisoner, the princess persuades him to spare his wives. She then marries Prince Sapphire.

Classical number of the evening is Marius Petip's "Sleeping Beauty" from the "Princess Aurora" suite.

The setting represents the great hall in which the awakened Princess celebrates her marriage to the Prince Charming.

150 Representatives Discuss Students

Approximately 150 high schools and junior colleges were represented at the Student-Principal conference, Saturday, Registrar R. S. Linton reports.

The conference, which was more or less a parley for freshmen and transfer students and their principals, was deemed rather successful, according to Linton.

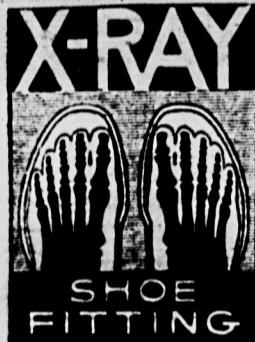

At the luncheon following the conference, the representatives were given a warm welcome by President John Hannah, where in he stated the purpose of the conference and the hope that it would be reinstated as an annual affair.

Following President Hannah, Dean H. C. Rather, head of the basic college department, gave an outline of the purpose and structure of the basic program.

"WE'RE MOVING RIGHT ALONG"

... BUT THE JOB HAS JUST BEGUN

Telephone equipment for civilians is beginning to flow from the factories. Michigan Bell's 5-year $120,000,000 expansion and improvement program is off to a good start, with projects costing over $5,000,000 already under way.

We've begun to install telephones in those areas where only telephone instruments are needed to provide service. By next spring, we expect to clear up virtually all orders of this type—more than one-third of the 125,000 waiting applications.

To fill the other orders, cable must be produced, placed and spliced; complex switching equipment must be engineered, manufactured and fitted in with existing apparatus. In many cases, new buildings must be erected.

This work is being rushed. But the job is so big that it will be 1947 before enough equipment is ready to serve everybody who wants a telephone. That means we must still ask your understanding and patience.
