Being switchboard operator at Mason hall really isn't such a bad job after all. In fact, . . . oh, to be one. It seems a certain BMOC called his anticipated date several times throughout the afternoon and then becoming quite disgusted because of no answer said to the operator, "After 'Well, what are you doing tonight?'"

Being the efficient operator that she was, she answered, "I'll see what I can do, sir" and put a plug in for herself in the space provided. She got a charge out of it too.

... Sound Effect?

The State News office has provided four walls for activities not directly concerned with putting out the daily sheet, but all were beat the other day when Barbara Jones, Glenn Rock, N. J., senior, and Ruth Phillips, Grosse Pointe sophomore, sat across from each other at a table, made funny noises and interrupted them with conversation that went like "But Daddy" and "Gee, I can get some new clothes for my dolly, and everything." If surrounding reporters were inquisitive enough they could discover that it was merely a radio practice (including sound effects) and not Monday morning delirium.

... Enough To Drive Ya

The usual peace and quiet of the lobby of the Basic college building were broken Tuesday morning by the appearance of a bat, which zoomed in all bats directions without finding a way of escape. Giving up all hope, the bat hung from the wall in a characteristic "batty" pose, and will no doubt continue to hang there until rescued by an individual needing one for his selfry.

Kuhn to Discuss America, Peace At AAUW Meet

Madison Kuhn, associate professor of the history department, will be guest speaker at the regular AAUW general meeting to be held today at 8 p.m. at Sexton high school. Prof. Kuhn will discuss "America and the Peace."

Prior to the general meeting, the AAUW board and the committee in charge of arrangements will meet for a six o'clock dinner at the Hotel Olds.

Prof. and Mrs. Kuhn, Mrs. Wm. Hubbard, of Flint, and Mrs. Ann Brandes of Detroit, newly elected state president of AAUW, will be guests of honor. Mrs. Brandes, a specialist in the U. S. employment service, will be the special guest of the local president, Mrs. Maurice Gonon.

Mrs. Hubbard will greet members of the board and two tours of the Sexton high school will also be conducted before and after the eight o'clock meeting. Miss Dorothy Stophlett is in charge of the tea which will follow the evening meeting. Miss Adelaide will furnish the music.

Husbands of AAUW members are especially invited to attend with the dinner party at the Hotel Olds and the meeting at Sexton high school.

State Orchestra To Offer Varied Music Concert

The college orchestra under the direction of Alexander Schuster, professor of music, will present a concert Thursday night, R. L. Underwood, head of the music department, has announced. The concert will take place at 8 p.m. in College auditorium.

Beethoven's overture to "Men of Prometheus" will be one of the numbers performed. Written for the ballet, this is the only work of this type composed by Beethoven.

In Popular Form

The performance was presented as a special compliment to the Empress Maria Theresia in 1801. Immediately successful, the music was published in popular form, that of a piano solo.

The overture contains themes later used in Contertanz, for Variations in E flat and Finale of the Eroica symphony.

Cello Selection

"Prelude and Gigue in C minor" from suite 5 for solo violin-cello by Bach-Gomer will also be presented. It is part of six suites for an unaccompanied cello. Owing to the extreme difficulty and unusual medium of their presentation, they are seldom performed. The tremendous and colossal conception is too great for expression on any solo instrument except the organ.

Gomer L. Jones of the music department at Michigan State has taken the solo, followed Bach's structural plan and composed additional parts in the style of the piece.

Dance on Friday Features Term's First Name Band

Featuring for the first time this year a nationally known "name band," Union board will sponsor an all college informal dance from 8 p.m. to midnight Friday in College auditorium.

Jan Savitt and his orchestra will highlight the affair with a variety of types of dance music, Dick Mosher, East Lansing junior and band chairman, said.

Special guests at the dance will be seniors who are candidates for degrees this term who will also be honored at a 6:30 p.m. dinner preceeding the dance. These seniors are asked to notify Union board by Thursday noon if they plan to attend the dinner.

Tickets for the dance went on sale yesterday at the Union desk, Jim Graves, East Lansing junior and ticket chairman, said. He emphasized that in order to avoid crowding the auditorium there will be a limit to the number of tickets sold.

Although the tickets for the dance were printed saying semi-formal, Union board members last night stated that the affair will be informal, since there have already been two formal dances at State in a row.

Bob Butler, Trenton junior, is chairman of patrons, and Jane Walcott, Fenton junior, will handle invitations.

Shirley Trump, Franklin Village senior, was named decorations chairman last night, while Genny Collins, Grosse Pointe junior, and Barbara Jones, Glen Rock, N. J., senior, will be in charge of publicity. June McNutt, Detroit senior, has been put in charge of the senior dinner.

Grew Takes Stand Mass Education By Hull in Inquiry For China Topic Of Dr. Ch'u Yen

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—Former Ambassador Joseph C. Grew told congressional investigators today that the state department, in its efforts to maintain peace in 1941, offered the Japanese "everything they ostensibly were fighting for."

"I don't say everything they were fighting for but everything they ostensibly were fighting for," he emphasized.

Grew depicted Japan of late 1941 as under control of a military government which had prepared it militarily and psychologically for war and was unwilling to listen to reason.

It was much the same view the Pearl Harbor committee had received earlier from Former Secretary of State Hull who summed up by saying "the trouble" was that Japan was "hell-bent" on conquest.

Grew took a stand alongside Hull, too, in contending that the American proposals of Nov. 26, 1941, which the Japanese later called an "ultimatum," were nothing of the kind.

Mass Education For China Topic Of Dr. Ch'u Yen

James Yang Ch'u Yen, one of China's foremost educators, will speak on "Mass Education in China" tomorrow at 8 p.m. in Fairchild theater.

Known as the man who "put basic Chinese across," Dr. Yen has enabled 46,000,000 Chinese, who otherwise might have stayed illiterate, to read and write. It was during the first World War that Dr. Yen began his work in mass education when he worked with the Chinese Labor corps in France.

College President

Since 1923 he has been general director of the Chinese mass education movement and is also at present president of the National College of Rural Reconstruction in Chungking.

Dr. Yen received his bachelor of arts degree from Yale university which he attended with Dr. S. C. Lee, of the Institute of Foreign Studies. Along with his master of arts degree from Princeton university, Dr. Yen holds honorary degrees from several universities including St. John's university in Shanghai, Yale, and Temple university.

Receives Citation

In recognition of his accomplishments, Dr. Yen was invited in 1943 to receive a Copernican citation as one of 10 men named as "modern revolutionaries." The ceremony was held in Carnegie hall at a meeting commemorating the 400th anniversary of the death of Copernicus.

Dr. Yen, who is appearing under the joint sponsorship of the Institute of Foreign Studies and the lecture-concert series, will also address the State College club luncheon meeting at noon tomorrow. He will speak on "The Fifth Freedom."

Huntmen Total 22 Dead

The casualties total for the 1945 season stood at 22 dead and more than 30 injured.

Conservation officials hoped the current season might end with fatalities considerably below the 1944 total of 34.

Permits for removal of 900 deer from the upper peninsular into Wisconsin have been issued.

News in Brief

DETROIT, Nov. 26 (AP) — The number of workers idled by the CIO automobile workers' strike against General Motors corporation mounted to 225,000 tonight, as additional salaried employees were kept from their jobs.

The figures were contained in a company estimate as the work stoppage in 51 cities stemming from a 30 per cent wage increase demand, ended its sixth day.

Meanwhile, another 40,000 workers employed by the Ford Motor company in the Detroit area faced temporary layoffs this week occasioned, the company said, by shortages of parts for automobiles and trucks.

JERUSALEM, Nov. 26 (AP) — Six Jews were reported killed and 60 wounded in pitched battles today as tank-supported British troops armed with mortars and machine guns entered six Jewish coastal villages searching for persons responsible for attacks on coast guard stations.

Affairs of State

By TONI EBNER and SALLY CLARK

PATHWAYS to the library seem to be traveled a little bit more directly these past few days. It must be the pains of bitter remorse on consciences of those who bridged the holiday weekend and left these halls of higher learning. Or maybe the chill thought of things to come have stirred interest in the hearts of the book lovers of America.

Laying aside the heavy business for a while, talk at the Theta house during spare moments seems to be centered about the wedding of sorority sister Jean Straith, Detroit senior, who became the bride of Lt. Bob Dieffenbach last Saturday.

A former Psi U, Chuck Burke, a graduate in '44, also took the big step. The new Mrs. Burke is the former Helen Risdon of Detroit. The class of '44 had two more November weddings to tell about. Sigma Kappa Virginia Louhead, Kalamazoo, married John Pierpont, Jr., of New Haven, Conn., and on the same subject Marjorie Almdale, Kappa, became the bride of Capt. Wayne Van Arsdale, a former air cadet from State and Chi Psi from the University of Colorado.

Along with the tales of romantic doings is the marriage of Lt. Bob Truesdell, Phi Delta, now with the paratroopers, to Carol McFadden of Detroit, and still another of the vital statistics is the news of Virginia Knappe's wedding to Don Detmers, recently discharged after three years of service. The new Mrs. is an Alpha Chi from the class of '43.

Not to be outdone by her older sister, Genevieve Knappe was on the receiving end of a decoration for her third finger, left hand. She was graduated with the class of '44. The man in the affair is none other than Tom Blackburn.

Seems that the marines have landed, and after 39 months in the Pacific at that. Bob Seaholm is the leatherneck in mind. Seems that he just presented Jayne Kuykendal, Kappa, with a huge, luscious sparkler. Both of 'em hail from Birmingham.

Out at the Gamma Phi house Jessie Sanson, Romeo senior, has just received a sweetheart pin from Hal Sessions. Hal is a Delta Sig from East Lansing.

And for another big pinning comes the news that Phi Tau president Ed Morrison, Franklin, N. J., senior, picked Thanksgiving day to pass his pin to Kappa Lillian Sigon, while they were spending the day at Lillian's home in Gladstone.

Pi Kappa Phi has pledged six men this term. They are: Robert Morse, Detroit senior; Peter Highman, Hollister, Mass., freshman; James Stelzer, Jackson senior; Harold Jones, Midland, freshman; Robert Buys, Mt. Morris freshman, and Jack Morris, Elkhart, Ind., freshman.

Lambda Chi Alpha has initiated five men. They include John Struble, Merymont, O.; Bill Rice, Jackson, and Fred Everhardt, Richmond. New pledges are also

WKAR Suggests Rhythm Recipes

By CAROL SANFORD

WKAR suggests this recipe for hilarious humor and riotous rhythm: Take one smart script writer, one mellow M. C., and two ingenious engineers. Combine with sounds of squeaking floors, airplanes, crying babies, cheers, hoof beats, and dive bombers. Pour into microphone and mix well, then cook swiftly for one fourth hour at a very high temperature.

Result: "Recorded Novelty Bazaar." Quantity: Serves enough for everyone listening at WKAR any Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday or Saturday at 1:15 in the afternoon.

As the program is beginning to cook on the front burner don't worry if the M. C.'s banter runs over into words such as these: "All is not bugs that glitter and to prove it here is your 'Recorded Novelty Bazaar.'" Or perhaps it may sound this way: "Go west, young man . . . but don't go too far . . . or you won't be able to hear 'Recorded Novelty Bazaar!'"

Hurricane's Fast Plays Take Spartans by 21-7 In Last Tilt of Season

Miami Chalks Up Big Lead in First Half; State Eleven Scores in Third Quarter

Battling before a capacity crowd of 23,000 fans in the Orange Bowl stadium, the Spartans bowed to a faster moving Miami university eleven, by a score of 21-7.

In this climaxing tilt of the '45 Spartan season, State managed to score only in the third quarter, although they dominated the entire second half of play; however, Miami had run up their 21 points in the first half.

The Hurricanes crossed the Spartan goal after three minutes of play had elapsed. Harry Ghoul, one of the nation's top kickers, drove over the mark from the two-yard line, and also added the extra point.

State Drives
State, not to be outdone by the fast work of Miami, drove on the return kick to the Hurricane two-yard line, but the drive lacked that needed punch, and Miami took over on downs.

In the second quarter, the Spartans stopped a Miami drive on their own four, and another serious touchdown threat by the Hurricane passing attack was halted by a penalty.

Miami Takes Over
Chalking up three first downs in succession, the Spartans drove in the Miami 20, but fullback Breslin's pass was intercepted by halfback Alvin Hudson, who returned the ball to the State 23, before he was finally stopped. After driving to the State 19, Joe Crull passed to the Hurricane left end and scored the second touchdown.

With less than a minute to go, Miami again pushed past the Spartans with a concentrated passing attack and the half ended with Miami out in front by 14-0.

Spartans Score
The Spartans opened the third quarter with a 77-yard march that resulted in the sole State touchdown. Halfback Steve Conroy sparked the attack with a 57-yard run. On a short nine-yard pass from Conroy to Contos, Conroy scored and Reader made the conversion.

Reader took the spotlight in the fourth quarter, when he ran 52 yards in the closing moments, but the drive faded on the Miami 24-yard line.

High School, College Stars Provide Contestants for Aquatic Show

Members and pledges of the Porpoise fraternity are now preparing the program for the Aquatic Victory parade, according to John McGrath, president.

Tickets for this affair, which is being held Friday, are now on sale at the Union desk and may also be purchased from the members of the fraternity. All seats are reserved and are priced at 60c a ticket.

Besides presenting an array of talent from the college, among who are national AAU outdoor champions, McGrath announces outside high school stars will be brought in for several competitive races.

Many Schools Enter

A medley relay race of 150 yards will be contested by teams from Ann Arbor, Battle Creek, Jackson, Lansing Eastern, Lansing Sexton, and Monroe. Several stars of state competition last year will be renewing their battles in this preview of state competition.

Besides this race, a 100-yard breast stroke race will be swum by Jack Seibold, Jackson star, and Bill Upthegrove, Ann Arbor star. These two participants are of the best men nationally in high school competition for this event. Both boys will be gunning for their first win of the year.

Michigan Stars Swim

In addition to these two events, a 100-yard free style race will be swum by six outstanding Michigan stars. George Hoogerhyde, state record holder for the 200-yard free style and one of the best distance men in the country, and Ed Keegstra will represent the Grand Rapids aquatic club in this event.

In addition, Jackson will send Bill Clemons, contender for state title, while Monroe, Ann Arbor, and Battle Creek will also send their contestants.

Adding more competitive spirit to the program, Michigan college stars will team up in several events. Many of these contestants are responsible for the winning of the Spartans' first national championship.

Relay Teams Perform

Coach Charles McCaffree will choose three medley relay teams from his squad, and these boys will race the required distance. In addition, John DeMond, Jackson freshman; Chuck Howe, Detroit freshman; Bud Porter, Detroit freshman; Howard Patterson, Saginaw freshman; Jim Quigley, Saginaw freshman; Jim Thomas, Saginaw junior; Paul Seibold and Marvin Johnson will match up in a 75-yard free style race. According to Coach McCaffree, all six men are fairly even in ability.

With Jack Carrier, Detroit senior, acting as master of ceremonies, this aquatic parade of 1945 offers varied entertainment to MSC students and friends.

Wolverines, State Renew Basketball Rivalry Saturday

Saturday night will mark the renewal of the basketball rivalry between the University of Michigan and Michigan State. The two teams last met in the 1942-43 season when Michigan won twice, 36-31 and 29-26.

From the Wolverine camp, word has come that their basketball quintet will be much improved over last year's squad. Coach Benny Osterbaan has assembled a starting team consisting of Glenn Seibo and Bob Harrison at the forwards, Martin Feinberg at center, and Walt Keil and John Mullaney at the guards.

Seibo, with 14 points, was the team's high scorer in the Wolverines' opener against Central Michigan. The rest of the scoring was evenly divided, with Harrison, the only freshman in the starting lineup, serving warning to future Michigan opponents by scoring 10 points.

Union Dance, Aquatic Program On Slate for Coming Week-end

This weekend promises to be a big one as far as social events go, as 16 parties have already been planned for Friday and Saturday nights.

The outstanding event for the weekend is the dance which Union board is sponsoring Friday night. It will take place in College auditorium and Jan Savitt and his well known orchestra will supply the music for the dancers.

Also on Friday night the Porpoise fraternity will hold its Victory Aquatic parade. The parade will be held in the Jenison pool. Greeks, Co-op Entertain

Five radio parties and a hayride have been planned for the same night to supplement these events. The Theta Chis have made plans for a dance which will take place in the Forestry cabin, and the Sigma Kappas have decided to hold a radio party at their chapter house on Friday night.

The Kappa Deltas, Sigma Alpha Epsilons, and Sanford co-op residents are other groups planning radio parties for the same night. The hayride is being given by the Alpha Omicron Pis and will take place from 8 to 12 on Friday night.

Eight Parties Saturday

There will be no let down of events on Saturday night as a grand total of eight parties will take place then. The Alpha Gamma Deltas have planned their semi-formal term party for Saturday night. It will take place in the Masonic temple and Dick Snook and his orchestra have been contracted to supply the music for dancing.

The Alpha Tau Omegas will hold a radio party on the same night, as are the Alpha Xi Deltas. Student club, and the girls of Mason and North hall are also Saturday night party planners. The Kappa Kappa Gammas and the Gamma Phis who complete the list have radio parties planned for the same night.

While the symphony suffers lack of compactness and structural integration of the works of giants of this form, it is bound in haunting melodies.

Early Composition
Tchaikowsky's "Romeo and Juliet" overture completes the program. It was written by Tchaikowsky at the age of 29 when he was filled with the tragic memories of his unsuccessful wooing of the beautiful French singer, Desiree Artot.

Though it possesses no program or story outline in the music, there are unmistakable intimations of the high dramatic moments, clashing of purposes and the idyllic and passionate love that appears in Shakespeare's tragedy.

And that does it. As for the rest of us, turkey talk seems to be making sweet nothings in our ears this week while visions of roasted bird, cranberry sauce, and pumpkin pie play havoc with our conscience.

The big question of the week still remains unanswered . . . to cut or not to cut to celebrate that great American tradition in major fashion.

Election time at Ellsworth put up a new slate of officers for the coming year. Top man is manager Doc Hill, Sterling sophomore, and writer of the minutes is Ronald Scott, Dearborn sophomore. Keeper of the keys of the cash box is Edwin Oesterreicher, Saginaw sophomore, while Don Schmidt, Wittenberg, Wis., sophomore, was elected steward. New active in the house are H. I. Daentler, Charlotte senior, and Ed Dowdy, freshman.

Guests of Coffee Hour to Be Basic College Faculty

Basic college professors will be honored guests at the first of a series of Union board coffee hours, which will be held in the Union lounge from 4 to 5 p.m. tomorrow, according to Co-chairmen Jane Walcott and Bob Butler.

Although the coffee hour is sponsored this time mainly for Basic college students to meet their instructors, all students and members of the Michigan State college staff are invited to attend.

Hosts and hostesses for the affair will be members of Union board. The program is under the direction of the committee on faculty-student relations.

Since the coffee hour will be held during the afternoon, Miss Walcott said that students are urged to attend dressed as they will be for classes. All coffee hours will be "strictly informal."

Butler said that this will be the only coffee hour fall term, but that others are scheduled during the winter. Although such a program was formerly a regular custom of the Union board, it had been dropped until this year.

George Motts Returns to State After Quartermaster Service

Dr. George N. Motts, who has been on leave of absence from the college, recently returned from the armed service.

Motts received his L L D from State in economics and horticulture in 1931, and was engaged in teaching and research in agriculture economics until July, 1942.

He was inducted into the army as a private at Camp Grant, Ill., and later received his infantry basic training at Camp Wheeler, Ga. The following February he was admitted into the quartermaster OCS and was later given his commission.

In the usual army style Motts was first in the infantry and then was transferred to the branch he had expected to be in. The quartermaster OCS was the only OCS that he was eligible for since men over 35 were not admitted to the other service schools.

After receiving his commission, he was assigned to the statistics branch of the office of the quartermaster general in Washington, D. C.

Highlights in Washington
His first assignment was to assemble and maintain army statistics in procurements, and stocks and issues of substance, both perishable and non-perishable. The volume of these operations is reflected in the fact that the dollar value of substance purchases during the war ranged from 125 to 175 million dollars per month.

Later Motts became one of the four statistical analysts of the quartermaster general, having the nickname of the group "paragraph troopers of the chairborne division." Each analyst made daily, weekly, monthly, and special reports to the quartermaster general, Lt. General Gregory, on the different phases of quartermaster corps operations. These reports were the type that would be used by the president of a large business corporation whose operations involved expenditures of approximately 400 to 500 million dollars per months.

The reports with which he was concerned were quartermaster operations involving substance, overseas resale (PX items), prices, price trends, labor, research and development, textiles, military personnel of the quartermaster corps, and the training of the corps troops.
