State to Battle U. of M. Five In Opening Basketball Game

Former MSC Letter Winners Will Form Nucleus
Of Van Alstyne's Starting Line-up Tonight;
Michigan To Present Experienced Squad

The basketball rivalry between State and the University of Michigan, dormant since the 1942-43 season, will be renewed tonight when the Spartan team will travel to Ann Arbor to open this year's basketball season.

Although the game is only the first in a long and tough schedule, the traditional rivalry between the two schools has made it of special importance and significance to Spartan fans. It will mark the 48th time the two schools have met since 1909. Of the previous games, Michigan has won 32 and State 15.

Varsity Experience

Basketball Coach Ben Van Alstyne has a number of men with previous varsity experience on this year's squad. Tonight's starting lineup will probably find Sam Fortino, of Alma, and Robin Roberts, of Springfield, Ill., at the forwards. Both men are discharged servicemen, and both were regulars on the 1944 team.

At the guards will be Dan Pjesky of Benton Harbor, and Pat Pepler of Chicago, members of the 1942-43 squad and veterans of service in the AAF. Either John Cawood, of Lansing, another war veteran and letter winner here in 1943, or Bill Krall, 6 foot 7 inch center from last year, will start at the center position.

Strong Michigan

Opposing these men, Coach Benny Osterbaan will probably

Today's Campus

... Feline Watchdog

Fred Houser, Detroit sophomore, is beginning to wonder if he has some special appeal to small animals. With sixteen other beds to roll up on in the dorm of the Phi Delt house, the same grey alley cat still seems to prefer Fred's sack. The cat, playing it sly, stands by Fred's bed until he is sound asleep, then jumps on top of him, curls up, and doses off with a purr.

... So It Is

Dr. S. C. Lee was telling his Chinese lit class yesterday about one volume in a set of several thousand Chinese encyclopedias. "The Chinese, you know," Dr. Lee said, "read up and down like this," and he nodded his head. "I don't know which method is best," he added, "but when you read your Bible, what do you do?" He demonstrated the English style of reading, "You silently disagree with everything you read."

... T. D. or Not T. D.

Rumor has it that Tommy Dorsey will make an appearance at State next weekend. So far as anyone can find out, it's strictly a bubble.

Italian Heads Meet

ROME, Nov. 30 (AP) — Foreign Minister Alcide De Gasperi, after a four-hour meeting with party leaders, said tonight he would attempt to form an Italian government to succeed that of Ferruccio Parri, whose coalition cabinet fell last week.

Term Parties To Hold Sway This Evening

Eight Social Functions
Include Semi-formals
Four Radio Parties

Socialites will reign supreme tonight. Eight parties have been planned by various campus groups.

"Candy Cane Capers" is the theme of the Alpha Gamma Delta term party. The dance will be a semi-formal affair and will take place in the Masonic temple.

Music for dancing will be provided by Dick Snook and his orchestra, according to chairman Mr. and Mrs. Earl McKim, Mr. Joyce Howlett, Howell senior, and Mrs. V. Noll, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Van Enehan, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Wright will act as patrons.

North Hall

The second semi-formal of the evening has been planned by the women of North Hall. Their party is slated to take place in the Little theater of the Home Ec. building. A photographer will be on hand to take "shots" of the couples and also a fortune teller who will do some looking into the future.

In addition to this, entertainment and refreshments have been planned. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Irvin will act as chaperons, Connie Hadley, Pleasant Ridge freshman, announced.

The Kappa Kappa Gammas' term party, which will take place tonight, will be based on a "Holiday Inn" theme, Jayne Meier, Detroit senior, revealed. Rooms of the chapter house will be decorated to depict the various holidays. Chaperoning the affair will be Dean and Mrs. R. C. Huston and Prof. and Mrs. S. A. Gallacher.

Student Club

"Snowball" is the theme of tonight's Student club social dance. It will take place from

Holmes to Speak On Guatemala

"Colorful Guatemala" is the topic of a lecture by Burton Holmes, America's foremost traveler, which will be presented at 8:15 tonight in College auditorium as a feature of the world-adventure series.

Holmes will describe the colorful Central American country, Guatemala, and illustrate his lecture with color movies.

A traveler and travelogue expert, Holmes spends six months of every year visiting foreign ports and strange places to take color pictures and gather material for his lectures. He thinks of himself as a "super tourist" with no desire to break new trails or explore unknown country.

He is called "dean of American travel lecturers."

Building to Start On Three Dorms, New Apartment

Construction of a new women's dormitory, two men's dormitories, and 104 units of an apartment-type housing for married students, will start immediately, according to Karl H. McDonel, secretary of the Board of Agriculture. The Board approved the plans at a special meeting with the hope that the buildings would be completed before the start of next fall term.

The Reniger Construction company of Lansing and the Christman company, also of Lansing, have been engaged to act as agents in building the dorms. The Reniger company will have charge of the two men's dorms and the Christman company, the women's dorm and the housing units.

Besides these buildings, two other women's dormitories, a major addition to the Union building, and a food storage building will be constructed at a later date, McDonel added. The buildings will be paid for from the income derived from them. Estimations of the total cost for the men's dormitories are $1,500,000, for the women's dormitory, $800,000, and for the married student apartment units, $600,000.

The Board of Agriculture also let a contract to the Christman company for the excavation for the construction of vaults, which will be the basement unit to the proposed addition to the administration building.

Art Staff Will Show Exhibit of Children's Pictures Tomorrow

The art department will feature a composite exhibit of "Pictures and Books for Children," tomorrow afternoon from 3 to 5 in the Music building art gallery, according to Howard Church, head of the art department.

The purpose of the display is to show the progress of correlating artistic productions with the realm of picture and story books. The book exhibits have been prepared by College library, Lansing and East Lansing libraries, and the local bookstore.

Members of the art fraternity, Beta Alpha Sigma, will assist the faculty of the art department in the exhibit.

Educator Lauds MSC Services

Dr. Yang Ch'u James Yen, founder and director of the mass education movement in China, visited Michigan State college for two days this week with an eye to recruiting technicians and specialists to help train Chinese students in the various sciences. He also consulted with staff personnel here regarding the work he is doing in China.

Author of the basic Chinese that enables an average person to secure a working knowledge of Chinese in four months of one-hour-a-day study, he has watched his educational program grow beyond the movement stage to where the establishment of a National College of Rural Reconstruction became necessary.

In his visit he found much at State in common with his own philosophy of education: the practice of working close to the people. He greatly admired MSC research and extension services, and said he looked to the day when the college will be actively collaborating with his reconstruction program in China.

Education has been the driving force of Dr. Yen's life, and he maintains that education will make a stronger, as well as a more democratic, China.

Discussion Group To Attend Meet In Kalamazoo

MSC will participate in the state round-table discussion festival to be held Friday at Kalamazoo college, according to Prof. J. D. Menchhofer, state chairman of the festival. Nine colleges will be represented.

The festival is not a contest but the students will be scored on rating cards so each person will know how he stands in relation to the rest of the participants.

The students will be divided into groups of five, each group discussing the subject "Free Trade Among the Nations of the World." Every person will participate in two, hour and a half discussions on this topic.

Menchhofer, of the speech department, and Clarence Edwards, of the written and spoken English department, will accompany the group and also act as critics. Approximately 90 people will attend the festival.

Foreign Diplomat To Give Lecture

Dr. Alberto Solomon Osorio will give a lecture Wednesday night at 7:30 in the auditorium of the Music building. He is sponsored by the Institute of Foreign Studies.

Osorio will speak on the subject "The Character of Democracy in South America."

A Peruvian, he has held many important positions in his native country. Among these have been professor of constitutional law of economy and finances at the University of San Marcos, minister of justice and public education, and minister of foreign affairs.

He also served as legal advisor in the Peruvian delegation to the Plebiscite commission of the Tacna-Arica arbitration.

With Doris Baird, Ionia junior, as queen, and her court presiding, Porpoise fraternity presented their annual water show last night, with skill and humor as the main attractions.

Women who formed the queen's court are: Rachel Houck, Ypsilanti sophomore; Doris Melford, Detroit freshman; Barbara Shipton, Grosse Pointe sophomore, and Marilyn Sexton, Lansing sophomore.

A colorful coronation of the queen opened the evening, and was followed by a medley relay race. The swimmers in the race were members of selected high school swimming teams in the state.

NAAU Champ Awarded

In recognition of the efforts of Spartan swimmer Dave Seibold, a plaque and a State Sullivan award were presented to his brother and father, respectively, in behalf of Dave, who is in service. Seibold led the State team to the NAAU championship for 1945.

Members of the Spartan tank team that won the championship displayed the skill they possessed to win the title in the following act. The team was coached by acting Coach Ken Hawka, who took Coach McCaffree's place while he was in Italy.

Smoke In Their Eyes

A clever smoke drill with swimmers holding boards with dry ice attached left a haze of white smoke on the surface of the pool. This was one of the most impressive events of the entire evening.

Swimming in a darkened pool, three Spartan swimmers bedecked with lights made weird patterns in the water and brought a long ovation from the audience. This was followed by a kick drill with members of the fraternity pushing white boards with large green "S's" mounted on them. This demonstration was followed by the finale, with the audience singing the college Alma Mater.

MSC Grad Discovers New Asthma Drug

Dr. Earl R. Loew, an MSC graduate of 1929, has been credited with the discovery of a new drug designed to bring relief to sufferers of hay fever, asthma, and other allergies, according to a recent announcement from the University of Illinois college of medicine.

This drug, which Dr. Loew has named benadryl, assures marked symptomatic relief from common allergies but promises no cure. The discoverer estimates that three doses of the drug each day would be necessary for continuous relief of symptoms.

Weekly Letter to Men in the Service

Dec. 1, 1945

DEAREST Johnny,
It's been a long, long time, since I last wrote to you, but with Dee in the hospital, I'll sub again, although I figured you wouldn't be interested anymore since I got married.
The ballet toed into town Monday and Tuesday and pulled off one of the finest performances of "Swan Lake" I've seen in years. I tried to get a job as a "super" but they said my neck was too long — even for the swan.
Union board did things up brown this weekend. Last night Jan Savitt and his orchestra rated high with the fortunate souls who went. Before the dance, the board started a new custom — entertaining seniors who will be graduated at the end of fall term.
Instead of the good-luck, come again song and dance, the board sent them off with real songs by Theresa Gadeleto and Bonnie Behler, with Renee Scott going into character with her little girl act. Yours truly was emcee and nobody got my jokes — I'll send them to you under separate cover.
Porpoise, men's swimming honorary, elected Doris Baird, Ionia junior, as their queen last night and honored her at an aquatic parade in Jenison pool.
The car ban still rears its ugly collective nose, and Student council voted this week to allow down-town dances, if they are closed, but nobody can drive to them. It's OK, though, they will let us drive the few blocks to the auditorium.
Outstanding among the more serious programs of the college was a lecture Wednesday night by Dr. "Jimmy" Yen, of China, who told about the mass education movement over there. He really made us think, and his personality and innate goodness made us all feel we should start doing something for the people who make up a quarter of the world's population.
Which reminds me, I'm late to Dr. Lee's class in Chinese literature — an English don't expect me to nod with you in Chinese when you come back. And do come back, but soon, hey!
Love,
Barbie.

Lu Price, Lansing junior, is chairman for the dance. Dr. Norman Konize, Miss Elizabeth Daniels and Dr. and Mrs. E. V. Thiehoff will be the patrons.

Decorations for the Gamma Phi Beta's radio party will be based on a Christmas theme. Proceeding the dance the coeds and their dates will attend a dinner at the Hotel Puffer. Prof. and Mrs. Walter Fee and Prof. and Mrs. John Weising will act as chaperons for the affair.

An open house honoring Lambda Chi and Delta Sigma will be held tonight by the Alpha Xi Deltas. Prof. and Mrs. Thomas Osgood and Prof. and Mrs. Richard Bateman have been invited to be patrons.

A radio party, based on a Christmas theme, will be given by the women of Mason hall this evening. The affair will take place from 8 to 12 and is open to coeds of both Mason and Abbott halls.

Sigma Kappas radio party tonight will be based on a night club theme, according to Barbara DeGaw, Detroit junior.

Zoology Teacher Receives Honors

George J. Wallace, assistant professor of zoology, has been notified of his recent election to the American Ornithological union, one of the highest honors that can be conferred upon an ornithologist in this country.

His election was based on individual accomplishments in ornithological research. Before joining the State zoology staff in 1942, Dr. Wallace was an ecologist with the game division of the Michigan department of conservation. He holds the bachelor of arts, master of arts, and doctor of philosophy degrees from the University of Michigan.

Author of many journal articles, Dr. Wallace also has been associated with the Vermont fish and game service and with the Pleasant Valley Wildlife sanctuary of Lenox, Mass.

Gen. Hurley To Appear Before Committees

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—Major General Patrick J. Hurley readily agreed to take on all corners today as three congressional committees invited him to testify.

The senate foreign relations committee, which put in its bid first, appeared to have the inside track. Chairman Connally (D., Tex.) called a hearing for Wednesday and Hurley told reporters he preferred to testify there first—but he sought a public and not a private session, as Connally had planned.

Miles Admits Knowing Of Pre-Pearl Harbor Japanese Activities

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—Major Gen. Sherman Miles said today the army high command always had considered attacks on Hawaii and the Panama canal about "equally likely" in case of war with Japan.

That was so "inherent in the situation," he declared, that he had never thought for a moment before Dec. 7, 1941, that Pearl Harbor's defenders were not fully on the alert.

Miles acknowledged before the senate-house investigating committee, however, that Hawaii was not mentioned in any of the evaluations and forecasts he prepared in his head of military intelligence.

In response to questions from Gerard Gessell, assistant committee counsel, Miles said he knew on Dec. 6 that the Japanese counsel in Hawaii was destroying his records but did not inform Lt. Gen. Walter C. Short, army commander at Pearl Harbor when the Japanese struck.

War Department Lowers Points For Doctors

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—The war department announced today modification of the discharge requirements for doctors and dentists which it said would release an additional 15,000 physicians and 5,000 dentists.

The critical score for doctors and dentists was reduced from 80 to 70, effective immediately. The 70 score for doctors is three points below the new score for officers in other branches of the army which becomes effective tomorrow.

MSC Professors Establish Church

A group of MSC professors formed the community church of East Lansing in 1908, which proved to be the beginning of interdenominational religious work among students in East Lansing and also the nucleus of what's now known as Peoples church.

The Peoples church is a combination of the Baptists, Congregationalists, Methodists, and Presbyterians all cooperating for the benefit of the students and East Lansing parishioners. The church as it now stands was built in 1926 at a cost of $550,000 of which each religion contributed $25,000 and the remaining sum paid for by the East Lansing members.

Completely paid for in just 18 years after it was founded the organization celebrated the burning of its milestone.

The student program of the church is organized under Student Christian foundation sponsors such as YMCA, YWCA, Student and Student Christian union.

N. A. McCune is minister of the church and he has held the position since his appointment in 1917. McCune is married and a son who is a lieutenant with the navy on Pacific duty.

West Pointers Given Chance Over Middies

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30 (AP)—Undeclared Army and Navy put in their final practice ticks on the spongy turf of Municipal stadium today and set back to await the kick-off of their dramatic football duel at 1:30 (EST) tomorrow.

First the unceremonious middies and then the powerful crew from West Point limbered up and took "wind springs" on a stretch of the grass from which the protective covering had been removed, and at the conclusion each coach announced that they would not start his strongest eleven in the championship tussle.

Tucker To Play
There had been extreme doubt that Army's clever quarterback, Arnold Tucker, would be in there to ramrod the Cadets' T-formation, as he had been bedded since Tuesday with a mild flu attack, but he made the trip with the squad and Coach Earl Blaik said he would start the game.

In a surprise move, Blaik announced that Bob Chabot, a fleet 170-pounder from Manchester, N. H., would replace Tom McWilliams at right half in the starting backfield.

Navy Team OK
Coach Oscar Hagberg of Navy reported similar recovery of his several invalids who had brought alarm to Annapolis during the week. Best news for the future admirals was that their 205-pound guard, Jim Carrington, had recovered from the sniffles. The field promised to be somewhat less than dry by game time, possibly slippery enough to affect Army's tremendous running attack and to influence the score. The Cadets still were favored by the bookmakers to win at least 27 points and run their victory score to 18.

Lt. Col. Peterson Returns to MSC

Lt. Col. Gerald Peterson has arrived in East Lansing and has taken up his duties as the new executive officer in the military department on campus.

Colonel Peterson, who was formerly an instructor in cavalry in the ROTC unit at State from 1941 to 1943, has returned after 22 months of service in the European theater of operations.

While overseas, he served with a trucking regiment of the quartermaster corps in the third army, and was engaged in hauling supplies from the beaches to the troops.

Colonel Peterson received his degree in business administration from State in 1927, and he resides with his family at 343 Charles street in East Lansing.

Capt. James H. Atchinson, of the military department, left the campus on Nov. 23 to take a temporary position as professor of military science and tactics at Ironwood high school and the Esmer high school.

State Claims First Vet Chapter

Eighteen years ago MSC established the first student chapter of the American Veterinary Medical association in the United States. Today its membership includes more than 90 per cent of the students enrolled in the veterinary division.

The junior AVMA is, in reality, an extension of the national association of veterinarians including practitioners, teachers, and research workers.

Through membership in these junior chapters, the veterinary students create a professional atmosphere and attempt, through the organization, to have an official spokesman and clearing house for all problems relating to their welfare.

At regular meetings of the state chapter, speakers of national reputation in various subjects present informative talks, films, and demonstrations to keep start nearly the same team which downed Central Michigan 68-45 two weeks ago. The return of several former letter winners however, has made their team situation very similar to that of Michigan State.

Both schools have a number of very capable ball players at each position, but none is so head-and-shoulders superior to the others that they are sure starters. This early in the season it means that both coaches must do a lot of juggling of the lineup to find their most effective combination.

Beat Percy Jones

Tuning up for this game the Spartans played an exhibition tilt last weekend with the Percy Jones hospital quintet. Guard Pat Peppier, with 10 points, led the team to a 41-37 victory. Since then the team has been further strengthened by the presence of Tony Waldron in daily practice sessions. Waldron was an all-state guard at Wisconsin before enrolling at State.

He brings to six, the number of experienced guards from which Van Aalstyn can choose his lineup. The coach also has seven forwards and three centers whose ability has been actually proven under game conditions.

Wrestling Tourney to Begin

All-College Matches Scheduled To Begin Monday Afternoon

Michigan State all-college wrestling tournament elimination contests are scheduled to begin Monday in Jenison gymnasium at 4:30 p.m. In all, 12 or more bouts are expected to take place, and the final matches will be held the following afternoon.

A total of 27 matmen, including seven ASTRs are expected to compete. There are both inexperienced and experienced matmen, who have been working out daily in preparation for this meet. Hence, they are anxious to display their skill before fans who will witness the first bouts of the year.

"All weights are filed for the tournament and only men who are borderline overweights need to weigh in Monday," stated Fendley A. Collins, coach of the Spartan wrestling team.

Metals will be given to men placing first, second and third in each weight division. Coach Collins added also that several of the contest winners are almost sure to find places on the 1946 varsity team, particularly in the 128-pound and heavyweight divisions. He expressed satisfaction over the prospects for the tournament and also seemed optimistic about the outlook for the varsity team.

Jack Orr, Birmingham letterman, has recovered rapidly from a neck injury and has participated in heavy workouts without ill effects.

Three Ex-Servicemen Enter Competition In Tournament

By KEN CLARK

Monday's wrestling tournament of college men is an annual affair at State. It attracts a certain amount of interest and publicity each year but never seems to create the stir that it should, despite the thrills and keen competition exhibited.

These bouts require ability, aggressiveness and sportsmanship. The sport is universally accepted as a show of ability in the art of self defense.

This year's tournament, following close upon the heels of V-J day, takes on even a more illustrious hue. Much has been said about servicemen's handicaps; however, Monday's scraps will have three veterans in different weight classes. It will not be surprising if one or more of the men of the trio win their own bouts.

Med Tech Honorary Pledges Ten Coeds To State Chapter

Delta chapter of Alpha Delta Theta, national medical technology professional honorary, pledged 10 women at their regular meeting Thursday, according to Marge Yerkey, Goodrich junior and president.

General Motors, CIO Conference Finishes Without Success

DETROIT, Nov. 30 (AP)—A conference between General Motors corporation and the CIO's United Auto workers over picketing of GM's strike-idle plants broke up late today without an agreement.

The conference was an outcome of General Motors' protest against "illegal picketing" by the strikers and, if successful, would have removed one obstacle against a resumption of negotiations between union and corporation.
