Indirect Manpower Control Advised By Truman Council

WASHINGTON, April 9-10; President Truman's council of economic advisers in a "faint or Butler" report called for increased manpower controls as part of a "Composite" to meet defense, and for increased food for the civilian economy. The White House planning group has also recommended some new taxes, firm allocation and other controls on wages, salaries, and a rate to one in order to raise wages and save manpower in the meet defense and for the civilian economy.
