Last Rites Held for Joseph Stalin; Top Reds Conduct Body to Tomb

Oleo Bill Approved by House, 67-12

Delays Possible for Peace Now

World Hope Grows for End of World

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. - Secretary of State Dulles today told the U.S. Senate that the "new power of States" has given the world hope for an end of the "cold war.

The Secretary of State, speaking at the opening sessions at his first conference here, gave a more glowing forecast of the future than those he delivered in a worldwide conference on world affairs last April in a similar forum.

Dulles and his colleagues have been working along the same lines and have taken the same form of action as that of President John F. Kennedy in his press conference on the subject of the "new power of States".

The "new power of States" is a term that has been used to describe the United Nations, the United States and the United Kingdom. The term has been used to describe the United Nations, the United States and the United Kingdom.

The "new power of States" is a term that has been used to describe the United Nations, the United States and the United Kingdom.

The "new power of States" is a term that has been used to describe the United Nations, the United States and the United Kingdom.

The "new power of States" is a term that has been used to describe the United Nations, the United States and the United Kingdom.

The "new power of States" is a term that has been used to describe the United Nations, the United States and the United Kingdom.

The "new power of States" is a term that has been used to describe the United Nations, the United States and the United Kingdom.

The "new power of States" is a term that has been used to describe the United Nations, the United States and the United Kingdom.

The "new power of States" is a term that has been used to describe the United Nations, the United States and the United Kingdom.

The "new power of States" is a term that has been used to describe the United Nations, the United States and the United Kingdom.

The "new power of States" is a term that has been used to describe the United Nations, the United States and the United Kingdom.

The "new power of States" is a term that has been used to describe the United Nations, the United States and the United Kingdom.

The "new power of States" is a term that has been used to describe the United Nations, the United States and the United Kingdom.

The "new power of States" is a term that has been used to describe the United Nations, the United States and the United Kingdom.

The "new power of States" is a term that has been used to describe the United Nations, the United States and the United Kingdom.

The "new power of States" is a term that has been used to describe the United Nations, the United States and the United Kingdom.

The "new power of States" is a term that has been used to describe the United Nations, the United States and the United Kingdom.

The "new power of States" is a term that has been used to describe the United Nations, the United States and the United Kingdom.

The "new power of States" is a term that has been used to describe the United Nations, the United States and the United Kingdom.

The "new power of States" is a term that has been used to describe the United Nations, the United States and the United Kingdom.

The "new power of States" is a term that has been used to describe the United Nations, the United States and the United Kingdom.

The "new power of States" is a term that has been used to describe the United Nations, the United States and the United Kingdom.

The "new power of States" is a term that has been used to describe the United Nations, the United States and the United Kingdom.

The "new power of States" is a term that has been used to describe the United Nations, the United States and the United Kingdom.

The "new power of States" is a term that has been used to describe the United Nations, the United States and the United Kingdom.

The "new power of States" is a term that has been used to describe the United Nations, the United States and the United Kingdom.

The "new power of States" is a term that has been used to describe the United Nations, the United States and the United Kingdom.

The "new power of States" is a term that has been used to describe the United Nations, the United States and the United Kingdom.

The "new power of States" is a term that has been used to describe the United Nations, the United States and the United Kingdom.
State Continues to Play 'Little Brother' Role

It looks like Fritz Crisler and the Great American Eleven have won out again. As most Spartan fans know by now, Michigan walked off with one of the biggest spoils in college football by grabbing the annual championship between the MSU and Michigan as a home game in 1954, 1955 and 1956. The tradition rivalry with the top-ranked Spartans versus Michigan of at least one well-out-a-year. Most observers think the game, which has been played at East Lansing only once since 1913, will be a permanent fall fixture in the Ann Arbor area.

Despite being a home-town-home series to Michigan, State also suffered another major setback in last week's schedule meeting. The Big Ten has given State's Big Ten a job in 1956 for handling the Spartans in a schedule that would have any team's title chances.

The Spartans face six of the conference's top ten teams there on the road. Any Big Ten coach who can't break the home-town one-time advantage. The Spartans have had enough trouble in the past in their trips to Illinois, Purdue, Ohio State and other Big Ten stadiums.

The only time State's win streak was actually threatened last year was on alien fields. Coach Sugar Shinn pointed out last year the MSU's 'M' game. We were limited to conference rivalry. "The conference out the traveling squad live to the Big Ten year creating a further injustice. In these three years, the Spartans have the Big Ten grant 10th MSU schedules. The lack of the back of the Big Ten schedule. State, granted only two home contests in 1953 and 1954 out of six conference games.

Don't think those four games away from home aren't going to hurt State's chances for a Big Ten title. The only way in which the Spartans are given an equal break on scheduling deals is Purdue and Minnesota will not play Michigan at Ann Arbor, while the Spartans formerly played in Michigan Convention, Wisconsin and other schools.

The most appealing thing about the whole situation is the appearance of the articles shown by MSU's athletic officials.

Editorially

State Continues to Play 'Little Brother' Role

It looks like Fritz Crisler and the Great American Eleven have won out again. As most Spartan fans know by now, Michigan walked off with one of the biggest spoils in college football by grabbing the annual championship between the MSU and Michigan as a home game in 1954, 1955 and 1956. The traditional rivalry with the top-ranked Spartans versus Michigan of at least one well-out-a-year. Most observers think the game, which has been played at East Lansing only once since 1913, will be a permanent fall fixture in the Ann Arbor area.

Despite being a home-town-home series to Michigan, State also suffered another major setback in last week's schedule meeting. The Big Ten has given State's Big Ten a job in 1956 for handling the Spartans in a schedule that would have any team's title chances.

The Spartans face six of the conference's top ten teams there on the road. Any Big Ten coach who can't break the home-town one-time advantage. The Spartans have had enough trouble in the past in their trips to Illinois, Purdue, Ohio State and other Big Ten stadiums.

The only time State's win streak was actually threatened last year was on alien fields. Coach Sugar Shinn pointed out last year the MSU's 'M' game. We were limited to conference rivalry. "The conference out the traveling squad live to the Big Ten year creating a further injustice. In these three years, the Spartans have the Big Ten grant 10th MSU schedules. The lack of the back of the Big Ten schedule. State, granted only two home contests in 1953 and 1954 out of six conference games.

Don't think those four games away from home aren't going to hurt State's chances for a Big Ten title. The only way in which the Spartans are given an equal break on scheduling deals is Purdue and Minnesota will not play Michigan at Ann Arbor, while the Spartans formerly played in Michigan Convention, Wisconsin and other schools.

The most appealing thing about the whole situation is the appearance of the articles shown by MSU's athletic officials.

Editorially

State Continues to Play 'Little Brother' Role

It looks like Fritz Crisler and the Great American Eleven have won out again. As most Spartan fans know by now, Michigan walked off with one of the biggest spoils in college football by grabbing the annual championship between the MSU and Michigan as a home game in 1954, 1955 and 1956. The traditional rivalry with the top-ranked Spartans versus Michigan of at least one well-out-a-year. Most observers think the game, which has been played at East Lansing only once since 1913, will be a permanent fall fixture in the Ann Arbor area.

Despite being a home-town-home series to Michigan, State also suffered another major setback in last week's schedule meeting. The Big Ten has given State's Big Ten a job in 1956 for handling the Spartans in a schedule that would have any team's title chances.

The Spartans face six of the conference's top ten teams there on the road. Any Big Ten coach who can't break the home-town one-time advantage. The Spartans have had enough trouble in the past in their trips to Illinois, Purdue, Ohio State and other Big Ten stadiums.

The only time State's win streak was actually threatened last year was on alien fields. Coach Sugar Shinn pointed out last year the MSU's 'M' game. We were limited to conference rivalry. "The conference out the traveling squad live to the Big Ten year creating a further injustice. In these three years, the Spartans have the Big Ten grant 10th MSU schedules. The lack of the back of the Big Ten schedule. State, granted only two home contests in 1953 and 1954 out of six conference games.

Don't think those four games away from home aren't going to hurt State's chances for a Big Ten title. The only way in which the Spartans are given an equal break on scheduling deals is Purdue and Minnesota will not play Michigan at Ann Arbor, while the Spartans formerly played in Michigan Convention, Wisconsin and other schools.

The most appealing thing about the whole situation is the appearance of the articles shown by MSU's athletic officials.
Spartans Tipped by Badgers, Finish in Tie for Third
State Loses, 58-51; Ferrari Sets Record

Eustace's Badgers dropped Michigan State into a thirdplace tie with Minnesota in the Big Ten basketball race Monday at Madison with a 66-56 triumph. The Badgers' 26 consecutive conference wins in a row, giving them the highest record in the nation. The Spartans compiled an 11-game winning streak, by winning their first nine conference games and the last two in the Big Ten.

In 1961, the Spartans compiled an 11-game winning streak, by winning their first nine conference games and the last two in the Big Ten.

Big Ten Standings

TEAM | W | L
--- | --- | ---
Indiana | 6 | 4
Wisconsin | 5 | 5
Ohio State | 5 | 5
Michigan | 4 | 6
Purdue | 4 | 6

Indiana won the final game of the series 58-51, giving them the highest record in the nation. The Spartans compiled an 11-game winning streak, by winning their first nine conference games and the last two in the Big Ten.

Best Big Ten Forward

NewCage-King
Shines, Win or Lose

Meet Michigan State's new individual basketball scoring machine. At Ferrari, sophomore forward from NewCage, his 26 points led the team to a 15-point victory over the Indiana Hoosiers. Ferrari compiled a new Big Ten record for a single game, scoring 26 points.

Sigma Nu Dropped Abbot 18

E. Shaw, Old Timers Take Titles

E. Shaw dropped the final game of the conference, scoring 18 points and giving the team a 66-56 victory over the Indiana Hoosiers. Ferrari compiled a new Big Ten record for a single game, scoring 26 points.

Tigers Win Third Straight, 7-3

Tigers' Stephen King scored two home runs and two singles, leading to a 7-3 victory over the Indiana Hoosiers. King's performance was instrumental in securing the win for the Tigers.
Mr. Greeter

Dr. Hatcher says Youth Needs Help

Dr. Huritan, president of the University of Michigan, told rural teachers Friday evening that there is the need of all the people of the nation. He said the need is not just for rural schools, but for urban schools as well. He stressed the importance of education and the need for trained teachers.

Education Honorary

To Hold Open House

Keppie Dray, education director, will hold an open house at 2:30 p.m. on Thursday at the University in the field of education. Everyone is invited to come and see the various programs and the work of the education department.

School Board Officials Go to MSc School

School Board members are going to MSc School. The school is located at 1234 Main Street. The school is known for its excellent education programs. The school offers a variety of programs for all ages.

Stalin

(Continued from Page 1)

Cattle King's campaign will begin to decline, but the party will continue to support him. The party and government officials are working together to ensure that Stalin remains in power.

There are some places where the technical graduates can either be trained more fully than in the major educational center of the country. These places are located in the South and West. There are also more opportunities for employment in these areas. If you are looking for challenging work, you may want to consider the West. The West offers a variety of opportunities for technical graduates.

Interviews MARCH 11

Weekly shows of the Michigan State University for youth are being held at 7:30 p.m. on Thursdays. The shows are open to everyone.

Mr. Greeter

Dr. Hatcher, a talking addict, will speak on the second floor of the Union next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. He will discuss the need for trained teachers and the importance of education.

More Aircraft Engines

Bear this emblem among other.

There are some advantages to using a smaller engine for smaller aircraft. The smaller engine is easier to maintain and requires less fuel. However, the smaller engine also has less power. If you are looking for a smaller engine, you may want to consider the East Lansing engine. The East Lansing engine is smaller and has less power, but it is also easier to maintain.

Campus Classification: Low Cost

There are many options for classification. The low-cost classification is one of the most popular. It offers a variety of programs and courses for students. If you are looking for a low-cost classification, you may want to consider the Michigan State University for youth.

There is a need for trained teachers and the importance of education. The education department offers a variety of programs and courses for students. If you are looking for a program in education, you may want to consider the Michigan State University for youth.