Signing of Bill Delayed Until Early Next Week

By JERRY ZENKINS

MIDLAND, Mich. (AP) — Michigan State's name-change bill, passed Wednesday by the state Senate, will be signed by Gov. James W. Austin by Friday, a state official said yesterday.

The bill, two months old, is designed to give the state's university a new name, Michigan State University, that will remain in use for at least 20 years.

The bill, introduced by Rep. John H. Johnson, R-Southfield, andSen. Kenneth E. Johnson, R-Battle Creek, was passed by the House and Senate Wednesday and is scheduled to be signed by the governor on Friday.

About 12,000 Ingham County first and second graders came through the post office branches in the half vaccine drive today.

Dr. Douglas J. Fryer, acting director of the Ingham County Health Department, announced that all the vaccine supplies have already been received and a group of 600 volunteers is prepared to administer the vaccine to all first and second graders upon parental request.

Here is just something that should be home to everyday the work that has been done through the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in the North of Delites.

The vaccine to be administered in Ingham County is being supplied without charge by the national organization whose charge for nine million dollars worth of vaccine, before the results of the test inoculations of last year were known, was to keep the vaccine in production.

The hospital of thousands of contributors and volunto the workers whose 17 years of effort in March of Dimes campaign has finally paid off, have good reason to hold their heads a little higher these days and to walk in with a little more modest step.

The development of the Folk vaccine and the administration of the test dials in over 50,000 children throughout the nation last year by the unnamed hundreds of workers, is a remarkable demonstration of man's faith in the eventual conquest of disease.

We must remember during this world-wide victory cele-boration that only one battle has been won. Other phases of polio remain to be conquered. The work of the National Foundation must continue.

After all, there are still each killers as cancer, muscular dystrophy, and TB.

A battle is won, but the war is far from over.

The governor, in the relative first position of the political world, is the head of the in the field of politics.

This year the Democrats in Michigan will do in the presnatorial primary races and in the gubernatorial contest will have to say as much as they will in the general election.

The governor is, therefore,
in the relative political races
and in the gubernatorial contest will have to say as much as they will in the general election.

Inexperienced Golf Squad Set for Quad Meet Opener

Coach Ben Van Alstine's inexperienced golf squad met the 1945 season Saturday in a nine-hole match at Lafayette, Ind., Territorial, and Detroit in addition to Purdue. John Ballinger, Bob Stinnett, and Harry Reed are the top men on the squad and are the only members of the squad returning from last year's first varsity outing.

In order to determine the potential strength of this year's varsity, Van Alstine had to pick the line-up.

Here are from a list of seven freshmen:

Raymond and Johnstone captured the 1944 and 1945 spots in the tournament at Walnut Hills. Raymond and Johnstone are the co-captains for the 1945-46 season. The tournament at Walnut Hills was postponed and the starting line-up is subject to change. The same six will probably start in All After to face the South Bend (Indiana) tournament.

Sinadinos Wins Jacobs Mat Trophy

Jim Sinadinos, a Frosh, was selected as the 1944 U.S. Olympic team to become the first Michigan State athlete to become an Olympic team member. He finished second in both the 100 and 120-yard dashes.

Bengals Drop Opener To Cleveland, 5-3

The Tigers were opposite the second-best team in the Central League, the Detroit Tigers of Joe Paterno. A victory in Detroit would have given the Tigers a 2-0 lead into the series. Instead, the Tigers dropped the opener in the series.

For Prospective Cheerleaders

A practice session for all prospective cheerleaders, men and women will be held this afternoon in room 300 for 2:00 p.m. The practice will be held for 10 days, and will meet every weekday for the next ten days.
