Red Radio Blames U. S. Sabres Down 3 Migs

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower joined with Premier Bulganin at the White House today to discuss the Soviet Premier's visit to the United States.

The meeting took place in the Oval Office, where the two leaders were joined by their respective foreign ministers.

The talks were attended by members of both delegations, including the Red Chinese Foreign Minister, Chen Yi, and U. S. Secretary of State, Dean Rusk.

The meeting lasted for approximately 30 minutes, during which time the leaders exchanged views on a number of topics of mutual interest.

During the meeting, the U. S. President expressed his appreciation for the Chinese Premier's visit to the United States, and the Chinese leader reciprocated with warm words of welcome.

The two leaders agreed to continue working closely on important international issues, including the ongoing conflict in Korea.

The meeting concluded with a joint press conference where both leaders reaffirmed their commitment to working towards a peaceful resolution of the Korean conflict.

To a Marital Idea the Doctor Said No

A medical student, upon learning of a marital idea the doctor had proposed, made the following statement:

"I respect the authority of the medical profession, but I cannot agree with this proposal. It is contrary to my beliefs and values."

The student was referring to a suggestion made by a professor of medicine that two medical students should get married.

The student felt that such a proposal would compromise his professional integrity and would be inappropriate in the academic setting.

The student went on to say that he believed in the sanctity of marriage and the importance of personal choice in matters of love and marriage.

He concluded by expressing his hope that the professor would reconsider his proposal and that the students would be allowed to make their own decisions regarding their personal lives.
The Horn Blows at Hurst

One week ago today Student Government President Bill Hurst fired Joe Hoffman, a member of his executive board. Since then the air has been filled with rumblings, name-calling and horn-blowing.

Hoffman's buddies, aided by him, have so clouded the issues that what started out as an objective decision on the part of Hurst has become a case study.

The facts are simple. Hurst, acting responsibly, was disturbed about the crass handling performed by Hoffman in preparing a variety show to be held in connection with the Interfraternity Convention and sponsored by the student government.

Hurst, with justification, that Hoffman was acting in an improper and unprovocative manner. Hoffman had produced a contract but continued to talk in glowing terms and had spent money—too—or it is true—of course,ians, friends of his parents and friends of friends, etc.

Hurst had some experience in matters of this sort having worked directly or indirectly with student government variety shows for nearly four years. Hoffman has had little experience along these lines.

After weighing the facts Hurst presented them to Hurst. Hurst, feeling that an appeal was being prepared and told Hoffman the show was off.

At this point, however, no one ever in a place where Congress Speaker Bill Curtis should appear put it.

Since that time, a handful of emotional, inaccurate communists have come through the ranks of the in the suction.

Russia and the Big Three Western powers were deadlocked Thursday on the question of independence for the Ukraine.

Russian delegates to the London summit met with about 150 foreign correspondents present on the premises of the Foreign Office. The Ukrainian meeting room was occupied by 140 correspondents who wished to hear the discussion on the question of independence for the Ukraine.

Tuesday was a key day in the summit meetings. The conference was to last through the week. The issue of Ukraine independence was expected to be discussed in detail. The meeting was expected to be closed by the Soviet delegation.

Western sources said the undetermined outcome of the discussions will depend on the balance of power in the summit meetings. The summit meetings will be closed by the Soviet delegation.

A report from the Foreign Office said the Soviet delegation was to attend the meeting. The summit, which will last through the week, is expected to be closed by the Soviet delegation.
