House Backs Ike's Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Thursday night approved a $31,885,600 army appropriation bill to reduce armed service by 5,000 men. The bill was passed by a vote of 216-139.

The roll call vote was 216-139, with 25 members absent. The bill provides for a cut in the army of 5,000 men, but the move failed to pass in the Senate.

The Air Force would lose 8,000 men, the army 5,000, the navy 1,000, and the marines 1,000.

The last day of the symposium will be devoted to the presentation of the College of Engineering at Michigan State University. The symposium will be held in the Union with a special inducting the last day of the symposium.

The Air Force in the past has been willing to reduce its force of 7,000 men, but the army has been willing to reduce its force of 5,000 men.

The Army would like to take the time to explain the military situation during the symposium.

Strong Results, Vote Recount

Junior class presidential candidate Barry Denney scored a three-vote victory over Democrat Bill Strow in Thursday's final class office and Student Congress election. Several other bids were scored for the top positions.

Denney's victory was just barely enough to win the election. He received 1,006 votes to 1,003 for Strow. Other candidates in the race were: Robert R. Strow, 67; John F. M. Karge, 51; and Robert H. Wald, 22.

State Needs A Motto

To the Editor:

I believe such a Latin motto is a good idea, and I am in favor of establishing one if it is not already been decided upon.

I am thinking of two English mottoes, one of which is Latin, would make good choices.

"Whatever a man wishes," is possibly, "It is for us to be obedient."

This is just one person's opinion, and I feel it will please some consideration.

Sincerely yours,

Richard L. Section

Faculty and students went under the auctioneer's gavel Thursday afternoon, but the charity drive fell flat on its face.

The Faculty-Student Auction had to be called off Thursday halfway through the program, because there were too few bidders.

Green Helmet, sponsors of the annual fund-raising event for Campus Chest, threw up their hands and called it a day. This was without a doubt the deadest auction in years. Neither distinguished faculty nor students who volunteered their entertainment and labor to appease and other living souls could get a rise out of the group on the south terrace of the Union.

Last year $885.52 was raised by students who bid for dinner dates or odd-job workers among the faculty, and student body. Dean Tom King went under the block last year for $23 cents, as an alumna who just wanted to "talk over old times."

President John Hannah was asked for $15.50 last year to bid there as a dinner guest. This year he bid for $0. In 1963 the auction brought in $885.75. What happened in 1962? The total was about $411 from nine bidders. Some you just can't make a buck.

Some commented at the auction that the Debby unit just felt they had contributed too much already to Campus Chest. Others wondered if there could have been a better selection of items to choose from.

What caused the gavel to fall so fast this year? Do we just simply shift up to that arch enemy—spring? It's really getting a holding this year.

Michigan State's tennis team will take its three matches with North Carolina State and South Carolina for a dual meet with North Carolina State.

The wins will determine if the team will advance to the NCAA's. The only two teams who advance, will play in the NCAA's. The team that wins both matches will play the winner of the North Carolina State and South Carolina matches.

Coach Bill Trapp said after having his winning combination intact for the second straight season, with freshman Jim Dreyer leading the Michigan State team.

Dreyer started the year slow, working a score of 3-0 at Purdue. But he said as well as a surge of 12 rounds in his season average to 7.12. Including in his score 7.12 rounds in his second round in 1969.

Harry Wood, another Michigan State player, will play in the No. 2 spot at North Carolina State. It is claimed his 7.12 rounds in his 1969 season average to 7.12 rounds in his second round in 1969.

The No. 3 spot is in dispute. With either Dave Long or Jack Johnson started for the position.

Last week the matches were at Denver's. No. 1-1 win over Wisconsin. Playing in the first collegiate match. Last first round of the Big Ten tournament was denied in a 7-1 win over Wisconsin. Playing in the first collegiate match. Last first round of the Big Ten tournament was denied in a 7-1 win over Wisconsin.

The greatest bonus rule remains that any player signed for a big cash bonus must remain with his major league club for a full year. Players have been questioned on this matter.

Dreyer's plan, a team, would need a bonus player to a major league club. If the player were to be bought by the major league club, he would be the one to receive the bonus.

The bonus would be allowed the player to be bought by the major league club. If the player were to be bought by the major league club, he would be the one to receive the bonus.

Tennis Old Game to Brogan

By JOE CONWAY

Tennis is on the rise for John and Dave Dressen of the Spartan tennis team. The brothers, who are both tennis pros, are making a name for themselves in the tennis world. The brothers have been playing tennis for over 15 years and have won numerous tournaments.

The brothers say tennis is a great way to stay fit and healthy. They enjoy spending time together on the court and are looking forward to playing in more tournaments in the future.

Overselling It

Players believe an overselling tactic should be avoided. Overselling has been a problem in the tennis world for many years. The tactic involves players overestimating their skills and abilities in order to attract more fans and sponsors.

The tactic is not only unethical, but it can also be harmful to the sport. It can lead to a lack of respect for the game and can damage the reputation of tennis players. It is important for players to be honest and realistic about their abilities.

Each player should focus on improving their skills and working hard to achieve their goals. This will not only benefit the player, but it will also benefit the sport as a whole.

John and Dave Dressen are playing in a tournament this weekend. They are looking forward to the challenge and hope to come out on top.
