Labor Costs Hike
Dorm Prices $10

A $5 increase in tuition, the second in as many years, was approved by the State Board of Agriculture in their monthly meeting last Tuesday. The increase, effective September 1, will bring the tuition rate to $80 per quarter. Tuition at Michigan State for the current year was $75. The提高 in dormitory rates, effective the same date, will bring the price to $90. Currently, the dorm rate is $85 per quarter.

In closing the budget of $88,041,256 for the 1955-56 fiscal year, the Board of Agriculture established the following dormitory rates for the various colleges of the University:

- College of Agriculture: $90 per quarter
- College of Arts and Letters: $90 per quarter
- College of Education: $90 per quarter
- College of Science and Arts: $90 per quarter
- College of Veterinary Medicine: $90 per quarter

The raising of the dorm rates is due to an increase in the cost of building operations. The Board of Agriculture has stated that these increases are necessary in order to maintain the level of service provided to the students.
Youths Set Example

A recent series of articles in a national magazine would offer evidence to the contrary, if already not an immoral, corrupt and insidious influence. The amount of time spent on juvenile delinquency is a matter of concern.

Every condition of existence was summarized, resulting from various causes, by giving the meeting an atmosphere of restriction. The atmosphere produced an effect that was noticed by all the students present.

Summer School's Relaxing

A Michigan State student using the facilities of the university for the purpose of relaxation and learning, is finding it extremely helpful. It enabled the fine work carried on by such groups as Michigan State's Preparatory School.

While our national legislators are condemning the present generation and at the same time overlooking its good points, the LBS Boys' State from communities all over Michigan are proving by use of an intensive week of living democracy to step into their shoes and receive the benefit of experience.

MEDICAL CENTER

A Michigan State student has been seen walking about the campus with a nurse in attendance. After being an eyewitness to one of these situations, the student decided to write down her observations on the incident.

The demonstration student returned to the campus, after the medical staff had arrived, and it was announced that she was able to see the students' reactions to the situation.
