Building Boom in Michigan

By JACK BERRY

The growth of the 25th Floor, which is being built, is due to the fact that the building is about to be completed. This is the largest building in the state, and the construction is being supervised by the 25th Floor Construction Company.

The building is under construction and will be ready for occupancy in the fall. The building will have 10 floors and will be 100 feet in height. It will be used for office space and will have a capacity of 1000 people.

The building is located on the corner of Grand and Michigan Streets, and is being built by the 25th Floor Construction Company. The company is also building the 25th Floor Condominium, which will be completed in the spring.

The building will be clad in brownstone and will have large windows. The interior will be decorated in a modern style and will have many amenities, including a large lobby, a restaurant, and a gym.

The building will be completed in the fall, and the company is already beginning to advertise for tenants.

Michigan State News

VOL. 47, NO. 1
EAST LANSING, MICHIGAN—THURSDAY, JULY 21, 1955
PRICE 5 CENTS

Forum Hot-Dems-GOP Hurl Barbs

Starled, Folkens In Panel Spotlight

By MARGARET FILLER

Busineses have opened in the area near the new building, including a new restaurant and a new store.

The restaurant, located at 123 Main Street, is open daily from 8:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. It offers a wide variety of dishes, including sandwiches, salads, and desserts.

The store, located at 125 Main Street, is open daily from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. It carries a wide variety of items, including clothing, electronics, and household goods.

Both businesses are owned by local residents and have been in operation for less than a month.

Public Education Symposium Draws Varied Panel of Experts

By ROY LARSEN

The symposium was held on the campus of Michigan State College, and was attended by a large audience of educators and community leaders.

The panelists included representatives from a variety of organizations, including the Michigan State Department of Education, the National Education Association, and the American Federation of Teachers.

The panelists discussed a range of topics, including school finance, teacher salaries, and curriculum standards.

The symposium concluded with a roundtable discussion, where panelists and audience members had the opportunity to ask questions and engage in a free-flowing conversation.

Robww. B. Pinkney of Boston University was the keynote speaker, and his presentation focused on the importance of innovative teaching methods.

The symposium was well-received by attendees, who praised the panelists for their knowledge and insight.

MU Dean To Open 3-Day Talks

Present, Future Under Discussion

Leaders from every phase of the educational system will meet at Michigan State College, Thursday through Wednesday, to discuss the impact of the war and the prospects for the future of higher education in the United States.

The conference, sponsored by the National Education Association, will feature panel discussions on topics such as the role of universities in the war effort, the impact of the war on student life, and the future of higher education in the post-war era.

The conference will conclude with a special session on the future of higher education, which will be open to the public.

The symposium was well-received by attendees, who praised the panelists for their knowledge and insight.

MU Dean To Open 3-Day Talks

Present, Future Under Discussion

Leaders from every phase of the educational system will meet at Michigan State College, Thursday through Wednesday, to discuss the impact of the war and the prospects for the future of higher education in the United States.

The conference, sponsored by the National Education Association, will feature panel discussions on topics such as the role of universities in the war effort, the impact of the war on student life, and the future of higher education in the post-war era.

The conference will conclude with a special session on the future of higher education, which will be open to the public.

The symposium was well-received by attendees, who praised the panelists for their knowledge and insight.

MU Dean To Open 3-Day Talks

Present, Future Under Discussion

Leaders from every phase of the educational system will meet at Michigan State College, Thursday through Wednesday, to discuss the impact of the war and the prospects for the future of higher education in the United States.

The conference, sponsored by the National Education Association, will feature panel discussions on topics such as the role of universities in the war effort, the impact of the war on student life, and the future of higher education in the post-war era.

The conference will conclude with a special session on the future of higher education, which will be open to the public.

The symposium was well-received by attendees, who praised the panelists for their knowledge and insight.

MSU Dean To Open 3-Day Talks

Present, Future Under Discussion

Leaders from every phase of the educational system will meet at Michigan State College, Thursday through Wednesday, to discuss the impact of the war and the prospects for the future of higher education in the United States.

The conference, sponsored by the National Education Association, will feature panel discussions on topics such as the role of universities in the war effort, the impact of the war on student life, and the future of higher education in the post-war era.

The conference will conclude with a special session on the future of higher education, which will be open to the public.

The symposium was well-received by attendees, who praised the panelists for their knowledge and insight.

MSU Dean To Open 3-Day Talks

Present, Future Under Discussion

Leaders from every phase of the educational system will meet at Michigan State College, Thursday through Wednesday, to discuss the impact of the war and the prospects for the future of higher education in the United States.

The conference, sponsored by the National Education Association, will feature panel discussions on topics such as the role of universities in the war effort, the impact of the war on student life, and the future of higher education in the post-war era.

The conference will conclude with a special session on the future of higher education, which will be open to the public.

The symposium was well-received by attendees, who praised the panelists for their knowledge and insight.

MSU Dean To Open 3-Day Talks

Present, Future Under Discussion

Leaders from every phase of the educational system will meet at Michigan State College, Thursday through Wednesday, to discuss the impact of the war and the prospects for the future of higher education in the United States.

The conference, sponsored by the National Education Association, will feature panel discussions on topics such as the role of universities in the war effort, the impact of the war on student life, and the future of higher education in the post-war era.

The conference will conclude with a special session on the future of higher education, which will be open to the public.

The symposium was well-received by attendees, who praised the panelists for their knowledge and insight.
Russia Holds Key to Peace

The Big Four opened the Geneva conference Monday, this name “summit” conference, in an attempt to restore and insure peace in the world.

President Eisenhower, in his opening address, said that in the few days of the meeting all world problems could not be solved by the chief-secret of Russia, France, Great Britain and the United States.

We are not on the summit but it does not take a high vantage point to be able to see that there will be no solution in the problem if Russia does not want it.

"Peaceful co-existence" is a myth that can only be believed by those who will not face the truth.

Russia's ideology is so opposed to that of the free world that it harbors an aversion comprehension here anyone could believe that the East and West can go their ways without frightening each other.

Russia, under the Lenin-Stalin pattern, is interested in one thing—the conquest of the world.

While we hope for the best from the conference let us not disillusion ourselves into thinking that the Soviet will change their policy of world domination. That type of thinking would lead into a fall from the "summit," one more painful than Humpty-Dumpty's.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Oppenheimer, Murrow Film Gets Twin Bill

Edward R. Murrow interviews J. Robert Oppenheimer will be shown Jan. 19 in Michigan State University's Union, and the second program, a motion picture, taken from CBS News Angora, Murrow's television series, "See It Now," and sponsored by the campus newspaper, "The State," will be shown Jan. 20 at 8 p.m. in U-420 and again Jan. 21 at 4 p.m.

One of the events of the 1953-54 season of motion pictures in the Union was the showing of "Peace and Freedom," sponsored by the campus newspaper, "The State," and presented by the Union handsome Dec. 5 at 4 p.m.

The motion picture will be shown Jan. 19 at 8 p.m. in the Union. In one part of the film, Oppenheimer talks about the nature of the atomic bomb and what it means to the world, and in another part he talks about the moral aspects of the weapon.

In the Murrow film, the discussions include the war in Korea, the peaceful uses of atomic energy, and the role of scientists in the world, and "See It Now" will discuss the war in Korea, the peaceful uses of atomic energy, and the role of scientists in the world.

Lost and Found

The following items have been turned into the Campus Lost and Found Office.

- A student dropped his wallet in the Shop, near his dorm room.
- A student dropped his camera in the Shop, near his dorm room.
- A student dropped his baseball in the Shop, near his dorm room.
- A student dropped his keys in the Shop, near his dorm room.
- A student dropped his backpack in the Shop, near his dorm room.
- A student dropped his glasses in the Shop, near his dorm room.
- A student dropped his phone in the Shop, near his dorm room.
- A student dropped his wallet in the Shop, near his dorm room.
- A student dropped his camera in the Shop, near his dorm room.
- A student dropped his baseball in the Shop, near his dorm room.
- A student dropped his keys in the Shop, near his dorm room.
- A student dropped his backpack in the Shop, near his dorm room.
- A student dropped his glasses in the Shop, near his dorm room.
- A student dropped his phone in the Shop, near his dorm room.
Chicago White Sox catcher Nester Leger stands by the dugout and signs autographs before a game against the Angels. Leger is one of the few players in baseball who can make a living off his autograph sales.

Duty Calls

30 Athletes Travel To RO Summer Camps

Michigan State coaches are fairly sure that at least 30 athletes will report back in good shape next fall.

This summer, and a few days before the end of the annual ROCTE, water-skiing camp for the Michigan State hockey team, a new state-of-the-art water-skiing camp for the Michigan State hockey team was opened.

Kawal Takes Illinois Job

All-Karoval, former centre coach at the University of Illinois, has been named as the new coach of the Michigan State hockey team. Kawal played at the University of Illinois and later coached at the University of Kentucky.

Smith Hard-Hitter

Michigan State's second baseman, Smith, who batted .353 for the season, is expected to lead the batting average for the Michigan State hockey team.

Hurd's Semi-Annual Sale

It's not often we have a special sale, but when we do it's worth it. We've reduced many items to make room for incoming apparel.

Light Weight, Year Round Suits now reduced

Dress Shirts, Neckwear, Hose, Pajamas, Robes all reduced.

Sportsware - Sport Coats, Slacks, Sport and Tee Shirts (long and short sleeves), Play Shorts and Swim Trunks all reduced.

ALL SALES FINAL

No Exchanges, Refunds, Layaways

No phone calls-Sorry
22 Die in Chicago

MSU Senior Killed
In Brouiff Plane Crash

James A. Whipple, 21, a social science major due to graduate in December, was killed Sunday morning as a Brouiff Airways Convair dived into a gasoline station sign while coming in for a landing at Michigan Airport and crashed.

The plane came from Northville, returning from a morning training flight with the Army Airforce Reserve. The plane went down from 200 feet near Michigan Airport, killing all five persons aboard. The identities of the other four passengers were not released.

Ex-Treasurer

Scheppers Dies

Joseph Scheppers, former treasurer of the Michigan State, State Union of the Associated Students of Michigan for 12 years, died at the age of 19 late Tuesday night.

Scheppers came to a premature death after the sudden illness of his mother.

Before entering State in 1924, he worked as a state union officer.

Scheppers then went on to become a state legislature and the executive vice-president of the Associated Students of Michigan. He then went on to become the president of the Associated Students of Michigan. He then went on to become the president of the Associated Students of Michigan.