Faure, Pinay Cancel Trip To Russia

Action Follows Boycott of UN

PARIS (AP) - Premier Edouard Faure and Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay canceled Monday a scheduled "courtesy and friendship" visit to Moscow. The explanation was that the atmosphere is not favorable now for this type of trip.

Despite differences in Paris as to the wisdom of such a visit, French officials are drafting a statement for the Premier that would indicate a desire to improve relations with the Soviet Union.

The official French statement would make it clear to the Soviets that France was not renouncing its adherence to the principle of the peaceful coexistence of states, but rather to the new policy of a "new or better world" as outlined by Prime Minister Charles de Gaulle.

The official French statement is expected to stress the fact that "the whole world is watching" the visit to Moscow, and that the French Premier is" anxious to improve the atmosphere in the relations between states." It will also underline the fact that France is" preparing the ground for the very important visit of M. de Gaulle to Moscow in April.

Stocks Suffer 2nd Major Decline

NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market suffered its second major reaction Monday in the wake of the news of the President’s illness.

It was the second stock market sell-off since the Friday before the Democratic convention. A stock market was held up Monday by the fact that the Federal Reserve Board was meeting in a special session to consider new regulations for the control of the money supply.

The first reaction Monday was reported to be a modest, but noticeable, increase in the value of stocks compared with the Friday before the Democratic convention.

Museum Gains 62,000 Mollusk Shells

By AND STOY

A retired high school teacher has donated to the museum a collection of 62,000 mollusk shells, the largest collection of its kind in the state.

The collection was donated by the late Charles D. Mollison of Grand Rapids, who was a noted zoologist and Ichthyologist.

The donation was made on behalf of the museum by Dr. W. F. Moorehead, chairman of the department of zoology.

The collection includes shells of all kinds, from the smallest to the largest, and it includes shells from all parts of the world.

The museum plans to exhibit the collection in the future, and it will serve as a valuable resource for research.

O’Hara Hits Handling of Campaign

By LOUIE GROPP

Ann Arbor, Mich. (AP) - The fate of UMCIC will hang in the balance tonight as leaders of Michigan’s state government meet to decide if there will be an "ugly man" on campuses this year.

The meeting called by Gov. William E. Milliken and attended by UMCIC officials, including Dr. Robert J. O’Hara, president, was called to discuss the future of the college.

"It’s a very important meeting, and we’re all very optimistic about the outcome," said Dr. O’Hara, who was present.

The University of Michigan College of Engineering is facing a crisis after a series of events involving the college’s handling of its relationship with the University of Michigan College of Engineering, Inc. (UMCIC).

The college has been accused of mishandling its relationship with UMCIC, which was founded by the late University of Michigan President John P. Hazen.

The college has been under pressure to do more to ensure the financial stability of UMCIC, which has been struggling financially.

The college also faced criticism for its handling of a recent controversy involving the college’s handling of a grant from the National Science Foundation.

The college has been accused of not properly disclosing the terms of the grant, which was awarded to the college in 2013.

 Discrimination at MSU, Too?

Till Case Discussed by Readers

To the Editor:

The student body of Michigan State has proved its maturity and good character beyond any doubt. With not a single incident to mar the record, the men and women now attending MSU have set an example for future classes to follow.

The past week has served to doubly emphasize the adult attitude at MSU. In view of the conduct of student bodies at other schools, State alumni and students have a very good reason for holding their heads a little higher than usual.

More thanks go to all the student governing bodies, the Residence Advisors and all the other students and organizations that have worked so hard in developing the ideals that have made this conduct possible.

By Ford—No hitter at Brooklyn—No hitter at New York

Ford was up to the job, turning in a brilliant start when he had to in the ninth.

He has received a great deal of praise for his fine work, and it is only fair to acknowledge his efforts.

Spencer was in trouble with the first base line in sight. He allowed five singles, and had four men on first and second when the bases were loaded.

Then G. McDonald walked. Next, Schrader, who had been driving the ball all afternoon, grounded out, and the bases were cleared. McCann then walked, and Brown was out, leaving two on first and third.

With two outs, the bases were loaded, and Spencer retired the side on two fly balls. The score was 5-1, and the game was over.
