Give to Campus Chest Charity Drive Offers A Test

Letter-timer or bench warmers ever spent a day will have a chance to raise a bit last year. The 1960 Campus Chest solicitation drive started rolling with a letter-timer that generated a wave of enthusiasm, particularly within the student body. Now, the drive is being supported by the university's only charitable organization, the Campus Chest.

The drive has already been set at $12,000, slightly lower than the amount raised last year. "Keep the ball for Campus Chest" is in the campaign motto.

This is the only fund-raising drive conducted by Campus Chest during the year. The outcome of this drive will be particularly crucial.

It will be crucial because of the success of the Interfraternity Council last week in withdrawing from Sportscare, the spring fund-raising carnival.

If Sportscare and the accompanying football game on Campus are abolished, Campus Chest, annual fund raising will be reduced by $75 per cent.

The Chest has been logical reasons for its withdrawal. It has also pledged full support of the Chest in the future, and has assured the help of other ways of raising Chest revenue.

Next week's drive will not be a test of the identity and good intentions of the Chest members.

More importantly, it will test the generosity of all MSU students in spring aid to those in need of it.

Although no definite offensive line has been set up yet, Fred Miller, George Kennedy, and
A. Burn have played well within the last few practices. The fourth line has not been decided as yet. The line will be:

Fred Miller, George Kennedy,

"We've set at least eight lineups so far," said Beosen,
"and will be fortunate to have one left."

The State hockey squad will meet three different teams before its first conference match with St. Lawrence, scheduled for Saturday, November 17.

The first game of the series
