Dirty Politics, Ineptness Force Senior Re-vote

Thinking the people the nation over have been appalled the rampant apotheosis of the American value public, whether it be in a national presidential race or a campus election, ballot.

Thursday that rampant apotheosis took a back seat to something even more evident — dirty politics and poor officiating.

As a result of "irregularities and dis—

The ramifications of that decision go far, far beyond the material re-election poli—ratify one of the few bases on which the student government election committee can stand.

Surely, the election committee should not have the power to do this, but it is the best action on the part of the election committee could take.

Most people voted out of their desire to ensure insurance and electing in the long run.

Student Government election officials acknowledged that they were prepared, to the immediate relief to the clean up the voting class of the individual.

In addition, the rules concerning eligi—bility were never clearly defined prior to the election.

As a result, many first term senators and junior, voted for junior and senior officers — although they should have had only the eligible junior and senior officers, there with other aspects to the "irregularities and dis—

There were no other aspects to the "irregularities and dis—

1. The voting class for both seniors and juniors, as well as for the faculty, will be present.

In short, the whole election for senior president was marred in nature and ir—nected to the vote.

There were minor complaints from the other class races and the campaign in the face, but they were overwhelmed by the voting irregularities complaint.

That Student Government was big enough to weather and wise enough to admit the election was wrong and to call for a new one is its pride.

Government officials say that prece—sentations will be taken around a repetition of Thursday's farce. Those are small changes that can be made to adjust the situation for the election.

CORAL LEAGUE

Today, Michigan is scheduled to face Ohio State at 4 p.m. in Columbus, Ohio.

The Spartans will face the Buckeyes for the second time this season, having lost 6-0 at home earlier this year.

Coach John Beilein has been focusing on improving his team's defense, which has struggled in recent games. The Spartans are currently allowing 78.8 points per game.

On the offensive side, Beilein is hoping to generate more scoring opportunities for his players. Michigan State is averaging 67.2 points per game so far this season.

The Spartans will need to play well in both phases of the game if they hope to overcome the Buckeyes and secure a victory.

Suggested Readings:

- "Ohio State Ready for Battle with Michigan State"
- "Spartans Look to Regain Momentum in Columbus"

Next up, the Spartans will travel to face the Wisconsin Badgers on Saturday, January 21 at 7 p.m. in Madison, Wisconsin. Wisconsin is currently in second place in the Big Ten Conference.

---

The upcoming games will be a crucial test for Michigan State as they make their push for a conference championship.
MSU Hosts 4,000 Parents

MSU hosted an estimated 4,000 parents with a weekend filled with open houses, dances, a festival, and an exhibition. The parents were welcomed Saturday morning by President John A. Hannah in the Kelley and Kelley Center, which was filled to capacity with other parents filing Leaving Halls.

The annual Engineering Exposition and International Festival gave the parents an opportunity to see the MSU campus as they traveled from one exhibit to another. Special exhibits were set up in the Electrical Engineering Building and Mott Hall.

A continuous flow of people filed into the Adel to view the displays that highlighted the festival there. Inter- national students starred at three stage shows throughout the day and evening.

The Smokey Bear Committee, the Museum, M.D.A., and Veterinary Medicine all held open houses. The College of Home Economics opened its open house.

Saturday afternoon parents and students took time to watch the Miss Michigan Auto Race.

That night they had a choice of seeing路程 at the Weiders or the Green Spahn Show. A "Carriage Coachman" party and dance was held at the Union Ballroom.

The show in Alumni Hall, the Mott Hop was in progress. Fifteen engineering students, including one coal mine student, Knights of St. Patrick by Susan Mary Kellor, gave an excellent performance.

Sunday afternoon there were organ concerts in the Alumni Memorial and a special concert with a Tipton concert at 7:30.

The Students' Sing Sunday afternoon and the A Gamma Tau concert Sunday night completed the four weekend events.

Parents were visited at the Student Union and were entertained at the Terrace Tramp.
