Hays Walks Out of Secret Hearing

Wants Open Debate On Mid-East Policy

Dulles Remains Confident, Hopes for Swift Approval

WASHINGTON (AP)—One critical congressman bolted a secret hearing on the Eisenhower Middle East manifesto Tuesday. But Secretary of State Dulles expressed confident hope Congress would swiftly enact the President's policy.

Ike's Talk To Differ From Past

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State of the Union message President Eisenhower delivers to Congress in person Thursday will have a new look, the White House announced Tuesday.

In contrast to other years, it will contain only a few recommendations dealing with legislation the administration wants enacted. And it will be much shorter than in the past.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty estimated the President will speak for about a half hour at a joint session of the Senate and House. In other years Eisenhower's State of the Union document has taken up to about an hour for delivery.

In announcing the pattern change, Hagerty said the Eisenhower message of about 3,500 words will be mainly "a review of the domestic and international scene, and will make only a few legislative recommendations on a few subjects."

Hagerty added that the great majority of the administration's detailed legislative proposals will be set forth in later messages. Three include the budget message, scheduled to go to the Capitol Jan. 18, and the annual economic report to be sent to the law makers later in the month.

There also will be the final series of special messages dealing with specific subjects.

Course Changes By Drops, Adds Accepted Today

Today is the first day that winter quarter enrollment changes will be accepted, according to the registrar's office. No new courses may be added to a student's schedule after Friday, while the last day for dropping classes has been listed as Jan. 13.

No student may change his original class schedule without the written recommendation of his enrollment officer and the permission of the head of the department involved.

Persons who drop courses before the Jan. 18 deadline will receive no grades in them. Anyone dropping after that date will receive "F's" in the dropped subjects unless he is eligible for "I" or "N" grades.

Unofficial drops will result in grades of "F."

Students Plead Guilty to Robbery

Two MSU students pleaded guilty last week in Jackson's circuit court to armed robbery of $800 in holdups of two service stations.

Thomas Husband, 19, Bay City sophomore and Richard A. McDonald, 19, Springfield, Ohio and also a sophomore were ordered returned to jail to await sentence. No date was set.

The young men, both football players, were captured by police following a chase after the two station robberies Dec. 8. Police said they also admitted having staged seven other stickups and a break-in to get money for school debts.

AWS Judiciary Answers Appeal

Presents Signout Sheet Stand To East Landon House Council

After receiving an appeal from East Landon coeds, who were charged with defacing sign out sheets, AWS Judiciary council sent a letter to the East Landon House Council on Friday, Dec. 7, 1956, it was announced last night by AWS officials.

The letter read: "East Landon House Council. The chief objective of AWS in the East Landon matter is—and has been from the beginning—to find a solution to their defacement of signout sheets."

"AWS prefers to consider this appeal after the House Council in East Landon has been given an opportunity to solve the problem within its own residence."

We recommend that the House Council meet the first week of classes in January to begin constructive plans to reach a solution.

Insurance Rolls Open This Term Until Jan. 15

Enrollment in the student insurance program sponsored by AUSG has been reopened this term. Students may apply for the insurance until Jan. 15 in the AUSG office in the Union.

A total of $8,120 has been paid in claims since the program was inaugurated last fall. The insurance is handled by the McKnight and Lyman agency.

Coverage on the policies purchased now will extend until Sept. 16. Students are covered during the summer months as well as while they are attending school. The cost is $7.50.

These policies also include coverage for operations.

Truman Schrag of the AUSG is in charge of the program at MSU.

Canadian Prof to Teach Here

Dr. Francis R. Scott, constitutional law professor from Canada, will be a distinguished visiting professor at Michigan State this term.

Dr. Scott, formerly acting dean of the law school at McGill University in Montreal, will teach a course, "The Development of Canadian Culture and Institutions," in the college of Science and Arts.

Three Canadian-American seminars are also planned during Dr. Scott's stay at MSU, according to Dr. Russell B. Nye, head of the English department.

New U of M Grid Schedule Revealed

Wolves Consent to 1959-60 Home-and-Home MSU Series

A long-time conference room battle between Michigan State and the University of Michigan concerning football schedules finally came to a close Tuesday at a meeting of Big 10 officials in St. Louis, Mo.

Duane Moon, MSU athletic director, announced that the University of Michigan had agreed to a home-and-home grid schedule with the Spartans for the 1959-60 season, extending the arrangement which prevails through the 1957-58 seasons.

For the next four years the two teams will alternate as hosts. Although Fritz Crisler, Michigan athletic director, said the action was not to be considered a permanent one, conference observers felt certain that once the precedent had been set over a four-year period it would be impossible to return to the old ratio.

In the past Michigan's big argument for not having the home-and-home arrangement was the small seating capacity of Macklin Stadium. However, by 1959 the Spartans expect a stadium to house 75,000, third largest in the conference, behind Michigan and Ohio State.

This marks the first time since the two schools first met in 1899 that Wolverine officials have agreed to such a schedule.

Precious schedules call for the game to be played at Ann Arbor next fall and at Michigan State in 1958. This was part of a Michigan plan under which four games were played at Ann Arbor to every one at Michigan State.

It is certain that if Moon hadn't succeeded in winning his fight for the home-and-home schedule, the teams' annual rivalry would have ended, temporarily at least.

Spartan officials had earlier announced that Michigan State would drop any team from its schedule that would not agree to play at Michigan State every See HOME-AND-HOME, Page 6

UB Goes Night Club For Dance

2 Floor Shows To be Featured

An all-university night club dance, which has been billed as one of the most novel social functions of the year, will be presented by Union Board this Friday.

Entitled "Continental Cafe," the dance will be held in Parlors A, B and C of the Union from 8:30 to 12 p.m. Price per couple is $1.50.

Real night club atmosphere will be lent in the form of a carpeted entranceway, checkered tablecloths, and horseshoe shaped dance floor. Cigarette girls will supply free cigarettes to the "patrons" and there will be a refreshment bar at each end.

Decorations will consist of free form designs on the walls and indirect, colored lighting. Favors will be presented to the coeds.

There will be two floor shows—at 9:30 and 11 p.m. Entertainment will consist of the All-University chorus line, comedian Noel Stoney, and vocalist Marie Cies. Music will be supplied by Kenny Davis and his orchestra.

Tom Kerrey, East Lansing junior, will be master of ceremonies. Host and hostess for the evening are Sally Novak, Grosse Pointe junior, and Dave McCaffrey, East Lansing sophomore.

$1,570 Raised For Hungarians

Michigan State contributions for Hungarian relief totalled $1,570 in cash and two tons of clothing.

Bob Becker, student government president, said the cash is being made available to Hungarian student refugees, now in Vienna, through the World University Service. Clothing collected on the campus will be distributed through the World Church Service.

According to reports we have received from other universities which held similar drives for Hungarian relief, Michigan State students and faculty contributed about $500 more than any other school," Becker said.

More than five pounds of defaced and mutilated money is thrown into the Missouri River at St. Joseph, Mo., by an employee of the city comptroller's office. The coins represented a five-year accumulation from city parking meters which banks had refused to accept because of their condition.

One of the nine, the service said, asked to be returned. Three others, the service said, had their "patrol" admissions revoked for misrepresentations made to federal officials in their applications for admission. "Parolees" are admitted to this country on an emergency basis, and have no status as permanent residents.

Negroes Hit Bus Seat Plan
TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Negro leaders today denounced the new bus seat assignment plan ordered by the city commission as an "unjust scheme" to delay integration and declared they would not subscribe to it. The plan allows drivers to assign riders to specific seats for which they are handed tickets. Passengers are required to occupy these seats under penalty of a possible $500 fine or 60 days jail sentence unless they elect to have their fares refunded.

Money Pleas Await Legislators
LANSING (AP)—The Michigan Legislature opens its 1957 session today faced by what is billed as a tidal wave of money requests. Already, Gov. Williams has asked state agencies to pare their financial requests to a minimum. But the citizens research council advises taxpayers to "hang onto your hats." Republican legislators met Tuesday to organize the House and Senate of the 1957 session, after holding control in the fall elections.

Korean Election Plan Supported
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The UN Political Committee backed a U.S. proposal Tuesday to try again to unite Korea through UN-supervised elections. The 80-nation committee approved a U.S. resolution by a vote of 57-8 with 13 abstentions. Delegates acknowledged the resolution contained no new approach to a settlement of the 10-year-old Korean problem. And there was no sign Communist North Korea would allow the UN to supervise elections.

Judge to Investigate Graft in Genesee

Carland Selected to Run Probe

After Police Charge Bribe Conspiracy

FLINT (AP)—An Owosso circuit judge who is serving his first six-year term was named Tuesday as one-man grand jury to investigate reported corruption and graft in Genesee County.

He is Michael Carland, 50-year-old Democrat who is jurist for the 35th circuit, covering Shiawassee and Livingston Counties.

Judge Carland, advised of his selection by Meredith H. Doyle, state supreme court administrator, said he expects to come to Flint Thursday to open the probe of alleged police protection of gamblers.

The court asked for appointment of an outside jurist to investigate after two men were charged Monday with conspiracy to bribe police.

They are Jacob M. Waldo, 55, real estate man and former Democratic state central committee man and James Biaggio Barraco, 54, a motel operator.

Detective Lt. John Jerome, head of the police vice squad, and the two paid him to allow certain gambling places to remain open. Jerome said he arranged payoffs with other police officials as witnesses after the bribe offer was first made last August.

In petitioning for a grand jury, Prosecutor O'Rourke said "certain persons" had conspired to violate gambling laws and "certain" police and public officials had "willfully failed" to enforce the law.

He said he had witnesses and evidence of conspiracy to obstruct justice to back up his charges.

Van Peursem, 45, was nominated by House Republicans in a caucus Tuesday night. Since the Republicans have a majority in the House, nomination guarantees election.

The new speaker won over Rep. Rollo G. Condit, Tipton, and Rep. Andrew Holt, Grand Rapids, former assistant speaker. Now serving his fourth term.

In the House, Van Peursem has been chairman of the labor committee and a staunch opponent of Gov. G. Mennen Williams' plan for more liberal unemployment compensation benefits.

Rep. Donald R. Pease, Buchanan, was unopposed for the assistant speaker's post.

Rep. Allison Green, Kingston, was re-nominated for another session as majority floor leader, winning over Rep. Willard I. Bowerman, Jr., of Lansing.

During the two sessions, the legislators will probably find among their most serious handicaps the insufficient present revenues coupled with mounting costs for education, mental health, highways and other state programs.

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—George I. Cross, president of the University of Oklahoma, Tuesday virtually put an end to efforts to match Oklahoma and Miami in a post-season football game for Hungarian relief with the announcement he was against such a contest.

"I see no possibility of such a football game and I personally recommend that such a game not be played," Cross said in a statement Tuesday.

In his statement, Cross said he would be inclined not to favor such a game for many reasons including the fact the season has been over too long to bring the boys back into shape, it would take at least two weeks another climate for preparations, and that it would take the players out of school.

"Our seniors already have missed many hours of school work playing in all star games and to take them away again would be unfair to the boys themselves," Cross said.

Redskins Sign High Scoring Central Grid Star

WASHINGTON (AP)—Jim Podoles, who scored 51 touchdowns while performing for Central Michigan College, has signed to play with the Washington Redskins, the National Football League club announced Tuesday.

Podoles, a football and decathlon star, little known outside small college circles, except to pro scouts, was a Redskin choice in the NFL's preliminary draft last November.

The Redskins already have lost one draft pick, Vance Johnson, a 470-pounder who signed with Vancouver in Canada. Another No. 2 selection, fullback Don Bossert of Miami, has reportedly accepted an attractive offer from Toronto.

Martin Appointed New Hawk Coach

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Slater Martin, veteran guard, Tuesday was named coach of the St. Louis Hawks of the National Basketball Assn.

Ren Kerner, owner of the club, said Martin will be in charge of the team when they play the New York Knickerbockers in Philadelphia Thursday night.

Martin, who came to the Hawks only last month in a trade with the Knicks, replaces the injured William (Red) Holzman, who resigned Monday by mutual agreement with Kerner.

Kerner said he will make "an additional announcement regarding the coaching assignment after the NBA All-Star Game" in Boston on Jan. 15.

Martin, a veteran of seven years in the league, was named to the West All-Star Team.

Martin spent all the rest of his time in the NBA with Minneapolis. The Lakers traded him to New York at the start of this season.

Kerner said he feels "with Slater's background, he has the ability to become a good pro basketball coach."

The Hawks are third in the Western Division of the NBA with a 14-19 record.

Bill Yeoman, pictured above, was named first in line to succeed Warren Woodson as head coach at the University of Arizona, Tuesday. The announcement was made at the 30th Annual American Football Coaches Assn. meeting being held in St. Louis, Mo. Yeoman is presently employed as an assistant football coach and physical education instructor at Michigan State.

AFCA Plans Rule Changes

NCAA Will Consider Group's Proposals

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The rules committee of the American Football Coaches Assn. Tuesday recommended a liberalization of the substitution rule and an official check on the legality of substitutions and expressed a general satisfaction with the way the game has been conducted for the past few seasons.

The AFCA Rules Committee, headed by Lou Little, recently-retired Columbia coach, proposed allowing any player to return to a game once during a quarter after being taken out. It also suggested an official or official be designated to check on incoming substitutes, pointing to a simple plan employed in the Southeastern Conference during the past season.

Two subjects that produced some red-hot debates about changing the rules a couple of years ago—false starts and faked injuries—were rejected as being no longer important.

The AFCA Rules Committee bases its recommendations on questionnaires circulated by Little among college and high school coaches. It is entirely an advisory body and cannot change the rules. Its recommendations will be considered next week when the NCAA Rules Committee, of which Michigan's H. O. (Pitt) Cyster is chairman, meets in New Orleans.

"It is the feeling of our committee that the game is in good balance and we should try to keep from making unnecessary changes," Little said in reporting his committee's actions. He also pointed out that the return of about 900 questionnaires—an unusually high percentage, evidenced great interest among coaches.

The more liberal substitution rule was favored by a 160-120 vote of college head coaches. The high school vote was ignored, since they have unlimited substitution.

As a result, the AFCA committee recommended that a player should be allowed to return once during each quarter. This was first proposed in 1951 but a compromise rule, now in effect, was adopted which allows a player who starts a quarter to return once after being taken out but does not permit a non-starter to return.

Little said there was "no desire" on the part of the committee to return to the two-play rule days before 1953 or the unlimited substitution permitted in high school and professional football.

AiResearch jet pump "shoots air bullets" to increase efficiency of refrigeration units

The Garrett Corporation comprises one of the most unique and diverse research, engineering and manufacturing organizations in the world.

The parent company, founded in 1936, has grown from three persons to nearly 10,000 scientists, engineers and production specialists. From the AiResearch laboratories have come the pioneer developments in aircraft components and systems which have pushed back the barriers of speed and altitude. Today, 90 per cent of the free world's aircraft carry this equipment.

Divisions and subsidiaries are also engaged in creating industrial products in such varied fields as marine equipment and turbochargers for diesels, and in supplying sales and installation engineering services to airframe companies, airlines and the military.

Through foreign licensees, Garrett's products and engineering services now circle the globe.

Garrett's growth has been rapid and its position sound and stable, mainly because of the creative ability and ideas of its engineers.

Icers Drop 4-3 Decision

Wolverines Continue Mastery Over Spartans

By JUNE TURNER

Michigan's ice crown almost tumbled Tuesday night as the Spartans lost a hard fought game 4-3. State opened the two game series playing fast hockey that put the Wolverines on the defensive throughout the first period.

Spartan Fred DeVuono scored the only tally in the opening stanza at 13:30 on a pass from Dickie Hamilton. DeVuono slapped the puck from eight feet in front of the Michigan net.

Dickie Dunnigan, Michigan's speedy right wing, took it up at the four minute mark of the second period. The puck skidded past goalie Joe Selinger whose view was blocked by two Michigan players.

Nine minutes of exciting hockey followed in which each team tried to get ahead. A pass from DeVuono to Ed Polans, stationed in front of the nets, who punched the puck by Ross Childs put State ahead 2-1.

Michigan bounced right back to score two goals within two minutes to go in front 3-2.

With four minutes left in the second period, Michigan State failed to get the puck out of their own zone.

The number one line of Gene Grazia, Bill MacKenzie, and Ross Parke had been doing double duty for two periods and were outskated by the Wolverines.

The third period was one of the most exciting every played on home ice as the Spartans desperately attempted to tie the game and send it into overtime.

Michigan's Don McIntosh scored what proved to be the winning goal in the first minute of play. On a two man break with center Tom Rendall, McIntosh outkated Selinger and scored at 58.

From that point on Michigan took over the ice, breaking up every Spartan attempt to score.

At the final buzzer, drew closer penalties were handed out to both squads.

With three minutes left in the game State's one-two punch of Parke and Gene Grazia took the puck out of the Spartan zone and worked it within scoring range.

Grazia took a quick pass from Parke and flipped it over goalie Childs to put the Spartans within one point of tying the game.

Michigan can credit its victory to the defensive work of sophomore goalie Childs, who replaced star netminder Lorne Howes who is suffering with an injury, and the inability of the Spartans to capitalize on two scoring opportunities.

With a minute left in the game, Coach Amo Bessone pulled Selinger from the nets and sent six forwards into the Michigan zone for the faceoff.

Twice the Spartans came close to scoring. DeVuono's shot from the corner of the rink was brilliantly stopped by Childs. Just seconds later the Spartans had an open corner and missed the net by inches.

By winning Tuesday the Wolverines add another victory in the long list they have compiled over the Spartans in 26 years.

They outplayed and outskated the Wolves until the end of the second period when the defensive play of Michigan bottled them into their own zone.

The third period during which two match-misconduct penalties were handed out saw the Spartans play hard, fast hockey until the end.

Speculation

No More Kramer

By JERRY ROBBINS
State News Sports Editor

In watching the Spartans drop their second Big 10 contest Monday, Michigan State cage fans got their last look at Ron Kramer, one of the greatest athletes ever to don a Michigan uniform.

Although Kramer hasn't been a popular performer, he has been a brilliant one for the Wolverines.

For three years he received All-American ratings on the gridiron. Last season, the 216 pound end was named to everyone's team.

Collier's magazine tabbed Kramer's performance as "doing everything an end can be expected to do... and a lot more."

Ray Eliot of Illinois called the East Detroit athlete a "magnificent competitor," and went on to say Kramer gave his team more trouble, both offensively and defensively, than any other lineman the Illini faced.

For two basketball seasons, Kramer has been the top Michigan scorer, and is on his way to a new school record. In 1956 Kramer was a top contender for the Athlete of the Year award.

Competitors as Ron Kramer are few and far between. When they do come around they are usually admired by sports fans near and far. Although Kramer wore the colors of Michigan State's arch rival, I still enjoyed watching him perform. He's one of the best I've ever seen.

Michigan State's 70-69 loss to Michigan Monday was somewhat a disappointment to Spartan cage fans. However, Fordy Anderson gave the home crowd something to talk about.

Early in the first half Anderson sent John Green, a 6-5 sophomore, into the game for his first appearance this season.

It wasn't long before this ballhawk had the fieldhouse buzzing. He consistently grabbed rebounds from the waiting hands of Michigan's Kramer and Pete Tillotson. His ballhandling reminded fans of Julius McCoy, State's former cage great.

Although his first appearance left much to be desired in the scoring department with nine points, I look for great things to come of John Green in the next few years as one of the Spartans top cagers.

Chisox Make Bid for Kaline

CHICAGO (AP)—Three park-are deal offers, including $250,000 in cash were made Tuesday by Vice President Charles Comiskey of the Chicago White Sox for outfielder Al Kaline of Detroit, the club announced.

Comiskey said he offered players, a combination of players and cash, or straight cash in the sum of $250,000. He said the players would include one regular outfielder, a starting pitcher, a utility outfielder and possibly a relief pitcher. He would not identify them.

I note that the Tigers are having a little difficulty signing Kaline," said Comiskey. "We certainly could use him in our No. 4 batting order."

Comiskey said the Tigers were somewhat cool towards his bid for the young star, who hit .349 in 1955 and .314 last season, but that he thought some other kind of deal might develop.

Cage Coach Not Discouraged

"We don't count ourselves out of anything and should be ashamed if we ever thought that way."

This was Coach Fordy Anderson's comment following Michigan State's second straight one-point defeat Monday night in Big 10 play.

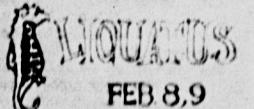

"This is the best team we've had at State in my three years here," Anderson added, "and we're going to cause a lot of trouble before this thing's over."

Anderson also stated that both Purdue and Michigan had the best teams he's seen while at State.

Despite the two consecutive setbacks, Anderson had nothing but praise for his team. He admitted they made mistakes, but then who doesn't?

Fans of the Michigan game revealed it was not only Michigan's fine defense that beat us? As far as the defeat of John Green is concerned, Anderson said he was very pleased with his showing.

At Bird Sanctuary

Student Washes Ducks' Feet During Postgraduate Studies

Harold F. Schlichting, East Lansing graduate student, is washing ducks' feet and then hanging the birds out to dry at Michigan State's Kelleys Bird Sanctuary between Battle Creek and Kalamazoo.

Schlichting, a biology student, is working to find out whether ducks carry disease and other forms of plant life from one area to another on their feet. He traps and brings the ducks from their feet with a special soap and puts them in a cage to take.

Schlichting then removes the ducks from the water and forces them on a stretcher until their feet dry. Plastic boots full of sterile water are placed on the ducks' feet and the organisms picked up from the lake are allowed to contaminate the sterile water.

Cultures are grown from the water and also from the lake water for comparison. Schlichting reports some positive findings but says conclusively that water fowl carry plant life would be known until he finishes his study in December, 1957.

Home-and-Home Schedule

Minnesota had reportedly agreed privately with State to fill Michigan's place on the Spartan schedule if the rivalry ceased. That State was protected if the Wolverines refused.

"Naturally, I'm just as happy as I can be," Munn said. "I'm happy for everybody—the students, the players, the faculty, and all our friends. From the start I sincerely believed we deserved the home-and-home arrangement with Michigan. It's just great that it has come about."

Another major development was the announcement that the Spartans would play the University of Detroit in Macklin Stadium in either 1959 or 1960. In addition, Munn added Ohio State and Northwestern to replace Wisconsin and Minnesota.
