Inflation, Threats to Peace Cited in State-of-Union Talk

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower summoned the American people Thursday to stand "vigilant guard" against ever-threatening inflation at home and the menace abroad of "armed imperialistic dictatorship."

Williams Addresses Legislators

Budget Requires Expenditure Rise

By JERRY JENNING, State News Capital Reporter
State legislators heard some hard facts of life from Gov. G. Mennen Williams, addressing a joint session of the House and Senate Thursday.

Williams said an increasing population and a higher level of public demand "will result in cost far in excess of current appropriations and present resources."

This means, he said, that the 1957-58 state budget will call for much larger expenditures than this year's budget.

General fund appropriations for this year total $330 million. Budget requests of the different state agencies for next year, Williams said, total more than $500 million.

Most of the cost increase, Williams said, occurs in the fields of education, mental health and public welfare.

Williams pointed out that enrollments in Michigan's institutions of higher learning have climbed from 42,000 at the end of World War II up to 85,000 last fall. By 1965, he said, the state will need buildings, instructors and equipment for 150,000 to 160,000.

Adding to the problem, Williams said, is the fact that sales tax collections this past year have not been as high as originally estimated.

Sales tax money is earmarked for the use of primary and secondary schools. Since the schools have already made expenditures on the basis of the original estimate, Williams said, the state has the moral obligation to make up the $20 million shortage from the general fund.

While last month's tax collections may boost the total, Williams said, "responsible school leaders" are talking of the need for another $50 million.

Rising costs in mental health, Williams said, are the result of new institutions coming into operation, and a larger number of personnel.

A rise in cost-of-living allowances for retired persons will increase public welfare costs, Williams said. Other funds are needed, he said, to meet "a serious emergency" in the state park system.

Finally, Williams said, there will be substantial and "amply justified" pay increases for various state employees.

He recommended immediate salary raises for the superintendent of public instruction and the highway commissioner.

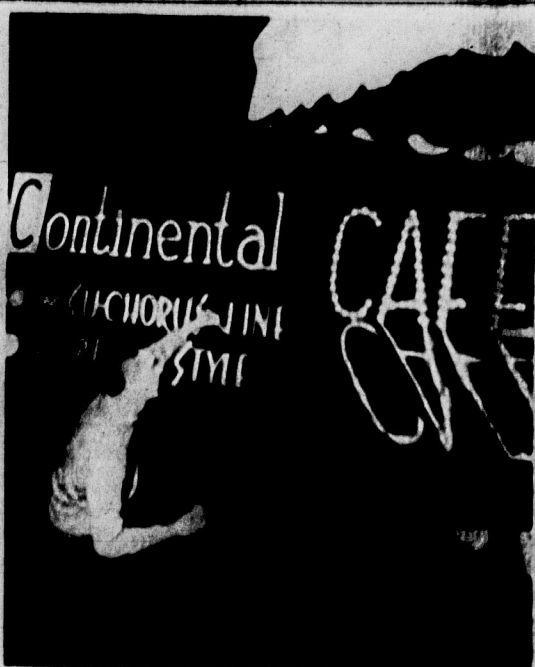

"I am now struggling — and I use the word advisedly," Williams said, "with the necessity of cutting out many good and deserving things, in an effort to see WILLIAMS, Page 3

Rush Bids Ready In Panel Office

Bids for the third stage of winter term sorority rush will be picked up today from 9:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the PanHel post-office.

This stage of parties, to be held Saturday and Sunday, will be costume parties. Some of the activities will dress in costume, following the theme of the party. Rushes should wear baby socks, sweaters and skirts.

Two one-hour parties will be held Saturday from 1:30 to 3:45 p.m., with a 15 minute break between parties. Two one-hour parties will also be held Sunday from 2:30 to 4:45 p.m., with a 15 minute break between parties.

Negro Churches Damaged

Bombings Cause Halt Of Montgomery Buses

MONTGOMERY (AP)—The worst outbreak of violence since the fight over bus segregation began left troubled Montgomery without public transportation Thursday.

City authorities halted bus service indefinitely after night-riding assailants bombed four Negro churches and the homes of two anti-segregation ministers Thursday. No one was reported injured.

The city commission order suspending bus operations "until further notice" forced thousands of bus riders, both white and Negro, to find other means of transportation to and from work.

At the same time Police Commissioner Clyde Sellers ordered all auxiliary policemen on duty, and the commission suggested a midnight curfew for teen-agers.

There was the possibility of a federal investigation of the violence. The Justice Department in Washington said the FBI is looking into it to see if a federal law has been violated.

6 Negro Ministers Held for Bus Seating Violations

ATLANTA (AP)—Six Negro ministers who took seats in the white section of an Atlanta transit system bus Wednesday were arrested Thursday on charges of violating Georgia's segregation laws.

Taken to the Fulton Tower (county jail), they quickly made bonds of $1,000 each, and their attorney, A. T. Walden, said the state is set for a U. S. supreme court review of state status requiring racially separate seating on buses.

The Rev. I. H. Borders, pastor of the Wheat Street Baptist Church and leader of the first organized attack on Georgia's bus segregation, said now that the issue is in the courts, there will be no further efforts by his group for desegregated bus riding.

Creates Government Concern

Jets' Noise Causes Deafness

WASHINGTON (AP)—Deafness attributed to jet plane noise is causing the government great concern.

Veterans Administration officials said the number of affected servicemen and veterans is increasing. They said the noise also may be affecting numbers of civilians, just as constant and excessive exposure to noise in heavy industry is affecting many workers.

Persons in the Air Force primarily affected by the jet plane noises are not the pilots but members of ground crews—planes in flight travel so fast they leave the sound behind.

The VA is presently paying out $59,355,672 a year to 94,233 veterans in disability benefits for hearing loss and diseases of hearing.

Macmillan Takes Over Prime Minister Post

Elizabeth Makes Big Decision

LONDON (AP)—For a few tense hours Thursday the fate of the British government, and possibly the future of the land, rested in the hands of 30-year-old Queen Elizabeth II.

It was her day of greatest responsibility since she ascended to the throne in 1952. It was her grave duty, as she saw it, to appoint Harold Macmillan her first minister.

She had appointed a prime minister before, naming Anthony Eden in April 1955. But that was an obvious thing to do. Eden had been so clearly marked by fate as successor to Sir Winston Churchill.

Thursday there was no obvious choice for the Queen. In a constitutional and wholly legal sense she was free to make her own decision.

Usually the appointment of a prime minister presents no great difficulty to a British sovereign. After an election the choice falls on the leader of the winning party. The difficulty at this juncture was that the Conservative Party had no universally recognized underdog to Eden. It had not indicated whom it would regard as its new leader. Eden did not have time, as did Churchill before him, to groom a successor.

In the present situation, the Conservative government must hold an election by May 26, 1959. Five years after the last election. However, it may ask the Queen to dissolve Parliament and force an election any time it feels such a step would be advantageous to the party. The Conservatives now hold a 58-seat majority in the House of Commons.

In the meantime, should the Conservatives lose a vote of confidence in Commons, they would be morally bound to resign and call for an election.

Macmillan Greeted Favorably

LONDON (AP)—The appointment of Harold Macmillan as British Prime Minister was greeted generally favorably Thursday night both at home and in capitals throughout Western Europe.

Leaders of Britain's Liberal Party, as well as Macmillan's own Conservative Party colleagues, pledged support.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer wired congratulations. He expressed confidence that "the friendly co-operation, full of confidence, between our two countries will in the future, too, serve the common aims of Europe and of the free world."

Sources close to French Premier Guy Mollet said the news was received in Paris with "great satisfaction."

Tonight's program will open with "Four Saints in Three Acts," something between an opera and an oratorio. Its subject is the religious life, with leading characters of Saint Teresa of Avila and Saint Ignatius Loyola along with their pupils, the younger saints.

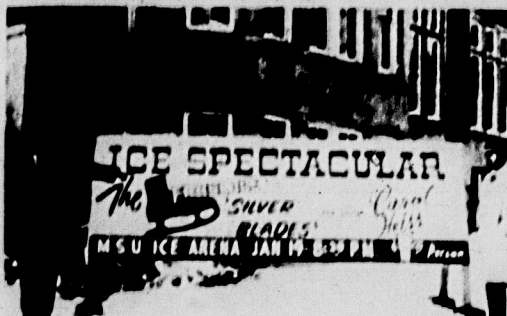

The concert will continue with a scene from "Carmen Jones" as adapted by Oscar Hammerstein II. The scene has been transferred from the cigar factory in Seville, Spain, the setting of the original "Carmen," to a parachute factory in the U.S. during World War II.

Robert Russell Bennett has extracted "high spots" from "Foggy and Bess" as a concluding part of tonight's concert. Included will be such familiar songs as "Summertime," "Bess, You Is My Woman Now," and "On I Got Plenty O' Nothin'."

A few tickets remain for tonight's performance at the Union ticket desk.

Petitioning opens today to fill the vacancy created on the All-University Judiciary due to the resignation of Chief Justice Roger Bennett. The positions will be filled by a senior male.

Petitions will be accepted through Thursday. They are available in the Student Government office from 2-5 p.m.

Nic Pilger and Stan Starr survey their handiwork after erecting a sign advertising the student government sponsored ice show "Silver Blades." The show, which stars Carol Heiss, will be held at the ice arena Jan. 11.

Draws 12-15 Years

Tamaribuchi Sentenced In County Circuit Court

The fatal beating of his seven-year old son drew a 12 to 15 year prison sentence for Kinney Tamaribuchi, 24, in Ingham Circuit Court Thursday.

Tamaribuchi, a former teacher and agriculture student at MSU, was taken to the county jail in Mason, prior to his transfer to Jackson, State Penitentiary where he will serve his sentence.

In handing down the sentence, Circuit Judge Marvin J. Salton told Tamaribuchi, "I see no justification in showing you mercy."

Tamaribuchi accepted the sentence calmly on his way out of the courtroom he hugged his wife, Palay, and his mother, Mrs. Angeline Tamaribuchi, who had flown in from his former home in Waimea, Hawaii.

During his trial, Tamaribuchi admitted beating his son, Kent, with his fists, a tennis racket and a mallet because the boy refused to go to sleep.

Psychiatrists testified that Tamaribuchi was mentally disturbed and had been undergoing psychiatric treatment for his uncontrollable temper.

On Dec. 14, Tamaribuchi was found guilty of manslaughter by Judge Salton, who was sitting without a jury.

Tamaribuchi's attorneys had previously said they would not appeal the manslaughter verdict.

Starting in the De Paup Opera Gala is Lawrence Winters, on leave from the New York City Opera, where he is leading baritone. Winters, alternate "Porgy" in the original production of the Gershwin masterpiece, has recently returned from European triumphs as guest artist with the Hamburg State and Royal Stockholm Operas.

Other soloists are Inez Matthews, the soprano star of the Broadway productions of both "Carmen Jones" and "Four Saints in Three Acts," and Lester Saxton, tenor soloist of the De Paup Infantry Chorus, who appeared in the original "Carmen Jones."

Entertainment will include comedian Noel Stookey, Union Board's chorus line, and vocalist Maxine Coss. Master of ceremonies is Tom Kerry, East Lansing junior.

Tables will be set up for four and six people. Seating is limited so groups are advised to call in party reservations to the UB office in advance.

Proper dress for the evening should include heels for coeds and ties for men.

Petitioning Open To Fill Judiciary

Petitioning opens today to fill the vacancy created on the All-University Judiciary due to the resignation of Chief Justice Roger Bennett. The positions will be filled by a senior male.

Sets Stage For Talks With Ike

Conservative Cabinet Shakeup Anticipated

LONDON (AP)—Bristling with confidence, Harold Macmillan took over as prime minister Thursday night and set the stage for early talks with President Eisenhower to heal the rift in British-American relations.

There were indications that the White House was waiting for the welcome Macmillan, after the New York Herald Tribune, Washington officials said, Macmillan will be expected to return to the White House to visit Eisenhower and a longline friend.

Macmillan, however, would be expected to call national elections, as the Labor Party has demanded. But it seems certain there will be a shakeup in the Conservative cabinet.

One of the casualties of the Eden regime is likely to be Foreign Secretary Aneurin Bevan. He is identified in British minds as one of the masterminds who counseled on the Suez invasion to topple, not strengthen, President Nasser of Egypt.

Mentioned as a possible successor is Duncan Sandys, who as Supply Minister has been chief government administrator of Britain's atomic program. He is a senior member of Sir Winston Churchill.

Macmillan supported the Egyptian invasion, but did not fall back to all the criticism that centered on Eden. And many conservatives are urging Macmillan for the post over Bernard A. Butler, apparently felt that the party leader would be served best by naming a man who did not in effect renounce Eden's works.

Butler, long pictured as out of sympathy with Eden's decision to use force in Egypt, had been accepted by most London papers and many politicians as Eden's likely successor.

Butler's chances, such as they were, went glimmering Thursday when Queen Elizabeth II called in Churchill and the Marquess of Salisbury, another Conservative stalwart, to advise her.

Shortly afterward she summoned Macmillan to Buckingham Palace and asked him to take over the duties Eden laid aside Wednesday night because of ill health.

Macmillan pictured the Conservatives as determined to carry on the remainder of their five-year term (1955-1960) without calling a general election.

Heads clearing the way for a fresh approach in British foreign policy, Macmillan must unite his party's ranks, to deal with the economic crisis Britain is confronting—partly as a result of Suez.

Butler, who acted as spokesman for Eden when the latter took his Jamaica vacation, was clearly disappointed that the Queen did not designate him as Eden's successor. But he quickly pledged loyalty to Macmillan, and conferred with him for more than an hour.

They obviously discussed the makeup of a new cabinet and the role Butler himself will play in the new regime—if any. A

To Aid Student 'Rush'

Harrison Road Needs Automatic Traffic Light

The traffic situation on Harrison Road at the south end of Kelllogg Center has created a major problem to pedestrians trying to cross between it and the Brody Center.

Both have the added disadvantage of needing constant maintenance to keep the steps free of snow, ice and trash, which could cause serious accidents.

The flow of traffic is so heavy during the student rush hours that it is virtually impossible for pedestrians to cross Harrison Road safely.

The cheapest and seemingly most practical method of controlling traffic at this crosswalk would be a stop light.

The MSU Department of Public Safety recognizes the hazardous conditions which prevail. It has temporarily stationed officers at key locations along the congested highway at peak hours in an attempt to break the stream of vehicles long enough to allow students to pass.

Annually operated lights have the advantage of stopping cars only when someone pushes the button, but become a definite nuisance in the hands of pranksters.

However, nobody really considers this to be an effective permanent solution. Discarding the perpetual cost of maintaining traffic control officers throughout the year is not practical to utilize this method of regulation, since the flow of pedestrian traffic at the Brody crosswalk is irregular.

An automatic traffic signal placed at the intersection of the Kelllogg and Emmont-Parking lot entrances and Harrison Road would eliminate two major problems. Properly timed, it would allow cars to enter and leave the two lots without stopping traffic, and would also present a logical answer to the pedestrian crossing trouble.

Underpasses, the most expensive of the ideas would present a number of drawbacks besides the financial one. Pedestrians might be reluctant to walk two flights of stairs, and would probably take their chances crossing at ground level instead.

Installation of the signal would have to be approved by the county road commission, since Harrison is a county thoroughfare, and might meet with considerable trouble at that level, the commission being hesitant to sanction numerous new stop lights.

Underpasses have always been a headache to law enforcement agencies, since such structures are natural harboring places for crime, according to the department of traffic.

A survey, now being conducted, should prove, however, the urgent need of Brody group residents for a safe means of crossing Harrison Road. If not, it may take a traffic pedestrian auto accident to remove the final traces of reluctance.

Halftime Entertainment Lauded

In these days of crises and complaints, it seems compliments are few and far between. But much praise should be directed at John McGoff and the continuing Education Department for their fine efforts in putting on a halftime entertainment at all home basketball games.

In addition to the return of Friday, other future acts include the Men's Glee Club and Concert Band during the IV game Feb. 9 against Illinois; two grade school teams from Grand Rapids Feb. 16 against Iowa, and trained does Feb. 23 when Minnesota plays here.

Very few schools put on such a show at halftime, and the reaction of most of the fans has been in favor of the entertainment.

The show for the season finale March 2 against Wisconsin has yet to be selected. McGoff is still canvassing the campus in hopes of finding a good act.

Jon Friday, noted trapeze artist in the area, thrilled the crowd at the Brigham Young game with his breathtaking aerial maneuvers. He was so popular that he'll be back for a return engagement during State's next home game, Jan. 28 against Ohio State.

All acts appearing at halftime donate their services free of charge. It serves the dual purpose of providing entertainment for the crowd in an otherwise dull 10 minutes and also gives the act free publicity.

UN to Probe Hungarian Revolt

Fact-finding Committee Created

Russia Defies UN, Refuses Cooperation

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

(AP) — A special truth committee to investigate the tragedy of the Hungarian revolution was created Thursday by the UN Assembly despite Soviet refusal to cooperate in any manner.

The assembly voted 59-8 for a resolution introduced by the United States and 23 other UN members setting up a committee composed of Australia, Ceylon, Denmark, Tunisia and Uruguay.

The committee was ordered to search out the facts wherever it could and report back as soon as possible. It cannot go into Hungary nor any Red bloc country since Moscow continued its stubborn policy of defying UN actions and resolutions on Hungary.

Ten countries abstained on the vote. Cuba was one, insisting that the action was not nearly strong enough to meet the situation. The others abstaining were Afghanistan, Egypt, Finland, India, Jordan, Saudi Arabia, Sudan, Syria and Yugoslavia.

Hungary was absent from the entire debate, continuing its boycott of the assembly when it deals with the Hungarian revolution. Others absent when the vote was taken were the Union of South Africa and Yemen.

U.S. Chief Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. had urged the assembly to approve the resolution as a way of ascertaining the truth about Hungary. He acknowledged the action might appear mild but said the truth must be known and the truth will prevail. He was joined in that view by Britain's new assembly delegate, Commander Allan Noble, and a parade of other speakers.

The committee is expected to hear testimony here as well as abroad. One of the early witnesses is expected to be Miss Anna Kothly, the only member of the ill-starred government of Premier Imre Nagy to escape to freedom.

It must report to the present assembly, which is expected to remain in session until late February. Thereafter from time to time the committee will prepare additional reports or UN members.

The assembly called upon the Soviet Union and Hungary to cooperate but Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov denounced the resolution as illegal interference in Hungarian affairs.

Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld, meanwhile, awaited a report on the Hungarian relief situation from his undersecretary general, Philippe De Senneval, who has just completed a visit to Hungary. The report is likely to be received next week.

Hearing was continued until March 4.

Librarian Convicted Of Contempt

WASHINGTON (AP) — Librarian Mary Knowles was convicted Thursday on 52 charges of contempt of Congress.

Mrs. Knowles, 46, whose employment by the Quaker-operated library at Plymouth Meeting, Pa., has split the village into opposing camps, was adjudged guilty by U.S. District Judge Ross Hixley of Oklahoma, sitting here as a visiting judge. Hixley, who conducted the trial Monday without a jury, set next Friday as the tentative date for sentencing. The maximum penalty is a year in jail and a $1,000 fine.

The 52-count indictment against Mrs. Knowles, a slim, dark-complexioned woman, stemmed from her appearance before the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee here July 29 and Sept. 15, 1955. She challenged the subcommittee's power to "inquire into one's thoughts and affiliations," but did not invoke the Fifth Amendment privilege against self-incrimination.

She claimed this privilege when she appeared before the same subcommittee in Boston in 1953. This resulted in her being fired as a branch librarian at Norwood, Mass. Subsequently she was hired as librarian by the Plymouth Monthly Meeting of the Religious Society of Friends (Quakers) in Plymouth Meeting, near Philadelphia.

MSU Museum Shows Ancient Booze Bottles

The MSU museum has recently arranged a new display consisting of whiskey bottles made in the 19th century. The designs on the bottles reflect the lives of the people at that time.

One example is the dark colored bottle picturing an early railroad train and suggesting the rising success of the rail road.

Other designs are a likeness of Jenny Lind, done when she was associated with P. T. Barnum, an eagle, expressing the patriotic feeling of the people and the Masonic emblem.

Most of the bottles show defects in the glass due to unperfected methods in glass making during that period.

This collection was given to the museum by the Three Oaks Museum in Three Oaks, Michigan, when it disbanded recently.

The museum is located in the basement of the Auditorium and visiting hours are from 8:30 daily.

bring the budget within manageable proportions."

He mentioned that some of the proposed buildings projects in state institutions "we will have to forego or delay."

To cut down budget requests, Williams said, the administration will hold open hearings next week when the heads of state agencies can plead their case for funds.

Although Williams forewarned cutbacks in some areas he did not imply that any present state programs would be seriously endangered.

"None of us came here with a commission to lead a retreat," he said.

In non-financial areas Williams recommended that the legislature pass a "modern and workable" industrial safety law, an improved agricultural marketing law, a state minimum wage law, school safety legislation and other measures.

Williams closed by saying that "we are on the verge, here in these two peninsulas, of the kind of society that men scarcely dared to dream of a few short years ago... we can grasp that dream if we have the courage to reach for it."

Legislative opinion on Williams' speech was generally divided down party lines. Democrats praised it as "forthright," "Republicans found it of little assistance."

Faint praise was heard from some Republicans, who said, "It was the first time he's made us feel that we're working for the same government."

The Legislature adjourned until Jan. 21.

10-14 Crewmen Die In 2 AF Crashes

Ten to 14 Air Force crewmen died Thursday night in two plane crashes, one in Canada, the other in Texas.

One of the planes, a B-52 jet bomber exploded and crashed in Canada with the loss of from four to eight lives. The pilot of the plane was partly blindfolded to test his reflexes.

In the second crash six crewmen died and three were injured when a B-29 aerial tanker crashed on landing and burst into flames at Bergstrom Air Force Base near Austin, Texas.

The Air Force reported the only airman known to have survived the unusual training accident in Canada was the man being tested at the controls of the eight million dollar bomber.

His name was not immediately available here, but at the Living Air Force base at Limestone, Maine, the survivor was identified as Lt. Joe L. Church, co-pilot. Church's address was not given. No other names have been released yet.

The accident occurred near Andover, New Brunswick Province, about 10 miles east of the international boundary and less than 20 miles from the Limestone base.

The report quoted the surviving officer as saying that after the "eight-jet swept-wing bomber had been placed in the unusual position—either a steep climb or a steep downward glide—he heard a loud noise and found himself alone in the air. The Limestone Base said the plane exploded in the air and crashed in pieces.

In Washington an Air Force spokesman said it appeared likely the bomber had been "placed in a position beyond its capability."

It was not yet clear how many men were in the plane for the training maneuver.

The tanker which crashed in Texas had been on a refueling mission. It made its approach for a landing and crashed as it neared the ground. Cause of the crash has not been determined.

Sticklers!

LIGHTING A LUCKY? You might rub two sticks together—but it'll take you hours to see the light. You might use ten-dollar bills—if you've got money to burn. Or you might insist on matches—in which case you'll be a Lighter Slighter! Any way you light it, a Lucky tastes out of this world. It's all cigarette... nothing but fine, mild, good-tasting tobacco that's TOASTED to taste even better. Try a Lucky right now. You'll say it's the best-tasting cigarette you ever smoked!

DON'T JUST STAND THERE... STICKLE! MAKE $25

Sticklers are simple riddles with two-word rhyming answers. Both words must have the same number of syllables. (No drawings, please!) We'll shell out $25 for all we use—and for hundreds that never see print. So send stacks of 'em with your name, address, college and class to Happy-Joe Lucky, Box 67A, Mount Vernon, N. Y.

Bernstein Art
Featured in Term Exhibit

The term's first art exhibition starts Jan. 14 in the Life, Home and Fine Arts gallery, building A-4 with the painting and drawings of Lawrence Bernstein. The exhibit will be supplemented by a number of recent examples of pottery by Mrs. Bernstein.

Bernstein, who is a member of the staff of the audio-visual department of MSU, received the first merit award at the Michigan exhibition in Southfield last spring for his painting, "The King of the Jews."

The artist has studied at the Cooper Union in New York and in 1951 received a painting scholarship at the School of Design at Yale University. In 1952 he accepted a scholarship of a graduate student. From Connecticut he came to MSU.

Bernstein has exhibited at the Brooklyn Museum, the Lower East Side Gallery in New York, the Detroit Museum Annual, the Michigan Regional and the Western Michigan Artists Exhibition. He has had open-air shows in various areas of Michigan.

The exhibition will continue through Feb. 1 and may be seen any time during regular office hours in the IFA gallery.

Mr. James M. Bartle, author of "Peter Pan" died in 1952. His "Peter Pan" is a hit again nearly 20 years after.

The heaviest snowfall of the season covers the campus.

But Baby, It's Cold Outside!

Michigan Blanketed With Snow

Winter gained a strong foothold in the East Lansing area Thursday when over four inches of snow settled down following the heaviest snowfall of the season.

Wednesday night's snowstorm was the heaviest since last March 23, when 6.1 inches of snow fell, and the worst in a decade for many communities south of Lansing.

Though the snow is forecast for today the mercury fell to zero Thursday night and will rise to only 25 today giving little hope that the present snow will melt.

The campus grounds crew was busy Thursday morning cleaning streets but reported Thursday night that normal traffic had resumed.

State Police reported that the main roads in the Lansing and East Lansing area were good but that side roads were still quite slippery.

WKAR Presents Nursing Program

Nursing education programs available in the Lansing area will be reviewed in a radio program at 1:15 p.m. Saturday over station WKAR.

The program is sponsored by the department of nursing education at St. Lawrence Hospital school of nursing and the Edward W. Sparrow Hospital school of nursing.

Moderators will be Mrs. Lois Johns, instructor at St. Lawrence Hospital school of nursing. Participants will include Mrs. Jane Kivrey, practical nurse center; Miss Gertrude James, acting director of the Edward W. Sparrow Hospital school of nursing; and Mrs. John Stead, instructor in the department of nursing education.

The chorus girls should have some stage training but Chenoweth says that "vitality and personality are essential. Harmonica and guitar players, tape-spinners, or sharp shooters are also needed.

"Girl Crazy," a George Gershwin hit of the 1930's is a breezy kind of musical farce comedy. Songs and dances alternate with episodes of humor and romance. It contains such Gershwin gems as "Bidin' My Time," "Embraceable You," "I Got Rhythm," and others.

The cast of 36 has roles for 24 men and 12 women. Those auditioning for the musical roles should bring their own music and accompanist.

Conditions throughout the state were still poor Thursday. Hundreds of rural schools were closed when snow drifts reached as high as five feet in some areas.

At Detroit the snowfall of nine inches was the heaviest since 1931 for an overnight period.

Seven deaths were recorded in the state due to exposure or over-exertion from shoveling snow.

Other part of the nation reported snarled traffic conditions and several deaths due to the storm which hit the whole northern section of the country. A total of at least 13 deaths were reported.

New England and New York State got the brunt of the storm after it left the Midwest. Parts of New York had up to nine

Spring Term
Music Show
Auditions Set

Tryouts for singing and dancing roles in "Girl Crazy" the spring term musical comedy, will be held Monday and Tuesday, 4-6 p.m. and Tuesday 7-9 p.m. in 49 Auditorium.

Edward Chenoweth, assistant professor of speech is directing the show. He is looking for Ethel Merman and Ginger Rogers-type actresses. In addition a male quartet, female chorus line, and cowboys are needed.

inches of snow. Syracuse, N.Y. was in a state of technical emergency as a 14-hour storm piled six inches of snow on top of a previous fall of 11 to 14 inches. Michigan was worst hit below a line running from Muskegon to Bay City. Snow is in the outlook for the northern portion of the lower peninsula and all of the Upper Peninsula after the afternoon.

1,600 Visit
Conferences
During Week

Thirteen conferences brought approximately 1,600 visitors to the MSU campus this week. Ten of the conferences were held in Kellogg Center.

Basic Fundamentals of Insurance, Hardwood Lumber Grading Conference, Landscape Gardeners, and Institutional Food Manufacturers Conferences are now in progress.

The 10th annual Michigan Bankers Educational Conference will be held at the Kellogg Center Tuesday. Plans for the day include a baked goods display, demonstrations of wedding cake decorating, fancy cookies and tea cakes, and Danish sweet goods and discussions on various topics of interest.

Elevator Managers Business Clinic is scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday with an expected attendance of 120. Approximately 30 persons will attend the Park Education Conference to be held Monday through Saturday.

Wednesday through Friday, around 200 persons will meet for the Rural Health Conference. Also an estimated 30 persons will attend the National Community Services Conference on those days. Local Directors' Workshop will bring 30 persons to the Kellogg Center Thursday through Saturday.

One hundred and fifty is the estimated attendance at the Friday and Saturday meeting of the Michigan Association of Soil Conservation Districts Starting Sunday and running through Wednesday, January 23. The Petroleum Jobbers Conference will attract approximately 30 persons.

Roving Staff Finds Ideas for Change

Hopeful Students Hitch Their Wishes to a Star

By JOYCE ROHM

Wishful thinking and college students go together like the proverbial horse and carriage. To further prove this point, staff reporters set out, armed with paper, pencil and question to interview wishful students.

The question students were asked was: "If you had one wish which you could have at MSU, what would you like to see changed?"

Gamma Group, New Buffalo, Michigan, and said members of the last term's grades were about average.

Gamma crossword puzzles for their work out sessions, as the president, Martin Westrich, sophomore senior.

Kevin Mandley, Birmingham, Michigan, doesn't like to walk to class, anything else in the building, she would like to ride in a limousine to classes so that she would have to do is get in and out.

Mrs. Lou Pyle, Avon Lake, Ohio, sophomore explained, "We should all wear bermdas to class. I just love the casual look."

Everyone seemed to be in agreement with Donna Clark, sophomore, New York, senior when she said, "Elevators in the dorms are needed. By the time I get to my room, my dinner is worn out."

The Todd, Detroit sophomore, said and said, "I would like to have in all dorm rooms, so that I'd have to do is, to take and take class notes."

John Sanders, Chicago, Ill., sophomore, didn't hesitate a minute to ask what she would like to change at MSU. Jean would like to abolish all eight o'clock classes.

Dee Jennings, Lansing senior has her wish come true. "I would like to have Shaw's name changed to her honor to last buildings."

Jack Schramck, Kalamazoo senior, seems to want the impossible to happen, but it does sound like a good idea. He said and said, "I would like to have MSU campus to pick up and move itself to Miami Beach."

Babie Fox, Big Rapids sophomore, is interested in the traffic problem on campus. She would like a train system to solve the traffic problem.

Rusty Smith, Oak Hill, N.Y., junior took her shoes off and asked, "I would like to move Anthony Hall and Kellogg Center closer to MAC."

"I just love a mascot that is allowed to go out walking alone in a room for our house." This was the wish of Maxine Koss, junior, and the rest of the class agreed that a new addition would be fine.

Judy Hoover, Grand Rapids senior gets cold feet while walking to classes on these cold winter days. She would like heated sidewalks.

Bob Tieg, Park Ridge, Ill., sophomore, was heard saying to "friend," "It sure would be wonderful if spring vacation always started with Easter."

"Classes are too far apart. I would like mine to be closer together so that I wouldn't have to walk so far." This is the only complaint of Barry Grant, Detroit senior.

Truman Schrag, Detroit senior, has one change that he definitely would like to make. He said "Grades are a menace. I would have a much better time on vacation if they didn't exist."

I would like silent music played at 8 a.m. This statement by Jerry Korabeke, Saginaw sophomore, gained the support of all MSU students living in residential halls.

Boers Forbush, Rochester junior would like to know the answers to all of his finals.

After trying to get a line out of her locker for 15 minutes, Joan Blane, Marquette senior had only one change to make. She would like private phones in every girls room.

Stilling in the grill and pondering over his, Frances Bill Schultze, Richmondville, N.Y., sophomore, explained, "If only they would make a larger five cent cup of coffee."

Dick VanderVort, New Boston, freshman would like a pill that college students could take whereby they wouldn't have to sleep.

The roving questionnaire reporters of State News would also like to make one change at MSU. We would like to see all of your ideas for change go into effect.

Dances, Retreats, Cost Suppers

Religious Groups Schedule Varied Weekend Activities

Campus religious organizations have planned dances, retreats, cost suppers, and lectures to begin the new year and winter term with a flourish.

Tonight at 8:30 the WM-YWC-A folk singing group will meet at the Y-House. Newman Club is holding a record dance and open house from 8:12 p.m. at Newman Hall. Spartan Christian Fellowship will also sponsor an open house at Bethel Manor at 7:30 p.m.

Dance to Set Night Club Atmosphere

Each party and classes have accompanied everyone's time this past week but there's always room for a show or a dance.

Real night club atmosphere will be carried out with a can-can, burlesque, "chuckered" folk-dance and a horseshoe shaped dance floor at the Union House dance, "Continental Cafe," to be held tonight from 8:30 to 12.

Cheerful girls will supply free cigarettes to the "patrons" and there will be a refreshment bar at each end. Music will be furnished by Kenny Davis and his orchestra. There will be a floor show at 9:30 and 11.

Entertainment will consist of the All-University chorus, line, comedian Noel Stoney, and vocalist Maxine Cox. Tickets for the dance will be $1.50 per couple.

The Phi Kappa Psi's will hold a record dance Friday night from 8:30 to 12.

"Midnight Mood" is the theme of the Alpha Sigma Phi's record dance Friday night from 8:10 to 12.

Record dance is being held by the Theta Chi's Friday night from 9 to 12.

"Rush Street" in Chicago with all of its famous walk down night spots will be the theme of the Delta Tau Delta House Party Friday night from 9 to 12. The house will be decorated with special decorations sent to them by Playboy magazine. Music will be furnished by the Playboys combo.

The Alpha Tau Omega's are having a dance Friday night from 9 to 12. Music will be furnished by Jim Voorters.

The DePaul Opera Gala will be held Friday night at 8:15 in the auditorium.

A dance and mixer will be held by the Lutheran Student Association in the church basement Friday at 8 p.m. Gamma Delta is sponsoring an open house for all new students tonight at 8 p.m. The theme of the open house will be a surprise.

Members of Spartan Christian Fellowship will meet at Bethel Manor Saturday noon for a day's retreat to Rusty Hunt's near Bellevue.

The Monday morning breakfast discussion groups of the Christian Student Foundation will meet at 9 a.m. at Wesley House and at 9:30 at Wesley House and College House. Newman Club will serve Communion breakfast at Newman Hall following the 8:45 and 10 masses.

Dress Lightly But Warmly For Ski Trip

It's time to start packing for that long-awaited ski vacation. There are probably two or three ways to go. One is to go in the car, take an airplane, or go by bus.

What to take on the skiing trip? Skiing is a warm sport and you get started in short order. Water repellent fabric underwear, ski pants, and ski socks will keep you warm. Leather gloves, ski boots, and goggles come in handy. Skis are always handy.

And don't forget to take your ski boots. A light weight rubber parka with a high necked fur collar and ski pants will give you sufficient warmth. A ski jacket and ski pants because they show you down and night with on the low ropes. A ski bag, long wool cap is preferred.

Complete ski equipment is very expensive, so most beginners rent theirs. It is often necessary to reserve ski well in advance, especially during the height of the skiing season.

One last word of advice: If you ski, you will get all those ill-effects. Goggles left in the snow after a fall.

Women skiers on Hill's skis are regularly given ski to be ready lectures.

AirResearch jet pump "shoots air bullets" to increase efficiency of refrigeration units

The Garrett Corporation comprises one of the most unique and diverse research, engineering and manufacturing organizations in the world.

The parent company, founded in 1936, has grown from three persons to nearly 10,000 scientists, engineers and production specialists. From the AirResearch laboratories have come the pioneer developments in aircraft components and systems which have pushed back the barriers of speed and altitude. Today, 90 per cent of the free world's aircraft carry this equipment.

Divisions and subsidiaries are also engaged in creating industrial products in such varied fields as marine equipment and turbochargers for diesels, and in supplying sales and installation engineering services to airframe companies, airlines and the military.

Through foreign licensees, Garrett's products and engineering services now circle the globe.

Garrett's growth has been rapid and its position sound and stable, mainly because of the creative ability and ideas of its engineers.

Thinlads Meet Saturday For First Time Trials

By HAL BATEMAN
State News Managing Editor

Head Coach Karl Schlaeteman will send the track team through its first time trials of the season in Jenison Fieldhouse Saturday afternoon at 2.

The afternoon's workout will consist of six running events with the field event men posting their performances in their individual specialties. Both the varsity and freshmen will go through the workout.

The running events will include the 75-yard high hurdles, 75-yard low hurdles, 1,000-yard run, 15-yard dash and 300-yard dash.

No longer distances will be run because the team has been practicing only a week.

All distance runners will run in the 1,000 while the middle distance runners are expected to compete in either the 1,000 or 800.

In addition, the whole team, runners and field event men alike, must run in the 300-yard dash at the conclusion of the afternoon's trials.

The track team is a study of contrasts this year because it has little strength in the sprints, hurdles and field events while in the distances the Spartans have exceptional depth.

An important sophomore addition is Fordy Kennedy, who will compete in the mile and two mile events where the thinlads are very good in talent.

Some good times may be run in the 800 and 1,000 if Dave Lean and Willie Atterberry should run against each other.

They are two of the top middle distance runners in the Midwest.

The thinlads' first meet will be Feb. 2 at the MSU Relays in Jenison.

Joe Picks 'em

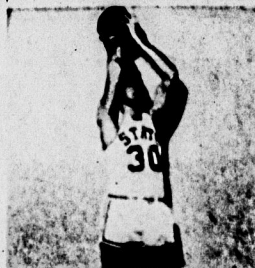

By JOE HOFFMAN
(Editor's note: This is the first in a series of picks by our basketball reporter, Joe Hoffman. These predictions will appear Mondays and Fridays for the remainder of the Big 10 season.)

Northwestern at Michigan: The Wildcats are up-and-coming with a very young ballclub. The Wolverines looked good against State and are vastly improved over last year, so MICHIGAN.

Minnesota at Iowa: The Gophers opened in fine style by nipping Illinois. Iowa is undergoing a staunch rebuilding program, having lost all from last year's title winner. Home court will make Hawkeyes tough, but MINNESOTA.

Indiana at Purdue: The Hoosiers must win to stay in first place. The Boilermakers are a quiet club with good rebounding power. Should be close PURDUE.

Illinois at Wisconsin: Will be no contest. Illinois is strong and has good scoring punch. The Badgers have shown very little and don't figure to show much more. A romp for the TV fans and ILLINOIS.

GEORGE FERGUSON

Ferguson Named Top Defender

A new award has been established by the basketball coaching staff to honor the "Defensive Man of the Week" on State's team.

The award, to be given to the player "who in the eyes of the coaching staff has made the best contribution to individually carrying out his defensive assignment and who has added most to team defense," has been in effect since the beginning of the season.

Bob Anderegge won the first award for his play in the home opener against Iowa State and Brigham Young. Charlie Besone won it for his efforts against Butler and Marquette.

Capt. George Ferguson has won the award the last two times; first for his play in the Kansas City tournament and most recently for his fine hustle against Purdue and Michigan.

More specifically, such things as ball stealing, held balls and rebounding are taken into consideration when making the award.

Ferguson played probably the best game of his career against Michigan. In addition to scoring 17 points, he was a monument on defense, often diving and skidding along the floor to recover loose balls.

It was Ferguson who stole the ball from Michigan's Pete Tillotson in the last 16 seconds of Monday's game to give State one last chance to try to pull the game out of the fire.

The player winning the weekly award the most times during the season will be given a "Defensive Man of the Year" trophy at the conclusion of the season.

Gymnastic Team Faces Navy Pier

Tonight at 7:30 in Jenison Fieldhouse the gymnastics team under the direction of Coach George Szypula will meet Navy Pier of Chicago.

Contestants for Coach Szypula squad were decided in an intrasquad meet last Wednesday. Winners in free exercise were Captain Roland Brown, George Hopely and Calvin Girard. Hopely won the side horse and high bar event with Dick O'Brien and Girard placing behind him in side horse; Don Leas and Russ Paul finished behind him in high bar. Parallel bar winners were O'Brien, Girard and Hopely. Leas was the winner in flying rings and trampoline with Ray Cook and Paul placing behind him in flying rings and Jim Breza in the trampoline.

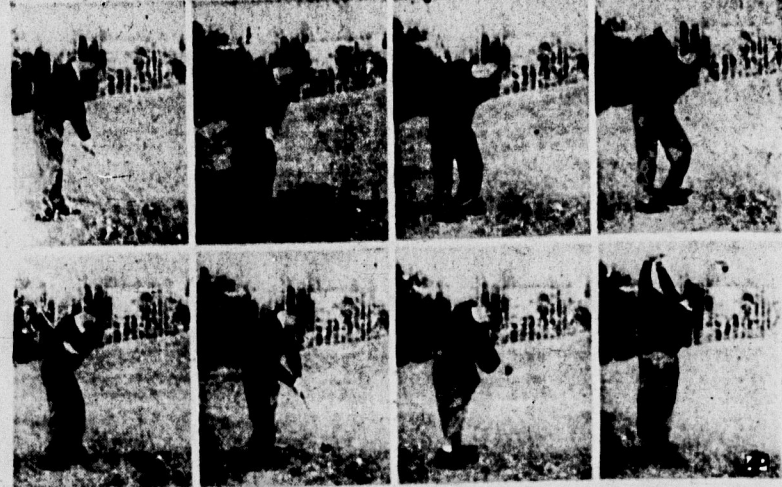

Appearing at the meet tonight will be Ernestine Russell, American and Canadian gymnastics titlist. Ernestine has recently returned from Melbourne where she competed in the Olympics for the Canadian team.

Tigers Sign Two Michigan Preps

DETROIT, (AP)—A pair of Detroit sandlot players have signed minor league contracts for 1957 with the Detroit Tigers.

They are 19-year-old Gary Heinrich, a first baseman who bats left-handed, and George White, an 18-year-old outfielder. White was a nine letterman at East Detroit High.

Don Suman is in his eighth campaign as basketball coach at Rice Institute.

George Bayer, generally regarded as the longest hitter in golf, smashes a drive off the 10th tee at the Rancho Golf Club in Los Angeles. Bayer, who packs 210 pounds into a 6-foot, 5-inch frame, generates terrific power on his downswing and drives constantly around 300 yards. He once overdrove a 455-yard hole in Tucson, Ariz., but said "the ground was kind of hard."

Reserve Goalie to Take Nets

Pucksters to Host Aggies

By JUNE TURNER

Spartan iceers will host the Ontario Aggies for a two-game non-league series tonight and Saturday in Dem Hall. Faceoff time is 8 p.m.

Varsity goalie Joe Selinger will have a night off as reserve goalie Aldo Altobelli takes his place in the nets.

Altobelli saw previous action this season during the exhibition games against Michigan played in New Mexico and Arizona.

Coach Amo Besone has been experimenting with a new forward line during practice sessions this week. Skating with first liners Gene Grazia and Bob Parke, during practice is Joe "Tepi" Polano.

Polano did a standout job

Ice Ticket Policy

Warren Burit, ticket manager, said Thursday that 25-cent student hockey tickets can only be obtained by presenting a coupon from the activity book at the ticket window. The coupons must not be torn from the book.

Either Polano or Bill McKenzie will skate with the speedy first line in an attempt to add scoring punch which has been lacking during the early stages of the season.

Although Bob Jason and Butch Miller will remain the first defensive line and Eddie and Bruno Pollesal team together, Besone is working them hard this week.

Weaknesses that were noted during the Michigan game are being worked on during practice and Besone hopes to have his defense stopping the Aggies as they hit the Spartan blue line.

The second line which accounted for much of State's offensive against Michigan will remain intact with sophomore Fred DeVuono, Keith Christofferson, and Dickie Hamilton.

State hopes to defeat the Aggies and thereby increase their perfect win record of 13 victories in 13 contests. Last year the Spartans took both games, 4-2 and 7-4.

Besone will use the series as a warm up for a second league encounter with Michigan Jan. 15.

The Wolverines will meet a hot Michigan Tech squad this weekend before returning to Ann Arbor to meet the Spartans.

Lake State which has two brothers, Bruno and Eddie Pollesal, working as the number two defensive set, Tech also gets into the act with three brother combinations playing on the varsity squad.

Bears, Lions, Giants Dominate All-Pro Eleven

Wiley also competing in that weight.

Returning are lettermen Chris Coniglio, 157 pounds, LeRoy Flaidsch at 177 Norm Gill at 147, Jerry Hoke at 133, Leo Smedley at 167, Don Strout in the 123-pound slot and Ken Maulow, heavyweight.

Stroud, the Big 10 champion in his weight, figures to be one of the Spartans' strongest entries.

But Hoke, Gill and Maulow are also considered top performers. Hoke hails from a wrestling family and proved equal to its traditions last year as a sophomore, with a 13-5-1 over-all record.

Gill won five straight matches last year before injuring his knee in a losing effort against Michigan.

Maulow, who hke Gill hails from Lansing, won the National Greco-Roman 191-pound championship last spring. He compiled a 14-3-2 mark for the Spartans and won seven of 11 matches in the Olympic tryouts.

According to Collins, the Spartans rank with Minnesota, Michigan and Illinois as the top contenders for the Big 10 championship.

We'll be on the campus January 14 to discuss your future at Boeing...where rapid growth gives you a chance to move ahead.

This month, while you are making your decision about the company you want to join, it might be helpful to ask yourself this question: Where will I be five years from now? Ten years?

The answer will depend upon many factors. One of the most important is the growth potential of the company—and the industry—you join.

The fact that Boeing is one of the most rapidly expanding organizations in the country could be important to your success. Because expansion opens up plenty of opportunities to move ahead—and assures stable, long-range careers. Boeing, for instance, is organizing new divisions, building new plants and research and development centers.

At Boeing, you'll be with the nation's foremost aircraft manufacturer, the company that's producing America's first commercial jet airliner, the nation's principal long-range jet bombers, and a major guided missile for defense. Underway also are years-ahead projects that mean growth far into the future. Another advantage: at Boeing you'll be in a young, expanding industry, one with its major growth still ahead.

There are outstanding opportunities at Boeing for majors in: Accounting, Statistics, Industrial Management, Production Management, Finance, Physics and related fields. Drop in for a person-to-person discussion about your career at Boeing.

... Tankers Ready for Bowling Green Invasion ...

By JERRY KOPHINS
State News Sports Editor

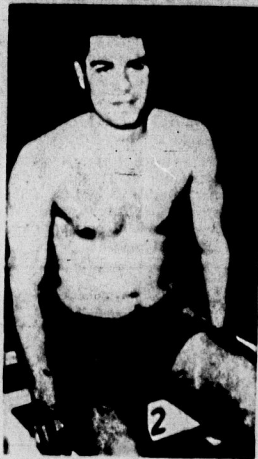

A strong Bowling Green tank squad will invade the Jensen Pool at 3 p.m. Saturday for a dual meet with Chuck McCaffree's unbeaten Spartans.

Bowling Green enters the meet with a 17-meet win streak last season. The Falcons grabbed 11 straight dual meet wins and captured the Mid-American Conference championship and MAC relays.

In addition to trying to knock the Falcons from the unbeaten ranks, the Spartans will also attempt to continue their domination over the Bowling Green tankers.

In eight dual meets, dating back to 1943, Michigan State has not lost to a Bowling Green team. The Spartans most impressive win was a 78-15 triumph the last time the two teams met in 1953.

McCaffree announced Thurs-

day that his starting lineups are still tentative but he does plan to use two teams against the Falcons, an A and B unit.

In the 400-yard medley relay, McCaffree will pick four of the following to make up his A team: Don Nichols, Paul Renike, Dee Edington, Tom Kwansy, Gordy Fornell, Frank Parrish and Wally Dohler.

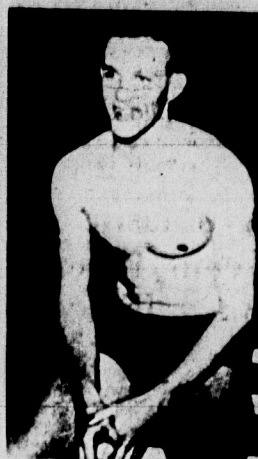

In the Big 10 Relays Nichols, Renike, Bog Harmon and Don Patterson teamed together to take both the 400 and 200-yard medley. Their 400 time of 3:49.6 is the fastest recorded in NCAA competition.

The same combination splashed its way home in 1:44.4 in the 200-yard event. This bettered Iowa State's Big 10 invitational record of 1:44.8 set in 1956. However, Ohio State bettered the Iowa State time one month later in 1:42.2.

Capt. Jim Clemens and Denny Baker will probably get the call in the 220-yard freestyle and Larry Ellis and Ken Gest are expected to get the nod to see action in the half-century freestyle for the A men.

In the 200-yard butterfly, Harmon and Kwansy will make up the A squad while Dohler and Bob Thomas will be swimming for the B team.

John Mason and Don Morey will be called on to perform from the high board for the A team and Don Leas will be diving for the B squad.

Fornell, Parrish and Patterson are all possible starters for the Spartans' A team in the 100-yard freestyle.

The twin-century backplash race looms as one of the best of the afternoon. Nichols and probably Ed Nichols will go for the Spartan nod and they will face one of the best in the business in Ralph Eakins.

Eakins went unbeaten last season and won the MAC 100 and 200-yard events.

DON NICHOLS
faces big test

For the Spartans in the 440-yard freestyle, McCaffree will use Esker, Les Lobaugh, Carleton Miller and Dean Taylor for both teams.

Edington and Renike will swim for the A team in the 200-yard breaststroke and Larry Walker, Ben Hart and Dave McCaffree will be ready for the B squad.

For the 400-yard freestyle event, Clemens, Fornell, Parrish, Patterson and Gest will be available to make up the four-man team for the A squad.

John Lanker, Barry Leeds, Bob MacKusick and Dohler will head the B unit.

The Spartans will be without the services of Greg Maronick and John Budick, both mainstays in last season's attack, due to scholastic ineligibility.

We haven't ever lost to Bowling Green, McCaffree said, and we don't intend to start now.

New Task Facing Leaders; Must Help American Youth

Wyatt Top Coach of Past Year

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The nation's college athletic leaders were told Thursday that they have a huge new job ahead of them just at a time when they were thinking their affairs were in pretty good order.

The report of a new youth fitness committee, expected to be just another bit of routine business on a rather dull day leading up to the finish of the 51st NCAA Convention, turned out to be one of the day's more serious developments.

The committee, headed by Tom Hamilton, retired Navy admiral and athletic director at the University of Pittsburgh, said the athletic directors, coaches and educators rather bluntly that they'd have to increase their efforts and expenditures and to assume the role of leaders or else American youth will be in a rather sorry state.

The football coaches, meeting separately, took care of the lighter side of the day's doings. At the annual luncheon of the American Football Coaches Assn., new officers of that organization were elected. The coach of the year award was presented by the Scripps-Howard Newspapers to Bowden Wyatt of Tennessee.

Wyatt was introduced by Tom Siler of the Knoxville News-Sentinel, who said the Tennessee headman had done "the best job of coaching I've ever seen in 25 years of writing football."

Wyatt gave credit to his players, coaching staff and the school administration and faculty for his success. He has coached in three major college conferences and won three championships. These were at Wyoming in the Skyline, Arkansas in the Southwestern and Tennessee in the Southeastern.

Red Wings Plunge to Second After 2-1 Loss to Bruins

DETROIT (AP)—The Boston Bruins came from behind on third period goals by Real Chevrefils and Leo Boivin Thursday night for a 2-1 victory that knocked the Detroit Red Wings out of first place in the National Hockey League.

The Montreal Canadiens jumped lead by edging Toronto 2-1. Thursday night action leaves Detroit and Boston in a deadlock for second place.

Boivin's goal, his first of the year, was the clincher. It came midway through the period, less than three minutes after the Bruins had tied the contest on Chevrefils' 18th goal.

The Red Wings took the lead in the second period while the Bruins were short-handed.

Wilt Paces Country in Statistics

NEW YORK (AP)—It is not true the NCAA Service Bureau directs publicity for Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain.

It just seems that way. In Tuesday's release, latest statistics show the big guy at Kansas not only has retained his scoring lead (averaging 32.9 points a game), but that he also has become the rebound leader, with a recovery rate of 26.4 per cent.

That makes Chamberlain the first major college player to lead the nation in both scoring and rebounding at the same time.

Chamberlain's scoring average dipped more than a point when he scored 23 points against Missouri Saturday, but he didn't lose any ground. Grady Wallace of South Carolina, the runner-up, slipped to a 29.5 average—making this the first time since 1953 the rankings show one 30-point scorer.

Colorado has beaten Oklahoma once in 11 football meetings. One game ended in a tie.

The sports offered for participation are badminton, swimming, volleyball and table tennis. All equipment is furnished by the intramural office with the exception of bathing suits.

Those interested are urged to call the IM office.

NCAA Approves Spartan Records

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The NCAA announced Thursday this approval of meet records set by Michigan State's Selwyn Jones and Henry Kennedy at the NCAA track and field championships last spring.

Jones won the 10,000 meters in 31:15.3 and Kennedy capped the 3,000 meter steeplechase in 9:16.5.

The association's track and field rules committee headed by Brutus Hamilton, University of California, also approved new national collegiate track and field records in 10 events.

The committee also approved eight other marks as meet records for the NCAA championships.

Basilio Bout Rescheduled

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Boxing Commission Thursday postponed a Jan. 18 fight between welterweight champion Carmen Basilio and Johnny Saxton because of an injury to Basilio's hand.

Promoter Larry Atkins said he would like to reschedule the bout for Feb. 22, if he can clear up a conflict with a heavy key game in the arena that night.

Basilio, who requested the postponement, said it will be ready when the hand is ready in a few weeks.

Prosecutor Reports Warning To Stop or 'Meet Destruction'

Two former Warren township trustees were indicted on charges of perjury by a one-man grand jury in Macomb county Wednesday.

At Flint a prosecutor, pressing a one-man jury inquiry into an alleged tie-up between police and gamblers, reported he had been warned to "lay off" or "meet destruction."

Acheson Belts Ike's Proposal

WASHINGTON, P.—Dean Acheson, crackling with criticism, said Thursday the Eisenhower administration explanation of what it wants Congress to do about the Middle East "frightens me to death."

Acheson testified for nearly four hours in a House Foreign Affairs Committee hearing on the President's military-economic plan to block Red expansion in the Middle East.

One interpretation Mr. Dulles puts upon what he is asking frightens me to death," Acheson declared. He said Secretary of State Dulles was indulging in reckless talk that sounds perilously like another approach to the brink of war.

The former secretary of state in the Truman administration lambasted Eisenhower's proposals for standby military authority and economic aid. "Vague, uncertain and inadequate" were words he used to describe them.

He said they "involve little or no ground and leave untouched great areas in need of policy."

Acheson called for "vigorous action" including stationing of United Nations police force in the Mideast to prevent Israel and Egypt from continuing their border raids. Such a force should be big enough to deter such attacks, he said, and to hold off any attack against itself until aid on the form, perhaps, of the U.S. Marines and the 6th U.S. Fleet—could come.

Legislation not requiring a presidential signature should do this, Acheson said. Declare U.S. interest in Mideast security, political stability and economic progress, and pledge response to any presidential suggestion for military, political and economic support.

Some Democrats indicated they might try to draft a resolution along the lines Acheson suggested. Acheson declined an invitation to try his hand at it.

Macmillan

Blue Key Announces New Plan for Miss MSU Contest

Blue Key men's honor fraternity, announced a new system for the selection of the 1957 Miss Michigan State. Both men's and women's living units will be requested to nominate a candidate.

Candidates who are queens of the following events as of Jan. 1, 1957 will automatically be considered candidates. These queens are Engineering, Homecoming, Harvest Ball, Porpoise, Veterans and the Army and Air Force Honorary Colonels.

The new system is designed to pick a more representative queen. Rules for this year's contest are now in the mail to all living units.

Candidates will be judged on the basis of appearance and personality. Announcement and crowning of the queen will be held on the formal night of the J-Hop.

Eisenhower

He chose to drop from his prepared text a line that "we are prepared to make further proposals in the United Nations" on disarmament. However, officials said he did this merely to save time and that the proposals would be made.

The outstandingly new proposal for domestic consumption was a call to Congress to set up a special commission to undertake a "vital inquiry" into the "nature, performance and adequacy of our financial system."

This looked like something of an attempt to grab the ball from the Democrats, already getting set to delve into administration monetary and credit policies. Complaints have been sounding among some of them that the administration's "tight money" policy is hurting small business expansion and home and school construction.

As the President said, much of his legislative program will be held over for his budget message to Congress next week, and for a series of special messages on individual subjects.

500 More Cars Now Registered

The car registration total winter term has increased by approximately 50 cars over that of fall term. The total this term has reached 6,706 compared to 6,185 cars last term.

Broken down into classes the totals are as follows: 599 owned by freshmen; 1545 by sophomores; 1754 by juniors, and 1667 by seniors. The remaining number is made up of those cars owned by graduate students, short course students, teachers and other members of the university.

The travelogue begins in the border town of Juarez and takes its audience to Acapulco, the shrine of Guadalupe, the ruins of Yucatan and the jungle of Vera Cruz, presenting a land of color, contrast and history.
