Rubinstein Ripples to Success

Concert Highlighted By Chopin Music

By NELDA TROUT
MSU students had an opportunity to hear one of the world's greatest musicians Tuesday night as Arthur Rubinstein presented a varied program of rippling technique and clear melodious passages.

Highlight of the concert was three works of Chopin, particularly the sweet "Berceuse" and spirited "Scherzo in B flat." Rubinstein played the "Berceuse" like a "shower of stars," as the pianist runs may be termed, with an overall refined and delicate touch marked by light pedal. Various rubatos and nuances typified his interpretation of the "Scherzo."

Rubinstein's presentation of Debussy was delightful, a light feather touch characteristic of the three selections. Beginning with the "Prelude in A minor" he demonstrated a flowing melody with a type of fantasy accompaniment. His interpretation of "Ondine" was as though a harp were plucking away in a misty forest with the little sprite being behind the trees.

Debussy's "La Plus que Lente" had a slow waltz feeling with the alternating "andante" and "rubato" blending to form a continuous melody. Throughout his performance, Rubinstein played the accompaniments with a softened touch, while each melody was stressed.

The Spanish composer Albeniz's work entitled "Navarra" provided a stirring contrast following the impressionistic compositions of Debussy. At times a biting Spanish "castinet" song would break through the chording, while at one instant Rubinstein jumped up from the bench in order to put the full weight into the climactic chords.

The Busoni edition of Bach's "Chaconne" featured note ornamentation from double forte to flicking runs. Rubinstein's interpretation of the closing measures was a gradual retard or slowing down, while many artists prefer strict time until the last note. A chaconne was originally RUBINSTEIN, Page 3

From Budget Suggestions Williams Cancels Funds For 'Little White House'

By JERRY JENNINGS
State News Capital Reporter
Michigan's "Little White House" will remain in the planning stage a while longer.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams' office revealed Tuesday that he has cut out funds for the construction of a proposed governor's mansion from his 1957-58 budget recommendations.

He has also ordered the state budget division to omit any construction funds for a new State Supreme Court building.

According to James M. Miller, state controller and former MSU professor of political science, the Governor will recommend that the Legislature postpone construction of the two buildings.

In its last session, the Legislature appropriated $650,000 for planning the $3,000,000 Supreme Court building. Plans have been drawn and bids will be taken in March unless the project is postponed.

Another $17,500 has already been appropriated for planning the $250,000 governor's mansion.

"The Governor feels that these are buildings we would like to have," Miller said, "but which we can do without for the time being, in view of our dire financial problems."

The announcement provided a gloomy preview of the completed budget recommendations, which Governor Williams is expected to submit to the Legislature today. Williams has said that "rigid economy" will be necessary to balance the budget this year.

The Governor returned Tuesday night from Washington, D.C.

Mad Bomber's Reign Ends As Police Lock Up Terrorist

Two Chicago Girls Found Murdered

Multiple Slaughter Resembles Slaying of Three Schoolboys

CHICAGO (AP)—The nude and pierced bodies of the missing Grimes sisters were found Tuesday—tossed like cordwood—in a scraggy stretch of freshly thawed land along a highway southwest of Chicago.

The tragic end of what police once thought might have been an adventuresome, but routine, runaway from home marked the Chicago area's second multiple murder of children in 15 months. Police said the girls appeared to have been dead about two weeks.

The Grimes girls, Barbara, 15, and Patricia, 13, disappeared from their south side home Dec. 26 after attending an Elvis Presley movie they had seen several times.

At first, their disappearance aroused little official concern.

As time passed fears grew that the girls might have met the same fate that befell three Chicago school boys. The nude bodies of Robert Peterson, 14, John Schuessler, 13, and his brother, Anton, 11, were found in a forest preserve northwest of Chicago on Oct. 18, 1955.

Cook County Sheriff Joseph Lohman said there were some similarities in the multiple murders.

1. The bodies overlapped as if they had been dumped or tossed from a car or truck.

2. The slayer or slayers stripped the bodies in both cases and disposed of the clothing elsewhere.

3. The bodies bore signs of violence.

4. A cursory police examination showed puncture marks on Barbara's chest, inflicted by a small caliber bullet, or an ice pick. The boys' bodies showed similar markings inflicted with a pronged tool.

Organizations Directories Distributed

Student Organizations Directories are being distributed this week to all campus leaders.

The directory, compiled by the organizations bureau of AUSA, lists the names of the heads of all organizations chartered by AUSA, living units, governing groups and publications.

Leaders of 195 organizations are listed in this directory, which will be distributed only to persons whose names are listed in it.

The Student Organizations Council, which is composed of campus leaders, is delivering the directories to campus leaders.

According to James Douglas, St. Clair Shores senior and editor of the directory, it is hoped that the booklet will become a yearly publication and will eventually become comparable to the student and faculty directories. Plans are being made to revise the directory spring term.

Anyone who has suggestions for corrections or additions to the directory is requested to contact Douglas.

Grounds Maintenance Crew

Winter Keeps 'Snowmen' Busy

By SUZETTE RAMSEY

With the coming of winter and the heavy snows, the Grounds Maintenance Dept. begins its 24-hour-a-day season.

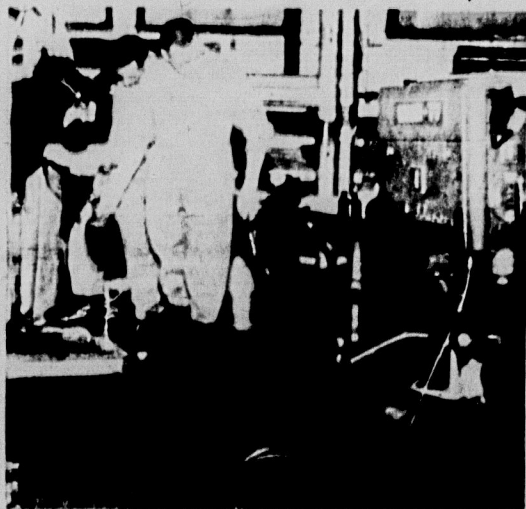

When a new snowfall begins, the Campus Department of Public Safety calls Burt Ferris, the Grounds Superintendent, or one of his three foremen. The equipment operators are then called in, and the mass project of shoveling the snow is begun.

The equipment which the crew of fifty men handles includes two trucks with detachable snowplows, fifteen tractors with snowplows or brooms, a truck with rotary snowblower, and a salt spreader truck. They are kept at the Grounds Maintenance building across from Electrical Engineering, at a sub-maintenance center near the Brody dormitories and various other places around the campus.

Despite the extra work and irregular hours during winter, the busiest seasons are actually the spring and fall. The Grounds Maintenance department is in the ground. It repairs roads, puts up signs, moves plants and trees, and hauls rubbish from power plants.

More equipment in the form of two motor graders, and three bulldozers is put to use in the warmer weather. The snowplows can be removed from the trucks for spring use.

Closed circuit television is utilized during the 30th annual Post-Graduate Conference for Veterinarians, which began Tuesday and continues through today. More than 100 veterinary doctors and students are attending the session.

Principles, Not Money Cause Acts

'Deranged Mind' Put in Bellevue

NEW YORK (AP)—The mad bomber's 16-year reign of terror was over Tuesday. He was locked up in Bellevue Hospital so psychiatrists can probe his dangerously warped mind.

The glad I did it, 54-year-old George Metesky told news men as he was brought here in handcuffs and under extraordinary guard from his Waterbury, Conn. home where he was arrested Monday night.

Metesky signed a statement after his arrest, saying he was the elusive mad bomber who planted 32 bombs in public gathering places in New York since 1949. Several of them went off and 15 persons were injured, none seriously. He was quoted as saying he didn't intend to kill anyone.

Even as he was arrested, Metesky was nursing the explosive tools for more diabolical forays against the world's greatest city.

"He could easily pass as your next door neighbor," said his court-appointed lawyer, Benjamin Schmier. However, the lawyer called him a pronounced mental case, unable to tell right from wrong in the intensity of his grudge against the world—in other words, legally insane and not punishable under the law for his misdeeds.

Metesky apparently was motivated by perverted principles, rather than any desperate need for money. He felt he had been cheated out of monetary compensation for an old industrial injury. However, Asst. Dist. Atty. Karl Grebow said of him: See MAD BOMBER, Page 6

Winter Tornadoes Strike

7 Twisters Kill, Injure In 3 States

Train's Whistle Alerts Hill Town

GANS, Okla. (AP)—Winter tornadoes, spawned by a cold front crashing into unseasonably warm air, ripped into Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana Tuesday to kill at least 11 persons including eight in this farm community.

Three persons were killed and four are missing after a tornado demolished homes in two Louisiana sawmill towns of Pineville and Bellevue.

Another tornado later today swept over part of Kennett, in the "hooch" of southeastern Missouri, destroying some homes, uprooting trees and tangling power lines. One injury was reported.

At least two twisters were reported in Arkansas and three more in Oklahoma.

Deaths were limited as the twisters, spawned through the area.

A Kansas City Southern train passing through Gans, an eastern Oklahoma town in the Jackson Hills, at 6 a.m. with its whistle blowing full steam may have saved many others from death or injury.

It was reported that many sleeping citizens were aroused by the whistle, then saw the turbulent weather and headed for storm cellars. Four minutes later the tornado struck.

The engineer, identified as William L. Bryant, 69, of Pittsburg, Kan., saw the tornado and whistled a warning.

Only last September a tornado struck in the area but no one was killed. After that, many citizens built storm cellars.

Gans, with a population of about 600, is near the Arkansas line 12 miles from Fort Smith. The latest tabulation of damage showed 30 families were made homeless as the hit and miss tornado struck through the town.

The National Guard, troops from Camp Chaffee, Ark., highway patrolmen and county officers rushed to the scene and set up roadblocks to keep out the curious.

The tornado, first hit a mile and a half west of Gans, then lifted briefly, clipping off tree tops. A mile further on it started its human destruction.

For Economy, Efficiency

Library Changes System Of Classifying Publications

The library is taking on a new face. Since last October, when the library received authorization from the State Board of Agriculture, it has been reclassifying its books and periodicals. The change is being made from the Dewey Decimal Classification to the Library of Congress schedule.

The reasons for this change are three fold: (1) The Library of Congress system is based upon a research collection and affords a more logical classification of materials. (2) The new schedule is more capable of handling the new areas of knowledge, such as atomic energy. (3) The economy and efficiency of the Library of Congress schedule are of utmost importance to a growing research collection.

Since Nov. 21, all new titles added to the collection have been classified under the new schedule. These materials are being shelved in close proximity to those already under the Dewey Decimal system.

According to Dr. Chapin, associate librarian, there are probably a few inconveniences with the present arrangement, but the ultimate advantages of the Library of Congress system will compensate for the disorder.

Flag Situation To be Improved

The flag in the Ice Arena will be replaced and the Jensen flag will be cleaned, locally, according to Biggie Munn, athletic director.

Munn said an impromptu board of BVTC officers had inspected both flags and recommended the indicated action.

The officers also stated that it is permissible to clean a civilian flag, as in the case of the fieldhouse flag.

Munn said several groups had called about the possibility of replacing the flags but that the MSU Veterans Association will be given first opportunity, because of the nature of their organization.

Dr. J. Murray Barbour, professor of music, was recently elected president of the American Musicological Society.

The Allegro movement of Beethoven's "Sonata in E flat major" was marked by Rubinstein's light technique in the runs and arpeggios. Through the entire sonata, each climax was brought out from a two note phrase to a measure goal from a complete phrase to the climax in each movement.

Undoubtedly, the most faultless movement of the sonata was the "Mourning" Trio in which Rubinstein again emphasized the lovely melodic line which was characteristic throughout his concert.

Along with his interpretation of such improvisations as Debussy, Ravel and Dukas, Rubinstein is noted for his work with the compositions of Chopin and Brahms. The latter's "Intermezzo in B flat" was marked by dreamy passages, while his "Rhapsody in E flat" began with a stirring march, played with great determination by Rubinstein.

The favorite Chopin "Waltz in A minor" was selected as an encore. Rubinstein has started recording the entire works of that composer.

The seldom heard work "Polichinelle" by Volskel, marked the conclusion of Tuesday night's performance. The composition was built on an extremely modern theme.

Rubinstein was born in Poland in 1896 and chose the "less fashionable" piano over two violins which his father wanted him to study. When 11 years old he made his official debut in Berlin, playing Mozart's "A Major Concerto." Now, Mozart is rarely found on his concert programs.

UNUSUAL OPPORTUNITIES FOR GROWTH JOBS

in the fields of Advertising and Marketing

Procter & Gamble has openings for young college men of promise and ability in its Advertising Department. While the openings are all within the framework of Advertising and Sales Promotion, the nature of the work is Marketing Management rather than "handling advertising" as most people understand it. For this reason, specialized training or experience in Advertising or Marketing is not required. Good general business potential, a high degree of native intelligence, and the ability to work smoothly with many types of people will be considered foremost.

In the last ten years alone, Procter & Gamble sales have increased from $336 million to over $1 billion. This rapid expansion, plus our policies of always filling higher level positions by promotion from within and advancing people individually and rapidly as soon as they are ready to move up the ladder, creates a truly outstanding opportunity.

A brief description follows of the various careers now open in the Procter & Gamble Advertising Department.

BRAND MANAGEMENT—The Marketing problems of each of our brands are handled by a separate staff of Marketing Management men. Men employed for this work are trained to manage and be responsible for the effectiveness of the over-all Advertising and Promotion effort on an important, nationally advertised brand. These positions involve working with many Company departments, including the Research and Development Department on product development, the Sales Department on the development of promotions, and with the Advertising Agency on all phases of planning for the brand.

COPY SUPERVISION—Copy Supervisors manage advertising copy operations on our brands principally by (1) representing the Company in a close working relationship with our agencies on all phases of the development of advertising copy and (2) evaluating agency copy proposals in the light of product facts, marketing objectives, and background knowledge of effective selling techniques. These men do not write copy; this is a function of our advertising agencies. However, within our Advertising Department, they are responsible for the over-all effectiveness of advertising copy operations in radio, television, magazines and other media.

MERCHANDISING—Merchandising men develop store promotions involving groups of Company brands, select and develop premium articles, manage the country-wide sampling and couponing operations, assist the Sales Department in conducting trade conventions, and operate contests, mail-ins, and other forms of promotions.

MEDIA—Media men guide the Company in the investment of advertising appropriations. Working with the advertising agencies, they develop media plans on each brand using radio, television, magazines, newspapers, etc.

THE PROCTER & GAMBLE REPRESENTATIVE WILL BE AT MICHIGAN STATE JANUARY 25th

MR. H. H. WILSON, JR.

Dublinski Excluded From Lions' Plans

DETROIT (AP)—Coach Buddy Parker of the Detroit Lions said Tuesday he has eliminated quarterback Tom Dublinski from 1957 plans because Dublinski's skill is under option to the Toronto Argonauts of the Canadian Football League.

Parker said Dublinski's option to Toronto expires on Jan. 23. Dublinski, who was obligated to play the season in Toronto, was released by the Lions.

Parker reached Dublinski in Toronto Sunday and reportedly offered him $11,000 for next season, provided Toronto held no option. Then Parker learned of the option which binds Dublinski unless he can arrange a release.

Dublinski was injured and missed much of last season. This season he has a new coach, Hampton Davis, formerly of the Los Angeles Rams.

Bobo Layne still is the Lions' No. 1 quarterback. Harry Calmer was his backup last season, with Jerry Reichow in the No. 3 slot.

Michigan State left fielder Jim Sack, a right-hander at 5'8 and 146 pounds, led the Spartans in hitting doubles, triples and total bases in 1956 and was named the team's most valuable player.

Hamia-Costa Bout to Decide Title Saddler Retires From Boxing

NEW YORK (AP)—Sandy Saddler was retired from boxing Tuesday, vacating the World Featherweight Title, as the result of a report by his doctor that he was "going progressively blind."

Saddler, a lanky, 29-year-old New Yorker, hasn't fought since he was injured in an auto accident in July, 1956 when a taxi cab in which he was a passenger was in collision with a car. He was hospitalized for three weeks.

Dr. Thomas W. Matthew, a neurosurgeon, recommended the retirement to Manager Charlie Johnson after treating Saddler since he was injured. "I've recommended to both the boxer and his manager that Saddler do no more boxing," said Dr. Matthew over the telephone from Johnson's office. "He does have some sight at the present time. If he does not fight he may be able to retain that sight. If he continues to fight there is a grave chance of total blindness."

Julius Helfand, Chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, said he would have some statement today after he had received a copy of the doctor's report. It is expected he will recommend some elimination system of determining a new champ in the 128-pound class.

The National Boxing Association had stripped Saddler of his title Jan. 16 for the second time in 25 months for failing to defend the title since Jan. 18, 1956. Officials of the International Boxing Club were awaiting word from the commissions before trying to set up any elimination tournament in the division.

Fred Saddy, Secretary of the National Boxing Association, said in Milwaukee that the NBA would recognize the winner of a bout between Cherif Hamia of France and Carmelo Costa of New York as the new featherweight champion.

Miller Starts At Early Age

Red Wing Game Gave Icer His Biggest Thrill

A few years ago a small Canadian lad donned a pair of ice skates, picked up a hockey stick and began hammering a puck toward an open net. This was the first lesson for Butch Miller, one that he wasn't to forget for a long time.

Few realized it then but Butch was destined to go to the top in Western Intercollegiate Hockey competition. He was fast and aggressive and had what it takes to gain recognition on the ice.

When he had to make the final decision. Butch tabs playing against the Detroit Red Wings in exhibition games as his biggest thrill in hockey so far.

RUTCH MILLER learned lesson well.

At Michigan State Butch received that recognition. Last season, his first as a Spartan regular, Miller was tabbed as one of the top defencemen in the WCHA.

This year Butch teamed up with Capt. Bob Jasson on Michigan State's first line and it looked as if the Spartans were going to have one of the finest defensive units in Michigan State history.

However, following a 3-2 loss to the Wolverines last week Miller hung up his skates to undergo an operation for appendicitis. Dr. James S. Feuring, team physician, said he expects Miller to be ready for action by Feb. 4.

Before entering Michigan State Butch had several offers to attend Colorado College. However, Michigan State's mechanical engineering school earned a great deal of weight.

Miller hasn't decided what will follow after his graduation in 1958. He said he and his wife may return to Canada unless he receives a good job offer in the States.

Talks on Values Duffy Daugherty Speaks To Knoxville QB Club

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Michigan State Football Coach Hugh "Duffy" Daugherty said Tuesday night football, more than any other sport, teaches a boy a sense of values.

Speaking to the Knoxville Quarterback Club, Daugherty said:

1. The value of hard work.
2. The value of team work.
3. The value of making sacrifices.
4. The value of adhering to discipline.

"I like baseball and basketball and other sports. But I don't think any of them compares with football in developing a boy in a fine sense of values."

Their Daugherty, winner of the 1955 "Coach of the Year" award, picked out several "values" he said the game teaches:

2-Team Battle Seen for NHL

Three Michigan Tech "Huskies" hockey players who will be here Friday and Saturday to play the Spartans are: Pete Aubry (17), center, Cliff Wylie (6), center and Ron Stenlund (8), wing.

Red Wings, Canadiens Are Picked

Youngsters May Give Wings Edge

DETROIT (AP)—The experts say the National Hockey League race is boiling down to a two-team dogfight between the Montreal Canadiens and the Detroit Red Wings.

It's true, Detroit coach Jim Skinner says it'll be the Detroit team against the Canadiens' tremendous front line strength. "I think we have better depth, perhaps not on defense now but certainly on an overall basis, than any of the other clubs," Skinner said Tuesday after a brisk workout.

Skinner, whose Wings now trail the first place Canadiens by just one game, is slightly pessimistic on just one point.

"We have a handful of youngsters who need to mature. They're not concentrating enough on fundamental hockey. Instead, they come up here with big ideas about guys like Gordie Howe and Ted Lindsay and then try to imitate them. It just doesn't work. Guys like Howe and Lindsay don't come along in hockey very often."

The youngsters are three bills, Dea, McNeill, Dineen, and John "the Beast" Bucyk. That four some is getting extra practice work on what Skinner calls "basic hockey."

"These young players, Skinner believes, could give the Detroit club the extra push needed to reclaim the NHL title, which they relinquished to Montreal last year after seven consecutive championships."

"All we have to do is get them to settle down," said Skinner. "One game they're great and then they go into slumps. We don't expect them to be sensational—just consistent."

"These boys are national leaguers now," Skinner said. "We can have four real good lines if they play consistent hockey. That kind of an offense is confusing to other teams, and it could mean the championship if the kids settle down a little. It's up to them."

Hopes for Improvement Boxing Team Opens With Intrasquad Tilt

By LARRY GUSTIN
State News Night Editor

Opening with an intrasquad tilt Saturday, Michigan State's boxing team prepares for a six-meet schedule which starts Feb. 15 here against Bowling Air Force.

The Spartan boxers hope to improve on last year's record of no wins, one tie and five defeats, but losses by graduation of several key fighters have forced Coach John Brotzman to rebuild the entire team.

Choken Mekawa, Gerry Kendall, George Sismi and Andy Romie are gone, leaving weak spots in several positions, especially in the heavyweight ranks.

Right now the Spartans don't have a heavy, but 178-pounder Harlan Linderath or Wolf Matthes could step up a division in an emergency.

John Gehan, who had been expected to fill the heavyweight slot, broke a leg skiing over Christmas vacation but may be back in action by mid-season, according to Brotzman.

The 139-pound class is the strongest with former national Golden Gloves champ Johnny Butler holding the first string berth, followed by Don Slaser.

Butler, who is starting his third season with the Spartan boxers, has been moved up from his old 132-pound position because he can't make the lighter weight anymore.

Filling his vacated post is Bob Jemilo, who saw some action last year and was then considered one of the most improved members of the squad.

Howard Lanour in the 125-pound division has the unenviable job of trying to fill the shoes of Mackawa, who took an NCAA title last spring and won the Olympics berth.

The Hawaiian, however, who won lavish praise from officials at the NCAA meet never got a

Motts Smothers Beal, 69-10

By DAVE ROGERS

Motts Smothers clubbed Beal House 69-10 in a contest which featured tremendous backboard control and a pressing, shifting zone defense on the part of the winners, in Tuesday night's IM play. The Motts were led by Dick Seovel, a guard who connected on both long shots and drive-ins to rack up 19 points.

Dean Bidwell, a tall pivot, was outstanding under the boards and on drives. Bidwell knocked in 16 points and Tom Eyranson swished 17 for the Motts, high scoring trio. The Motts jumped off to a 14-2 half-time margin and never let Beal get started.

Hasbears 35, Chiefs 16
Last by MSU athletes, the six-foot, 175-pound, Archie Malcom and Sam Williams, the Hasbears picked up a 12-8 lead at the midway point and overcame the Chiefs' efforts in the second period.

The Chiefs, headed by Dan Currie and Frank Franck, fought all the way to the wire but the superior height of the victors was too much. Malcom was leading scorer of the game as he tipped in 16 points, mostly on breakaway shots in the second period. Savoldi and Williams controlled both the offensive and defensive backboards in a fast, rough and tumble contest.

CRAC 29, Vets IV 22
One of the closest contests of the night saw the CRAC's defeat the Vets IV on ball control and rebounding. Wayne Case was the big gun for the winners with 19 points.

A close game all the way the CRAC's led by a score of 11-9 at the half. However, with Case's scoring in the second half the victors were able to increase their lead and hold it to the victors.

Dads 24, Tawans 20
The Dads prevailed over the Tawans although the individual high scorer in the game was Tom Morley of the losers who garnered 12 markers.

Arizona Post Remains Open

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—The search for a new football coach at the University of Arizona continues without fanfare but with plenty of speculation.

Dr. Richard A. Harvill, University President is interviewing candidates for the $11,000-a-year post recently vacated by Warren Woodson. But Harvill said he didn't interview anyone Monday and didn't plan to interview anyone Tuesday.

The three most prominently mentioned candidates are Bill Youmin, assistant coach at Michigan State; Max Spillsbury, coach of Arizona State College at Flagstaff, and Ed Doherty, former head coach at Arizona State College and at Temple and now an assistant coach with the professional Philadelphia Eagles.

Harvill said many candidates for the job have expressed a desire for no publicity and that he has not made public names of those aspirants.

Meanwhile, Arizona fans are betting about a list of some 85 names of coaches throughout the nation.
