Blood Drive Tops Record

200 Pints Donated

Two hundred pints of blood were donated Monday, breaking the first day record set in previous MSU blood drives.

Gretchen Jagow, 19-year-old freshman, gave the 180th pint of blood, breaking the previous record of 179 pints.

The blood drive continues today on the fourth floor of the Union, with the registration desk still open for prospective donors in the Union concourse.

Hours will be from 10 to 5 p.m. today, Wednesday and Friday and from 2 to 6 p.m. Thursday.

Alpha Kappa Phi Fraternity became the first living unit to have 100 percent of their members donate blood.

Rosa Aguirre, Plainville junior, and Gale Perreault, Syracuse, N.Y., freshman, won Monday's door prizes that are being given by East Lansing merchants.

Other door prizes included two passes to movie theatres in East Lansing or Lansing. They were given to Miss Jagow, who broke the blood record; Marian Graves, Jonesville sophomore; H. Paul Emerson, Green Pointe junior; Harry D. Schuler, Interlochen sophomore; Joel Burns, Chicago, Ill., freshman; Lee J. Strong, Brockton, Mass., senior; and Helen Versteeg, Inkster sophomore.

These students should pick up their prizes from 3 to 5 today in the Student Government office or call Stan Star at the AUSA office.

The following percentage totals show how the living units stand in blood donated the first day of the drive. Only seven sorority cords contributed, thus sorority totals are not listed.

U. S. Proposes Israeli Plan

Cagers' Late Rally Nips Boilermakers

Long Set Shot by Quiggle Pulls Out 68-66 Squeaker

By JOE HOFFMAN
Special to the State News

LAFAYETTE—Jack Quiggle's long set shot with eight seconds left climaxed a great comeback Monday night to lead Michigan State to an exciting 68-66 Big 10 victory over Purdue here.

The victory, Michigan State's fifth straight conference win after three opening losses, moved the Spartans into a tie for third place with Illinois, trailing Indiana and Ohio State.

State trailed by 16 points with 9:30 left but scored eight straight points to cut the margin to 56-37.

The Boilermakers bounced back to open four-point leads of 61-57 and 63-59. Lay-ups by John Green and Dave Hood knotted the count at 62-62 before Joe Campbell dropped in a free throw to put Purdue a point up with 1:42 left.

Quiggle, who didn't play most of the second half, finished a book shot and free throw through a free throw to give the Spartans the lead at 66-64 with 1:15 remaining.

Charley Keitt, the demon who gave Purdue its one-point victory at East Lansing early in the season, missed a long set shot at 1:10. A rash of Purdue fouls resulted in missed Spartan foul shots before Green came up with the defensive play that saved the day.

The sophomore center made one of his phenomenal blocks on a Lamar Lundy lay-up attempt, giving State the ball and keeping Purdue from tying the game. The Boilermakers then captured a missed Spartan foul shot and Lundy made a lay-up with 26 seconds left, tying the game at 66-66.

That set the stage for Quiggle's dramatic one-handed shot. Keitt once again had the chance to play hero as he took the final shot in the last four seconds. The ball came close but bounced off the rim to preserve the hard-earned win for State.

The Spartans trailed most of the game although the first half remained close until the closing minute, when Purdue built up its 39-34 halftime lead.

State pulled to within one point twice in the second half but fell 10 points down when Purdue poured through nine straight points.

Larry Hadden led four double-figure Spartan scorers with 17 points. George Ferguson hit for 13, Green scored 11 and Bob Andereggs scored 10.

Surprisingly enough, Quiggle, who made State's last two field goals, scored only nine points for the night.

Jon Lowell, Lansing freshman, will take over the freshman treasurer's duties for Joe Wallace, unable to meet the requirements this term.

Met Star Delights Audience

Small Crowd Sees LC Performance

By JIM ESTES

Hilde Gueden, a beautiful lady and a fine singer, appeared before an insatiably small audience Monday night, to present a performance which was, above all else, a refreshing experience.

Miss Gueden has a clear, bell-like, warm tone which beautifully throughout its range with the exception of an occasional dry tone at the very top. She uses her talents with great taste.

Warner Bass at the piano did a praiseworthy job of accompanying.

The highlight of the program were two lieder by Richard Strauss, a selection from Verdi's "La Traviata," and an air by Debussy.

Richard Strauss had a passion for the soprano voice, and his operas and lieder make ample use of that instrument.

Miss Gueden's well known affinity for the music of Strauss was put to good use in "Freischütz Vision" and "Siegfried's Dream," the former with its dreamy, pastoral atmosphere, the latter a light-hearted treatment of that ubiquitous theme in poem and song, Young Love.

In the vocal compositions of Debussy, like the "Air de Lila" from "L'Enfant Prodigue," the music is so subtle, so self-effacing, that the words fairly leap out at you. Together Miss Gueden and Bass recreated every nuance of music and language which Debussy's genius poured into the music.

The performance had its minor drawbacks, like Miss Gueden's thickly Viennese English in some of the numbers, the inclusion of a couple of insipidly Victorian English songs. But to make a big issue of these things is like complaining that the Statue of Liberty has a chip in her nose; the total effect remains undisturbed.

Miss Gueden sang a total of five encores, including two arias from "La Bohème," and concluding with that absolutely irresistible song, "Vienna, City of My Dreams."

Hilde Gueden, Metropolitan Opera soprano star, reviews her classical selections before her appearance at the Aud Monday night.

81 Billion Cut

Stock Prices Drop On N. Y. Exchange

NEW YORK (AP)—The Stock Market met its first major test of 1957 Monday and flunked it.

Heavy waves of selling battered prices down as an estimated four billion dollars was cut from the quoted value of issues on the New York Stock Exchange.

The drop was the sharpest since Oct. 1955 and preceded losses of 31 to 34 a share for leading issues.

Wall Street brokers were practically unanimous in predicting the decline as a technical development in which the market was seeking a new level that would attract buyers.

Market averages showed prices have now dropped below their 1956 levels, which had previously proved to be the market's support level. Technicians look for a rally from the new low or a further decline to a support level from which a rally can be sustained.

The Associated Press average of 50 stocks declined 33.36 to 146.09. The Dow Jones has been down since Nov. 2, 1955. The drop was the biggest for any single day since Oct. 10, 1955 when the average went down 34.96 in the third of a series of market breaks following President Eisenhower's heart attack.

The decline in averages is the basis for figuring the four billion dollar loss in the quoted value of stocks of the New York exchange.

On the same basis the loss in quoted values since last Tuesday amounts to 14,700,000,000, and since Jan. 1, totals 111,000,000,000. The break last Tuesday came after former President Herbert Hoover warned that inflation and big government spending showed signs of a depression "agony."

The Dow Jones Industrial average lost 4.25 points, dropping to 471.14.

A wave of selling swept the market in the final 15 minutes causing the high-speed ticker tape to run two minutes behind in recording transactions. The "old" turnover extended losses, although at the end some improvement in scattered issues was noted.

So MSU, as well as other colleges and universities in the U. S., can expect to see the veterans and the sons and daughters of men who died in the war around for many more days.

Through the efforts of a thoughtful and thankful government, the veterans of wars are now compensated in some measure for the sacrifices which they had to make. Given the financial assistance, without which many of them would have found it extremely difficult to attend schools of higher learning, they have shown that they are eager and willing to advance as far as they can.

To further show the nation's gratitude to veterans, Congress passed the War Orphans Educational Assistance Act of 1956, numerically known as Public Law 554. This law applies to the orphans of veterans killed in the First, Second, and Korean Wars, providing them with financial aid for their education. Those men that died of wounds or disease received in the wars also apply to the above category. It is applicable only to those between the ages of 18 and 23, inclusive.

Withdrawal Conditions Discussed

Dulles Presents 2-Point Solution

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States proposed to Israel Monday a new two-point plan aimed at meeting, at least in part, Israel's conditions for withdrawing its forces from the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba.

Secretary of State Louis A. Dulles presented the plan to Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban in a 15-minute conference at the State Department. The two points are:

1. The United States would facilitate the return of the Jewish population of the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba.

2. The United States would declare its purpose, and use its influence as a member of the United Nations to have UN forces of U. S. observers in the Gaza Strip in order to prevent its use as a base for Egyptian military forces into Israel.

Eban is understood to have promised quick internal approval to his government and an answer in the next 24 to 48 hours.

Meanwhile, it is also understood that the Arab League, in the UN General Assembly, has agreed to delay the submission of its demands for a withdrawal of Israeli forces.

Eban told reporters after his meeting with Dulles Monday that his government wants "concrete and tangible guarantees" with respect to the use of the Gaza Strip and the security of the Gulf of Aqaba before pulling out its forces. Both areas were captured from Egypt during the Israeli invasion of the Sinai Peninsula in October and November.

The United Nations has adopted a resolution demanding complete withdrawal of Israeli forces without prior conditions. The United States has supported the UN position on withdrawal.

Several weeks of intensive diplomacy by the American government with the Israeli government and with UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld, who has been in close contact with the Egyptian government, have failed to break the deadlock between Israel's demands and the unwillingness of either the UN or Egypt to meet them.

The formal position of the UN has been that it would not pay a price for withdrawal of Israeli forces. The Israeli government has argued that it was entitled to guarantees of what it considered to be its rights in the Gulf of Aqaba and of protection from possible Egyptian harassment.

Over the weekend Dulles held a series of conferences at his home here and talked by telephone with President Eisenhower at Washington, Ga., where the President is vacationing.

The meetings included Dep. Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy, Asst. Secretary William Boardman, former Sen. Walter George of Georgia, and former Rep. James Richards of South Carolina. George and Richards, both Democrats, are now special ambassadors for Eisenhower.

The proposed new formula of a United States declaration to hold out some assurance to Israel emerged in the weekend meetings.

The thinking of U. S. government leaders in putting it forward is said to be based on the circumstances which now prevail. See U. S. PROPOSES, Page 4.

Advanced ROTC Holds Interviews

Dancers To Portray Jazz Ballet

An original Canadian work, "Post Script," highlights the repertoire of the National Ballet of Canada when it appears in the Aud tonight and Wednesday at 8:15.

"Les Sylphides" will open tonight's program. The composition in the manner of the pure romantic ballet was first produced in 1909 and danced by the artists of the Russian Imperial Ballet including Nijinsky, Pavlova, Karsavina and Baladina. The music is by Chopin.

"The Fisherman and His Soul," the second number in tonight's program, is a one-act ballet inspired by the story of the same name by Oscar Wilde. The ballet is concerned with a fisherman, his soul which accompanies him at all times although he is not aware of it, and a beautiful mermaid.

"Offspring in the Underworld" will close the program. The action of the ballet is set in a Parisian cafe in the 1870's. There is no plot to the ballet, merely a series of incidents. And, as the program says, "There is neither a sad ending nor a happy ending, but only a closing time."

Wednesday evening's performance will begin with the popular "The Nutcracker," Act 4, by Tchaikovsky. This will be followed by "Les Rendezvous."

"Post Script," an original Canadian composition by Montreal jazz composer Arthur Morrow, will be the final number Wednesday night. The choreography is by Brian Macdonald, a former dancer with the National Ballet.

Ned Stokely, the Playboys and two acts from the Senior Chorus Troupe, Talent Show are the scheduled entertainment.

More than $250 in door prizes will be given away as an added attraction.

Frosh-Soph Name New Treasurers

Frosh-Soph Council has announced new appointments for the position of treasurers for both classes. Peggy Hangsby, East Lansing sophomore, will resume the duties for Linda Coulter, who has left school. Peggy was co-chairman of Frosh-Soph Day last term.

Flock Colleges in Post-War Years

Vets: Educated, Skilled and Efficient

By JACK KOWALEC

The United States has little doubt that its present military forces are the best educated and highest skilled fighting men in the world, and there is little question about the standing of the ex-military—they are among the best educated, the highest skilled and most efficient men in the world.

Why? It began June 22, 1944, when Public Law 346 was passed by Congress, entitling all ex-GI's financial benefits for furthering their education. But nothing much happened until the war finished and the boys came home.

Then it began—the rush on colleges and universities in the quest for knowledge—and three out of every four male students in schools of higher learning were veterans, the highest total yet reached.

Events moved rapidly, and on June 24, 1950, a disaster occurred, which was termed a "policy action." Later, and because of the war, Congress passed Public Law 550, entitling Korean veterans to the same benefits as the Second World War GI's. Also passed was Public Law 594 for vocational rehabilitation of disabled veterans, comparable to Public Law 16 which served the disabled vets of World War II.

Colleges and universities in Michigan now have 20,046 Korean vets receiving benefits from the VA, approximately one out of every five male students, according to the fall enrollment figures released by the Veterans' Administration. About one-fifth of the veterans in Michigan, an estimated 4,000, attend MSU under Public Law 550, including an additional 68 enrolled under Public Law 594.

Since the Korean GI bill will be in effect until Jan. 31, 1963, larger numbers yet can be expected to attend colleges and universities in Michigan, seeking through education to advance and better themselves and their families.

To further show the nation's gratitude to veterans, Congress passed the War Orphans Educational Assistance Act of 1956, numerically known as Public Law 554. This law applies to the orphans of veterans killed in the First, Second, and Korean Wars, providing them with financial aid for their education. Knowland Requests UN Limit Veto Power

Against Use By Nations In Dispute

Admits Russia Might Walk Out

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) Monday night called on the United Nations Security Council to ban use of the veto by any nation involved in an international dispute.

Knowland, the Senate's Minority Leader and a member of the American delegation to the UN, said that if the Soviet Union walks out of the international organization as the result of such an action, "so be it."

"If the action of the USSR during the Korean and Hungarian conflicts are examples of what we must contemplate for the future, the United Nations will have a better chance of survival without the Soviet Union than with it," he declared.

Knowland gave his views in a speech prepared for a Georgetown University lecture. He expects to discuss them with other UN delegates during a visit to New York today.

The senator said there are plenty of "legalistic arguments" why nothing can be done to change the form of the UN.

He proposed, however, that Security Council members put into effect a provision of the charter which says that "a party to a dispute shall abstain from voting."

"If the Soviet Union makes a point of order that they are exempt, let the point of order be overruled by the chair and (the ruling) sustained by the other Security Council members," he said. "At this point the Soviet Union might decide to walk out as Hungary did last December. So be it."

It has been the State Department's view that the "abstain from voting" provision cited by Knowland applies only to negotiations for the peaceful settlement under the charter and does not cover Security Council actions where hostilities or the threat of war is involved.

President Eisenhower has said the United States will work through the United Nations in its efforts to bring peace to the Middle East. He and Secretary of State Dulles have hinted this country might join in a move to vote sanctions against Israel if she fails to withdraw troops from Egypt.

Knowland has opposed any such action as "immoral" unless similar sanctions are voted against Russia for its disregard of UN resolutions against Soviet military interference in Hungary.

The California Senator, a potential candidate for the 1960 Republican Presidential nomination, made it clear he doesn't share Eisenhower's reliance on the UN.

"As I see it," he said, our policy in regard to the United Nations should make it clear that: 1. Our foreign policy is an American policy and is not and will not be tied as a tail to a United Nations kite.

2. The United Nations cannot take a moral leadership in the world unless the Soviet Union veto can be limited to those matters which impinge on its sovereignty and not those where the Soviet Union is violating the sovereignty of others. Hence, we should not compromise our moral leadership by diluting it with a Communist lack of international morality."

Banner-waving Israeli jam street in Tel Aviv, Feb. 5, for a mass meeting against threat of United Nations sanctions against Israel for refusal to withdraw troops from occupied Sinai areas. Under leadership of Ygal Alon, left, Labor Party Leader and former Israeli Army General, the crowd demonstrated "against return of Gaza for freedom of Israeli shipping, and for peace in the Middle East."

UN Relays Pledge

British Fears Relieved On Use of Suez Canal

LONDON (AP)—Egypt has pledged that British ships again will be allowed to use the Suez Canal when it is reopened. Parliament was told Monday.

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd's statement to the House of Commons eased fears that Egypt would bar British shipping from the Canal as long as Israeli troops occupy Gaza and the Gulf of Aqaba.

Lloyd said Egypt's pledge was relayed through the UN. Egypt promised that British ships would be treated in accordance with the 1888 treaty guaranteeing all nations access to the Canal.

Answering many questions, Lloyd said his latest information is that UN salvage crews will have a channel cleared through the 163-mile canal early next month.

He presumably meant a narrow channel for smaller ships. The Canal is not expected to be back in full operation until mid-May.

Asked about some demands in the United Nations for sanctions against Israel unless Israeli troops quit Egyptian soil, Lloyd replied: "I hope it will not come to sanctions."

Osgood Named Editor Of Physical Society

Dr. Thomas H. Osgood, dean of the School for Advanced Graduate Studies and director of the division of mathematics and physical sciences, has been named editor of the American Physical Society.

Since 1956, Osgood has been the editor of the journal of the American Physical Society, "Physical Review."

He is also the editor of the "Physical Review Letters," a new journal of the American Physical Society, which began publication in 1958.

Osgood is a member of the National Academy of Sciences and the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. He is also a member of the American Association of University Professors and the American Association of Physics Teachers.

U.S. Reds Quitting Moscow?

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Communist Party appeared Monday to be breaking away from the strict adherence to the Moscow line.

Delegates to the party's first convention in seven years adopted a resolution declaring major mistakes were left-sectarian in character.

"Left-sectarianism" is defined in Communist circles as bureaucracy adhering rigidly to Marxist-Leninist doctrine handed down by Moscow.

Still to be voted upon, however, was a resolution declaring that the American Communist Party would do its own interpreting of Marxist-Leninism.

Spokesmen said this resolution would be voted upon today. They predicted it would be adopted if the delegates followed the same line of thinking they did in placing the blame for the mistakes.

The adopted resolution said: "These left-sectarian mistakes are the main reason for the unprecedented degree to which it was possible for big business and political representatives to isolate the party."

To end its isolation and expand its mass work, the main task of the party today is to overcome completely the influence of left-sectarian estimates, policies and tactics in all fields of work.

The resolution adopted by the delegates severely criticized the American Communist leadership. While these errors were the property of the party as a whole, the resolution said, "a major burden of responsibility must fall upon the leadership of our party."

On most occasions, the general membership did not have an opportunity to express their opinion of these questions, so that these policies reflected not the collective estimate of the entire party, but rather the thinking of the leadership itself.

FRIDAYS CAN BE FUN!

This little screen of a story dates back to pre-historic college days. It was first told to me by a wombat who was passing by on a dinosaur.

Which way to the room-pull? screamed the wombat.

"Just past Restaurant and over Blueberry Hill," I suggested.

"Thanks," bowed the bat. "Now I'll tell you a story out of gratitude, if you don't mind."

I didn't, and he told so, and the bat told his story.

The Wombat's Tale

Every Friday night on a certain mid-western campus, the students would gang together, male and female alike, and run wild with joy. This weekly event was known as TGIF. The evening found the theaters jam-packed with college brats. The Grille and other favorite places such as the Stables, the Moosehead, and Mow Lee's would turn students away by the hundreds.

But one couple found one Friday night completely different. It was in the middle of winter (Feb. 15th to be exact). Farley Groggish phoned his girl, Farley Ranger (no relation), and asked her to TGIF with him. She replied yes, and he picked her up at her snappy little sorority house at 7:00 p.m. sharp.

Farley accepted his New Hi-Fi Set.

"Where to first, Farley?" asked Farley.

"To the Stables!" yelled Farley, jumping with joy, "Go down a few and start off the evening good and happy!"

They packed their I.D. cards and immediately took off for the Stables at a quick trot. When they arrived, however, the Stables was bare. Where was that gay gang that usually sang, chatted, and wore funny hats? Where was the nerd who usually checked I.D.s?

The Farleys darted over to the Moosehead in quest of a gay college crowd, but found the same story there. No gay college crowd. Anon, the rule couple lost their desire to drink and rushed to Mow Lee's for a sandwich. They relished the thought of making mow-faces at all of their fellow students, but alas and snark there were none to be seen. No faces nor students.

"Let's spend no more time here," sobbed Farley, and they went to the Grille but it was as bare as a baby's bud.

"Where to now?" moaned Farley.

"To the Fieldhouse to see the boxing matches," answered Farley.

Oh, about salvation! What a grand idea it was! For on entering the Fieldhouse they were greeted by 18,994 other students who cried "Surprise, surprise!" Coach Chevy Andersome echoed, "Surprise," and handed Farley a brand new Hi-Fi set equipped with a diamond needle. And they were entertained by the Playboys, Noel Stoney, and a traveling talent show. And they saw their basketball team and the opposing team. And they saw their cheerleaders. And they all cheered. And they saw the boxing matches. And best of all, they saw many other happy students who had received many other happy door prizes.

The moral of the story is: Be another happy student this Friday evening and go to the Basketball Games.

Two-Mile Mark Set By McNeal

Lean Captures 2 First Places

By HAL BATEMAN
State News Managing Editor

Superior team depth proved to be too much for Michigan State Monday night as the Seven-champion Kansas thinned the Spartan thinclads 88-53, in a dual meet at Jenison Fieldhouse.

Although the Spartans could not win four of 15 events, they posted their best performance of the season.

Two fieldhouse records and one varsity mark were broken by Michigan State sweeping the 440- and 880-yard runs and all three places in the 600-yard dash.

The first fieldhouse record was broken when Jayhawk Lowell Janzen won the 1,000-yard run in 2:13.1 to smash the old mark of 2:13.9 set by Illinois' Gene Maynard in 1954.

The outstanding performance of the night was turned in when Jerry McNeal ran two miles in an extremely fast 9:06.1 to better the old fieldhouse mark of 9:17 established by Spartan Warren Druetzler in 1950.

The big performer for Michigan State was junior Dave Lean, who won the 440- and 880-yard runs and anchored the mile relay team.

Lean ran an impressive 1:44.1 in the quarter, 1:53.9 in the half and 4:16 on his leg in the relay. Lean took the baton with a 10-yard deficit but could only make up 15.

The other firsts for Michigan State were taken by Bruce Lillyvald in the 60 and by Doug McFeters in the 70-yard low hurdles.

Lillyvald led the sweep of the 60 by posting a fast .063 clocking. Glenn Burgett placed second and Bob Elliott third in the sweep. McFeters won the low hurdles in a fast .082. He also placed second in the high jump with a leap of six feet.

Sam Eliowitz broke the varsity shot put record for the third time this season with a toss of 50' 7-7/8", however, his effort was only good for second with Kansas' Olympic champion Al Genter winning the event with a put of 53' 2". Sophomore Pete Lustik placed third with a toss of 48' 6-1/4".

Henry Kennedy placed third in the mile but ran a 4:17 clocking in doing so. The Jayhawks, Kenzie Gay and Jan Howell, placed one-two, respectively, in the 1,500.

Capt. Selwyn Jones placed second to McNeal in the two mile with a good 9:19.8 time. Kent Floerke was a double winner for the Jayhawks with victories in the high and broad jump. He won the high jump by 6' 1-3/4" and the broad jump by 22' 4-1/4".

Other top point getters were Kelly Thompson with a second in the high hurdles, Bob Hughes with a second in the 600 and George Best with a tie for second in the pole vault.

Spartan Bob Hughes finishing second in the 600-yd run followed by teammate Ken Dufee in Monday night's opening meet of the season which the track team lost to Kansas.

Michigan Upset

Badgers Win First In Conference Play

Last place Wisconsin won its first Big 10 basketball game of the season Monday night, leading all the way as it upset Michigan, 70-65.

The Badgers drove to a 30-19 lead with five minutes left in the first half and survived the Wolverines' fast-break recovery which closed the gap to three points at the intermission, 32-29.

Wisconsin in the second half maintained an advantage of four to seven points through most of the period.

Bucky Holt, scrappy Badger guard who was starting his first Big 10 game, sank three field goals and five out of five free throws in the first half and wound up with 18 tallies.

The top scorer was Wisconsin's Bob Litzow, who flipped in 20 points. High for Michigan was Pete Tolloson with 17.

The one-two scoring punch of Archie Dees and Dick Neal exploded Indiana to a 91-72 victory over Minnesota in a key Big 10 conference tilt.

Indiana started cold, missing nine of their first ten shots, but closed the half leading, 42-35.

In the second half, the Hoosiers ran its lead to 30 points and were leading, 86-56, with 5:18 remaining in the game.

Neal notched 24 markers on 11 field goals and two free throws. While Dees, the Big 10's top scorer, sank 29 points on 13 free throws and eight field goals.

Illinois after losing Saturday to Michigan State roared back into the winning column by smacking Northwestern, 104-97.

Harv Schmidt dropped in 34 tallies for the winners, while Northwestern's Joe Ruklick scored 33 points, 31 in the first half.

Tarheels Remain 1st in Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The big three of college basketball—North Carolina, Kansas and Kentucky—kept on winning last week and their positions at the top of the weekly Associated Press ranking poll remained unchanged.

But Southern Methodist, UCLA and Louisville showed them what happens to a ranking team that loses just once.

In the 10th weekly AP poll of sports writers and broadcasters, the unbeaten North Carolina Tarheels maintained their margin of about 100 points over the Kansas Jayhawks. Coach Adolph Rupp's Kentucky Wildcats, who have lost only once in their last 14 games, maintained a strong hold on third place.

North Carolina rang up a pair of victories by rather close scores to make it 18 straight this season up through last Saturday.

The top 10 teams with first place votes and won-lost records through Saturday in parentheses:

1. N. Carolina	(15-0)	887

Kobs Accepts Army Mission To Conduct Baseball Clinic

Baseball Coach John Kobs is the latest Michigan State athlete-staff member to be tapped by the U.S. armed forces for an overseas mission.

Kobs, a Spartan coach for over 30 years, will conduct a baseball coaching clinic for the U.S. Army at Nurnberg, Germany, along with old friend, Clint Evans, retired baseball coach at the University of California.

The pair will leave the campus on Feb. 28 and are due back about March 18 or 19. Coaches from some five service leagues in Germany will come together for the clinic.

Kobs will return in time to take the 1957 Spartan baseball team on its spring training trip to Florida. The take-off date for this jaunt is March 24. Assistant Coach Frank Pollerin will direct the athletes in their indoor workouts during Kobs' absence.

Sends Letter to West Germany

Bulganin Seeks Reunification

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Bulganin dangled promises of a new era of friendship before West Germany in a letter published Monday. He proposed "profitable" trade with the Bonn Republic and Moscow's good offices in seeking German reunification.

"War or peace in Europe depends first of all on how we settle the relations between us," he declared.

The Soviet Premier's offer was made in a letter delivered to West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer last Friday. It came as Adenauer was preparing for an election tilt in West Germany with the Socialists, who believe closer relations with Moscow and putting Bonn's rearmament and NATO alliance on the bargaining table would advance unification.

The Soviets made the contents of the communication public as Socialist Leader Eric Ollenhauer arrived in the United States to explain his policies to American leaders.

Adenauer, who himself has been preparing a note to Moscow to promote negotiations on divided Germany, made known last Friday that he had received a Bulganin letter, but declined to discuss its subject matter.

He told a news conference after he had read the letter, however, that the West must avoid provoking the Soviet Union at this stage because of a "developing change in international policy."

He predicted the Soviet attitude toward the West was bound to change because of events in Hungary and Poland and the balance in atomic weapons and guided missile developments.

(Bonn government officials said the Chancellor would reply to the Bulganin letter in a broadcast to the people Wednesday. His broadcast, observers said, would be intended to counter the popular appeal of unification in an election year. West German officials said they believed Russia is eager to tap West German trade to bolster the Soviet economic position.)

In his letter, Bulganin warned the German people against taking "the fatal road" upon which he said they were being pushed by aggressive western forces. This was a reference to Adenauer's policies of membership in NATO and rearmament.

Local Guild To Present Organist

The Lansing Chapter of the American Guild of Organists and the Music Department Concert Series will present Carl Weinrich, Organist, in a concert at the Peoples Church on Friday, at 8:15 p.m.

Admission is by Music Department Concert Series season ticket, or single admission tickets which may be obtained from Guild members.

Weinrich has a distinguished record as concert artist and teacher. Since 1943 he has been Director of Music in the Chapel at Princeton University. In 1950 he gave eight recitals at Harvard as Lamb Visiting Lecturer, which marked the first time this Lectureship was awarded to a performer.

At present, Weinrich is engaged in the gigantic task of recording all the Bach Organ Works, a project which when completed will fill 25 long-playing records.

The program covers music from the sixteenth century to the present day. Prelude, Fugue and Chaconne in G Major by Dietrich Buxtehude opens the concert. Other early organ works to follow are Pavan: The Earl of Salisbury, by Byrd, and the colorful Fantasy in Echo Style, by Sweelinck.

The classic school is represented magnificently by Handel's Fifth Concerto in F Major and Bach's Chorale-Preludes and the Fugue in E flat.

The twentieth century contribution is Paul Hindemith's First Sonata in E Flat Minor.

vail, Israel has no prospect of getting absolute guarantees to fulfill its conditions for withdrawal. At the same time leaders here are convinced that if Israel will withdraw, its conditions will be met.

Furthermore the possibility of economic sanctions as demanded by the Arab-Asian bloc would be ended and the threat of damage to Israel's economy thereby removed.

The proposal is understood to have been made known to Hammarskjöld and to have been put forward with his approval. Indications are that it was also made known, through Hammarskjöld, to Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi.
