Dave Beck Asked to Uphold Ike

Lawyer Says Hall Sought Support

WASHINGTON (AP)—One of Dave Beck's lawyers said today the political support which the teamsters union president gave last year to President Eisenhower was solicited by former Republican National Chairman Leonard Hall.

Arthur Condon, the attorney who sat at Beck's elbow during recent Senate subcommittee hearings, said in a television interview (CBS Face the Nation) that Secretary of Labor Bennett was "not correct" in stating a week ago that Beck's support of Eisenhower was unsolicited.

From "my own personal knowledge," Condon said, Hall sought Beck's support. The lawyer said he conferred with Hall on another matter early last October and that, during the meeting, Hall "asked me if Beck would come out and announce for President Eisenhower."

Condon said he agreed to ask Beck about this and did so. A few days later, he said, Beck drew his support to Eisenhower.

A questioner noted that Beck announced this after a White House conference with Eisenhower. Condon commented that the meeting dealt with trucking industry problems and that any political discussion at the session reflected "normal politeness."

Condon was asked if Beck felt that by supporting Eisenhower he might curry favor with an administration which has been investigating the union leader's income taxes.

Beck's "political sagacity" and intelligence must have told him the effect would be exactly the opposite, Condon replied, conceding the administration would as a result have to take every care to avoid accusations of favoritism.

Condon was asked if he could give any indication when or where the Federal government might bring criminal charges against Beck as a result of the tax investigation.

He replied that it would be in Tacoma, Wash., and it "could be before May 15." But he said he had no special information on that subject.

Condon said he feels certain Beck was "protected in every possible way" in his repeated invocation of the fifth amendment in his appearance before the Senate investigators.

And he said that once Beck has a chance to tell his story in an "impartial" atmosphere—perhaps in court—"it'll be very much surprised if he doesn't emerge whole both morally and legally."

MSU Ambulance Involved in Crash On Maiden Run

The first emergency run of the new MSU ambulance resulted in a hospital-bound child finishing the trip to the hospital in a police car last week when it collided with a car driven by an MSU student.

The ambulance was put out of commission.

The ambulance was transporting three-year-old John Heron, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rodger Heron, 930-A Maple Lane, to St. Lawrence Hospital. It was first struck by a hit-run driver coming out of the Brody parking lot on Harrison Road, according to Lansing Police. However, since the damage was slight, the ambulance continued on its way.

The ambulance was grounded by a second collision in Lansing, at the corner of N. Washington and Shawansee, when it was hit broad-side by a car driven by William Blantic, Lansing freshman.

The child and his parents were taken the rest of the way to the hospital by Lansing Police.

Blantic was ticketed with failure to yield the right of way to an emergency vehicle. The Heron child was reported in good condition at St. Lawrence Hospital Friday morning.

On AUSG President Vote Slated Thursday On Popular Election Bill

MSU students will vote Thursday on a referendum ballot concerning the popular election of the All-University Student Government.

Results will determine whether or not the AUSG president shall be elected by the student body.

The following is a brief history of the Popular Election Bill.

On Wednesday, February 20, Bill No. 24 (The Popular Election Bill) was introduced in the Student Congress by Representative Lee Reese (Snyder). It was sent to the Elections Committee for investigation that same night. The bill stayed in committee for two weeks while an investigation was made.

During the March 6 Congressional session, Bill No. 24 was referred favorably out of the Elections Committee with five minor suggested changes.

These changes were accepted and additional changes were made by the Committee of the Whole. After these modifications were made, Congress voted.

The Popular Election Bill was defeated.

At this point, a group of interested students obtained a petition signed by 10% of the student body to the effect that the students wanted an opportunity to judge the bill.

This recourse is guaranteed.

Slain Wife Of Bandit Discovered

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Patrols hunting the awinding gang of bandit chief Dadsah for the massacre of three Americans have found his pregnant third wife dead on the trail, apparently sacrificed to speed the flight.

Gen. Ali Goltra, commander of Iran's National Police, said Sunday a captive tribesman told him Dadsah killed the women because she could not keep up. She died in the Lashar area of the desolate White Mountains near the Iranian-Pakistan border.

Similarly, Mrs. Anita Carroll of Issaquah, Wash., was reported slain primarily because she would have been a drag on the gang's escape.

She was killed a few hours after the ambush murder March 21 of her husband Kevin Carroll, a U.S. Point Four Aid official, Brewster Wilson, Near East foundation specialist, and two Iranians.

Goltra quoted the captive, Ahmed Vajehi, as saying the gang—then numbering 24 heavily armed men—decided for two reasons to slay Mrs. Carroll a few hours after making off with her.

1. She was unable to keep up afoot with their procession.

2. She could not understand their language.

Vajehi told the police commander the bandits pretended to set her free, then shot her down without warning when she was about 100 yards away. She fell with a bullet in her right lung.

Arrested Saturday in the hunt that still engages more than 1,000 armed men, Vajehi said the gang had imprisoned him as a porter. He witnessed the killing of all the American party, he said, and later escaped.

Also arrested Saturday was another Dadsah porter and six tribesmen accused of reporting to the gang the plans and movements of the search parties.

From Karachi came a dispatch reporting Pakistan's border police had captured part of the bandit gang, including women, who crossed the border last Wednesday in flight toward the Arabian seaport of Gwadar. Some had been wounded, it said, in a clash with Iranian authorities.

Goltra said he had no confirmation. The Iranian police commander said he was convinced the gang was still in Iran. Three of the bandits, including one identified as the killer of Mrs. Carroll, are known to have been slain.

Wants Extra $47 Million Summerfield 'Not Bluffing' In Postal Service Reduction

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Postmaster General Summerfield said Sunday he isn't bluffing in planning to reduce postal services unless Congress gives him the extra 47 million dollars he insists he needs.

Summerfield said the order for the curtailment of Saturday, effective next Saturday, is already in the hands of postmasters all over the country.

In answers to questions on a TV-radio interview the Postmaster General agreed that if the curtailments are put into effect it will mean all mail will be slowed down, including government mail. This no doubt, he said, could affect the operations of other government agencies.

One questioner brought up whether Summerfield was bluffing as Chairman Cannon (D-Mo.) of the House Appropriations Committee has declared.

Saying he wasn't, Summerfield added later that he believes Cannon is "so upset because Congress has failed" to vote for the higher postal rates which the administration has long been seeking to wipe out the Post Office deficit.

"I think he (Cannon) feels the American public and the members of Congress ought to be given a shock" by showing them what will happen if the rate increases aren't provided, Summerfield said.

The 47 million dollars he is seeking, Summerfield contends is needed to maintain full postal services through June 30. The House Appropriations Committee voted last Friday to give him 17 million dollars and put off until next Friday a decision on whether to give him the extra 30 million.

Summerfield said unless the money is in sight by next Saturday he will start putting into effect a series of cuts in service. These would include closing all post offices on Saturdays and Sundays, the discontinuance of Saturday mail services except special delivery items, and an embargo on third class mail.

The Associated Third Class Mail Users, a trade association, has threatened Summerfield with a court fight if he goes ahead with the embargo. Third class mail consists of small merchandise and advertising matter.

In answer to a question Sunday, Summerfield said he would "resist the suit because we do not think they are on sound grounds."

A telegram read on the broadcast asked Summerfield what third class users could do at the deadline, in view of the uncertainty of the embargo, if they had mail ready for delivery. He said third class mailers had been given a chance to prepare for the effect of the order.

Summerfield said it wasn't true as one reporter suggested that the request for the extra money was made at the last moment and created a sudden crisis.

Lectures sponsored by Mortar Board, which will be given Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Music Aud will be distributed from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. today in the Union concourse.

Dr. William C. Moore, associate professor of educational psychology at the U of M will speak on the Topic "To Love and Cherish," concerning the engagement period. Mr. Harry Grater of the MSU Counseling Center will moderate the discussion.

The lecture is open to all seniors, engaged, pinned and married couples. Students must present their ID's to obtain tickets which are free of charge.

Soviets Say: British Should Explode Bomb On Themselves

MOSCOW, (AP)—A Soviet newspaper suggested Sunday the British government should explode its next hydrogen bomb over the British Isles.

Soviet Prime Minister MacMillan to the effect that experimental nuclear explosions are harmless, asked: "If they are so harmless why don't the Prime Minister's military advisors advise him to explode a bomb over Britain?"

The question was not asked seriously, of course. It was a propaganda gambit in the Soviet Union's running campaign to denounce thermonuclear tests by Britain and the United States and take advantage of the feelings against such tests in such countries as Japan.

Marks End of Era in This Area

Grand Trunk Steam Engine Makes Last Run

The mournful howl of the whistle of the steam engine has been silenced. The last steam engine on the Chicago Division of the Grand Trunk Railroad's Port Huron-Battle Creek run made its final trip Saturday. It will be replaced by a new diesel.

Ralph A. Crego, mayor of Lansing, joined members of the Lansing City Council and active and retired railroad officials at the station to watch engine 6327 start its final run.

Railroad fans from all over this area of the state and members of the Michigan Railroad Club made the final trip with the engine.

Engine 6327, built in 1942, is estimated to have traveled at least 15,120,000 miles on its section of the Port Huron-Chicago run, and has carried 14,300 gallons of water and 14 tons of coal.

Large crowds lined the station.

No Major Accidents Reported

Wyoming, Kansas Colorado Hit Hard

DENVER (AP)—Snow swept the Rockies and Great Plains areas Sunday in the third major spring storm to strike the area but forecasters said it lacked the punch of the first two.

Winds generally remained moderate as the storm moved slowly eastward spilling new snow which in some sections was up to 13 inches. Temperatures were mild, ranging from 35 degrees to a low of 20 in the plains regions.

Weather forecasters predicted that snow would continue over the Rockies throughout the day and night, lizzing out sometime early today.

There were no reports of major mishaps and roads in Colorado and Wyoming, where the storm was heaviest, were passable through cars sipped on the roads freely.

Weathermen had feared that the melting of the seasonal snow and a weather front moving south would produce a blizzard worse than the two which have raged over the region since the first day of spring. Today, however, they said the fronts had merged without the devastating results at first expected.

The storm center swirled around southwestern Colorado and at Colorado Springs five inches of new snow lay atop a similar storm still on the ground from the storm which struck last week.

Gales which threatened failed to develop and winds in the Rocky Mountain region averaged between 20 and 25 miles an hour.

The storm center ranged from Casper, Wyo., to the eastern third of South Dakota and the western third of Kansas. Kansas reported all roads open and clear with light snow falling in the northwest.

Last Tuesday another storm dumped 17.3 inches of snow filled with moisture in the Denver area and left the parched Eastern plains with its greatest snow saturation in 22 years.

But Sunday's new snow, lighter and drier, was expected to have little real effect on the improved drought situation.

Throughout the Rocky Mountain region rural roads became impassable as the snow continued. Only emergency travel was advised. There was no reported interruption in bus or airline travel.

A tornado warning was forecast for northeastern Texas and portions of nearby states.

U.S. Weather Bureau forecasters at Dallas said a severe thunderstorm could be expected in extreme southeastern Oklahoma, northeastern Texas and extreme northwest Louisiana and southwest Arkansas.

Summerfield's Brainchild Post Office Cutbacks Stir New Controversy

Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield has stirred up a little public controversy with his threat to initiate widespread cutbacks in the nation's postal service by the end of this week.

Strategically the threat is a good move. It seems well calculated to force Congress into some kind of affirmative action on his demands for an extra $47 million. Summerfield claims that this sum is needed to operate the department until the end of the fiscal year on July 1.

A grant of 17 million dollars was approved by the house appropriations subcommittee last week and consideration on any amount over this was postponed until next Friday. The 17 million dollars was granted to cover the cost of the increased salaries for postal workers approved by Congress last year. Summerfield, however, isn't the least bit satisfied with the present arrangements and has gone ahead with plans for postal cutbacks.

Unless someone stops him, and there are plenty trying, Summerfield will have his changes in effect by Saturday. He has issued orders to close all post offices on Saturdays and Sundays beginning April 13, and to halt all city, village and rural mail deliveries on Saturdays, except special deliveries.

Beginning April 15 he plans to cut post-office window hours to eight and a half hours a day and business mail deliveries to one a day. Starting April 29 all third-class mail, except certain medical items, will be embargoed and the issuance of money orders in first and second class post offices will be stopped.

Summerfield postponed these cuts until next Saturday immediately after the house committee put off the budget considerations until next Friday. He claimed the delay was due to the physical problems of preparation for the cutback and that it was only "coincidental" that it corresponded with the Congressional delay. Whether or not this is true it still gives him a powerful ax to hold over the lawmakers heads.

Questions of legality have already been raised. The Associated Third Class Mail Users, a trade association, has threatened court action if the mail slashes are initiated. They are questioning Summerfield's legal authority to refuse to handle third class mail. Such a move, they add, would throw four to five million people out of work and bring a four billion dollar loss on business.

Though Summerfield admits the economic consequences of his plan he insists that it is necessary to keep the post office running if Congress refuses the full 47 million dollars. He has not released any statistics on how much money the cutbacks would save so it is difficult to determine if his motives are sterling.

The consensus seems to be that the whole business is designed to get the postal rate increase the Postmaster has long been urging. A bill to raise the rates rests in the hands of a senate committee and to date nothing has been done with it. The present controversy will no doubt instigate some kind of action by the reluctant Congress.

Summerfield is justified in his demands for increased rates. In the past few years the annual deficit for the department has averaged $415 million. Increases in population spread over a wider residential area plus inflationary costs have left present postal rates outdated.

If Congressional action had been taken before there would be no crisis now. They are calling Summerfield's action a bluff. Maybe it is, but it seems to be a good enough bluff to stir up some long-needed action.

Another Tragedy on Highways

It's happened again. And it will yet again. And it's been happening day after day, almost every hour. Someone dies in or under the wheels of the biggest killer in our nation.

Two students, both freshmen, both youthful, presumably both happy, will not be seen again on the MSU campus. They died on their way home for the weekend, wrapped around a tree in a four wheeled tomb.

During spring vacation another student was killed on the highway, reportedly racing in his automobile. Last fall one died and several were critically injured in a highway smash. And earlier that term another was killed on his way back to school when his car careened off the road.

When is it going to stop?

Two-thirds of the United States are now casting about desperately in the dark seeking a solution to "When is it going to stop?" Nothing that's been done thus far seems to have had much effect.

States and communities have introduced lower speed limits, stiffer fines for violations, they're building better roads, patrolling them more religiously and making numerous other attempts to reduce highway disasters.

Let's hope for a solution before the terror and heartbreak of death hits close to home again. And that answer lies with you, driver, every time you get behind the wheel.

Think, every time you start around a curve. Is another car coming the other way? Might a tire blow out? Do you love the person sitting next to you?

Newspapers Deny Reports

Suez Conference Shunned by Egypt

By WILTON WYNN

CAIRO (AP)—Sources close to the Egyptian government today threw cold water on reports Egypt was proposing a Geneva conference of Suez Canal users to negotiate on operations.

Two important newspapers, the independent Al-Ahram and the government-backed Al-Shaab, also said "there is no truth at all" to the reports published in other Cairo dailies. The reports had raised hopes in the State Department in Washington that Egypt might be prepared to recognize some rights of user nations in the great waterway.

Egyptians close to President Nasser's government said the idea of a Geneva conference plan was discussed briefly several weeks ago in talks between the United States and Egypt.

They said the idea was dropped in favor of a plan to send Dag Hammarskjold, UN Secretary General, to Cairo for discussions on canal operations.

The informants said they thought the plan worked out with Hammarskjold late in March would be acceptable to the United States. It was not negotiations are continuing through diplomatic channels.

But they said Nasser was unlikely to yield on vital points of control of canal revenue and administration, and the barring of canal users from representation on the canal authority.

Nasser wants to prevent the revenues from being used as a form of pressure against him. "Egypt had its sterling balances in London and they were always blocked whenever the British wanted to pressure Egypt," an informant said. "The same thing happened to our assets in the United States."

"Now Nasser is determined no one will ever be able to pressure us by freezing or blocking our canal revenues."

The Egyptians indicate willingness to permit tolls to be paid into a bank in Switzerland or Egypt but they also insist the canal authority's permanent assets be kept inside Egypt.

This would apply especially to the 25 per cent of all tolls Nasser has said he is willing to put into a special canal improvement fund.

It was reported some suggestion had been made to Egypt that the users share control over this 25 per cent.

In this present mood—distinct of the West—Nasser is reported unwilling even to accept one suggestion that Egypt and the UN technical assistance board set up a joint fund, with the permission of both required before the funds could be spent.

It appeared that talks between U. S. Ambassador Raymond Hare and Egyptian officials will continue for at least a few days. Hare was reported waiting for new instructions from Washington.

UN Undersecretary Ralph Bunche, who returned to New York after discussions here on UN angles, said the situation remained "potentially dangerous" but was quiet at the moment. He added: "As long as the UN is working on it, there is always a basis for peace."

Cathy knew whereof he spoke. He was blinded years ago by a dynamite explosion.

Athletic Bill Sent to Senate

Designed as Protection Of Youngsters in Sports

By LYNN SHEPARD
State News Capitol Reporter

"The protection of youth in sports is not to be neglected," said Representative Ralph Young when introducing his first and only bill of this legislative session to the State Senate. Young, who was MSU Athletic Director for 31 years, is new State Representative for Ingham County's second district (East Lansing).

The bill which Young introduced to the Senate would require minors to be counseled by a circuit court judge before entering into a contract in organized baseball.

In Young's words, "All I hope to do is to stabilize the future of the boy by having the judge tell him what he stands to lose by joining organized baseball too early."

The bill, in effect, would act as a check against the over-anxious "bird-dog scouts" who show only part of the picture.

"This is good business for the scouts," says Rep. Young, "but the boy may be sidetracked the rest of his life... only one out of 100, to be conservative, ever makes the major leagues."

The high school boy who signs for peanuts, hoping for glory and a top salary job, Young continues, "is at a disadvantage. If he doesn't make the grade, he has no college degree to turn to, and he is lost."

Two former Michigan State graduates, Robin Roberts and Bob Powell, make Young's reasoning appear sound. Roberts, the Phillies' perennial 20 game winner, signed with Philadelphia for $25,000 at the end of his junior year, but returned to earn his degree. Financially, he has no worries, but the degree will serve as a security measure.

In the Powell case, the value of the professional degree is

MSU Men Meet British Tonight in Humorous Debate

Michigan State will meet the British in a battle of quips and subtle humor tonight at 8:15 in the Union ballroom when two MSU students will face two British students in a humorous style debate.

The topic of the debate will be "Resolved That Uncle Sam Is the Mother-In-Law of the World." The British will take the affirmative stand while Michigan State will defend the negative.

Lewis Harper, Lansing junior, and Barney Burke, Cincinnati Ohio junior will represent Michigan State. Representing the British will be Gareth Morgan and Merriem

Davies. Morgan is 23 and is in his final year at the University of Bristol where he is working for his degree in history. Davies is 24 and is doing postgraduate work at the University College of North Wales.

The British debaters were selected to make the trip to the United States from candidates representing nine British colleges. They will continue their tour, stopping next at Northwestern University. The event is sponsored locally by the Forensics Union and by the Institute of International Education and the English Speaking Union of London.

Texas Dominates Own Relays As Kansas Takes Second Spot

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—In Texas, where the deer and the antelope play and the runners are faster, a monopoly has been built up in sprinting.

Texas teams hold the recognized world's records in both sprint relays—the 440 and 880. Texas also has Bobby Morrow, the world's fastest human.

The Texas Relays saw these terrific sprints at their height during the past weekend. First Abilene Christian College pushed Texas to the world's record in the 880, then Texas pushed Abilene Christian to the best time ever registered by a 440-yard relay team running around two turns.

Capping it all was a 9.3 100-yard dash by Morrow, Abilene Christian's sprint champion of the olympic games.

The Texas 880-yard relay team shaved 1.3 seconds off the world's mark held by Southern California and Abilene Christian with a 1:22.7 performance. Abilene Christian ran the 440-yard relay in 49.2 to better the world record claim of Texas for this event around two turns by two-fifths of a second. Morrow's great anchor lap made this possible.

Texas has a 40.1 record up for approval. It was established at the Kansas Relays last year but one of the competitors has thus far refused to sign the application, claiming wind conditions were not proper. This is a unique case. While the 40.1 is recognized as an American and a collegiate record, it is not recognized as a world's mark.

The Texas Relays were the finest in the 30 years of this mammoth track and field carnival. Eleven records were set and two tied in three divisions as Texas dominated its own relays with five first places and a tremendous 109 4/7 points. Kansas, which won four first places, had 66 1/7 points. Abilene Christian was third with 37.

It was a great duel between Morrow and Eddie Southern, Texas' Olympic performer, for outstanding athlete of the meet.

Thrill's Gone

By JOE HOFFMAN

THE Harlem Globetrotters just ain't what they use to be. Billed as "Basketball's Greatest Attraction," the Globetrotters have lost much of their earlier appeal as the novelty is wearing off.

Currently touring the country in their eighth annual World Series of Basketball with the so-called College All-Americans, the Globetrotters did little to impress a 10,000-plus crowd at Detroit's Olympia Saturday night. They defeated the All-Americans, 61-40, in one of the dreariest basketball games ever seen in the Motor City or anywhere else for that matter.

True the Globetrotters' games aren't necessarily supposed to be the best in basketball play—there are the clowning aspects which have made them famous in more than 40 countries. But the clowning has disappeared, at least in large part.

One reason for the Globetrotter downfall is the loss of their two greatest performers, Goose Tatum and Marcus Haynes. The two have formed their own array of talent known as the Harlem Magicians.

Tatum is one of those rare phenomena who is difficult to replace. His apparent successor is Meadowlark Lemon, whose only funny claim is his name. Lemon does do some clowning, but not enough to make up for his dismal team-mates. Then, too, he played less than 10 minutes of the game.

Haynes, no doubt the world's greatest dribbler, also has a supposed replacement in Leon Hillard. But Hillard displayed little and the two times he did attempt his one-man exhibition, he was quickly tied up by one of the opposition.

There is simply nothing different about the Globetrotters. For one watching them for the first time, there is no doubt some laughs to be obtained, but even first-nighters were reserved in their praises.

Another detraction from this year's series is the lack of good college talent for the opposition. The All-Americans looked terrible in the onslaught, the only bright spot being the appearance of Detroit's local prodigy, Bill Ebben.

If the Globetrotters are to continue their success in this country, they had better make some quick adjustments. What they have now needs much alteration.

Strong Showing Reported In Spring Training Losses

By BUCK JERZY

Although the Spartan tennis team returned from its spring training trip with a 2-5 record, Coach Frank Beeman said that he was very happy with the team's performance. "We definitely have a stronger team now than what we had last year. The boys looked good in losing to some of the top teams in Florida," he said.

2 Tankers Gain AAU Positions At Daytona Meet

Two Michigan State senior tankers, gained impressive berths at the AAU National swimming meet held the past weekend at Daytona, Fla.

Frank Parrish, a crack freestyler, and Paul Reinke, Big 10 century-yard breaststroke titleholder, were the only Spartan entries that placed.

Swimming for the Indianapolis Athletic Club, Parrish covered the 100-yard freestyle distance with a 52.5 time good for sixth place. He also anchored the third spot 400-yard medley and freestyle teams which registered times of 3:55.8 and 3:30.5 respectively.

Reinke, competing unattached, stroked home second to Cuban Manuel Sangulini in the 100-yard and 220-yard breaststroke dashes, posting respective clockings of 64.9 and 2:40.9.

Reinke's performance qualified him for a possible traveling berth should the AAU team tour Europe.

Beeman said that the doubles combinations of Zarembo-Bisard and Vela-Stepanovic will battle it out for the No. 1 position. His third doubles team will probably be Mescall and Hoffman.

In all the meets played on the training trip, there were No. 7 and No. 8 singles matches and also a fourth doubles match. However, these results did not figure into the final score.

In every meet the Spartans either split or won these matches. Because of this Beeman is pleased with the balance and depth of his netters.

Weather permitting, the Spartans will begin intra-squad competition next week to determine singles and doubles positions.

The netters open their 11 game schedule April 20, against Ohio State at Columbus. Last year the Spartans and Buckeyes did not meet, but Ohio State finished eighth in the Big Ten.

3 Mittmen Lose In Semi-Finals

Michigan State, which won the NCAA title two years ago, didn't place one fighter in the finals at Pocatello, Idaho last weekend.

Harvard Lancoeur, Johnny Butler and Bob Jemilo all lost out in the semi-finals. Lancoeur who beat the defending champion in the opening round, was outpointed Friday by Bernard Garso of College of Idaho in the 125-pound class.

Johnny Butler, 139-pounder, twice NCAA finalist and one-time national Golden Gloves champion was beaten by Ron Rall of Idaho State.

Bob Jemilo, 132-pound Spartan, lost out to Dick Rall of Washington State.

Powerful Idaho State already has the championship wrapped up with the finals still to be fought.

Varsity-Alumni Tilt To Close Practice

Spring football practice opens today for about 90 athletes including 28 lettermen from last season.

After 20 practice sessions the spring workouts will end in the first varsity-alumni game which is to become an "Annual Old Timers Classic."

The game will be played in Macklin Stadium May 4. It is sponsored by the Alumni Varsity Club. Invitations have been sent to 75 ex-varsity players of the last ten years asking them to join the alumni team.

Among the problems facing coach Duffy Daugherty will be filling the left halfback spot left vacant by the graduation of Clarence Peaks, Dennis Mendsk and Vic Zucro.

Planche Martin is the only returning letterman at the post. Freshman Dean Look worked the spot and will be a sophomore next fall.

Don Berger, bothered with bad knees, is the only returning letterman at center.

There are big holes at the tackles due to the permanent injury to Joel Jones' knee and the unknown strength of the knees of Capt. Pat Burke, Pat-

Fast Finish Catches Snead Ford Captures Masters With Final Round of 66

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Unassisted, Doug Ford, who plays golf like a racehorse, stormed down the stretch like Nashua Sunday and won the 21st Masters Tournament with a 72-hole score of 283.

Ford, the swiftest and about the hottest player on the professional circuit, fashioned a final round of 66 at Augusta National, capped by an amazing explosion shot that came out of the sand and plunked into the 18th hole.

Ford threw his club high in the air as the ball dropped. "That was the greatest shot I ever played," he gasped as he came off the green even though many of his most dangerous rivals still were out on the course.

Ford came from three strokes off Sam Snead's pace on the final hot day, caught Sam at the 11th hole and pulled away in a dazzling finish, as Snead faltered on the back nine and finished with a 72 for 266.

The 34-year-old pro from Yonkers, N.Y., who plays for a club at Mahopac, N.Y., had rounds of 72-73-72-66—283 over the 6,980-yard, par 36-36-72 Augusta National course. The round included six birdies and 12 pars and hardly a real bad stroke.

He is the year's leading money winner so far. Last January he won the Los Angeles Open, then flew to Panama and won another tournament a week later.

Snead, the 44-hole leader who still was in front at the nine-hole turn Sunday, ran into a streak of bogeys on the back nine and shot himself out of it with a scrambling par round.

Defender Burke, who started even with Ford, never had a chance as he played the front nine badly, used up 28 strokes there, and came in with 74 for 291.

So at the windup it was Ford, who never had been a drawing card here, all alone on top and Snead — the big attraction for the galleries — second, beaten off in his effort to become the first man to win the Masters four times.

Jimmy Demaret, the other three-time Masters winner, came in with a final 70 and took third place at 287. Then at 288 came Ward.

Kobsmen Drop Final Spring Tilt

Post 6-5-1 Record On Florida Trip

Michigan State lost the final game of its spring training trip, as well as its three game series to Rollins College Saturday, when they suffered a 3-2 setback at the hands of the Rollins squad.

The team returned to East Lansing Sunday with a spring trip record of six wins, five losses and a tie. Also it emerged from the Florida Invitational Tournament with a share of the title along with Duke and Florida State.

The final Rollins game was tied up 2-2, until the fifth inning, when State's rightfielder Barry Fullerton failed to hold on to a fly ball hit deep to right center allowing the decisive run to score all the way from first base.

Ron Ferranowski, Michigan State southpaw, gave up only four hits in the pitching dominated contest, while opposing hurler Hal Lawler relinquished eight hits.

Rollins had won the first game of the series, beating the Spartan squad decisively 9-3 Thursday, but State bounced back to an easy 8-3 victory Friday. Sophomore Norman Creamer gave up three hits and two bases on balls in the first inning to account for Rollins' three runs in this contest, then managed to hold his opponents scoreless for the remaining eight innings. He allowed a total of five hits in the game.

Spartan batsmen collected six hits, including two three-run homers, to back him up.

Celtics Edge Hawks

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Boston Celtics, led by Bob Cousy's 41 points, withstood a tremendous St. Louis rally which wiped out all but one point of an 18-point lead and pulled out a 123-118 victory Sunday, deadlocking their National Basketball Association title playoff at two games each before a sellout crowd of 10,035.

U.S. Booters Beatens

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico defeated a United States all-star team, 6-0 Sunday in the northern zone eliminations of the World Cup Soccer Series. Mexico led 3-0 at halftime.

Pancho Extends String

Montreal 'Rockets' Past Bruins

of five in a Stanley Cup game, made 13 years ago.

"Simmons (goalie Don Simmons of Boston) beat me when I had a breakaway and another time I hit the post," said the Rocket.

The Montreal Canadiens Saturday grabbed a 3-1 decision from the Boston Bruins in the opening game of the best-of-seven Stanley Cup final and the 35-year-old Rocket supplied four of his team's goals.

Montreal Coach Toe Blake, a former teammate on the famous line of Richard, said "the Rocket's speed was amazing particularly when he scored his second goal, cutting in around Fleming Mackell. I don't think I have ever seen him go faster in my life."

Coach Milt Schmidt of the Bruins who played against the Rocket many a time, said:

"He played as well as he ever did."

The Rocket nursed a sore left cheek as the result of a bump from Vic Stasiuk's shoulder when he was checked. He was happy but not effusive.

"Some nights you play well and the goals come along, sometimes they don't," he said.

Richard took a bit of kidding as to why he didn't get a couple more goals, particularly in the third period, and beat his record morning, 12 hours before the game.

"We have trailed in a series before and have come back," said Schmidt. "The fellows will have a good rest now before Tuesday's game. We will have a workout tomorrow."

French Paintings Feature Art Exhibit

Masterpieces of Daumier, Gavarni, Delacroix Shown

The Literature and Fine Arts Gallery in A-2, South Campus, will open an exhibition of prints today by three Frenchmen of the 19th century: Daumier, Gavarni and Delacroix. These have been loaned by the Print Department of the Boston Public Library and the Detroit Institute of Arts. The Detroit Institute has added a preparatory drawing made by Delacroix for his print, Hamlet and the Ghost of His Father.

Junior Awards Petitions Ready

The work of Delacroix was done in the first half of the 19th century and represents the Romantic style so widespread in Europe and America at the time. He is more of a painter than a printmaker. Gavarni and Daumier, working somewhat later, belonged to the realist school. Daumier particularly was deeply interested in the life of the average person of his day and has left hundreds of lithographs depicting their whims and foibles. His contributions to two French publications, La Caricature and Le Charivari, placed him as a master in lithography and his efforts played an important part in the political and social life of France.

Gavarni lacks the flair for humor that characterizes Daumier and likewise the deep penetration Gavarni's figures never achieve that intensity of realism which makes Daumier's people live and perform according to his wishes.

This exhibition will remain on display until April 26.

Petitions for awards for outstanding students will be available at the union desk in the union concourse beginning today.

All juniors who have done outstanding work in extracurricular activities are eligible except members of the Junior Council and class officers.

The fifty semi-finalists will be decided by the Junior Awards Committee and the Junior Council.

These will be narrowed down to the twenty-five finalists by Executive, senior men's honorary. These twenty-five will receive awards during introduction of the Junior Day Dance, April 26.
