Dulles May Relax China News Ban

Says Change Won't Apply To Other U. S. Travelers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles made a qualified offer Tuesday to allow "a strictly limited number" of responsible newsmen to visit Red China in order to give the American people first-hand information on conditions there.

He laid down this policy at a news conference but attached these conditions:

1. Any such "one-shot experiments" must not be permitted to weaken the government ban on travel by other Americans to the Red-held mainland.
2. Prior approval by "leading figures in the newspaper world" is necessary before the State Department acts.

Dulles, in answer to a barrage of questions, also implied a possible third condition:

Such visits by American reporters must not be tied to visits to the United States by Chinese Communist newsmen.

Obviously anticipating the question, he reported he has already suggested a plan which news executives have rejected.

Dulles reported this plan would have involved giving passports to a limited number of reporters who would go as representatives of all news media.

News executives whom he did not identify told him that such a plan was impractical.

Dulles said at present these news executives and the State Department are both "bankrupt" of any idea of how to solve the problem within the limits he has prescribed. But, he added:

"We continue to be receptive to concrete suggestions which the news gathering community may wish to put forward, and we also continue to study the matter ourselves."

Riot, Strike Threaten In Kingdom

"Pro-Western" Plots Charged

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—This sorely beset kingdom was plunged Tuesday into its second political crisis in two weeks. An ugly turn of events threatened.

Premier Hussein Khalidi at a stormy conference, fought off demands of all political parties that he and his cabinet resign.

Khalidi, a man inclined toward the West and backed by King Hussein, has been in office only a week.

Leftist elements called a general strike for today.

Small anti-Khalidi demonstrations broke out in the Arab section of Jerusalem and two other West Jordan cities, Jericho and Nablus.

The Moslem Brotherhood clashed with Communists in Jericho.

The new crisis arose from charges that young King Hussein's palace was in league with the British and Americans in plots against Jordan's independence and liberty.

The charge was made Saturday by Maj. Gen. Ali Hayari, who fled to Syria and resigned as army chief of staff.

Representatives of all political parties met with Khalidi and his cabinet of six independents and one national socialist for a showdown.

King Hussein installed Khalidi after dismissing former Premier Sulaiman Nabulsi and his cabinet made up of pro-Egyptian and Communist factions.

Opponents of the ailing Khalidi demanded that a new cabinet be formed with all parties represented. This would bring Communists back into the cabinet.

In the midst of the turbulent meeting, Interior Minister Said Mufti emerged from the conference room and told reporters:

"The cabinet has decided to resign and Premier Khalidi will see the king to tender his resignation."

This report was picked up by Cairo Radio. Three and one-half hours after the report was flashed around the world, Khalidi emerged at 7:30 p.m. and denied the government had quit.

The elderly Jordanian statesman, who suffers from stomach ulcers, said negotiations still were going on in an attempt to settle the crisis.

Khalidi made his statement after he, Mufti and Education Minister Fawzi went to see the king.

Khalidi and his cabinet met late into the night.

Strict security precautions were being taken in this capital.

GOP Budget Rapped Again By Williams

LANSING (AP)—Republican budget makers took a scolding from Gov. Williams Tuesday for cutting $200,000 from his spending proposals from the State Department of economic development.

Williams, who stayed home Tuesday to recover from an attack of laryngitis, said in a statement released by his office that GOP proposed cuts in his 1957-58 budget would "undermine" plans to encourage new business enterprises to come to Michigan.

"Republican leaders in the legislature have been shedding large crocodile tears over the past months and falsely accusing Democrats of driving business out of Michigan," he said.

The Governor also rapped Republican lawmakers for slashing his proposed allocations for the Great Lakes Tidewater Commission from $50,000 to $500.

"We are one year closer to the scheduled opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway in 1959," he said, "but once again the Republicans make a travesty of the Great Lakes Tidewater Commission."

The performance will run one hour and 45 minutes. Women students will not need late pers.

Can't Get Egyptian Okay

U. S. Will Lay Suez Issue Before UN Security Council

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles disclosed Tuesday the United States will center world attention on the Suez question once again by laying it before the United Nations Security Council, possibly today or Thursday.

Dulles thus signaled the end of quiet U.S. efforts during the past month to win Egyptian acceptance of the UN formula for running the waterway.

"Now that the canal is generally open for traffic, it seems to us that there should be general public knowledge," Dulles told his news conference.

"It does seem to us appropriate that there should be an early report made to the Security Council and perhaps through the Security Council to the world."

Meanwhile, the secretary said, the United States has "no objection" to U.S. ships entering the canal — provided they pay tolls under protest.

Dulles emphasized that the United States would request no UN action, but simply file a report.

He indicated he expects Egypt to make a final answer soon to the efforts of U.S. negotiators to win changes in the Egyptian plan for running the strategic waterway. But he declined to be drawn out on what he thinks Egypt's response will be.

The United States wants the Egyptian plan for canal operations to be of a more binding character to insure that the canal will not become embroiled in the troubled politics in the Middle East. This is a major aim of the set of principles which were drafted by the UN during last year's efforts to win a Suez agreement.

At the same time, Dulles gave a strong boost to Jordan's young King Hussein. Dulles said, speaking of the young Jordanian king: "It is our desire to hold up the hands of King Hussein in these matters to the extent that he thinks we can be helpful. He is the judge of that."

Soviet Boss Sends Letter To Macmillan

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Premier Bulganin has sent a personal letter to Prime Minister Macmillan expressing hope for agreement on all issues in the Middle East. He also promised to stop nuclear tests if the West will.

Moscow Radio Tuesday night broadcast details of the letter delivered to Macmillan three days ago.

The letter appeared to be geared to the new Soviet campaign to depict Moscow as a peace-loving friend of the Arab world.

Bulganin said the possibilities of a settlement have not been exhausted and added:

"I have not lost the hope that, given the good will on the part of the governments of the states concerned, agreement can be reached on all disputed issues."

The letter was delivered at about the same time the Soviet Union was handing notes to the United States, Britain and France urging renunciation of force in the Middle East.

These notes also proposed to scrap all Western military bases in the area as part of a general settlement. The West considered the notes a propaganda gesture.

Egypt Expels Reporter for 'False' News

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Egypt said Tuesday that Barrett McGurn, New York Herald Tribune news correspondent, has been expelled on a charge of handling what it called "fabricated news."

An official spokesman said "McGurn called news items attributed to responsible Egyptian officials which were complete fabrications and definitely detrimental to the Egyptian nation."

In a dispatch to the Herald Tribune McGurn said:

"I assumed the reason for the expulsion was articles I wrote during the last eight weeks in Egypt, and possibly a group of pieces in the past week discussing the troubles of Western and Christian minorities in the face of Arab nationalism and Moslem fanaticism."

The editorial offices of the Herald Tribune in New York said that only one of McGurn's articles on the minorities has appeared.

McGurn, a 42-year-old New Yorker, lives in Rome with his wife and three children.

May Sing Keeps Tradition

By JOANNE BECKER

May 1 will find Michigan State's two major women's honoraries, Mortar Board and Tower Guard, tapping new members under the shadow of Beaumont Tower for the 24th year.

The May Morning Sing ceremonies, which began in 1934, are actually a combination of an earlier tradition started in 1929 and the present tapping.

The first May Sing included songs by Michigan State's college chorus and the men's and women's glee clubs from what was then a newly completed Beaumont Tower.

Prof. Lewis Richards, then head of the music department, conceived the idea of a May Sing which was borrowed from England. A song festival celebrating May Day was an annual event at Magdalene Tower, Oxford University.

In 1934, Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, and Tower Guard, sophomore women's honorary, combined with the May Sing, and the tradition which will be repeated May 1 began.

The background of these two honoraries dates back to 1914, when a group of girls from all the campus literary societies and independent women's organizations organized a local service group.

The basis of membership changed in 1923, and Sphinx became a group elected from the outstanding senior women.

These women helped organize a sophomore women's honorary, which in 1933 became known as Tower Guard. In 1934, Sphinx was installed as a chapter of Mortar Board, national women's honorary.

Tuesday night, Mortar Board and Tower Guard members will serenade the living units of coeds chosen for membership.

At 7, the next morning, the new members will be tapped for Tower Guard on the basis of scholarship, college and high school activities, and potential leadership.

Mortar Board will choose members for their scholarship, leadership and service to the University.

Ike Sees End of Arms Race

Reduction Necessary, He Says

Stassen Leaves After Conference

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower Tuesday expressed new confidence the East-West atomic weapons race can be halted. He pictured an arms reduction as "indispensable" but likely to be a slow process.

The President's views regarding efforts to reach an inspection and controls agreement with the Soviet Union were outlined in a statement after he had conferred for 45 minutes with Harold E. Stassen, his advisor on disarmament matters.

After the conference at the Augusta National Golf Club, Eisenhower's vacation headquarters, Stassen flew back to Washington for a final session with the secretary of State Dulles. Then he was flying on to London for talks resuming there today.

Those talks, which started last month and recessed over the Easter weekend, have given United States officials cautious hope that the Soviet Union finally may be ready to take a small, first step toward disarmament.

Stassen declined to hold a news conference after his meeting with Eisenhower in a comfortably furnished sitting room off the President's tiny office at the golf club. He refused to meet with newsmen, the White House said, because the London negotiations are "only at the halfway stage" with plenty of work still ahead.

But a statement by James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, encouraged the Stassen-led U.S. delegation to London to "follow through thoroughly" in serious efforts to win an acceptable agreement.

Eisenhower's expression of confidence the efforts eventually will be successful was reflected in a reiteration of Dulles' remarks on disarmament in a New York speech Monday at the Associated Press annual luncheon meeting.

"We consider that controls and reduction of arms are possible, desirable and, in the last reckoning, indispensable. It is not essential that controls encompass everything at once. In fact, progress is likely to come

Physical Education Tests Help Determine Coed Speed, Agility

By LOLLI NEUBARTH

Tuesday a series of tests designed to develop a set of physical education standards for MSU women was completed by the recreation department.

Planned to determine the agility, strength, speed and stamina of a typical coed, the testing procedure was initiated and directed by Dr. Janet Wessel, assistant professor of physical education and Miss Evelyn Dillon.

Miss Dillon will use the information in her master's degree thesis.

About 200 women were selected at random from each class to participate in the project.

Tests were devised to determine the coeds' ability in such things as a broad jump, 20-yard dash, obstacle race, situps and knee bends.

The staff also observed posture traits, normal body figure and coordination. Results will supply information to be used in setting up a new physical education course.

According to Miss Dorothy Keth, chairman of the instructional program for women, the course — now in the planning stages — will be called Foundations of Physical Education and will be offered to all freshman women.

It is based on the concept that a physically educated woman not only has skills in sports, acquires an understanding of her individual exercise needs and athletic abilities.

New Union Fund Law Considered

Mitchell to Talk With Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor Mitchell will confer with President Eisenhower Thursday on possible new laws to prevent misuse of union funds.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said Tuesday that Mitchell has been called to Augusta, Ga., where Eisenhower is vacationing. He said they will talk over the possibility of legislation to deal with developments such as have been turned up by the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee.

The Senate committee, in another development Tuesday, announced it will hear public testimony here today from two alleged prostitutes and a deputy sheriff from Portland, Ore.

This is to be another, one-day, chapter of the committee's study of vice in Portland.

Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said the witnesses are being called out of fairness to Mayor Terry D. Schrunk of Portland and Teamster official Claude Crosby.

Kennedy recalled that Schrunk had tried previously to offer the women's statements to the committee, after he and Crosby had come under accusations from gambler James (Big Jim) Elkins.

In announcing the Eisenhower-Mitchell conference, Hagerty said he does not expect that the two will get far enough along at this session to draw up even a preliminary draft of possible legislation.

However, the press secretary said "yes" when asked whether he expects the administration will ask for legislation before Congress adjourns this summer. Mitchell announced several weeks ago that the Labor Department was studying the proceedings of the Senate investigation with the idea of framing proposals for remedial legislation.

Phi Kappa Phi Issues Invitations to Seniors

Invitations to join the national honor society of Phi Kappa Phi have been mailed this week to a select group of seniors who have achieved outstanding scholarship during their college careers.

Unlike most other honor societies on campus, Phi Kappa Phi embraces all colleges of the university. It also has over 50 active chapters throughout the country.

To be elected to the society is an honor recognized by every leading college and university in the country, said Dr. Rollin A. Simonds, local chapter secretary.

In June, Phi Kappa Phi honors high-ranking students in the freshman class, and the high schools from which they graduated. The highest-ranking sophomore is awarded a $50 prize.

Students who have received notice of their election to Phi Kappa Phi are urged to join now, Simonds said, since a second invitation is rarely given.

Students of other all-university honor societies are also eligible for membership.

WKAR-TV is offering five non-credit courses nightly over Channel 60. The courses are being presented on "University of the Air."

Gas Leakage Causes Small Manhole Fire

The Meridian Twp. Fire Department was summoned at 8:15 Tuesday night to put out a fire in a manhole one-half mile east of here on Grand River.

The fire started when a natural gas leakage got into the telephone lines and caused a minor explosion and underground fire.

Repairs were working in the manhole just prior to the break-out of the fire, but they were clear of the hole when the fire exploded and no one was injured.

Telephone service in the area was not interrupted, and damage was slight.

Traffic was blocked on Grand River for the better part of an hour, as the fire and police departments, and telephone and gas companies had trucks and men in the area.

The fire was extinguished immediately.

Former Spitballer Dies at 71

CHICAGO (AP) — Services will be held Thursday for Joseph "Butcher Boy" Benz, 71, former Chicago White Sox pitcher and one-time rival of the great Walter Johnson.

Benz hurled a no-hitter against the Cleveland Indians May 31, 1914 and almost did it again 10 days later when he pitched a one-hit shutout to defeat Johnson and the Washington Senators.

A White Sox player from 1911 through 1919, Benz rated Johnson the greatest pitcher of all time, but he was not one to live in the past.

Five years ago, Benz disagreed with Ty Cobb when the Georgia Peach said modern players could not be compared with the oldtimers.

"Everything else in the world seems to have improved, so why shouldn't baseball," said Benz, who got his nickname from working at his father's meat market in Batesville, Ind.

Benz was expert with the spitball. He resented once stepping into a game with the bases filled and none out and striking out the side on nine consecutive spitballs.

Benz had a 26-76 record during his eight White Sox seasons. In 1919, he quit baseball after his arm went dead.

Newcomers Impressive

Soccer Team Opens Spring Training Drills

Some new faces will be in the starting lineup when Michigan State's soccer team starts its second season next fall, and the large turnout for spring practice indicates that the booters will have a strong second team, according to Coach Gene Kenney.

Kenney has 42 men working out at the revamped soccer field and is optimistic that the team will be stronger than the 1956 squad.

Only four men are gone from that team which finished with a 1-1 record in its first year of varsity competition.

Santiago Cabal, Karl Smith, Wally Burger and Aurelio Guzman won't be back, but Kenney claims he has enough new talent to fill their positions and some good reserves.

Among the impressive newcomers who will be eligible next fall are Noel Drago, Zeno Zamora, Dick Kavonius, Aldo Longino, Bob Pearson, Wolfgang Schumann and Mohammed Hans.

Kenney expects several of these newcomers to earn starting berths, but emphasizes that the lineup will be built around the mainstays from last year.

These include Al Sarria, Ray Burdett, Art Southan, Leo Vander Horst, Angelos Piliis, George Sepetys, Neil Butler, John Asmah, Jody Tatter and Al Sasanko.

Piliis was named to the All-American second team and to the All-Midwest squad along with teammates Burdett and Sarria.

Sarria is the new captain, replacing Burdett.

Probationary Period Over

Ohio State 'Irregularities' Corrected, Wilson Says

CHICAGO (AP) — The Big 10 Tuesday announced that Ohio State's probation has been ended. Kenneth L. Wilson, commissioner of the conference, stated that "irregularities" in the aid program for athletes had been corrected.

The Big 10 said Ohio State on a probationary status April 26, 1956 for a period of one year.

The action was taken then on grounds of "irregularities in the program of job assistance of Ohio State athletes" and "personal financial assistance provided Ohio State football players by Coach Woody Hayes."

In a letter to President Norvick, the commissioner reported he had made several checks on compliance with the terms of probation.

Wilson related that "the irregularities in the work program had been corrected and that athletes who last year had received pay for work that was not performed had made up all time on their jobs prior to presenting themselves for eligibility during the current year."

The commissioner said Coach Hayes has "satisfactorily disclosed to him (Wilson) the assistance he had provided football players from his personal funds."

Wilson also reported that "the university administration, together with Hayes, had provided satisfactory assurances of future compliance with the conference rules, as prescribed in the terms of probation."

The conference, in imposing probation, set no penalties or prosecution of athletic competition, except that Ohio State was ruled ineligible for the Jones Bowl game played last January.

The school was called upon to correct the aid program and provide assurances of future compliance with the Big 10 regulations. In addition, Hayes was required to disclose the details of his financial aid to football players.

Ohio is on probation imposed by the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. That period runs until October. Under that ban, Ohio State can't compete in any NCAA championship events until the probationary period ends.

Skizas' Homer Wins in Ninth

DETROIT (AP) — Three Kansas City home runs—the last one a tie-breaking smash by Lou Skizas on the first pitch in the ninth inning—ruined the major league pitching debut of Don Lee Tuesday and carried the Athletics to a 5-1 decision over the Detroit Tigers.

Harry Simpson drilled a two-run homer in the fourth and Bob Cerv hit a solo blast in the eighth inning of the 23-year-old right hander, son of former major league pitcher Thornton Lee.

This was the fourth straight time the Athletics had whipped the Tigers in four games this season and the third time they had done it by a single run.

The Tigers had two home runs, one by Bill Tuttle in the second and another by Ray Boone in the fourth, but both came with the bases empty. The drives came off starter Rip Coleman.

The home run by Tuttle, his second in two days and the Tigers' third, was a tie-breaking homer, but Simpson's round-tripper gave the A's the lead in the fourth. Boone's homer, followed by a walk, Remy Bertola's single and an infield out, gave the Tigers a 3-2 lead in the fourth.

Virgil Trucks, a Tiger castoff, hurled two scoreless innings and picked up the victory, his first with Kansas City.

Lee walked only one man, allowed seven hits and struck out five before giving way to Paul Foytack in the ninth after Skizas' drive. Lee retired in order the first 10 men he faced.

Tuttle and Bertola collected six of Detroit's nine hits.

Wants More Money

Pancho Says He'll Quit Or Bolt From Kramer

NEW YORK (AP)—World professional tennis champion Pancho Gonzales said Tuesday he's tired of "getting pushed around" by promoter Jack Kramer and he may branch out for himself unless Kramer changes his attitude.

So far Jack has been working for himself, and he's been greedy," the swarthy stylist from Los Angeles added. "As a player and a promoter Jack has made a lot of dough for himself. Now I figure it's time I go mine."

"I'm not a promoter and I don't particularly care to be one, but I'd do anything now to protect my interests—even if it called for setting up a tour myself. I'm the best player in the world. I am in a position to call the shots."

The first major rupture in the Kramer-Gonzales relationship, never a warm one, occurred earlier this month when Big Pancho announced he planned to take a rest after the May 26 match at LaJolla, Calif.

Kramer, promoter of Gonzales' tour with Australia's Ken Rosewall, called Gonzales "stupid" and said he was "getting fed up with this popping off." Furthermore, Kramer said, Pancho was under contract and could not say "when or where he will quit the tour."

"That's where Jack is wrong," Gonzales countered today. "I had a five-year contract with Kramer, starting in 1953, with a year-to-year renewal option. Jack was supposed to renew the option last fall while we were in Australia but he forgot it. My lawyer says I'm free as a bird."

Gonzales is in town for matches in the immediate area. Tonight he and Rosewall played at Princeton University and tomorrow they move to White Plains, N.Y. Kramer, in Los Angeles, was unavailable immediately for comment.

"My hand is okay," Pancho said, referring to a rest on his racket palm which has been giving him trouble. "I want a rest because I've been playing steadily for almost two years. I'm mentally and physically tired. I want to see my family."

"But that's not the main source of my trouble with Kramer. We never have had any brotherly love for each other. Our relationship is strictly business and we're good for each other. He's a good promoter. I'm the best player in the world."

If Jack wants to continue promoting, but give me my proper share of the money and a say in the operations, well and good. I think I can last longer if I don't have to worry about business details. But I'm not afraid to undertake this responsibility if necessary."

White Sox, Milwaukee Defeated

Washington Homer Beats Yanks in 9th

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A 10th-inning home run by rookie catcher Cal Neenan of the Chicago Cubs spoiled Milwaukee's Braves 3-2 and the Cleveland Indians, behind Herb Score's four-hit pitching, trimmed the Chicago White Sox 5-0 to unfrock the last of the unbeaten in major league baseball Tuesday.

Neenan's first major league home run completed the Cubs' comeback from a 2-0 deficit. Low Burdette, cleared by National League President Warren Giles of Cincinnati's "spitball" accusation earlier in the day, was the loser with Dick Littlefield the winner.

Milwaukee's first defeat in six starts dropped the Braves into a first place tie with the idle Brooklyn Dodgers.

Elsewhere in the senior loop, the New York Giants defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 1-0 with rookie southpaw Pete Burnside permitting just three hits.

In other American league action, Roy Sievers' two-run homer in the ninth gave the Washington Senators a 3-1 decision over the New York Yankees; the Kansas City Athletics hit three home runs and beat Detroit 5-4, and the Boston Red Sox, with Ted Williams driving in two runs, defeated Baltimore 3-1.

A double by Walt Moryn and Gene Baker's single gave the Cubs a 2-0 tie in the sixth with the first earned run off Burdette this season.

His string ran 11½ innings. The Braves left 12 men stranded with Cub reliever Turk Lown retiring the side in the 10th with the bases loaded.

A single by Hank Sauer followed a double by Willie Mays to give the Giants and Burnside, making his third try, to stick in the majors, the run they needed in the fourth inning. Ron Kind lost it.

Score, who lost to Billy Pierce and the Sox in 11 innings opening day, struck out seven and walked only two in gaining his first victory and squaring things with Pierce, who failed to last three frames. Rocky Colavito homered for the tribe. Minnie Minsos singled twice for Chicago.

The Cincinnati Redlegs regained their home run touch Tuesday and rewarded Hal Jeffcoat's stout pitching with a 6-4 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals on Bob Thurman's two-run 10th inning pinch-homer.

Pirate Player Suffers From Freak Injury

NEW YORK (AP)—Ramon Mejias, 22-year-old left fielder of the Pittsburgh Pirates, suffered a strange injury in today's game with the New York Giants and had to be carried off the field on a stretcher.

The Cuban outfielder sent a routine grounder to shortstop Andre Rodgers to open the ninth inning and pulled up halfway to first base, clutching his left side. He wobbled around in obvious pain, and players from both teams rushed to his side. He had to be carried off the field on a stretcher.

After a hurried examination, Dr. Anthony Palermo, the Giants' club physician, announced that Mejias was suffering from a muscular stitch in his side. He recommended a precautionary cardiograph. Mejias said he hurt himself while running out a grounder in the third inning.

Spitball Ruling Made Clear

Giles OK's Burdette's Pitch

CINCINNATI (AP) — National League President Warren C. Giles declared today there is no evidence that pitcher Lew Burdette of the Milwaukee Braves throws the illegal spitball.

And he added that it is not a rule violation for a pitcher to moisten his fingers before a pitch providing he wipes them off before he touches the ball. Giles' ruling came in connection with a Cincinnati Redlegs request for an interpretation of pitching rule 8.02 which prohibits a pitcher from putting a foreign substance on the ball, spitting on either the ball or his glove and rubbing the ball in his glove.

The Reds' request came after Manager Birdie Tebbetts claimed Burdette was a "cheater" by throwing the spitball in a game against Cincinnati last week in which Burdette beat the Reds, 1-0. Tebbetts claimed Burdette's practice of placing his fingers to his mouth before a pitch appeared to be a violation of rule 8.02.

He declared at that time, however, he was not protesting the use of a spitball, as such, but merely what he claimed to be a violation of the rule.

Giles said today he had watched Burdette in action and so had veteran umpires. "Neither I nor they are of the opinion that he has, up to now, violated the intent or language of rule 8.02," said Giles. "If and when he or any other pitcher does, I feel confident the umpires will call it."

Giles then referred to instructions which he gave umpires in April of 1955 when said: "There is nothing in this rule which prevents the pitcher from going to his mouth with his fingers, providing he does not apply moisture to the ball or glove. Accordingly, the umpires will not consider going to the mouth or wiping the hands or fingers on neck or forehead an infraction of the rule. If the pitcher wipes those same fingers off before touching the ball."

Giles added that the rule specifically prohibits any player from rubbing the ball in his glove. If that occurs, he in-

"We asked for a clarification and interpretation of rule 8.02 and we have received it," said Paul. "Until now it has never been definitely determined whether it was permissible for a pitcher to go to his mouth. Since we and all clubs are being advised this is the interpretation, that satisfied us."

Burdette, in Milwaukee, said "I figured Mr. Giles would be fair. He always has been with everyone else in the past."

Asked if he thought he'd won vindication, Burdette, who was beaten 3-2 in 10 innings by the Cubs today, said:

"I didn't win anything. I just lost a ball game."

Later Burdette met with General Manager John Quinn and the Braves issued the following statement:

"Burdette feels Tebbetts owes him a public apology, not only to him but to his wife and children as well."

LEW BURDETTE
... Spitter? Me? ...

structed the umpires to place an alternate ball in play and added that "repeated violations are cause for ejection from the game."

General Manager Gabe Paul of the Redlegs who submitted the complaint and rules clarification request to Giles, said he was satisfied with the statement.
