Postmaster Receives Setback

Senate Committee
Refuses Money

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee slammed the door on Postmaster General Summerfield's demand for more money Thursday, but indicated he could try again later.

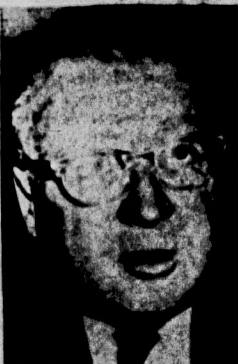

The committee voted not to restore one penny of the 58 million dollar cut imposed by the House in Summerfield's 3 1/4 billion dollar regular appropriation for the fiscal year starting July 1.

However, Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, a committee member, told newsmen this did not necessarily mean the committee would reject a later request for a supplemental appropriation.

In addition to the 58 million whacked off by the House, Summerfield said he would need 7 to 90 million more to take care of an unexpected upsurge in Post Office Department business.

He talked of cutting service again like he did last March in a squabble over this year's funds, unless he got what he needed for next year. He mentioned July 1, when the new government year starts, as a time for cutting down on service.

A Senate Appropriations Subcommittee voted Wednesday, after hearing this, to restore 32 million dollars of the House cut. But the full committee, at a closed meeting Thursday, overruled its subcommittee and pruned the Department's budget back to $3,192,000,000, which was what the House voted.

The next move is up to the Senate.

The motion to leave the House figure intact was made by Johnson. One of the 23 members of the full committee said only about three of those present voted against Johnson's motion.

Congress Winners Announced

4 Seats Undecided
Until Tuesday

Fifty-one persons were elected to Student Congress Thursday night, while four seats will remain undecided until Tuesday because of a rule infraction.

On the other hand, Rep. Ayres (R-Ohio) said that "barring an unforeseen outcry from the public, there isn't a leader picon on the 'awaiting action' roost on Capitol Hill" than the school bill.

Bailey called the bill approved by the committee Thursday a "really bipartisan" compromise. Here is a comparison:

You'll Never Miss It

Operation Processing: Blood to Plasma

By DALE FRANZ

Shortly after giving your 16 ounces of blood, you'll probably find yourself not even missing it. But you may wonder where it goes, and what is done to it.

The average adult has 12 pints of blood in his body. About 45 per cent of the blood is comprised of cells suspended in a liquid. The remaining portion is plasma.

This year, the blood collected in the spring drive will be processed into plasma.

Plasma is mostly water (about 82 per cent), with some protein and small amounts of fats, mineral salts and sugar mixed in. It is separated from the cells by settling or centrifuging.

The blood is placed in a centrifuge and spun around. After about an hour, the cells—every pint contains two and one-half trillion—settle on the bottom, leaving the plasma floating on top.

It is drawn off, cooled, tested, sterilized, and bottled. It can either be stored at room temperature or frozen and dehydrated into a dry solid. To use dry plasma, you simply add sterilized, distilled water and mix well.

Liquid plasma is bottled on an "adult unit basis," and each bottle (200cc) represents

Machines Don't Jibe With Cards

3 Seniors Protest
Election Ordinance

By DAVID STROUD

No election returns for major offices!

Incorrect tabulations and lack of professional know-how brought scoring of major campus election results to an unexpected halt early this morning. Returns will not be available until late this afternoon, Elections Commissioner Jan Cooper said.

"With help from the university's regular operators, we should be able to get results sometime after noon," Miss Cooper stated.

Rex Dawson, AUSG treasurer, in charge of operating the tabulating machines, gave his answer to the problem.

Dawson said the first run showed inconsistencies in scoring.

"The cards issued to the Elections Commission," Dawson said, "were not the standard type they ordered, though similar in appearance."

"A different process is supposed to be employed and we don't know how to set the tabs properly," Dawson added. There has never been difficulties of this kind in elections before.

Miss Cooper, Dawson and their entire committee were visibly upset and annoyed at the setback.

President Bob Becker ordered the ballots locked in the AUSG safe until later today. Becker said, "We'll have those results before 6 this evening."

Protests and appeals showed down the Commission later Thursday afternoon.

Seniors Bill Mansfield, Madison, Wis., Donn Shelton, Detroit and Sally Boone, Zealand, registered protests to the Elections Commissioner. Miss Boone later withdrew her complaint.

The protest stated that by prohibiting graduating seniors from voting, article nine of the AUSG Constitution was being violated.

A review board overruled the protests, stated that, graduating seniors will not be subject to the actions of AUSG due to the fact that all major policy is effective during the ensuing school year.

Becker stated, "As far as I'm concerned, the elections were run according to the ordinance passed by Congress. The Executive feels this ordinance is very inadequate in many ways and strongly recommends a major revision in the future."

Eric Pinn, 64-year-old retired musical comedy star and former Metropolitan Opera bass, died early Thursday at his home in his sleep. He never recovered from a stroke suffered April 30.

Ike Trims Foreign Aid Budget

Then Plans Radio, TV Broadcasts

Says More Cuts Would be 'Risky'

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower trimmed 520 million dollars off his foreign aid budget Thursday, then laid plans to defend his whole spending program in two nationwide radio and TV speeches.

The White House asked the major networks for time early next week, preferably Tuesday night, for what was described as a talk "to the American people on the cost of their government."

Under the Administration's plans, the cost of the government in the fiscal year beginning July 1 would be more than 71 billion dollars. But members of Congress are talking of reductions in terms of from three to six billion dollars.

C. Hagerly, White House press secretary, said that in addition to next week's speech the President would like to address the nation sometime during the week of May 19 on the subject, "Why Mutual Aid Is So Essential in Winning the Peace." The networks have also been asked to set this up.

Eisenhower's foreign aid cut, made amid congressional talk of far deeper slashes, reduced the proposed mutual security program to $3,850,000,000 for fiscal 1958. The President voiced a conviction that it would be risky to cut any deeper.

Samuel C. Bragdon, deputy chairman for public affairs of the Democratic National Committee, said the committee would wait to see whether the President's speeches are "partisan enough" before deciding whether to ask the networks for equal time to make replies.

In connection with the foreign aid budget, Eisenhower told congressional leaders Thursday any further slashes would constitute a serious threat to world peace.

But Republican leaders in the Senate are on record in favor of a billion dollar cut in foreign aid appropriations for fiscal 1958 while Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, is calling for a two billion dollar cut. About one billion was chopped out of Eisenhower's $4,900,000,000 foreign aid request last year.

The President spent 90 minutes with leaders of both parties at the White House Thursday, outlining the foreign aid cut, going over his other budget requests and defending his spending budget of more than 71 billion dollars.

It was reported that the scaled down foreign aid budget contemplates spending $2,800,000,000 for military assistance to American allies around the world and $1,080,000,000 for economic help.

Hagerly told newsmen that Eisenhower told the legislative leaders that without the money he is seeking for foreign aid "world peace could be seriously threatened."

Midjet Autos to Race

Engineering Exposition Features 34 Industries

The annual Engineering Exposition opens this morning at 9 with the theme "Engineering For A Better Tomorrow."

The varied exhibits and demonstrations will be presented by the engineering societies, industrial groups, individual students, armed forces and Jet's or Junior Engineers of Tomorrow, a national society composed of high school students highly interested in engineering.

Approximately 34 industries from Michigan and other states will have exhibits on display today and Saturday in or outside Olds Hall, Agricultural Engineering, Electrical Engineering and the Stadium Concourse.

Midjet autos, powered by two horsepower engines, will race Saturday starting at 1:30 p.m. in the vicinity of Keadie Chemical Laboratory. A traveling trophy will be presented to the organization with the winning auto. NBC's Monitor will broadcast the race.

An exhibition of antique, sport and late model cars is scheduled for the Macklin Stadium concourse.

A number of special attractions have been planned. A dummy and ejection seat from an F-89 jet fighter, three jet plane engines and a 15mm Howitzer cannon will be displayed.

The 28th AAA Group from Selfridge Air Force Base will exhibit the "Nike" guided missiles. First Lt. Paul Hinkley, former MSU basketball player, will be in charge of the exhibition.

Highlighting Saturday's activities will be the annual "May Hop" from 9-12 p.m. Music will be furnished by Tiny Piper and his Aristocrats. During intermission the Engineering Queen will be crowned. Tickets may be purchased at the Union ticket office.

Exhibition hours today are 9 a.m.-10 p.m. Saturday displays may be seen from 9 a.m.-6 p.m.

4 Changes Predicted In Cabinet

Several Members Likely to Depart

HOT SPRING, Va. (AP)—At least four changes in President Eisenhower's cabinet are expected by top industry leaders assembling here for a weekend conference with Secretary of Commerce Weeks and other high officials.

The pending wholesale turnover in the Eisenhower team was a prime topic of lobby gossip among members of the Commerce Department's business advisory (BAC).

The speculation was stimulated by Eisenhower's confirmation Wednesday that Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey soon will resign though no resignation has been offered yet.

Reporters gleaned in private conversation that these further changes may be made in 1957: Under Secretary of the Treasury W. Randolph Burgess is likely to depart at about the same time as Humphrey—probably before Congress adjourns.

Likeliest candidate to succeed Humphrey is Robert B. Anderson, former Deputy Secretary of Defense.

Secretary of Commerce Weeks is expected to quit Washington before the year-end. Several names are under discussion for the job, including that of T. V. Houser, board chairman of Sears, Roebuck & Co. and chairman of BAC's policy committee.

Secretary of Defense Wilson probably will be among the earlier departures, and sentiment as to a successor is crystallizing on deputy Secretary of Defense Donald A. Quarles.

The fourth cabinet member whose resignation is foreseen this year is Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield. Informants said they could not furnish the name of a probable successor.

Humphrey, Wilson, Burgess, Houser, Cordier and Breech all are members of the BAC.

Cyprus

The Greek ideals of freedom and democracy in their real meaning, along with religion and economical improvements. The western nations' cannot build an effective defense against totalitarian aggression, by doing themselves those very things which their defenses are signed to prevent.

For the above reasons the people of Cyprus must be granted the right of self determination, for which two world wars have been fought and millions of human beings have been sacrificed.

Tricks of English diplomacy such as limited self government or separation of the island do not fool the Greeks.

Turkey has no rights at all on Cyprus, she can only ask for guarantees for the Turkish minority which will be gladly given.

Turkey sold Cyprus to England in 1878 because she regarded the island as foreign territory. According to article 16 of the Lausanne Treaty, Turkey renounced all her rights and claims on Cyprus.

The present interference of Turkey in Cyprus affairs is an overly artificial thing, its purpose is to complicate the situation, make the solution difficult, and postpone the settlement of the situation.

According to the recent resolution of the UN, negotiations should start immediately between the elected representatives of Cypriots and the British government.

John Harting, who in the eyes of the Cypriots, is nothing else but a blood thirsty murderer, must be removed from the island, and Archbishop Macarios must return to his people.

We express the wish that the British will try to be generous to the people of Cyprus and restore the friendship between our peoples which we both need so badly.

The Greeks will never hesitate to die for their freedom as they have done many times in their long history. But we declare that we feel sorry for this conflict and that we would be very happy if we were given the chance to patch up our friendship with England. Up to this moment the Greeks have not been anti-British yet, and hope that they won't be forced to be such, they still regard the Cyprus situation as a quarrel within the family.

Another obstacle to the school bill's passage is the prospect that the House might attach an amendment forbidding the use of any money in school districts which practice racial segregation.

7 Americans Rescued After Ditching Craft

Taken on Board Norwegian Ship

LONDON (AP)—Seven Americans were lifted to safety from a life raft Thursday only a few hours after their giant U.S. Air Force tanker plane was ditched in the stormy Atlantic.

The crewmen were taken aboard a Norwegian rescue ship from the raft "in excellent condition."

U. S. search planes circled over head as the Norwegian tanker Sandefjord came alongside the raft and took aboard the survivors—one with head injuries. The Sandefjord then headed for Gibraltar.

The Boeing KC97 came down during a training flight from its base at Lajes airfield in the Azores.

The pilot, skillfully maneuvering the limping craft on one of its four engines, belly-landed on rough seas misted with low clouds.

Air Force officials said the survivors were taken from the raft some 200 miles southwest of the Azores.

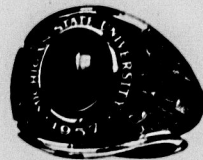

Seven ships, including three U. S. navy vessels on convoy duty in the area, steamed to the scene.

Searching aircraft located the floating plane, with one of its engines torn off, and later sighted the survivors' raft. They kept constant radio contact with the raft until the Norwegian tanker arrived.

Investment Counsellor Testifies Against Beck

Claims He Benefited By Position

Loomis Resigns
As Union Adviser

WASHINGTON (AP)—An investment counsellor who broke with Dave Beck swore Thursday it was "quite apparent" the president of the Teamsters Union used his position for the financial benefit of himself and his family.

Paul Loomis of Seattle told state racketeers he quit as investment adviser to Beck, the union when Beck decided to clear up "talk of your receiving a kickback" of $2,500 on a proposed union loan to finance a Honolulu apartment house.

Two officials of Anheuser-Busch Brewing Co. testified the loan benefited Beck. "I favored Beck" in the beer business, one said. Beck intervened for the company in a strike involving non-Teamster unions.

Beck has been accused of dipping into the union treasury for hundreds of thousands of dollars and now is out on bail on federal income tax evasion charges. He has said he only borrowed the money from the union and every cent will be paid back.

Loomis said he was hired on a temporary basis in December, 1951, to advise the Teamsters in investing some 30 million union funds. He said he was paid $15,000 a year from Feb. 15, 1951, until he was fired in December, 1952, after he reportedly cautioned Beck against holding any financial interest in the channels through which the investments were made.

The reason for the break, he said, was that he considered Beck to be "acting improperly." Millions of dollars of International Union funds, Loomis said, were invested in mortgages through a firm called the National Mortgage Co. of Seattle. He said he was told Beck bought a third interest in this firm for Joseph McAvoy, the brother of Beck's wife. The witness said that against his advice, the bulk of the union money was put into mortgages, which were handled through the concern. Asked whether there was any other reason for Beck's action, Loomis said he was resigning because he was trying to keep the union on the right track. Loomis answered: "I know of no other."

34 Killed In Madrid Air Crash

Landing Attempt
Ends in Flames

MADRID (AP)—At least 34 persons were killed Thursday night in a plane crash near Madrid's Barajas airport.

The twin-engine Bristol from Santiago de Compostela in Northwestern Spain, was swinging in to approach the north-south runway of the field when it dropped to the ground and burst into flames.

The plane fell on a farm adjoining the field and sprayed flaming gasoline over the house.

Four hours after the crash, only seven bodies had been removed.

There were conflicting reports of the number aboard. First reports said there were 30 passengers and four crew members. Other sources said there were 33 passengers, the pilot, co-pilot, radio operator and stewardess.

Reports from Santiago said an American named Hempton was aboard the plane when it took off. His first name and home address were unknown.

The U. S. Consulate in Madrid said it knew of no American of that name connected with any U. S. mission to Spain.

It was the first serious plane crash in Spain since another Aviacon Y Comerio Bristol smashed into a mountain north of Madrid four years ago, killing 23.

Officials at Madrid Airport said they could not explain Thursday night's accident. The weather was cloudy and windy but planes had landed and taken off without difficulty just before the crash, officials reported.

Prime Minister Macmillan and Chancellor Adenauer met for strategic talks in Bonn.

Macmillan Talks With Adenauer On Bonn Aims

BONN, Germany (AP)—British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer Thursday pronounced themselves "in full agreement" on aims—but it was clear their talks in Bonn had produced no full meeting of minds on how to build western defenses.

Macmillan, winding up a three-day visit, told newsmen his conference with Adenauer had not led him to reconsider Britain's decision to cut back her troop strength in West Germany.

Informed sources said Adenauer had sought to induce Macmillan to "reconsider" his plan to shift the British defense program to heavy concentration on atomic deterrents.

Britain already has started withdrawing 30,000 troops from West Germany, along with nearly half her tactical Air Force.

Macmillan reported that he had succeeded in convincing Adenauer the British troop withdrawal plan would leave "no gaps" in the Western defense line.

Adenauer and Macmillan declared themselves dedicated to working for reunification. Their communiqué said "there can be no genuine security in Europe so long as Germany remain divided."

Smythe Succeeded by Son

Maple Leaf President Turns in Resignation

TORONTO (P)—Conn Smythe, controversial President of the Toronto Maple Leafs for a quarter of a century and once called "Peck's bad boy" of hockey, severed his connection with the club Thursday, effective Sept. 1.

He announced, however, he would name a new general manager and coach before resigning and would leave his succession to working organization.

"They will then be free to hire and make whatever changes they see fit if the team does not meet their approval," he added.

The General Manager of the Leafs, Clarence (Happy) Day, resigned March 25. At the time there was talk that a replacement would be sought for Howie Meeker, who coached Toronto to a fifth place finish in the National Hockey League last season.

Administration of the Leafs, Smythe said in his announcement, will be turned over to a "search committee" headed by his son, Stafford Smythe. The latter has been in charge of the Toronto Mariposas, a farm club in the Ontario Hockey Association.

Smythe said he would continue operation of the two million dollar Maple Leaf Gardens, which he built on a shoestring in the days of the depression.

The new committee to run the Leafs will be composed of seven members. Two of these have been serving as board members. They are Eric L. Johnston and John Bassett. Other members are George Mac, William Hatch, Jack Ansel and George Gardiner.

The Maple Leafs built up a reputation for winning Stanley Cup playoffs. Even when they failed to take the regular season championship they always proved tough in the playoffs.

It was under Hap Day, with the tempestuous Smythe pulling strings from the front office, that Toronto won three straight Stanley Cup playoffs in 1947, 1948 and 1949. They also won the Trophy in 1942 and 1945.

Smythe, a five-foot-seven-pound weight, was a proponent of rough and tumble hockey and he never hesitated to join in the excitement when players broke loose at one of his games. Once he was taken to the police station protesting a scuffle on the ice.

He preached fire and brimstone before a game, exhorting his players, "If you can't beat them out in the alley, you can't beat them on the ice."

Logart, a 23-year-old boxer, was a 2-1 favorite to win the rubber match over his 21-year-old free-swinging opponent from Mexico, the bout at the Wald Memorial Auditorium, sold by broadcast and telecast (NBC, 11 p.m., EST) coast to coast.

Their rivalry dates back to March 16, 1956, when the clever Cuban outlasted his game and aggressive rival, Ortega, however, evened the score last Oct. 17 with a split decision over the heavily favored Logart in Boston.

That last victory, plus a two-out-three-edge over Tony DeMarco, earned the lean, five-foot-inch Mexican a No. 2 ranking among the 147-pound division's contenders. Logart is ranked third while DeMarco is rated first.

Logart, however, is rated the edge over Ortega on his greater experience with leading opponents, his boxing skill and fast hands.

Winner of 12 of his last 13 fights, Logart has compiled an impressive 49-6-5 won-lost-draw record, including 19 knockouts. He outpointed Gil Turner in his last outing, March 29. Ortega, winner of seven of his last eight fights, has a 39-8 record, including 17 kayos.

Syracuse promoter Norm Rothchild and the co-promoting International Boxing Club set the distance of 12 rounds, because the winner may be Basil's next welterweight title opponent. DeMarco already has had two title fights with Basilio, losing both his title and the return bout by 12th round knockouts.

Soccer Team Holds First Green-White Tilt Saturday

Kenny Pits Newcomers, First Team

Sarria, Southan Lead White Squad

By LARRY GUSTIN

A new Green-White series starts Saturday when Michigan States' soccer team clashes in an intrasquad game at 10 a.m. at the soccer field.

The game, which will become an annual event, marks the end of the spring training schedule for the regulars, although freshmen and other newcomers will practice for another week according to Coach Gene Kenney.

The White squad, composed of the Spartan first team, will meet the reserves and freshmen who will be wearing green football jerseys.

Kenney added that he will probably juggle the lineup in the second half, but wants his first team to compete together at least once before the rugged fall program begins.

The White team's scoring attack centers around Sarria and Art Southan. This combination scored 18 out of the 23 goals tallied by the hooters in their first varsity season in which they went undefeated last fall.

Sarria scored 12 and Southan six. Southan also chalked up one of the two goals scored by his team during the Olympic tryouts last summer.

Southan competes against his brother, John, in Saturday's game at the center forward position. John, a freshman who won't be eligible yet next fall, is rated by Kenney as one of his top prospects.

The Green squad will be stronger on defense than on offense. Tatter and Asmash have some experience as reserves on last year's team and Norman, the freshman, hockey team, will add his bulk to the Green defenders.

Fullmer, Jones Sign To Meet in Chicago

NEW YORK, (P)—Former Middleweight Champion Gene Fullmer Thursday signed to meet contender Ralph (Tiger) Jones of Yonkers, N.Y., for a 10 round bout at the Chicago Stadium, June 7.

President James Norris of the International Boxing Club made the match after unsuccessful attempts to line up a championship fight for the date.

May Quit Baseball

Dressen Fired as Manager, Dislikes Front Office Job

WASHINGTON (P)—Chuck Dressen said Thursday he might get out of baseball altogether if the Washington Senators don't set up a front office job to his liking.

Dressen, named as field manager two days ago, has been offered the new title of Coordinator of Player Personnel. But he said he won't accept or reject it until he learns what his functions would be.

"I don't know what they want me to do," Dressen said. "I'm not going to take a job just for the sake of it."

He expects to learn more about it at a meeting with club President Calvin Griffith and other members of the Board of Directors, possibly today. Griffith, who went off to Detroit to replace Dressen with Coach Cookie Lavagetto on Tuesday, reportedly was on his way back to Washington Thursday.

Dressen, 36, has been in organized baseball since 1919 as a player, coach and manager. He has a contract with the Senators that runs through this season at an estimated $35,000. As "Coordinator," he said he'd want at least a three-year deal with assurances of adequate money and authority to "rejuvenate" the last-place club's farm and scouting system.

"If it's just to sit beside Calvin and try to figure out trades, then it's no good," Dressen said.

And if the setup doesn't sound promising, the 3-foot-4 baseball taskmaster "might go into something else."

Dressen said he planned to talk with officials of a New York box manufacturing concern (Robert Gair) should he come to an agreement with the Washington directors. He's friendly with the box people, and said he represented them occasionally on the West Coast.

The Dressens keep their home in Los Angeles, where he said the company also has a plant.

Last Place Senators Nip Tigers

Chicago Ties for 1st By Edging Boston

The last place Washington Senators Thursday broke a 10-game losing streak, raking Detroit pitching for 13 hits and an 8-5 victory.

Carmelo Escobar scattered 11 Detroit safeties and was supported by Eddie Yost's four straight singles and Roy Sievers' sixth home run—with two men on base.

The Senators overcame a 1-0 Detroit lead with three runs on Sievers' line shot into the left field seats in the third. They never relinquished that lead and went on to their fifth victory in 23 starts and their first under new manager, Cookie Lavagetto, who took over Tuesday.

Washington blasted the Tigers' 21-game winning streak for five runs and nine safeties in the first six innings and added three more runs off Al Aber in the final two innings.

While the Tigers threatened seriously several times, Pascual was effective in the tight spots and never allowed his opponents more than one run an inning. He struck out five and was helped out by two double plays.

Ted Williams and the Boston Red Sox were cooled off by sizzling Jim Wilson as the Chicago White Sox ended a five-game losing streak with a 2-0 decision.

The triumph moved the White Sox into a first-place tie with the idle New York Yankees, each with a 12-7 record.

Wilson scattered five hits, struck out nine and kept hot-battling Williams from getting the ball out of the infield in four trips.

Trackmen Host Ohio, Penn State

Olympian Threatens Field Mark

Davis, Lean Tangle In Their Specialties

By HAL BATEMAN

Michigan State's busy track team will have its third meet in a week Saturday afternoon when it hosts Ohio State and Penn State in a triangular meet at Young Field.

The field events will begin at 1:30 p.m. with the first running event, the mile run, starting at 2:00. The meet will not only be scored as a triangular affair but also has separate dual meet between MSU and Ohio State and MSU and Penn State.

Only enough Ohio State and Penn State met two weeks ago in a dual meet with the Buckeyes coming out on top, 71-51. Last Saturday the Buckeyes scored 57½ points compared to 67½ for Illinois. Purdue placed third and Wisconsin last.

Penn State placed third in a triangular meet earlier this season against Navy and Villanova, while Michigan State's thincade downed the Chicago Track Club in a dual meet Tuesday, 88½-51½.

The Spartans downed Ohio State in an indoor dual meet, 74½-66½, with Buckeye Gell Davis scoring 26½ points.

Ohio State was the surprise team of the Big 10 indoors, placing second in the conference championships. Michigan State was third only a point behind while Penn State is always a power in the East.

The top two attractions of the meet are Davis and Lean, who both competed in the Olympics. Davis, the Buckeye mace-gang, won a gold medal in the 400-meter hurdles while Lean picked up a silver medal in running on Australia's second place mile relay quartet.

The top Penn State entry is Rod Perry, who has a 14 flat clocking in the 120-yard high hurdles already this season.

Davis will probably compete in both hurdles races, both sprints, the broad jump and anchor the mile relay team. He is the Big 10 outdoor champion in the 100 hurdles.

Lean, British Empire champion, is the favorite in the 440-yard dash, and will run in the 100 hurdles besides anchoring the mile relay team.

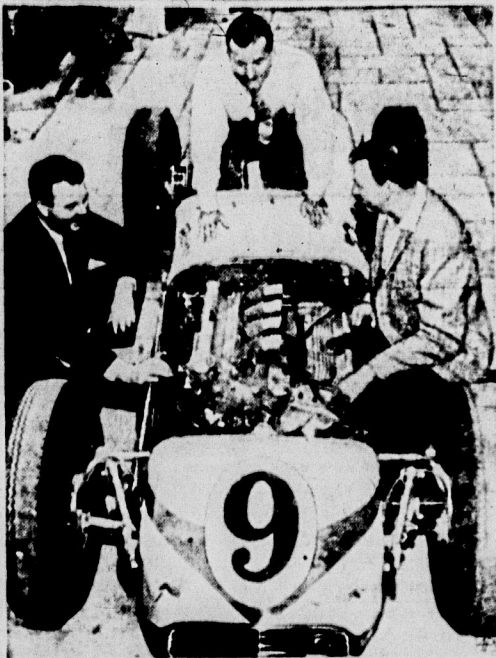

Perry, the Nittany Lions' all-around man, will run the hurdles races, and will probably compete in the high jump and shot put.

Ohio State has the edge in the sprints, and the jumping events with Michigan State possessing the best middle and long distance strength while Penn State is strong in the hurdles and the distance run. All three teams possess good strength in the weight events.

Besides Davis, Ohio State also has good depth with middle distance runners Ted Storer and Jack McClain, weightman Gene Cotterman and pole vaulters Stan Lyons and Jim Weaver.

Besides Lean, Michigan State's strength lies with distance runners Selwyn Jones, Gay Denslow and Ferdy Kennedy, sprinter Bruce Lippyblad and weightman Sam Elsworth.

Six Young Field records are in danger of being broken during the meet. The marks that could be bettered are in the 880-yard and mile runs, the 120-yard low hurdles, the 120-yard high hurdles, pole vault and discus throw.

Driver Sam Hanks, rear, and the builders of the Belong Exhaust Special inspect the low-slung racer before shipment to Indianapolis for the Memorial Day classic.

Match Ruled Incomplete

Indiana Leads Netters. Key Matches Rained Out

Rain ended Michigan State's tennis match with Indiana Thursday as the Hoosiers led, 4-2. The Spartans will continue play today at 2:30 p.m. against the University of Detroit and tomorrow they meet Notre Dame. Both matches will be at home.

Big wins by Bill Bisard and Luis Vela kept Indiana from taking the match. If either had lost, the Hoosiers would have had five points and enough for a victory. The match will go on the record books as being incomplete.

Bisard, 31 year old veteran and State's No. 1 man in singles, pulled a major upset in defeating Jerry Parchute, considered one of the top three players in the Big 10.

Bisard opened fast with a smashing 6-0 victory in which Parchute was able to take only six points. The second set was much closer, but the Spartan was rushed the net continuously to outlast his opponent, 11-9.

This was Parchute's first loss of the season and the Indiana senior holds victories over Keith Anderson of Northwestern and Carl Noble of Illinois, who have both beaten Bisard.

With Indiana leading 4-1, rain halted Vela's match with Ken Dillman of the Hoosiers. Vela was ahead, 5-4, in the third set. A victory for Dillman, last year's Big 10 champ in No. 6 singles, would have given the match, so Indiana.

However, the slender junior from Bethlehem, Pa., came back strong to take the third set, 6-4. He won the first set, 8-6, and lost to Dillman in the second, 6-4.

In other singles matches Capt. George Stepanovic lost to Indiana's captain, Elam Huddleston, 6-4, 6-2. George Fryman took No. 3 singles with a 6-4, 6-1 win over State's Mike Zarembo.

In No. 4 singles, Bill Petruik defeated Ron Mesall, 6-3, 7-5, and Foster Hoffman lost his No. 6 singles match to Bob Gray, 6-0, 6-1.

Michigan State's No. 1 doubles team of Bisard and Zarembo won the first set from Parchute and Huddleston, 7-5. The Indiana duo took the second set, 6-4, and with State ahead 5-4 in the third set, the rains came and the match was called incomplete.

Petruik and Fryman won, 8-6, in the first set of No. 2 doubles over Vela and Stepanovic. This match was also postponed because of rain with the second set in a two-all tie.

The third doubles match between Mesall and Hoffman of Michigan State and Gray and Dillman of Indiana did not start.

Indian Ace Is Slightly Improved

Score's Sight Is Still Undecided Question

CLEVELAND (AP)—Herb Score looked better Thursday, but the doctors still couldn't say whether he sees better.

The Cleveland Indians' prize outfielder, who was hit in the right eye by a line drive in Tuesday night's game, continued to improve at Lakeside Hospital.

Newsmen and other visitors still were barred from his darkened hospital room, but Dr. Charles I. Thomas, an eye specialist, and Dr. Don Kelly, team physician, issued this report:

The swelling around his injured eye and broken nose "has been reduced and in general he looks better today." His condition is "slightly improved" and "at this time there appears to be no other complication."

Score will be positioned for the next day or so.

"We don't want him to move or talk very much because we don't know the condition of the retina and there is always the danger of detaching it," said Dr. Thomas.

As soon as I can see the retina clearly I can tell you pretty much what the prognosis (medical forecast) will be. I may not be able to see it, though, for two or three more days because of the hemorrhage."

Reports so far indicate that Score will be able to see out of the injured eye—the question is how much. If examination shows no retinal detachment, he could be released from the hospital quite soon, Dr. Thomas said.

Gil McDougald, the New York Yankee infielder who hit the ball which injured Score, said the young pitcher had sent him a message by Dr. Kelly.

It was a personal rib. It made me laugh and feel he's getting better," McDougald said.

The Yankee left town Thursday after losing two games to the Indians. Score listened to a radio account of last night's 10-4 victory for his teammates.

Score's fiancée, Nancy McManis, was expected in Cleveland Thursday night from Notre Dame, Ind., where she is a senior at St. Mary's College. She may not be allowed to visit him until today.

Score's uncle, Arthur Flood, an aviation executive from Hagerstown, Md., arrived Thursday and conferred with Dr. Thomas. He also plans to visit his nephew as soon as the doctors permit it.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Browns Sign Gulan

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns of the National Football League Thursday signed Ed Gulan, 23-year-old Steubenville boy, who played for Mississippi State in 1956-57.

Bold Ruler's Blinkers

NEW YORK (AP)—Sonny Jim Fitzsimmons, trainer of Bold Ruler, decided Thursday to put blinkers on the 3-year-old colt when he runs in the Preakness at a mile and one sixteenth Monday at Pimlico. Bold Ruler will be shipped to Baltimore by van Saturday for the race in which he will be ridden by Eddie Arcaro.

Pro Sports Face Court Trust Law

All Major Leaguers Slated for Testimony

WASHINGTON (AP)—Commissioners of major sports leagues, player spokesmen, government officials and Congress members all are expected to testify at House hearings on the business status of pro sports.

Chairman Celler (D-N.Y.) of the House Judiciary Committee announced Thursday that a subcommittee would start hearings next month on various bills which were introduced after the Supreme Court held that professional football is subject to Federal Antitrust laws.

Rep. Keating (R-N.Y.), senior GOP member of the committee, said later he assumed sports leaders would be invited to voice their opinions, as well as player representatives, and possibly individual athletes.

Atty. Gen. Brownell also probably will be invited to express the Justice Department's viewpoint. Keating said, after sponsors of the different bills explain their proposals.

Both Celler and Rep. Hillings (R-Calif.) have recommended extending antitrust jurisdiction to organized baseball.

Rep. Harris (D-Ark.) has submitted a bill to exempt all team sports. And Keating has put in a measure to subject wholly business aspects to antitrust regulation but to exclude such matters as contract reserve clauses and rules of the games.

Commissioner Bert Ball of the National Football League has persistently urged Congress to hold hearings in hopes his sport would be given an exemption.

Commissioner Ford Frick of baseball heads a committee appointed to represent the Majors and Minors in Congress if the need arose — and this would seem to raise the need.

Denslow Is Top Distance Man

By LARRY WROBLEWSKI
State News Night Editor

Two freshmen boys have provided the names for the college coachmen of Gay Denslow, editor of Michigan State's top distance runner.

Working on his father's farm during the summer, Denslow, 19, was named after the two boys. And when he was away at school he received annual milk checks to pay for his expenses.

In his college athletic career, Gay also experienced a unique distinction by captaining the cross country team two different years.

He became interested in running when he attended Evans High School where he competed three years in track and one year as a hurdler.

To further training during the fall, Gay followed the advice of his prep coach, Sol Wolfe, and joined the cross country squad in his senior year.

At distance running the coach, Denslow's barrier began to reach his true potential. For in the four races he ran, he grabbed two honors three times.

But the final achievement to an outstanding season was becoming the class C cross country state champion in 1955 by post-the Big 10 and NCAA crowns in 1955. Last fall Gay captured the cross country team to the Big 10, ICA and NCAA titles.

The 22-year-old, 120-pound, 5' 10" runner participated in three years of indoor and outdoor track. However, 19, was sidelined in his sophomore season due to a scholastic ineligibleity.

Denslow's best time for the mile to date is 4:19, which he ran at the Ohio State Relays. His top clocking for the half-mile course was established at the Chicago Daily News Invitational Meet in 1:55.

With the progress of this season, Gay has reached his top running form.

This was displayed at the invitational meet Saturday at Young Field. In the two-mile contest Gay edged Capt. Selwyn Jones at the finish, copping the event in 9:25.

In Tuesday's meet against the Chicago Track Club, he won the two-mile race in 9:23, his personal best.

Gay's future plans seem set after obtaining his diploma in June. He will join his father as a partner on the family's dairy farm.

But by no means is Gay cutting his running career short. He also plans to run at a member of the athletic club.

In concluding Denslow remarked: "The coaching staff of Head Coach Karl Schladenhan and assistant Fran Dittich has played an important role in my life, both on and off the field. And the members of this team are the finest bunch of athletes anywhere."

John Castiglione, with 23 points and Gene Grazia with 11 points of a possible 25 finished first and second respectively in the baseball throw off. Castiglione and Grazia had tied for first place with four others with a total of 21 points.

The following persons are to compete first round horseback matches by the end of the week or be dropped from further competition:

Robert Walt vs. Jack Carey
Jim English vs. Russ Noggle

Chisox to Drop Powell

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago White Sox Thursday asked waivers for the purpose of releasing $30,000 bonus player, Bob Powell, an outfielder-pitcher from Michigan State University.

Powell was signed by the Sox June 8, 1955. With the asking of waivers on Powell, the Sox roster immediately was reduced to 28 active players, including outfielder Jim Landis who is on the National Defense Service list.

ing an impressive clocking of 10:12 for the two-mile course, which set a new state mark.

Running outdoor Class C track as a hurdler, Gay placed ninth at the state meet in his junior year. Hard work paid off at the state finals the following season when he took second place.

In 1953 Denslow came to Michigan State to further his studies as a well known student.

In his sophomore year, Gay was honored by being named honorary captain of the hurriers.

Steady improvement in his running can be verified by the slacking of his personal time for the four-mile distance.

Performing as a sophomore, Gay recorded a time of 21:20, as a junior 20:29 and 20:18 last fall.

Denslow never was a member of a winning team in high school. But at State the hurriers took

17 Countries Represented Festival Climaxes International Week

International Festival—the gala climax of International Week—will take place Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. in the Aud.

Take a miniature world, the 12th annual Festival will have together displays of customs, cultures, rituals and entertainment.

Thirty-two booths are being erected for the affair, each one exhibiting foods, clothing, customs and scenes of other interesting articles from foreign countries.

The booths will be manned by students from 17 countries, plus 4-H Club, faculty and fraternity members.

Three floor shows are scheduled at 11 a.m., 3 p.m. and 8 p.m. Ed Benson, Munrovia, Liberia, senior, will emcee the three shows.

An Arab dancing girl, a Pakistani vocal group, a Chinese dance, and an American jazz combo are a sample of the variety offered on the program.

A Philippine girl will perform a dance, described by Mike Reilly, International Club vice president, as a "beautiful dance among flaming candles on an otherwise dark stage."

The Bandurra, a professional Ukrainian group from Detroit, will also perform a colorful dance.

At the booths, students will have a chance to see how to use chopsticks, how to smoke an Arabian water pipe, how to eat an intricate Indonesian status, and see face to face such articles as tribal witch masks.

President John A. Harnish will speak at the beginning of the 8 p.m. stage show, the last of the three shows planned.

Many of the foreign articles appearing at the festival will come from the recent International Fair in New York.

Countries that will erect booths are Korea, Japan, China, India, Pakistan, the Arab countries, Venezuela, Colombia, Brazil, Indonesia, Spain, Argentina, African countries, Greece, Iran, Laxian and Israel.
