Ike Asks Congress For Funds

Stresses Value Of Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower asked Congress Tuesday for $3,500,000,000 for foreign aid, but the odds were against him getting that much.

Congress usually trims aid requests by a billion dollars last year, and the economy talk is much stronger than usual this year.

In a message to Congress, Eisenhower put his appeal on a good investment basis, saying:

"In supplementing our country's defense, the tested and proven mutual security programs give the American people more security per dollar invested than any other expenditure they make."

And he took a dig at those who want to scrap too much.

While Soviet intrigue and power continue their probing and pressure in every critical area in the world, it would be a grave folly for our country to stop these efforts or to capsize them through an over-sweeping 'no' to scrap at their expense."

Eisenhower's message was a prelude to his speech on television and radio, asking public support of his foreign aid program.

The President noted that his $3,500,000,000 request is $55 million below the $3,555,000,000 estimated last January. He also put new stress on giving economic aid through loans, as contrasted to grants, and several members of Congress commented favorably on that angle.

Of the total, Eisenhower asked for $2,800,000,000 for defense assistance programs—military equipment, services and defense support. He recommended that the defense assistance be separated from economic development assistance, and said economic aid should be provided primarily through loans, on a continuing basis.

Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader, welcomed "the President's shift of emphasis" to the loan aid, and said the Senate would go over the money items carefully.

"Since January," Johnson said, "I have been urging the administration to adopt a loan program which would help other people to help themselves rather than become dependent upon our money."

Sen. Caphart (R-Ind.) said he had been advocating the loan concept "for more than 10 years" as preferable to a "give-away basis."

Chairman Gordon (D-Ill.) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee predicted a good reception for the idea of stressing loans. Gordon also took note of the $50 million dollar reduction cited by Eisenhower and said:

"I believe that if we can find other places in the program, both military and economic, where we can cut further without endangering the mutual defense effort, we should do so."

Sen. Bridges (R-N.H.), chairman of the Senate Civil Policy Committee, said he believed the aid program could be reduced to $2,400,000,000, or 465 million less than Eisenhower asked.

Mass Exchange Dinners Planned For Greek Units

Mass exchange dinners among the fraternities and sororities will be the last Greek Week activity planned only for Greeks.

Each Greek organization will send three groups of five people each to other houses for dinner at 8 p.m.

The IFC Sing will be held in the Aud Theatre night instead of the Band Shell as was previously announced. Trophies will be given to first, second and third place winners.

The two top winners of the seventy sing, Delta Gamma and Alpha Omicron Pi, will sing their winning selections.

English Chosen

AFL-CIO Names Beck Replacement

WASHINGTON (AP)—John F. English, No. 2 national officer of the Teamsters Union, was tapped Tuesday to fill Dave Beck's vacant chair in high AFL-CIO council. He promptly revealed that Teamsters officials will soon consider ousting Beck as union president.

English, 68-year-old Teamsters general secretary-treasurer and longtime foe of Beck within the union, was chosen earlier in the day to succeed Beck as an AFL-CIO vice president and executive council member.

Beck, accused by Senate racket investigators of fantastic money deals with Teamsters funds—accusations on which he has invoked the Fifth Amendment—was removed from the same AFL-CIO posts Monday.

Selecting English to Beck's AFL-CIO jobs was like rubbing salt in the wounds administered to Beck by the AFL-CIO chiefs. They acted unanimously both in ousting Beck and in naming English his successor.

English, a veteran of more than 30 years as a Teamster, said in an interview Tuesday night that the Teamsters executive board will meet soon to consider the Beck situation.

Tornadoes Strike Again In Midwest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A new rash of death-dealing tornadoes struck sections of the midcontinent Tuesday on the heels of the season's worst twister—one that left at least 50 dead and more than 200 injured in Kansas City suburbs Monday night.

The latest outbreak of tornadoes hit scattered points in eastern Missouri and rural Minnesota.

The Missouri Highway Patrol reported "several fatalities" and about 50 injured at Fremont, a town of some 200 persons in southeast Missouri. Nearly all structures in the town were demolished, the report said.

Other dead were reported at the Missouri communities of Van Buren, Desloge and Caniwell.

Another twister in the series which broke out Tuesday afternoon caused heavy damage near Columbia in southern Illinois. The Minnesota storm whirled into Rush City, a farm center in the eastern part of the state. It injured two persons seriously and destroyed a number of farm buildings.

Prof. Buell to Review Theater Productions

Presidential Reception Set For Tonight

President and Mrs. John Hannah will host spring term graduates from four colleges at an informal reception tonight from 7:30 to 9:30 at Cowles House.

The reception is the second to be held this spring. Guests will include degree candidates from the Colleges of Home Economics, Agriculture, Engineering and Science and Arts.

The first reception, held Thursday, was attended by graduates from the Colleges of Communication Arts, Education, Veterinary Medicine and Business and Public Service.

According to Starr Keesler, director of alumni relations, all students receiving doctoral, masters' or bachelors' degrees this term are invited. Invitations were sent to all graduates whose addresses were known.

Degree candidates attending the reception will meet the deans of their colleges and various faculty members, as well as Dr. and Mrs. Hannah.

Members of the five campus student publications enjoy themselves at the annual Publications Banquet, held Tuesday night in the Union Ballroom. Dr. and Mrs. Hannah and other administration leaders were guests.

Drama Group Schedules Original Play

An original one-act play, "Good and Black," by J. C. Hourigan, St. Clair Shores sophomore, will be featured in the Studio Workshop production to be presented tonight at 7:15 in 49 Aud.

Directed by Lois Labine, Toledo, Ohio, senior, Hourigan's play is one of four student-directed productions offering a wide variety of dramatic types.

The play, placed in a southern prison camp during the Civil War, is a serious study of the effect of imprisonment on two prisoners, one a Confederate deserter and the other a Negro accused of spying for the North.

The popular, novelist Irwin Shaw is the author of "The Shy and Lonely," an ironic comedy dealing with life in an eastern adult summer camp. "It is directed by Alan Seeger, Bellevue, Wash., graduate student.

Isaiah Sheffer, New York City graduate student, is the director for three scenes from Shakespeare's "Henry IV, Part I." Centering around the character of "the fat knight," Falstaff, the scenes consist of the famous comic story of the robbery at Gadshill.

The fourth offering is Munroe Scott's "Three Cheers for Woody," a presentational farce with audience participation. The director is Charles Raison, Grosse Ile sophomore.

There is no admission charge for the Studio Workshop, and the public is invited.

Amendment To Delete It Defeated

Will Allow Use Of Student Fees

Michigan State's proposal to use up to 40 per cent of its student fees for new construction won final approval in the State House of Representatives Tuesday night.

An amendment by Rep. Hollis Conlin (R-Tipton) to delete the student fees provision from the capital outlay bill failed to get the necessary 56 votes.

The final vote on Conlin's amendment was 48-48.

The proposal would transfer funds from student fees into the financing of construction bonding issues.

Legislators also voted down, 49-48, an amendment by Rep. George Sallade (R-Ann Arbor) increasing the operating appropriations for the University of Michigan.

An amendment to add over four million dollars in capital outlay funds for seven state institutions was defeated, as the lawmakers adhered to their "hold-the-line" policy against increased state spending.

The seven schools affected were MSU, the U of M, Central Michigan College, Eastern Michigan College, Western Michigan College, Michigan Tech, and Ferris Institute.

During the lengthy floor debate on the Conlin amendment, Representative Conlin warned against "marking student fees" and declared that the financing plan "would allow expansion without regard for the state's educational needs."

Rep. Ralph Young (R-East Lansing) countered that "Up to now there has been no other plan offered. It seems to be the only way to handle this need each year."

The U of M will also be allowed to use student fees for construction as the proposal now stands.

Together, MSU and the U of M will have about $6,129,000 for bonding purposes. House financial experts estimated this would permit about 63 million dollars in construction projects over the next 15 years.

The capital outlay bill for higher education is still awaiting final passage in the House.

A group of House Republicans joined with Democrats Tuesday night to approve a proposed $2,826,000 appropriation to build a home and training school for mentally retarded children at Plymouth.

Mollet Quits as Premier

Coty Urges Resignation Postponed

Fiscal Matters Trouble Cabinet

PARIS (AP)—Socialist Premier Guy Mollet handed in his resignation Tuesday night after losing a confidence vote in the national assembly.

President Rene Coty seized on a technical point to delay acceptance. Coty said he will consult with assembly leaders and decide later whether to ask Mollet to stay on.

Coty's point was that Mollet's resignation failed to muster an absolute majority—currently 298 votes—as required under the constitution to force a premier.

Resting on his "best the rebel" fiscal program of belt tightening, Mollet said he will insist on staying.

Emerging from Elysee Palace, Mollet told reporters that if Coty asks him to continue he will refuse.

The president, preparing for a state visit to Washington, faces the bleak task of trying to replace the Mollet regime that had proved to be the most stable France has had in postwar years.

Mollet and his cabinet were applauded as they filed out of the assembly that had turned them out of office. They drafted the letter of resignation and sent Mollet on his way to the presidential palace.

The assembly by 247-218 rejected his policies, including new taxes and cuts in non-military spending to pay for France's campaign to crush the national rebellion in Algeria.

Mollet had been in office for 16 months, a postwar record.

The assembly ignored last-minute warnings that Mollet's downfall would be regarded as a disavowal of Foreign Minister Christian Pineau, who now is in New York debating the Suez Canal dispute.

Last Exhibition of Year

Gallery Now Showing De Martelly's Works

By SHARIE SCHNEIDER

For its last exhibition, the Art and Fine Arts Gallery, A-2 South Campus, is presenting a retrospective showing of the works of John de Martelly from about 1930 to the present.

De Martelly, at present, divides his time between Cranbrook and MSU as instructor in the graphic arts.

He has studied in Philadelphia, Italy and England. On his return to this country in the early 1930's he was selected to teach the graphic arts at the Kansas City Art Institute.

A number of his paintings and lithographs of this period were exhibited and he was represented in the Best of the Year.

Since leaving Kansas, De Martelly has been experimenting with non-objective work. His recent lithographs, "Cronache," will be reproduced in Art Today, published by Stanford University.

In addition to his work, the exhibit also contains several photographs of him in action by Aldo Scavini, Scavini is a photographer and student in the art department.

This display will continue until June 7.

Lambda Chi's Honor Dean King With Serenade

The Lambda Chi's serenaded Dean Tom King at 10:15 Monday night at his home, in response to instructions received in the Personal column of the State News.

Though the Dean claimed no knowledge of the theft of the fraternity's Junior 500 card, the Lambda Chi spirit was not dampened. By Tuesday the members had located another clue in the ticket office of the merry-go-round at Lake Lansing Amusement Park.

Meanwhile, other preparations for the race continued. Dick French and Erik-O are scheduled to announce the race, and the Playboys will provide music. The bleachers at the starting line were constructed Monday.

Dr. Munger To Review African Visit

Dr. Munger's African Pressure Cooker will be the topic of Dr. Edwin S. Munger of the American University, Field Staff, Inc., at a meeting of the History Club tonight at 7 in 31 Union.

Dr. Munger, who returned from his 10th year of study in Africa, commented that Africa was a dark continent mostly in the minds of Americans.

The last of four AFES members to appear on campus this year, Dr. Munger will also speak to Delta Phi Epsilon, national foreign service and trade professional fraternity, Thursday at 7 p.m. in 31 Union.

The talk at Delta Phi Epsilon will also deal with aspects of South African life.

The AFES, organized five years ago, is a non-profit corporation for the purpose of providing leading universities with the opportunity of direct reports from overseas, according to Dr. Lawrence W. chairman of local arrangements.

Dr. Munger received his Ph.D. degree in geography from the University of Chicago and was the first Fulbright scholar sent to Africa. Prior to joining the AFES, he was an associate of the Institute of Current World Affairs.

Lopez Says AL Race Is a 5-Team Scramble

NEW YORK (AP)—Al Lopez, accustomed to getting his nose bloodied by the New York Yankees, thrust a defiant neck forward again Tuesday with the prediction: "I don't think this is the Yankees' year."

Lopez said as he sat back in spring training that he didn't go for all that talk that the Yankees are unbeatable. "I added the soft spoken manager of the Chicago White Sox, Alvin Karpis, to the list. I think they will not only do well but be beaten."

Furthermore, Lopez said that any one of four clubs, not just one, could do the trick. Asked to expand and identify the favorite teams, Lopez said the Cleveland Indians did so by naming his own fast-moving White Sox, the Indians, Detroit and Boston.

The way Lopez said, Lopez continued to be positive before the night game with the Yankees at Yankee Stadium. In that he said in these clubs have improved themselves since last year while the Yankees have not. "I don't think they have."

A check showed that on May 15 last year, Mantle was hitting .300 and Pate .285. They had a total of 10 runs batted in between them. Mantle 52 and Pate 24.
