Ike, Adenauer End Washington Talks

Chancellor Opposes Initial German Inclusion in Pact

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer ended his talks with President Eisenhower today and promptly made known his opposition to including Germany in any initial disarmament agreement with Russia.

The 81-year-old German leader told a giant news conference of some 300 reporters "it wouldn't serve any useful purpose" to cover his homeland in any "first step" arms reduction plan.

The first East-West disarmament plan, he said, should involve mainly the "two great antagonists"—Russia and the United States—to test Soviet sincerity.

Identities Still Secret

Serenades Honor 50 Senior Women

Fifty outstanding senior women were serenaded last night by members of Mortar Board, Tower Guard, and AWS.

The serenade, traditional at MSU since the 1930's, gives the first clue to the identity of the 50 women chosen by Mortar Board for their scholastic achievement and participation in campus organizations.

Lighted lanterns were left at the doors of 23 living units last night, corresponding in number to the lanterns to be left at the homes of the women.

Navy Man Shoots Up Cargo Ship

San Francisco (AP) — An enlisted "prisoner at large" early today slugged a guard, shot one ensign dead, gravely wounded another and held out on the bridge of the docked Navy cargo ship Uvalde for more than six hours, but finally surrendered quietly at 12:30 p.m.

Marines and sailors covered the ship and the docks with rifles and riot guns, but passed up repeated chances to shoot the Negro while his mother and two chaplains tried to talk him into coming out.

The tall, bespectacled gunman was Jimmie Henderson, 23, of nearby Marin City. At 6:15 a.m. he battered the Uvalde's security guard on the head with a pistol and ammunition.

Quickly Henderson killed Ensign Arthur Lusk Morris with a bullet in the head and shot Ensign R. D. Harrison, 22, of Grand Rapids, Mich., three times in the abdomen and arms.

Morris, 26, paymaster and legal officer of the Uvalde, had nothing to do with Henderson's court martial conviction Monday. Harrison, on the other hand, served as Henderson's defense counsel.

After the shooting, Henderson ran from the officers' quarters. The hostage or hostages slipped away unharmed after two hours, but Henderson moved to the vacant wheelhouse and scoured all places.

Finally, Marine Sgts Thomas Smith and Reavus Cheatham, both Negroes, went to the wheelhouse and talked briefly to Henderson.

Sgt. Smith came to the rail and shouted to those on the wharf: "The man has surrendered."

Health Problems Topic of TV Talk

Swimming safety and college health problems will be discussed on the WKAR-TV program Thursday and Friday.

Dr. Clifford G. Menzies, staff head at Olin Health Center, and other staff members will be on a "Medical Forum" at 7 p.m. Thursday to discuss intramural sports accidents, and problems of mononucleosis.

"People Helping People," a Red Cross program outlined by Coach Charles McCaffrey, Jr., will be the topic of Friday's program at 8 p.m.

Dancers Bobbi Williams, St. Clair Shores senior, and Judy Valentine, Chicago, Ill., sophomore, perform at the Senior Council's touring talent show, staged Tuesday night in the Union Ballroom.

Army, Rebels Clash in Eastern Mountains

Cubans Say Havana Explosion Results From Saboteur's Work

Havana (AP) — An underground explosion blamed on saboteurs wrecked Havana's power system Tuesday and the army clashed with a rebel band in the mountains of extreme eastern Cuba. The blast, which killed eight blocks from the national capitol.

The army said there were casualties on both sides in the fighting with the rebels led by Fidel Castro.

Castro's force landed from Mexico last December and bivouacked in the highlands to make guerrilla warfare on President Fulgencio Batista's forces.

Castro's men operate among mainly hospitable people of Oriente Province.

The blast knocked out Havana's electric power and injured five persons.

Col. Sinesio Cuesta, asst. fire chief, said a tunnel had been discovered leading from an unpopulated house situated in front of the plant where the explosion occurred.

The blast left a deep crater. It seriously damaged several nearby houses.

Neighbors reported they had seen light in the vacant house Monday night.

About 1,000 blocks of houses were without electricity. Many business places closed because there was no light and no air conditioning.

The explosion occurred about 2,000 feet from a power plant.

An underground gas line also was broken by the blast, causing fires.

Batista's presidential palace and several ministries are in the blackout area.

The power failure also affected water supplies since water pumps could not be operated.

Could Kill 82 Million, It's Said

Scientist Reports To Congressmen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress got a grim forecast Tuesday that by 1960 Russia will be capable of blasting America with H-bombs equivalent to 2 1/2 billion tons of TNT and inflicting a death toll of perhaps 82 million.

Charles Stoffer, Weather Bureau scientist assigned to the Civil Defense Administration, testified that:

"We were advised an attack of this size would within enemy capabilities by 1960.

These awesome estimates, which assume no advance evacuation, were presented to the Senate-House Committee on Atomic Energy at hearings exploring the hazards to humans from atomic radiation and fallout.

Dr. Lester Machta, in charge of Weather Bureau research on fallout, told the committee that radioactive debris falling down from nuclear weapons tests is concentrating in the world's north temperate zone, with its heavy population centers.

In contrast with earlier theories, he said this is true even of fallout that drifts down for years from the stratosphere.

Atomic Energy Commission experts have embraced the theory that fallout from the atmosphere is distributed fairly evenly over the entire earth.

Machta quietly delivered his conclusion to the contrary. He said it is supported by still secret facts obtained within the last week or two.

This new idea of a concentrated fallout in the temperate zone may undermine to some degree the AEC contention that nuclear weapons tests pose no fallout threats to the public.

Many politicians and religious leaders have challenged this position and a controversy over it has spread around the globe.

The AEC itself issued within a few hours a statement saying it is convinced that widespread hazard from fallout is not a necessary complement to the employment of larger nuclear weapons.

It said this "conclusion was based on the success thus far achieved in developing nuclear weapons having maximum effect in the immediate area of the target but with greatly reduced widespread radiological fallout."

"Progress continues to be made," the commission said, adding that it "intends to continue its efforts in this direction."

The AEC statement went on to quote from past public statements by President Eisenhower and others which related to U.S. efforts to develop "cleaner weapons."

Machta testified there is solid evidence of a concentration of strontium and other fallout from the stratosphere between the 25th and 35th degrees of north latitude.

But he ducked on grounds he is only a meteorologist, when the committee began asking questions on the effect of this concentration on people.

Sen. Pastore (D-R.I.) asked whether the witness knows or merely assumes "there is concentrated contamination in the stratosphere in the temperate zone."

Formosa Reduction Pondered

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hundreds of Americans may be pulled out of the Nationalist Chinese island of Formosa in the wake of last Friday's anti-American rioting there.

The State Department announced Tuesday the government is "actively considering" reductions in both the U.S. military and civilian personnel now stationed on the island bastion off the coast of China.

At the same time, Secretary of Defense Wilson said the rioting, in which the U.S. Embassy was sacked and several persons injured, "highlighted the need for the United States to take another look" at its military aid program on Formosa.

Wilson also disclosed he is seeking a 12 per cent reduction in the number of military men assigned to all foreign aid and advisory groups overseas.

The defense chief, appearing before a Senate group, made it plain that he has no present intention of cutting back the number of U.S. combat troops at foreign stations.

"Marching men are still the symbol of power in many places," he observed.

There are now about 10,000 Americans on Formosa. Lincoln White, State Department press officer, said U.S. military and civilian personnel totaled 4,900 with 4,000 dependents, and that there were 1,100 others engaged in missionary work, business and other activities not connected with the government.

In the State Department there is reportedly a strong feeling that the Chinese on Formosa resent the American population in their midst, particularly because of the higher standard of living enjoyed by the Americans.

It was said that reductions in the U.S. population have been under consideration for some time and that the question was given urgency by last week's disorders. Friday's rioting apparently was touched off by the acquittal, in a U.S. military court, of an American soldier charged with slaying a Chinese. The soldier said he shot the man in self-defense.

MSU Faculty To Speak at High Schools

Eight MSU faculty members will leave the campus this week to participate in commencement programs at 10 Michigan high schools.

The men, appearing under the auspices of the MSU Speakers' Bureau, will speak at eight programs tonight and two Friday evening.

Speakers for tonight are: Dr. William C. Butt, department of communication skills, at Colon Community Schools; Dr. Charles P. Pedrey, director of the speech and hearing clinic, at Cherryland School; Elk Rapids, Henry C. Dykman, assistant coordinator for high school cooperation, Armada Area School; Robert E. Sharer, acting asst. director for university extensions, Lake City Area School.

Dr. Conrad A. Poz, department of communication skills, Eastern School District No. 3, Custer; Dr. Wilson B. Paul, director of the Lecture-Concert Series, Vandercook Lake High School, Jackson; Dr. Fred S. Bowling, department of communication skills, Hanover-Horton Schools No. 13, Hanover; and Dr. A. Wesley Rowland, university editor, Sandusky Community Schools.

Speakers for Friday are: Dr. Dowling, at Pigeon Community Schools; and Dr. Rowland, at Hesperia Community Schools.

Shows Revive Threat of Floods in South Texas

DALLAS (AP)—Floods which chased thousands from their homes revolved slowly Tuesday, but hundreds more posed a threat of further flooding over a wide stretch of South Texas.

Up to three inches of rain descended before mid-afternoon across South Central Texas, deep into the Rio Grande valley and along the mid-Texas coast. More showers or thunderstorms were predicted in nearly every part of the state, keeping alive an almost unbroken siege of destructive weather the past six weeks.

At least 500 families still were unable to re-enter homes flooded in and near Fort Worth by the swollen west fork of the Trinity River.

By Methodists — Presbyterian, Baptist, Lutheran, Episcopal, Catholic.

By Baptists—Methodist, Presbyterian, Lutheran, Episcopal, Catholic.

Dr. Rokeach said ideas of similarity apparently come, in large part, from the ministers, since the same questions were asked of various systems of other religions were the same as those of the students.

The MSU psychologist then made a study to determine if, in practice, the students follow the table of preferences in selecting a denominational school. He found that they do.

Alpha Phi Omega Welcomes 15 in Formal Initiation

In a ceremony of formal initiation, 15 students, two faculty advisers, a scouting adviser and an honorary member joined the MSU Beta Chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity.

Elbert R. Moses, Jr., asst. professor of comm. skills, and Dr. Karl Wright, department of agricultural economics, became new faculty advisers.

William Thacker, chief of the Lansing Scout Office, was made a scouting adviser.

Mazie Kent, Detroit sophomore, was made an honorary member of the fraternity.

APO members will usher for the Senior Swingout and for Water Carnival. They will also assist PanHel in handling publicity for the June 8 car wash. Winding up this year's projects, APO will count ballots for the '57 Club.

Elections Fines Levied by Court Slated for Loans

All fine money collected in connection with illegal voting in student elections by the All-University Judiciary is slated for the AUSG Small Loan Fund.

Student Congress so moved Wednesday night in a brief meeting. The bill was introduced by Representative Barrie Ailey (East Lansing).

Congress also voted to continue the 25 cent student tax collected as part of student fees at each term's registration for classes. This money is in large part the financial backbone of AUSG operations.

Dirty Politics

An editor's chore isn't an easy one. Since my appointment as editor-in-chief of State News April 1, I have attempted to produce a fair and unbiased newspaper.

On one or two occasions, this rule has been violated, mainly due to a reporter's misunderstanding.

In Monday's State News, an article appeared with the headline "Senior President Revote Stated by Elections Board." I consider this article as by far the greatest violation of our policy for three reasons:

1) I have discovered that the writer of the article was biased towards one of the candidates, and as a result tended to write it slanted.

2) The cheapest and most ruthless methods of politicking were used by the candidate and his campaign managers.

3) I too was ignorant and uninformed on the matter and permitted it to be run.

As a result, my own publication has been used to better the standing and reputation of the one candidate, although such a policy had never been practiced prior to this.

It was not intended to take any stand on the senior class presidential dispute, but find myself compelled, as a result of unscrupulous campaign methods, to present all the facts and let you decide.

John Rogers claimed publicly, that he had underwritten a reelection. It has been proven that Rogers rebuffed continuously against such a reelection and undoubtedly can't define "underwrite" or he intentionally made such a false statement to the State News Monday night.

After Rogers and Pat Burke had both been quoted concerning the article, Rogers and his managers fruitlessly spent hours calling the writer in an attempt to add more to the already slanted story.

This threesome approached me with a 100-word statement at 1 a.m. describing the righteousness of the candidate, despite the hour, accuracy or fairness to Burke.

Two of the three members of the AUSG Elections Review Board will admit to me that they had been approached by Rogers or his partners regarding the reelection.

I have listed the KNOWN facts, but haven't made any final conclusions—I leave that to you.

Campus Roundup

By MEL REITER State News Editor-in-Chief

The All-University Congress at Minnesota has blasted the administration for its actions which would evict for the 1957-58 school year all the regular dormitory students from two floors of a men's dormitory and introduce in their place "a special group of students."

Their main point of contention is that none of the dormitory's elected officers were consulted prior to the administration's actions.

Residents believe that these "special students" are football, basketball and baseball men.

Fourteen office-holders in Southern California's Student Activities were fined from $25 to $50 for illegal communication and using unauthorized material during their campaigns.

One candidate was disqualified for undisclosed reasons "which arose during the investigation."

One hundred fifty-two Purdue students have been selected to serve on "Know your Purdue" activities panels for Freshman Orientation Week next fall.

The function of this group is to inform the incoming freshmen of the importance of activities to a well-rounded college career.

The Hardin-Simmons University publication relates the tale of the note found between a student's new license plates. "Help! I'm being held a prisoner!"

He wasn't surprised though. He knew the plates were made in the state penitentiary.

AWs at the University of Oregon has proposed a rule where freshmen women would observe a 7 p.m. curfew on Sundays.

A mob of about 1,500 cloth throwing Bowling Green State University students blocked traffic, set straw fires and tussled with police last Friday in an early morning demonstration against liquor regulations.

Under state law and university regulations, liquor may not be brought on campus or used in social events (poor kids, dry campus).

California collegians, along with thousands of other West Coast residents, have been "all shook up" this spring because of earthquakes. The Ventura, Calif. College publication records some comments after one tremor.

Unidentified woman student: "Now I know how a milk shake feels."

Male, wobbling out of the coffee shop: "I'll never drink the stuff again." His friend: "Rock 'n roll is really taking over."

Letters to the Editor

Marines Make Pitch

To The Editor:

Because of the many telephone calls from Michigan State University students to the 50th Special Infantry Company it is apparent that there are some questions to be answered regarding the current program of the Marine Reserve.

The program of particular interest to college students is the new six-month program under the Armed Forces Reserve Act.

This program allows the college student who is between the ages of 18 1/2 and 22 to enlist for six months of active duty training and to spend the remainder of an obligated six years of service as a member of his hometown reserve unit.

The obligated time was recently reduced from eight to six years for the Marine reservists.

All men who enlist in the six months program will be draft delayed. They will be able to leave for their initial training any time prior to 120 days after their enlistment.

If a Michigan State student leaves for his six months training in June or early July he will have his active duty tour completed in time to return to classes for the winter term.

The results would be a fulfillment of his military obligation with the loss of only one term of school and a chance to earn extra pay while attending the weekly drill meetings at his local reserve unit.

There are four shipping dates in both June and July on which enlistees will be sent to San Diego, Calif. for training. Those interested in the program should enlist as early as possible so that arrangements can be made for them to return to classes in January.

The six months of training will be fulfilled at San Diego, and Camp Pendleton, Calif. The enlistee will receive 12 weeks of regular Marine boot camp at San Diego and will receive training in individual combat tactics, amphibious warfare and cold weather combat at Camp Pendleton. He will also receive two weeks leave during the six months period.

The remaining five and one-half years obligation to be fulfilled as a member of a local reserve unit need not be the Lansing unit nor the unit through which the reservist enlists. He may train weekly at the Lansing unit while at school and transfer to his hometown unit during the vacation periods.

June is just around the corner. Interested students should apply for enlistment as soon as possible to go in on the six months program in June or July.

The above information should clear up any questions on the student's mind. If any questions regarding the program have not been answered call IVanho 4-0470 or drop in at the 50th Special Infantry Company, 1620 E. Saginaw St., any weekday or Wednesday evenings.

For Needy Areas Group Plans Book Drive

Men's Council is planning to organize a drive for good technical and scientific texts and magazines, suitable non-fiction works and "classics" of fiction.

These would be distributed to selected areas overseas which have shown a need for such materials.

Don Greene, Jackson sophomore, chairman of the project, has said the books will be presented as a gesture of friendship from the students of MSU to underprivileged students all over the world.

The council was made aware of the need, Greene said, through letters from overseas describing how many persons are now being deprived of an education because of lack of texts.

Direct requests for aid have been received from Korea and the Philippines. In addition, committee members interviewed about 12 foreign students on campus to determine whether they personally felt the drive would be useful.

One week will be designated next fall term when the men will collect used books and magazines of all kinds from the students and faculty.

Men's Council hopes to make the project a permanent service function of the organization. It may "adopt" a college or university and stock its library.

Anyone having texts which have lost resale value is urged to keep them until fall, Greene said.

The Student Services Building.

To House Organizations Date of Completion Set For Services Building

With the expected completion of the Student Services Building next January, the Union meeting rooms will be released back to student organizations, according to Dean of Students Tom King.

The three-story building is located next to the Horticulture Building and across from the Home Management House on East Circle Drive. Dean King said the Student Services Building was chosen for that site because of its compact size, which allows the Horticultural Garden to remain.

The Men's and Women's Divisions of the Dean of Students Office will be located on the first and second floors.

Also housed there will be the Placement Office, High School Cooperation, Alumni Office, MSU Development Fund, Counseling Center, Housing Office and the Foreign Student Adviser's Office.

Student government and other organizations will also be on the second floor, with third floor housing all student publications.

An outstanding feature of the building is the sundeck on the third floor, overlooking the gardens.

According to King, the heaviest traffic in the building is expected in the Placement Office.

The building, designed by Ralph Calder of Detroit, will have four entrances and two elevators.

Cost of the building was estimated by King at approximately two million dollars.

J-School Awarded Dual Honor

The School of Journalism has received full accreditation in its advertising and news-editorial sequences this year by the American Council of Education for Journalism.

The announcement was made by Edward A. Lindsay, editor of the Decatur (Ill.) Herald and Review and president of the council. The action was taken at the council's recent meeting in New York City.

MSU's School of Journalism is one of 18 schools and departments in the nation accredited this year. The total accredited list now stands at 45 schools and 102 sequences.

The A.C.E.J. accrediting team visited the campus last fall to make its evaluation of the School of Journalism program under Dr. Paul J. Deutschmann, acting director.

The Department of Journalism under Prof. A. A. Applegate was formerly accredited by the council in both sequences. The A.C.E.J. program calls for re-approval of schools on its list each five years. This year's visitations by accrediting teams completed the second round of visits requested by major schools and departments of journalism.

Audio-Visual Center Schedules 2 Films

Historic decisions of the Supreme Court which helped establish basic American rights will be illustrated in the weekly Audio-Visual Center presentation today at 3:30 in the Music Auditorium. "With Liberty and Justice for All" will deal with the court rulings "New Salem," a short biography of Lincoln's early adult life, will also be presented.

Yankees' 3-Run 10th Inning Beats Boston's Finest, 8-5

BOSTON (AP)—New York reeled to Ted Williams' last ditch homer with a three-run 10th inning to defeat Boston 8-5 Tuesday and remain two games behind the American League leading Chicago White Sox.

Hank Bauer slammed a two-run double to the left field corner and Cal McDougald added an insurance single in the extra frame.

Williams, the league's leading batsman, sent a towering drive five rows into the right field pavilion for his 11th home run as leadoff batter in the ninth. The blow pulled Boston into a 5-5 tie.

However, Williams lost some ground to runnerup Mickey Mantle in the race for batting honors.

Mantle, the Yankees' triple crown winning centerfielder, collected two doubles and two singles, drove in a run and scored another to hike his average to .341 from .335.

Williams had one-for-three which lowered his mark to .407 from .409.

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves broke a three-game losing streak Tuesday night, beating league-leading Cincinnati 4-0 on a triple by Bobby Thomson and a single by Frank Torre in the eighth inning, the only hits off Don Gross of the Redlegs.

CHICAGO (AP)—Bill Fischer, rookie right hander, hurled the White Sox to a 3-1 victory over Kansas City here Tuesday to give them a split in the two game series. He allowed only six hits with the lone run coming on a homer by Al Smith.

NEW YORK (AP)—Rip Repulski, Willie Jones, Stan Lopata and relief pitcher Bob Miller each drove in three runs Tuesday night as the Philadelphia Phillies went on a 17-hit rampage that handed the New York Giants a 16-6 wallop.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Shortstop Pee Wee Reese threw wild to the plate in the 11th Tuesday night, allowing the Pittsburgh Pirates to score the run they needed to give them a 3-2 victory over the second-place Brooklyn Dodgers.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Larry Jackson, a five-game winner as a relief pitcher for the St. Louis Cardinals, turned starter Tuesday night with a five-hit eight-inning victory over the Chicago Cubs, 5-1, which gave the Cardinals a sweep of a two-game series.

Michigan State baseball pitcher Bill Mansfield is the son of Wisconsin baseball coach Art Mansfield.

Leonard "Red" Kelly, captain of Detroit's Red Wing hockey team is appearing before the Veterans Association June 3 at 8 p.m. at the Coral Gables ballroom. Films will be shown.

Indians Shave Bengals, 4-3

DETROIT (AP)—Tiger castoff Eddie Robinson belted a two-run pinch homer in the ninth inning and swept the third place Cleveland Indians to a 4-3 verdict over Detroit Tuesday.

The 36-year-old first baseman, who came to the Tigers in a winter trade, had failed to hit in nine trips to plate in the early part of the season and was given his unconditional release by Detroit.

In enemy uniform today he picked up one of Billy Hoel's pitches and lined it over the screen in right field, pulling his new teammates from behind and giving Don Mossi a victory in his first starting role of the season.

An error by Ray Boone, back at third for only the second time this season, on a grounder by Chico Carrasquel preceded Robinson's blast.

Mossi allowed the Tigers only three hits in the eight innings he worked. Two of them were home runs.

Boone cracked his fourth of the season in the fourth inning with the bases empty and Bill Tuttle converted for a two run homer in the seventh.

Tuttle added a single in breaking out of an 0-for-20 hitting slump that had shaved nearly 75 percentage points off his average.

Ray Narleski pitched the ninth and saved Mossi's second triumph against no losses allowed.

Loeffler Quits A & M

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Dynamic Ken Loeffler, hired to put some fire into Texas A&M's basketball team, quit Tuesday under fire for recruiting practices.

He offered his resignation, provided the college paid off his contract, and A&M President D. W. Williams accepted.

The contract, running to April 1 next year, cost the college $7,214.66. Williams said the money will come from earnings of athletic department concessions.

Williams, reaching agreement Tuesday with Loeffler, said Coach Loeffler's resignation, which he has been under no compulsion to present, removed from our staff the only member against whom charges are now pending, or concerning whose activities any question remains subject to further investigation.

The president apparently referred to the fact that football recruiting probation has expired.

New York Wants Giants, Dodgers to Stay Put

NEW YORK (AP)—"We want both clubs to stay in New York." That's about all Mayor Robert Wagner had to say Tuesday night in commenting on the National League vote Tuesday which would authorize a move to the West Coast by the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants.

The mayor added in his brief statement:

"We feel they are part of the city. We'll continue to do all we can to make them want to stay here."

It was no more than he has said in the past in reply to numerous and frequent reports that the two clubs were on their way to different cities.

In Albany, Gov. Harriman said, "Officially as governor and personally as a baseball fan, I

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

CHICAGO—The National League Tuesday flashed a green light to the Brooklyn Dodgers and the New York Giants for a proposed shift in a "package deal" to Los Angeles and San Francisco, respectively.

Permission was granted in a unanimous vote by league officials in a four-hour meeting at which members of the Cincinnati Redlegs to New York was officially dropped.

League President Warren Giles, who announced the action at a press conference, emphasized that it now was up to the Dodgers and Giants to arrange for a potential shift to the two West Coast cities.

Giles pointed out that the Dodgers and Giants, if they plan to play in West Coast markets in 1958, must make arrangements with the Pacific Coast League, of which Los Angeles and San Francisco are members.

"Between next Oct. 1 and Oct. 31," Giles stressed, "the League action was predicated on a two-team move to the West Coast and stressed that if one of the two New York area teams decides to move elsewhere, another League meeting would be required to sanction such a change.

Giles said that Tuesday's action was based on a theory by the League that, if a prospective franchise change has the same success as the switch of the Boston Braves to Milwaukee. "Why should we object?"

Giles said that during the course of the meeting he asked Gene Paul, Cincinnati General Manager, specifically whether there was any substance to rumors that the Redlegs wanted to move to New York in the change which would send the Dodgers and Giants elsewhere.

Giles said Paul replied, "We are not asking permission for anything."

Giles said that after Tuesday's action, it's up to the Dodgers and Giants to tell me "we want to relocate our franchise."

"I will then give them my okay and then they must find a place to play."

Specifically, Giles said that the League approved proposals for "two clubs to re-locate their franchise if they want to make a change." Questioned as to which club he referred to he identified the Brooklyn Dodgers and the New York Giants.

He said that before the action the National League executives had rejected a proposal by the Milwaukee Braves to reduce from an eight to a six-city vote the ballot necessary for a franchise change.

Giles said that he had done the situation is simply this:

"If New York and Brooklyn request consent before Oct. 1 to relocate their franchise in San Francisco and Los Angeles, respectively, the League president is authorized to grant it."

Giles said that he himself brought the matter up at the meeting, explaining:

"There has been so much talk about franchise transfers that I wanted to get it on the line so I brought the matter up myself."

They now have the green light to go ahead.

Of course, there are certain negotiations that will have to be made by either the Giants or the Dodgers for territorial rights. For all I know, O'Malley (Walter O'Malley, president of the Dodgers) may want to stay where they are.

O'Malley said the question is whether the Dodgers wanted to relocate in Los Angeles what would the League do? O'Malley said, "What would I do? I would move to San Francisco." That's when the discussion started.

There were no other clubs mentioned besides Los Angeles and San Francisco. When Milwaukee requested six votes, eight votes are required for a franchise change and it was defeated. I think that O'Malley and Warren thought that any request for a move would stand to go through."

The 'Not Happy' House Defeats GOP Effort To Soften Budget Slashes

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democrats voted today to reject the first attempt by GOP leaders to soften sharp cuts in President Eisenhower's defense budget.

The a standing vote of 145-112, the House defeated an amendment to give the Army 50 million dollars more for maintenance and operations than the House Appropriations Committee had recommended.

About 80 Republicans deserted their leaders to vote against the amendment. Seven Democrats supported the amendment.

House Republican leaders announced Monday they would try to reduce about 300 million dollars of cuts recommended by the Appropriations Committee. Eisenhower has called for reduction of $1,200,000,000. The committee cuts totaling 274,000,000.

Activities Carnival Applications Are Due

All organizations which have not turned in applications for membership at the Activities Carnival have been asked to do so by noon in North MacKenzie. Major applications are due by 5 p.m. at the Activities Carnival.

Publicity for the Activities Carnival should be placed in the Michigan State News, U.P.A. and other outlets.

Even before the Republican vote was defeated, Eisenhower was described as "not happy" about the extent of the battle that GOP leaders were launching.

The Republican chiefs still plan to offer amendments that would add the rest of the 147 million to the bill.

Stassen Rushes To Defense of U. S. Arms Plan

LONDON (AP) — Harold E. Stassen flew to Paris unexpectedly Tuesday to consult with the North Atlantic Treaty Council on disarmament developments. The new U. S. arms plan was reported running into trouble there.

One highly placed source in Paris said France strongly opposed a section of the plan reported to restrict possession of nuclear weapons to the nations that already have them. But not the Soviet Union and the United States.

This source said French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau was preparing instructions to Jules Moch, the French negotiator, to tell the subcommittee France could never accept the subordinate world position implied in such a provision.

Rep. Ford (R-Mich.) offered the amendment to give the Army more money for maintenance and operation. The committee had cut 150 millions from the allotment, leaving it at $3,145,200,000.

It was House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts who reported Eisenhower was "not happy" with the plan. By the GOP battle against defense cuts, Martin reported Eisenhower's reaction after meeting with the President at the White House.

However, Martin held out no firm prospects of any action to make Eisenhower happier on this score. He said he thought the Republicans would support the present restoration effort fairly solidly.

And Speaker Rayburn, of Texas, while saying Democrats were not making it a party matter, added that he thought the cuts voted by the Appropriations Committee would stand pretty much without great change.

After the meeting, Martin told reporters that if the committee cut stands, the Army will have to be cut by about 10,000 men and the Navy by about 9,000 and the Marines by about 3,000. He also said two destroyers, apparently planned to be armed with guided missiles, might be lost from the fleet.

House Committee Approves Bill for Alaska Statehood

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prospects of House consideration of the Alaska statehood bill at this session of Congress brightened Tuesday with the bill's 24-6 approval by the House Insular Affairs Committee.

Chairman, Eagle (D-Calif.) told a newsman he plans to move "just as fast as I can" to bring the proposal before the House.

The approval by the full committee followed by less than a week the 17-5 endorsement given the Alaskan bill by the territories subcommittee last Thursday.

The Alaska bill is the first of the two pending statehood bills to gain committee approval at this session.

AMERICAN AIRLINES STEWARDESS

FUN • TRAVEL EXCITEMENT!

DO YOU LIKE TRAVEL... the stimulation of meeting lots of people? Do you like work... responsibility... a job that's important? Do you like sun-basking... perhaps on the sands of Acapulco... riding the range on an Arizona Dude Ranch... swimming at Lake Tahoe... sailing off New England's shores or on the Great Lakes?

Are you above average in appearance — do you have a pleasing personality? And, this above all — do you have a WAY with PEOPLE?

If you can answer "yes" to all these questions, then maybe you're our girl. Not everyone can qualify. It's true. But it may be easier than you think. Come and let's talk about it.
