Second Largest Graduating Class 2,401 to Get Diplomas

The second largest graduating class in Michigan State University history will receive their diplomas June 9, as graduation proceeds slowly but surely draws near.

An estimated 2,401 seniors and graduate students will get their diplomas in the 4 p.m. exercises at Macklin Stadium. Only the 1956 class of 2,432 exceeds this year's.

The 1957 June class includes 1,991 candidates for bachelor degrees, 293 candidates for master degrees and 117 for doctorates, according to university officials.

Highlighting graduating week will be the ceremony itself, with Vice President Richard Nixon as commencement speaker. His topic will be announced early next week.

The big week officially gets underway Sunday night with the traditional Lantern Night to honor the 50 outstanding senior coeds as selected by the Montar board, national women's honorary. The ceremony will take place in front of Dr. Hannah's home.

Senior Skitout will be held Tuesday evening from 7:30 to 10 with seniors meeting in front of their respective schools and parading to the ceremony in Fairchild Theatre. Leading the march will be senior class officers and Senior Council.

Oscar will make his appearance on campus Thursday-Saturday in the annual Water Carnival. Each float will depict an Academy Award winning movie or a movie in which a cast member won an award. Tickets are on sale at the Union Ticket Office.

Some 197 Army and Air Force ROTC cadets will be commissioned June 8 at 10 a.m. on Old College Field. Presenting the commissions will be Lt. Gen. Emmett "Rosy" O'Donnell, Jr., U.S. Air Force deputy chief of staff for personnel. An official parade will follow.

The commissioning exercises will be moved to Jenison Fieldhouse in case of rain, the same procedure to be done with the graduation ceremony. Thousands of MSU alumni are expected to return to the campus for Alumni Weekend events June 7 and 8.

After June 9, the seniors will have departed. But the other three classes — those horrible final exams.

Britain Scraps Curb On Red China Trade

America Rebukes Trade Act

'Total Embargo' To Continue Here

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States mildly rebuked Britain Thursday for junking special controls on trade with Red China and announced emphatically that this country will continue its "total embargo" on Chinese Communist commerce.

The British action, announced in the House of Commons, constituted the worst diplomatic defeat Washington has suffered from London since Britain joined France in attacking Egypt last fall.

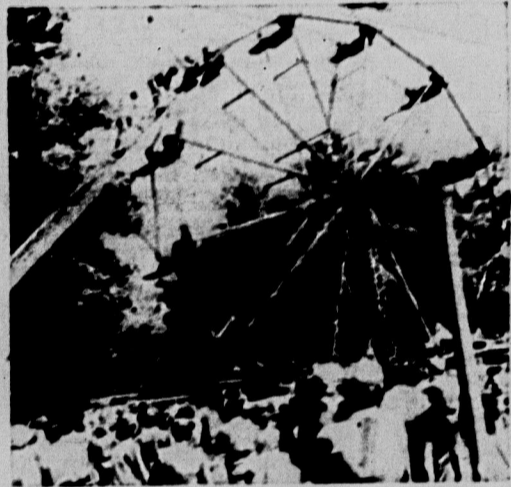

Officials here said privately that the effects of the wide open split in British-American relations are unpredictable but will depend on the extent of hostility aroused in Congress.

The British announcement, by design or otherwise, was timed to hit Washington when Congress was inactive because of Memorial Day. This could have been calculated to reduce an instantaneous flareup of anger at the Capitol.

The Eisenhower administration, which has been struggling for many months to induce its allies to maintain more rigid trade controls on China than on Russia, abandoned its campaign to hold the line over the British decision was made firm.

Officials said that other major trading nations now had no choice but to follow the British lead.

The other countries in this category are chiefly Japan. See RED CHINA, Page 3 this summer.

Restrictions Removed on 200 Items

Lloyd Predicts Allies Will Follow

LONDON (AP)—Britain Thursday defied American objections and scrapped a wide range of Western curbs on trade with Red China. The State Department in Washington said the United States was "most disappointed."

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd predicted most of Britain's allies "will follow our example" in wiping out restrictions on 200 items hitherto banned for sale to Peking.

He stressed in the House of Commons that Britain will continue to ban export to China of the same war potential goods which the allies outlaw for shipment to Russia and other Communist nations.

British traders who have been dealing with Red China hailed the British decision. But one industrialist said an immediate jump in Chinese business was unlikely. The foreign office.

There have been British-American differences over whether to ease or not to ease or not to ease curbs on China trade for the past three years.

Britain argued that China has been steadily getting better goods through the backdoor of Russia, which would freely buy the "questioned items."

The Atlantic Pact (NATO) allies claimed embargoes on trade with Red China in 1951.

Hanks Wins '500' With Record Time

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Sam Hanks, the "dean" of race drivers, finally won his first Indianapolis 500-mile auto race in 12 tries Thursday, throttling his horizontal-engined yellow car to a record-smashing triumph.

The 42-year-old Hanks, from Pacific Palisades, Calif., gunned his lightweight Belton Special, which has its engine lying on its side, at a 135,601 mile-per-hour average over the 200 laps.

The six-foot, 160-pound driver, who last year finished second to Pat Flaherty, cracked the 1954 record of 130,840 m.p.h. by the late Bill Vukovich.

Hanks finished 17 1/2 seconds ahead of 26-year-old Jim Rathmann of Miami, who came clear up from the last row in the 11-row starting lineup to challenge Hanks the entire second half of the thrilling race. Only 17 cars survived of an original field of 33.

The customary whooping crowd of more than 150,000 saw the yellow caution light flash on four times to signal mishaps on the track.

Hanks won't know how much he won until tonight's victory dinner. He knows he won $21,150 for leading 141 laps at $150 a crack. On top of that he'll get Williams continued: "It would have pleased me a great deal to have you continue to serve on the Commission. However, I can understand your problem. Michigan State University is growing to meet an increased opportunity of public service and is confronted with lack of adequate facilities and staff because of restricted legislative appropriations. Williams will appoint a successor to Muelder in the near future.

At Arlington National Cemetery

Two Old Ladies Pay a Holiday Tribute

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two little old ladies, dressed in black, hastened out early Thursday to take a bouquet of white flowers to a British girl they never knew.

They virtually commandeered an army color guard, a chaplain and a bugler to make it more ceremonious.

The bouquet was laid on "lot 88, section 13" of Arlington National Cemetery by Miss Katie Guiton and her sister, Lillian. They said they meant it as a tribute to all foreign people who died helping the U.S. in wartime.

And they said they wanted to show appreciation, too, for the way U.S. service people's graves are tended abroad by doing the same thing here.

They stood one behind the other — frail, tiny figures with bowed heads — as the chaplain said a prayer for Ruth Patricia Watson, section officer of the British Women's Auxiliary Air Force (WAAF).

It was the 24th time since 1933 that the elderly sisters, longtime residents of Washington, had picked a name from a list of foreign graves for their personal Memorial Day tribute. For the first time it was a woman.

"There aren't many ladies in foreign armies buried here," Miss Katie ventured.

The white-haired sisters didn't know much about WAAF Watson, neither did army officials.

It took the British Embassy to search its records and discover that Section Officer Watson and another WAAF, assigned to a British mission here, were killed Nov. 16, 1943, in a downtown automobile accident on their way home from duties.

There was nothing to indicate where WAAF Watson was from and the simple headstone bore the quotation from Proverbs: "Her ways were ways of pleasantness and all her paths were peace."

Lillian Guiton had brought her "favorite flowers," white gladiolus, to place at the headstone and a card attached was addressed simply: "Miss R. P. Watson and her associates."

No Reason Given

U. S. Ejects Hungarian In Apparent Retaliation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has ordered 1st Lt. Karoly Maszaros, assistant Hungarian military attache, to leave the country by Monday. The move is apparently in retaliation for the ouster of an American officer from Communist Hungary last month.

Fraternity Row Gets 7th House

Alpha Gamma Rho signed up for fraternity row and paid the necessary $1,000 down payment. Alpha Gamma Rho is the seventh fraternity to sign up for the row. Ten are needed before the end of this term in order to start improvements on the area.

The State Department, in announcing the ejection of Maszaros, gave no reason for its decision.

But last month the Soviet satellite government at Budapest accused Capt. Thomas R. Gleason of espionage and gave him 48 hours to get out. Gleason was assistant U. S. Military Attache in Budapest.

The action against Maszaros was taken Wednesday when Deputy Asst. Secretary Jacob Beam sent a curt note to Maszaros' ranking diplomat here, First Secretary of Legation Tibor Zador.

"I have to inform you," Beam wrote, "that the presence in the United States of 1st Lt. Karoly Maszaros, assistant military and air attache at the legation of the Hungarian people's Republic, is no longer agreeable to the United States government."

The note then called for the officer's departure not later than June 3.

State Department Press Officer Joseph Reap said there was no connection between this action and a demand by Hungary last weekend that the United States substantially reduce its legation staff in Budapest.

Kim Novak didn't actually do anything to make the news Thursday, but the State News staff offers her picture as a relief to any of you even working hard on your papers or studying for finals.

Student-Faculty Ratio Is Declining at MSU

Michigan State is growing. This is quite evident to anyone who has seen the construction crews working on the new student services and education buildings...

One question which comes to mind in the midst of all this growth, however, is: are we going to have enough teachers, professors, and instructors on hand to educate the 20 or 30 thousand students who may be paying to come to the university in the next decade?

Nobody knows the answer to this question. It depends on how many teachers are available, how much money the legislature will continue to allot the university and how big a portion of the budget the administration will be able to set aside for the hiring of faculty members.

Since 1955 Michigan State's enrollment has increased by 2,000 students. There has been a corresponding increase in full-time instructors (not administrators) of 83.

What do the figures mean? In fall term 1955 there were 16,631 students for every instructor. In fall term 1956 there were 17,177 students for every instructor.

In other words, every member of Michigan State's faculty now has to teach one more student than he had to a year ago.

In order for MSU to keep its present student-faculty ratio constant the university will have to hire one faculty member for every 17 students who enroll in school. It might be interesting to compare MSU's student-teacher ratio with other colleges and universities throughout the country.

In 1955 the University of Michigan had 19,796 students enrolled and a full-time faculty of 1,777. For every member of the faculty there were 11.2 students.

In the same year Ohio State enrolled 22,508 students and hired a faculty of 2,295 to give them a student-faculty ratio of 9.9. Penn. State, another land grant university like MSU, had a student-faculty ratio of 9.9 in 1955.

In the Ivy League Dartmouth, with an enrollment of 2,914, has one full-time faculty member for every eight students; Princeton has one full-time faculty instructor for every 7.8 students; Yale has a full-time faculty instructor for every 8.6 students, and Harvard, with an enrollment of 10,464, has 1,120 faculty members to give them a student-faculty ratio of 9.3.

It is hard to draw any valid conclusions from these statistics. Michigan State is behind Ohio State and Penn. State in the number of teachers they have hired. Endowment could be given as one reason for this. In 1955 Ohio State had an endowment of $10,392,327 as compared to MSU's $3,988,620. However, Penn. State is not even listed in the World Almanac as having an endowment of more than million dollars.

Michigan State, considering her relatively small endowment, is on a par with the University of Wisconsin, Indiana and Minnesota.

A land-grant college such as Michigan State in addition to her endowment also receives support from the state and federal governments to help support her. This also should be taken into consideration when comparing her to such an institution as Harvard with her $442,000,000 endowment.

The time is soon coming when the MSU administration will have to decide what is going to be done with the money which was received from the legislature recently.

As the budget is made up there will be allotments for new buildings and books for the library and funds for the athletic teams. Somewhere, though, there will be some mention of how many faculty members are going to be hired for the coming year.

Interpreting Roberts Views Riots On Taiwan

By J. M. ROBERTS

Nationalist Chinese sources in New York are taking the line that spontaneous combustion, not underlying resentment against Americans or organized trouble-making, was responsible for Friday's riots on Formosa.

They will cite you chapter and verse of the Reynolds case—as their official representatives are doing with the government in Washington—to bolster their contention that the riot, and the American court martial before which he was tried, should be small concern for a Chinese life.

M. Sgt. Robert Reynolds admitted killing a Formosan by caught peeping at his wife through a bathroom window, but was acquitted of criminal charges.

The widow, an educated woman of some attainments, protested publicly. Mobs caught fire.

Both American and Chinese public relations officials, the New York Chinese say, were busy in not recommending the dropping of the case, even before it was brought to trial and to the point where both parties for what ever might occur.

The belief was expressed, however, that the rioting would finally be accepted as basically non-political, and that relations between the two governments would not be permanently affected.

Secretary Wilson's sentiment that Americans could be forced to "go home" from anywhere "if enough people there don't like us" merely brought a laugh.

The attitude was that no such thing will evolve on Formosa. Word from the State Department that the number of American troops on Formosa might be increased to about 15,000, which is a more serious time to the discussion.

The Nationalists would consider this as a sign not to mind to themselves, but to other nations, that they were being the American support upon which they are almost wholly dependent, not only for their military position on Formosa, but also in the United Nations.

Wilson mentioned a reduction in general terms of replacing manpower with modern weapons.

The State Department, however, obviously was accepting the line that there is an underlying resentment against foreigners, and that a reduction would tend to ease it.

The United States, however, considers its position on and around Formosa, in conjunction with maintenance of Chinese Nationalist strength, as extremely important. It would not wish to weaken the already precarious Nationalist foothold vis-a-vis the Communists on the mainland.

Professor Whiting Views Taiwan Riots

The recent anti-American violence on Taiwan (Formosa) was essentially a clash of cultures, "the ox cart versus the automobile."

That is the way the situation was described by Dr. Allen S. Whiting, Far Eastern expert at Michigan State University.

Dr. Whiting, who recently spent two years in the Far East, including a year on Taiwan, said that about the only way to avoid the types of tensions that exist in Taiwan "is for America to assign military advisers to live with their families."

He pointed out that enlisted men live in barracks and drive jeeps. But when the families are included it involves providing housing, schooling and entertainment and "resembles a colonial situation with a ruling class living way above the population."

The American standard of living is so remote from that of the average person on Taiwan as to "constantly bring up tensions and frustrations between the two groups," the political scientist commented.

There have been a number of incidents involving "motorists and careless driving. Although such incidents would be handled normally in America they have become "much more serious when two races are involved," Dr. Whiting emphasized.

"The man on the street in Taiwan has no way of striking back except from his pent up violence which may release itself at any time," he said.

"We must remember that Taiwan is an island with a population of 19 million whose primary means of transportation is the bicycle and rickshaw. When a high-powered automobile is introduced, which is far wider and has long, heavy-duty pneumatic tires, it is not surprising that it is not properly handled."

He added that the Communists on the mainland have been exploiting the tensions in an effort to bring over, not only the Nationalist leader Chiang Kai-shek himself.

"We can't expect the political situation that existed before the riots," Dr. Whiting commented, "but we should expect them to recur."

The recent violence in Taiwan was touched off by the fact of a United States soldier who shot a Chinese he accused of being a peeping tom.

Nephrosis

A campaign to combat childhood nephrosis seems like an out of the ordinary crusade for the IFC, but on June 3 the Greek organization will set in motion a local fund-raising drive.

Childhood nephrosis is a kidney disorder which causes excessive bodily swelling. Its deadly allies are anemia, heart disease, high blood pressure, pneumonia and peritonitis. One of the most common ailments that affects children, it may occur in older children and in adults. It is not hereditary.

The cause of nephrosis is unknown, and there is no known cure. Its victims have a 50-50 chance to live.

The National Nephrosis Foundation was originated by parents of nephrosis victims. Represented by affiliates and chapters throughout the United States, each of these local groups support a clinic and research project in its own community.

The IFC became interested in the project when it was endorsed by Robert Montgomery on his nation-wide TV show. The local drive will employ all fraternity men on campus. Mrs. G. Mennen Williams and Mrs. John A. Hannah are acting as co-chairmen of the drive.

According to IFC officials this will follow similar campaigns on other Michigan campuses. And they hope to boost the national total over the $50,000 mark.

Diphtheria, scarlet fever, typhus and other such once-frequent killers have been eliminated by research. Beginning June 3, the Greeks hope to raise dollars for research that can save lives of children, yet unborn, doomed to die of kidney ailments.

The canvassing couples, one fraternity member and one sorority member, will go door to door in Lansing and East Lansing Monday starting at 6 p.m. and will turn in their collections at the Union Ballroom.

This is the place for the student to contribute if he wishes.

This is an example of student time and energy being spent on something of some consequence for a change, we hope it shows a trend.

Haitian Asks UN Intervention In Violent Presidential Battle

Candidate Says Help 'Best Hope'

Rivals' Support Of Plea Doubtful

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — One of Haiti's leading presidential candidates urged Thursday that the United Nations take immediate action to end violence and turmoil in this Negro republic and establish machinery for "free and honest elections."

Former Sen. Louis Djoie, 61-year-old planter, said in an interview the UN offered the best hope to dispel threats of continuing violence that could destroy this nation. He said all 12 candidates for the presidency in June 16 elections should "accept mediation by the United Nations which would assure free elections."

The plea was unlikely to find support among other presidential aspirants, including Provisional President Daniel Fignole, 43-year-old favorite of Port Au Prince workers.

Fignole has declared "free, honest and sincere" elections would be held "as soon as possible."

Fignole termed "illegal and undemocratic" Fignole's announcement that he would seek election to a regular six-year term as president.

Fignole seized power through the army and mobs in Port Au Prince. That was his popular movement. I could have done that myself by shooting at the presidential palace, but that is not the democratic way."

"If Fignole wants to do things in a democratic way then he must step out and take his chances with all the other candidates," he went on. "I will defend my rights and I will continue to wage a vigorous campaign for the presidency because I can beat Fignole or anyone else in a free election."

All Haiti's troubles are traceable to 25 or 30 men wanting power at any price," Djoie continued. He said he and Fignole had seen eye to eye in running the now defunct executive council and arranging elections and "I never thought for a second he would become me."

Nubani Bound To Circuit Court

Abdullah Nubani, 26-year-old former Michigan State student from Palestine, Wednesday was bound over to Ingham County Circuit Court on a bad check charge.

Nubani is charged with writing three checks with insufficient funds and cashing them with East Lansing merchants last July 30-August 3.

County Commissioner Jesse K. Bell of Dallas, Tex., is literally out on a limb as he sits in a tree awaiting rescue from the flooded lowlands along the Trinity River. Bell's boat capsized while he and three workers were making an inspection tour, and they had to take refuge for an hour in the trees.

One Pilot Killed

Two Jet Planes Collide During Holiday Tribute

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Two Navy Panther jet planes flying in a Memorial Day tribute to war dead, collided Thursday. One crashed into a parked car and set three houses afire, killing the pilot and injuring at least six persons.

The pilot of the second craft bailed out to safety and his plane plummeted into a vacant lot.

The jets, the first two in a four-plane formation flying over Sunset Memorial Cemetery in a Memorial Day observance, collided over northeast Minneapolis. More than a thousand persons gathered in the cemetery witnessed the collision.

Capt. Frank Gill, commanding officer of the Wood County Naval Air Station who witnessed the collision from the ground, said the right wing of the second plane apparently struck the fuselage of the first craft as the four jets flew in staggered formation.

The first plane, its tail gone, held steady for a moment, then plunged to the street. Its pilot bailed out too late. His parachute snagged in a tree and he was dropped to the street. An arm and leg were severed. He was dead when residents of the neighborhood found him.

Five persons suffered burns from the burning fuel. Another was struck in the arm by a flying fragment and a woman and her two children were treated for shock.

The pilot of the second plane, bailed out after his craft, missing one of its wings, went out of control. The plane buried itself into a vacant lot about five blocks away from the burning houses.

8 'Rebels' Killed in Beirut Riot

Former Premier Seriously Injured

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Political violence exploded in Beirut Thursday. Eight rioters were killed by gunfire and scores of others injured before the Army restored order.

It was the first serious trouble in advance of parliamentary elections set to begin June 9 in this traditionally pro-Western Arab nation. The elections are looked upon as a test of strength for pro-Egyptian and pro-Western forces.

The rioting flared when troops and police tried to stop a demonstration and general strike led by two former premiers who are in opposition to Premier Sami Solh. The two are Saeb Salam and Abdallah Yafi.

Salam was hit in the face by a rifle bullet while by a soldier and seriously injured. He suffered a three-inch gash on his face and was taken to a hospital for treatment. The government announced he is under arrest, along with other rioters.

The opposition national front called the demonstration and strike after Solh's government refused demands that it resign and let a neutral government conduct the elections, in which more than 200 candidates are seeking 66 parliamentary seats.

Shouts of "down with Solh" and "down with Eisenhower" were heard. There were also cries of opposition to Camille Chamoun, who has been Lebanon's president since 1952.

Solh's government endorsed President Eisenhower's Middle East doctrine. Parliament approved the action last April 6 but six deputies resigned in protest.

Since then the opposition has assailed the government for its pro-Western stand, and demanded that Lebanon ally itself with Egypt and Syria.

Until Thursday's outbreak a great many political sources said pro-government forces appeared to have a big lead over the opposition. It was not clear what effect the riots will have on this trend.

Red China

West Germany, France and Italy.

A state department spokesman said that this would assist the Chinese in their industrial development. They will have to compete with Japan and other nations for markets, such as textiles, machinery, and steel. The spokesman said that the United States is most disappointed.

It was this same statement which asserted that Washington contemplates no change in its policy of total embargo on trade with Communist China.

Once the British announcement was made, a major streamer of State Department leadership was to try to minimize the damage to British-American relations. Hence the release by the London government was about as mild as it could be in the circumstances.

Translator Found Dead In Ex-Fiancee's Home

WASHINGTON (AP)—Shot several times, the body of a Russian translator for the Voice of America was found Thursday in the fashionable 16th street apartment of his former fiancee, Miss Edith Louise Hough, 41, an investment firm secretary.

Police said Miss Hough admitted the shooting and explained: "He was psychologically aggressive toward me."

Charged with first degree murder, she was held without bond.

The dead man was Zorab Abusheli, 40, who was married to another woman just two weeks ago. He had lived until May 1 on the same floor of the Woodner apartments that Miss Hough did.

Police found the body of Abusheli lying on the couch with seven bullet wounds. Coroner A. Magruder MacDonald said any one of several of the wounds could have caused death.

There were three wounds in the chest, two in the back, one in the temple and one bullet had gone through an arm.

Arraigned before U. S. Commissioner James F. Splain, Miss Hough was charged with first degree murder and the case was continued until June 13. She was lodged in the District of Columbia Jail.

The death weapon was described by police as a 25-caliber automatic pistol bought at a Ninth Street shop by Miss Hough May 3, 1956, with the explanation she needed it for "home protection."

Abusheli, a refugee, came to the United States seven years ago from the Soviet Republic of Georgia. He has been a $6,030-a-year employee of the Voice of America, helping to prepare broadcasts in his native language.

You'd have a tough time convincing three-year-old Kenneth King of Fairmont, Minn., that a dog is man's best friend. Doctors took 62 stitches on Kenneth's face, neck and left ear after he was inflicted with a nine-inch gash by his pet dog.

Adopting Western Economic Device Russia May Soon Go Installment Buying

MOSCOW (AP)—Russians can expect to buy at least some items soon for so many rubles a month and so many rubles a month.

Internal Trade Minister D. V. Pavlov told a news conference Thursday buying on the installment plan—considered strictly a Western economic device—is "just around the corner" for the Russian people. He didn't say what items he had in mind.

Pavlov conceded there is still a wide gap between supply and demand on such articles as automobiles, motorcycles, sewing machines, electric refrigerators, pianos and articles of furniture.

But he had one cheering note—by the end of the year every third family in the Soviet Union will own a bicycle.

Pavlov's ministry bosses the distribution and sale of consumers' goods at state-owned stores throughout the Soviet Union.

He predicted current industrial reforms would result in improved distribution and better quality of goods, but warned that the Russian people could not expect more to eat or more clothes to wear than is provided in present production plans.

Pavlov said such capitalistic practices as "markdown sales and regulating prices on a supply and demand basis operate in the Soviet Union. For instance, he said demand is an important consideration in fixing the price on such items as automobiles, for which there is a two-year waiting list.

Pavlov promised that two million Russian families would move into new apartments and houses in 1957, while the total food bill would be reduced five billion rubles through price cuts at collective farm markets. The official exchange rate on the ruble is four to the U. S. dollar.

Seating Plan Announced For Block 'S'

The Block "S" steering committee has announced plans for the new seating arrangements in the Block for next fall.

According to Max Widawer, the Block will receive a special ticket at the beginning of the season. Each ticket will have several tabs which will be torn off one by one at each of the home games at which the Block will flash.

If a Block member finds he or she must be absent from a game, that person must find a substitute to fill his place, in order that the stub for that particular game be used.

The stubs are gathered at each game and checked for attendance. If a person missed a game and failed to find a substitute, he will be unable to receive a seat ticket for the block the following game.

This system will not necessarily entail a permanent seating arrangement, according to Widawer, but consist of required attendance at each game.

A person may sit with different people at each game, as long as he or she is present in the Block.

The Block "S" ticket must be presented, as in past years, to the ticket office in Jenison for an actual seat ticket.

Students may sign up for the Block in the Union Concourse today.

Translator Found Dead In Ex-Fiancee's Home

WASHINGTON (AP)—Shot seven times, the body of a Russian translator for the Voice of America was found Thursday in the fashionable 16th street apartment of his former fiancee, Miss Edith Louise Hough, 41, an investment firm secretary.

Police said Miss Hough admitted the shooting and explained:

"He was psychologically aggressive toward me."

Charged with first degree murder, she was held without bond.

The dead man was Zurab Abdusheli, 40, who was married to another woman just two weeks ago. He had lived until May 1 on the same floor of the Woodmont apartments that Miss Hough did.

Police found the body of Abdusheli lying on the couch with seven bullet wounds. Corporal A. Magruder MacDonald said any one of several of the wounds could have caused death.

There were three wounds in the chest, two in the back, one in the temple and one bullet had gone through an arm.

Arraigned before U. S. Commissioner James F. Splain, Miss Hough was charged with first degree murder and the case was continued until June 13. She was lodged in the District of Columbia Jail.

The death weapon was described by police as a 25-caliber automatic pistol bought at a Ninth Street shop by Miss Hough May 3, 1956, with the explanation she needed it for "home protection."

Abdusheli, a refugee, came to the United States seven years ago from the Soviet Republic of Georgia. He has been a $6,030-a-year employee of the Voice of America helping to prepare broadcasts in his native language.

MSU Grad Chosen 4-H Club Executive

Ben Westrate, former assistant state 4-H Club leader in the upper peninsula, will be the new executive director of the Michigan 4-H Club Foundation beginning June 10.

Adopting Western Economic Device Russia May Soon Go Installment Buying

MOSCOW (AP)—Russians can expect to buy at least some items soon for so many rubles down and so many rubles a month.

Internal Trade Minister D. V. Pavlov told a news conference Thursday buying on the installment plan—considered strictly a Western economic device—is "just around the corner" for the Russian people. He didn't say what items he had in mind.

Pavlov conceded there is still a wide gap between supply and demand on such articles as automobiles, motorcycles, sewing machines, electric refrigerators, pianos and articles of furniture.

But he had one cheering note—by the end of the year every third family in the Soviet Union will own a bicycle.

Pavlov's ministry bosses the distribution and sale of consumers' goods at state-owned stores throughout the Soviet Union.

He predicted current industrial reforms would result in improved distribution and better quality of goods, but warned that the Russian people could not expect more to eat or more clothes to wear than is provided in present production plans.

Pavlov said such capitalistic practices as markdown sales and regulating prices on a supply and demand basis operate in the Soviet union. For instance, he said demand is an important consideration in fixing the price on such items as automobiles, for which there is a two-year waiting list.

Pavlov promised that two million Russian families would move into new apartments and houses in 1957, while the total food bill would be reduced five billion rubles through price cuts at collective farm markets. The official exchange rate on the ruble is four to the U.S. dollar.

Seating Plan Announced For Block 'S'

The Block "S" steering committee has announced plans for the new seating arrangements in the Block for next fall.

According to Max Widawer, San Salvador's trustee, each member of the Block will receive a special ticket at the beginning of the season. Each ticket will have several tabs which will be torn off one by one at each of the five home games at which the Block will flash.

If a Block member finds he or she must be absent from a game, that person must find a substitute to fill his place, in cases that the stub for that particular game be used.

The stubs are gathered at each game and checked for attendance. If a person missed a game and failed to find a substitute, he will be unable to receive a seat ticket for the block the following game.

This system will not necessarily entail a permanent seating arrangement, according to Widawer, but consist of required attendance at each game. A person may sit with different people at each game, as long as he or she is present in the Block.

The Block "S" ticket must be presented, as in past years, to the ticket office in Jenison for an actual seat ticket.

Students may sign up for the Block in the Union Concourse today.

Hot Putter Helps Ben Hogan Leads Top Pro Field In Wykagyl Golf Tournament

New Rochelle, N.Y. (AP) — A fit and confident Ben Hogan, one-putting eight greens with a new baseball bat grip, shot into a 12-point lead in the Wykagyl Round Robin Golf Tournament Thursday with a four-under par 67.

The 44-year-old master from Fort Worth, Tex., his cold eyes convinced to leave 15 hand-picked professionals trailing.

Tied for second with plus eight points were Sam Snead, a four-time winner, and British Open Champion Peter Thomson of Australia who shot 68 in the same foursome Don Finsterwald, promising young pro from Athens, Ohio, was next with plus-7 points on a sparkling 69, followed by the new Masters Champion, Doug Ford, with plus-6 after fashioning a 69 in a different foursome.

A players medal score is compared with the others in his foursome on an add and subtract basis and his point total is the result. Ken Venturi of San Francisco was the only other competitor above bond with plus-3 Mike Fetchick and Bill Casper, 72, were even and all others were in the debit class.

The wiry Texan, who never looked in better shape, gained five points on Fetchick, who shot a 72, seven on Ed Fargol, who had 74, and eight on scrambling Gene Littler, who skied to 75, highest score of the day.

"I feel fine," said Hogan afterward. "I never tired and I was very happy about my game." He should have been.

With his new hands apart putting grip, adopted only a few days ago after suffering injuries on the green, Hogan used a total of only 26 putts. He sank a 20-footer on the tenth and dropped three of six feet and never. At the Masters in Augusta, he was spending 33 and 34 putts on every round.

English Paper Views New York's Situation

Says Political Issues Involved In Giant, Dodger Transfer

LONDON (AP)—The Manchester Guardian, usually preoccupied with other and graver issues, used a column on its front page Thursday to tell its readers all about the Dodgers and the Giants—which it explained are teams in the New York Metropolitan area playing baseball, something like rounders.

... political issues in New York are involved in the shock transfer of the Giants from New York to San Francisco and the Brooklyn Dodgers to Los Angeles, the Guardian said.

Mayor Robert Wagner of New York, who is hoping to remain mayor after the November election, gave all his thoughts to baseball, a political issue that could win or lose him more votes than any health or housing project he is likely to dream up before the next World Series.

Possible Move Also Linked With TV Deal

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Possible transfer of the Brooklyn Dodgers to Los Angeles and the New York Giants to San Francisco was linked Thursday with a multimillion dollar deal for pay-as-you-see television coverage of the Major League baseball games on the West Coast.

Front page reports published here were that Matthew Fox of the Skiatron Corp., New York, is bankrolling the proposed move of the Dodgers to Los Angeles and has negotiated the closed circuit television rights.

Mark Sullivan, President of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph, confirmed he has been in consultation with Allen Lane, the Pacific Coast Representative of Skiatron.

"We are working with Skiatron," Sullivan said.

"We have been discussing with them the facilities of wire transmission of pay-as-you-see television."

The initial cost of installation will be paid by each subscriber. I can't give the figures but it won't be prohibitive. We have been working with Skiatron to find out the initial number of lines they're going to want. I think the plan is to suit have a coast circuit at first and later to work back east by hooking into trunk coaxial lines.

Around the Major Leagues

The Chicago White Sox ... beat Washington 9-0 after the Senators had stretched their winning streak to four games.

Cincinnati rallied for four seventh-inning runs on homers by Gus Bell and Frank Robinson to beat St. Louis in the second game 7-3. The Cards, with Wally Moon extending his hit streak to 23 games through the twinbill, won the opener 7-2.

Brooklyn beat Pittsburgh 4-3, then lost 2-1. Milwaukee defeated Chicago 5-2, but lost the second game to the Cubs 4-2. Philadelphia, still in fourth place, three games behind, defeated New York 2-1 in 10 innings, but the Giants took the nightcap 8-1 with Willie Mays' hitting streak reaching 18 games.

Pierce, who struck out nine while winning his eighth, gave up 15 runs in 20 innings with a walk and George Stucky's triple that gave the Indians a 1-1 tie in the fifth. But Elitz put it away with a single in the Sox fifth after two errors and an intentional walk had loaded the bases against loser Mike Garcia.

Dick Donovan checked the Indians in the opener, although allowing 11 hits. The right-hander walked none, however, and drove in three runs.

Camilo Pascual, who had been winless in 10 decisions against the Yankees, finally made it, allowing only two hits before he was struck on the right arm by loser Al Cicotte's line drive and to leave in the sixth. Jim Lemon belted a two-run homer for the Nats. But it was a two-run third, set up by Gerry Coleman's two errors, that did it. Bobby Shantz won his fifth with a five-hitter and drove in two runs while stonping the Senators in the second game.

Jackie Jensen hit two home runs, the first winning the opener, drove in four runs and scored six in the Red Sox's sweep, which counted a total of 34 hits by the two clubs. Billy Klaus and Jim Fiersall also slugged two-run homers in the second game.

Willard Schmidt held the Redlegs to four hits to win his fourth for the Cards, who bagged it with three in the fourth—two on Al Dark's triple—against loser Joe Nuxhall. George Crowe and Ed Bailey also homered for the Redlegs in the second game, but it was Bell's three-run shot, an inside-the-park job, and Robinson's follow-up homer that did it against Wilmer Mitchell.

Duke Snider's two-run homer in the sixth held up for the Dodgers in the opener, with Clem Labine's relief work saving Sai Maglie's second victory in his first appearance since May 10. Bob Parkey then won his third—all against the Dodgers—in the nightcap as Billy Mazerowski, fined $25 by manager Bobby Bragan for a Wednesday fielding lapse, and Frank Thomas delivered RBI singles in the fifth to beat Sandy Koufax. Thomas was 4-for-8 for the day with three RBIs.

Home runs by Del Rice and Billy Ertun carried the Braves home in the opener with Raw Crone gaining his first complete game since last June 28. Reliever Turk Lown clinched the nightcap, striking out Felix Mantilla with the bases loaded for the final out—after running up a 3-0 count.

Ruben Gomez gave the Phillies one hit—Ed Bouchee's home run—for nine innings. But he lost when Bouchee singled in the 10th and Curt Simmons then brought him home, after two intentional walks filled the bases, by beating out an infield roller. It was Simmons' 100th victory since being signed as a $60,000 bonus southpaw 10 years ago. Rookie Curt Barcy then cut down the Phils with a four-hitter in his first complete game. Mays had a two-run, inside-the-park homer in the first inning.

Tigers Sweep Twinbill, Knock Off A's, 6-5, 3-2

Sleater Homers To Win 1st

Power's Wild Throw Gives Bengals 2nd

DETROIT (AP)—A throwing error by Vic Power enabled the Detroit Tigers to take a 3-2 nightcap victory that completed a double-header sweep over the Kansas City Athletics Thursday. Relief pitcher Lou Sleater won his own game in the opener, belting a 10th inning home run for a 6-5 triumph before 49,944 holiday fans.

The stubby little southpaw, who slammed the door on a Kansas City threat in the top of the 10th, lined one of Burnette's pitches into the lower right field stands for his first major league homer. Charlie Maxwell's two-run double in the ninth sent the contest into extra innings.

Manager Lou Boudreau gambled on righthander Burnette in the ninth and lost. Mickey Vernon had worked smoothly in relief of Tom Morgan for more than three innings and had a 3-3 advantage when he walked a batter and yielded a single to Al Kaline in the ninth. Boudreau replaced McDermott, a lefthander, and summoned Burnette to face Maxwell, a lefthanded hitter.

Maxwell's 10th home run with a mate aboard in the fifth gave the A's an early 4-1 edge. Mickey Vernon, himself, homered in the ninth for a 3-3 lead. Harvey Kuenn led off in the first with a Detroit home run. The Tigers scored twice to top Morgan in the fifth on two hits, a wild pitch and a throwing error by Morgan.

Second baseman Frank Bolling clouted a pair of home runs of the nightcap but it was a wild throw by Power, a first baseman playing in right field for injured Harry Simpson, that gave the Tigers the run that proved decisive.

Bolling hit his sixth and seventh home runs in consecutive at-bats in the sixth and eighth innings, and it was his second home that collapsed the pitching of starter Arnold Portocarrero. Al Kaline and Charlie Maxwell followed with singles, and when Power threw wide of third base trying to retire the baserunner, Kaline scored what proved to be the winning run.

The double victory enabled the Tigers to sweep the three-game series with the Athletics, who came to town with six successive triumphs over the Detroit club.

The triumph was Foytack's fifth against three setbacks. The loss extended Portocarrero's record at 1-1.

Hanks Wins 'Big One', Quits Racing

Credits '500' Victory To Car, Good Luck

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) —

"That's it! I'm all done." With those words, Sam Hanks, winner of the 500-Mile Auto Race Thursday, clambered out of his begrimed, yellow Belong Special, clutching the high Borg-Warner Trophy that had eluded him for 17 long years and 11 years.

The lanky, 42-year-old driver was one big grin as he accepted simultaneous kisses from actress Cyd Charisse and his beautiful blonde wife, Alice.

Hanks, his face streaked with grease and burned rubber, drank deeply from the silver cup labeled "Water from Wilbur" — the same cup the late Wilbur Shaw used after winning his speedway races.

A few moments later, Hanks announced he would keep his promise to his wife never to race again in the 500 if he won "The Big One."

"I'll finish out the year on my contract racing stock cars," he said, "and I'll probably go to Monza for that race. But that's all. The next time I see this track, it will be from the grandstand."

A newsman shouted, "when did you know you had it won, Sam?"

"Man, not until they shook that checkered flag at me," replied the dazed driver, still half-dazed from the roar of 200 laps.

Hanks quickly added, "I prayed awful hard those last 25 laps."

Hanks said he drove this year's race the same as he drove the previous 11, and gave his car and good luck all the credit for victory.

"I've never had a car run so sweet for so long," he sighed. "It just went like a baby doll all day."

Manhattan Vies With Villanova In IC4A Tourney

NEW YORK (AP)—A battle of individual power vs. strength in numbers shaped up in the IC4A Track and Field Championships — the oldest meet in the United States — today and Saturday.

Will it be Villanova, with an array of brilliant stars headed by Olympic Champion Ron Delany?

Or will it be Manhattan, with cagey George Eastman pulling every string at his command to get every last point?

Both coaches, Eastman and Jumbo Jim Elliot of Villanova, apparently think that the key man is George Svdnor, the Wildcat sprinter, who has been troubled with a pulled muscle for the past two months.

The Wildcats have solid favorites in several tests. Among them are Delany, trying for a double in the mile and half-mile, Charlie Jenkins in the 440, Don Bragg in the pole vault, Phil Reavis in the high jump and Alex Brockbridge in the two-mile.

Atterberry to Run Against Top Men In Compton Meet

Freshman Willie Atterberry will compete tonight in his second California meet in as many weeks at the Compton Invitational Meet at Compton.

The Spartan freshman will run in the 440 and 880-yard runs. He will meet NCAA and National AAU Champion Arnie Souell and California's Don Bowden, the nation's fastest collegiate half-miler, in the 880 while Atterberry will have his hands full in the quarter with Washington's Terry Tobacco and the Southern California Striders' Mike Latrabee.

Atterberry competed in the Los Angeles Coliseum Relays last Friday and placed third behind Tom Courtney's 880 world record of 1:46.8. Atterberry, whose pace helped set the record, was clocked in a fast 1:50 flat, only a tenth of a second off the national frosh record.

Courtney will forsake the half mile tonight and will make his initial appearance in the mile. Atterberry is the defending champion at Compton in the 400-meter hurdles but the race isn't run this year.

SPORTALK Outstanding Leader

By LARRY WROBLEWSKI, State News Night Editor

Many Michigan State captains have left playing memories behind, but it will be many years until one will equal the leadership feats of Capt. Jim Clemens of the Big 10 Championship swimming team.

The fleet freestyler was elected by his teammates to the captaincy post before last year's swimming season, and he became the inspiring force that boosted an unrated squad to its first Big 10 title and a third position at the NCAA meet.

At Maine Township high school in DesPlaines, Ill., Jim participated four years on both the gridiron and the baseball diamond and devoted two years each to basketball and swimming, while also receiving top academic honors.

As a center of his prep school eleven he helped his team to the conference championship in 1952. During the spring he handled the keystone duties, and was a definite factor in his team's drive to capture the conference and district titles in 1953.

In his junior season Jim became interested in swimming and starred with present teammates Gordy Fornell and Al Coxan.

The trio comprised a swift relay foursome that received All-American honors in the 200-yard freestyle relay event in 1952 and 1953.

After graduation, the 5'11", 150-pound Clemens decided to enter Wabash College. He remained only a semester and left for Michigan State in the winter of 1954 to be close to his high school sweetheart, Miss Jane Gibbs.

Jim and Jane were married in September, 1955 and a new member to the family is expected in August.

Coach Chuck McCaffrey saw in this swimmer the class and form needed to contend in the 220- and 440-yard distances. In his first crack at the 220 yard event, Clemens posted one of the fastest times in Spartan annals with a time of 2:12.9.

It became evident now that Jim possessed the attributes of attaining stardom.

This past season the tankers swept to one of their most impressive seasons by coping seven meets and suffering two losses, one to Ohio State and Michigan.

At the Big 10 championships, the Spartans were picked to finish not higher than third. But as the three-day meet progressed the Spartans, paced by their captain, took first place honors with 87 points.

In the 220-yard freestyle tests, Clemens tied for third with a 2:11.6 clocking. He was the second man of the winning foursome in the 400-yard freestyle relay which was timed in 3:25 and in the 440-yard freestyle he placed sixth.

Clemens' superb performance was at the NCAA meet. Here he swam to a fourth place in the 220-yard freestyle and covered the 440-yard freestyle distance in a fast time of 4:39.9, outclassing a top field of swimmers to take second spot. Jim also was the third man of the second place 400-yard freestyle relay team.

His outstanding performances won for him a J. H. French Award, given annually to the top senior athlete of each varsity sport.

Recently, at the swimmers' bust Jim was the recipient of three top honors. He was awarded the Clarke C. Scholes award going to the top competitor, the senior scholarship award for his 3.2 all-college average in accounting and the Hubert E. Gluski trophy, which goes to the outstanding varsity swimmer whom the team itself elects.

Graduating this June, Jim already has obtained a public accountant position in Detroit.

Wherever Jim goes he will long be remembered for his contribution to his team as a leader, top competitor and for his individual feats while competing for Michigan State.

'Bitter Orange' Boxer Johnson 2-1 Favorite In Bout With Himnant

NEW YORK (AP)—Harold Johnson is favored to make Clarence Himnant his third comeback victim tonight when the two big men meet in a 10-round match at St. Nicholas Arena.

The 28-year-old Philadelphia boxer who was involved in the "bitter orange" bout with Julius Mesteros, in Philadelphia, four years ago, is rated No. 3 among the light heavies by the National Boxing Association and No. 4 among the heavyweights by Ring Magazine.

Himnant, a slugger from Washington who now fights out of Miami, has ranked among the top 10 light heavies. He is a 2 to 1 and odds against the more experienced Johnson.

The bout, part of the regular Friday night Radio City (NBC) series, will be staged at St. Nick's because Madison Square Garden has been taken over by Evangelist Billy Graham. The International Boxing Club has permission to shift its home temporarily to the arena of the New York State Athletic Commission and with the operation of Today's Boxing, which promotes regular Monday night fights at the arena.

Johnson was suspended for six months after he was stopped by Mesteros in two rounds, May 6, 1953. Following a probe of this match and Johnson's claim he ate a "bitter orange" on the day of the fight, boxing was suspended in Pennsylvania for a period and there was a state investigation.

Under the new management of Pat O'Brien, Johnson has won two decisions over Bert Whitehurst and Bob Satterfield since he resumed activity. His career record, dating back to 1946 is 27-8 with 22 knockouts. He has been stopped four times. In 1954 Johnson led Archie Moore on points in a Light Heavyweight title match only to be knocked out in the 10th round.

Himnant, 24, has won seven of his last eight fights by knockouts, losing only to Tony Anthony, top ranking light-heavy contender. Even in defeat, Himnant had Anthony on the floor 11 times and for 34 starts since 1953 he has won 20 knockouts.

Belong Special Best Car in '500'

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The Belong Special in which Sam Hanks won Thursday's 500-mile auto race was the only one of its kind in the field that it is sure to still be going next year.

George Sully, of Whittier, Calif., an engineer in the Messer & Drake plant that makes the famous Offenhauser racing engine, built the frame around a four-cylinder Offy engine laid on its side. The drive shaft ran along the left side of the frame.

Quincy Epperly, another well-known California race car builder, constructed the body and tanks to fit the flat engine. The result was an extremely low profile car, only 21 inches tall at the front end.

The car weighed 1,650 pounds without fuel or oil, an extremely light racer.

Riot Mushrooms From Water Fight On Illini Campus

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Police said that riotous Thursday night broke up a campus-wide war that started three hours earlier as a friendly water fight between two University of Illinois fraternities houses.

Police reports indicated some cases were injured and reported treatment at McKinley Hospital.

The Daily Illini student newspaper reported that five students were seized by police. The police said the rioting involved more than 2,000 persons in the area.

The riot started when a water fight between Phi Gamma Delta and Alpha Delta Pi fraternities broke out. The water fight was held in a courtyard between the two fraternities houses.

The riot was so intense that the University police first tried to let the water fight continue out of control, but that did not work. Police were called when the riot got out of hand.
