Eisenhower's Condition Good Following Stomach Seizure

Heart Attack Connection Ruled Out

Trouble Attributed To Blueberry Pie

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower took some semi-solid food and was reported "coming along very well" Monday night after a stomach upset which his doctors described as mild.

The President was stricken with nausea Sunday night. He had two or three vomiting spells and was fed through a vein early Monday. But his press secretary, James C. Hagerty, reported the chief executive "coming along very well" at 5:30 p.m. (EST).

Hagerty's report came after the President's three attending doctors, said in a joint statement about two hours earlier that Eisenhower was "making a good recovery."

The physicians found no indication that the stomach seizure was related to the heart attack suffered by the President in

Arab World's Feud Splits Big Alliance

Egyptian Army Representative Causes Strained Relationship

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—The last remnants of Jordan's military alliance with Egypt and Syria appeared to be crumbling Monday.

Cairo's liaison with Jordan's military setup was broken by the removal of the Egyptian army representative here.

The widening split in the Arab world over leanings to East and West also brought a newly bitter estrangement between Jordan and Egypt on the diplomatic front.

Retaliatory measures in the feud came in rapid order while Saudi Arabia's king was here as the guest of Jordan's King Hussein. Both nominally are allied with Egypt and Syria but are regarded as inclined toward the West. Egypt and Syria get arms from the Soviet bloc.

The day's developments: 1. Jordan ordered two Egyptian diplomats ousted for an alleged assassination plot.

2. Jordan said it was recalling its ambassador in Cairo, but Egypt said he was being kicked out in retaliation for the removal of the two Egyptians from Amman.

3. Jordan demanded the removal of the Egyptian representative on the joint Arab military command in Amman, but Egypt announced officially it was pulling him out.

There was no further explanation from Cairo but the withdrawal of the military representative may mean the start of the break-up of the four-power alliance. Egypt's commander in chief, Gen. Abdel Hakim Amer, is the supreme commander.

Monday's developments—witnessed at close hand by King Saud and young King Hussein—made the widest gulf yet in the Pan-Arab scheme Nasser calls "the Arab Nation."

Senior Awarded Merit Certificate

Philip Crossman, East Lansing senior, was awarded a certificate of merit in a national design contest for upholstered furniture. To qualify for the national contest, Crossman entered and won the contest here.

Oscar Achabel, East Lansing junior, Edward Huliyk, East Lansing senior and Graham Lewis, Pontiac junior were also winners in the contest here.

Entries for both contests required a drawing of an upholstered sofa and a co-ordinated chair design to sell within the medium retail price range.

Cabbies Can Be Courteous-It Says Here

WASHINGTON (AP)—Now look, Mack, you got it all wrong. Cab drivers are just like people. You know, get through the outer crust, and mostly they're polite and courteous. Not at all like they're usually pictured.

Sure, you get some rotten apples. What business doesn't? But if you think a cab driver isn't a first rate citizen, well, Mack, you had better keep your mouth shut when you're around the 30 cabbies who are here as winners of the four star driver awards.

These awards are given each year by the Plymouth people, who peddle taxicabs and naturally want to sell many more. The drivers saw Vice President Nixon, other points of interest, and talked shop the whole time. Mack, you should meet Harry Schweitzer. He's as bald as lineoleum, and he's quite a character, and he's from Brooklyn.

New York cabbies have a bad name and Harry is sorry. "Everybody comes to New York full of mistrust," he said sadly. "Since the first thing they see is the cabbie, they mistrust him most of all."

"Ridiculous. He's married, has responsibilities. I tell you the drivers in New York are the finest in the land."

You may wonder about this, Mack. Don't they drive pretty fast in New York?

This Schweitzer will admit, but he blames it on the native habit.

"You know how it is in New York. Everybody is in a rush. You rush through your food, you rush through everything. The minute the picture is over, everyone rushes out like there weren't any more cabs in the world. Always running."

Yet Schweitzer has managed to herd his back through this

Intractable Arms Cut Irks Dulles

Won't Accept New Soviet Promises

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said Monday it would be "folly" to dismantle free world defenses in reliance only on "unsupervised Soviet promises" to disarm.

"We do not yet know," Dulles said, whether the Russians are really willing to accept supervision that the United States says is necessary to make any disarmament agreement safe.

Dulles sounded this note of caution about disarmament talks now underway in London in asking the House Foreign Affairs Committee to approve President Eisenhower's $3,860,000,000 Foreign Aid Program for the year starting July 1.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has already approved the measure, with only a 277-million-dollar cut and with much of the long term aid authority Eisenhower sought.

In a report issued Monday, the Senate report concerned this is a lot of money but said "the American people are sufficiently mature and aware of the world situation which they face to give their support to a program of this character."

Dulles got a quiet but not unfriendly reception in his first appearance before the House committee on the bill. Chairman Gordon (D-Ill.) said Dulles "made an impressive appeal."

But the program still faces stiff congressional hurdles. The authorization, which is expected to reach the Senate floor later this week, and since it only sets out terms and ceilings for aid, without providing the money, an appropriation bill must be passed later to supply the actual cash.

Asked by Rep. Wayne Hays (D-Ohio) whether he foresaw any end to foreign aid within the next 5 to 10 years, Dulles said "I do not see the likelihood."

Canada Goes Conservative

TORONTO (AP)—In a smashing election upset, Canada's Conservative Party Monday ended the 22-year rule of the Liberal Party and swept nine Liberal cabinet members from their seats in the House of Commons.

At 10:35 p.m. (EST) the Canadian Press said that the Tories, led by 61-year-old John Diefenbaker, had won although failing to obtain an absolute majority.

In the normal course of events, the party winning the largest number of seats in Commons is asked to form the government.

The only top leaders of the outgoing Liberal government to retain their seats were the Prime Minister, 74-year-old Louis St. Laurent, and Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson.

What will happen to the government still was in doubt. In 1945 neither party won an absolute majority, but the Liberals continued to rule.

It appears unlikely that a coalition government could be formed now.

MSU to Take Part in Project

MSU will take part in a major research project on the future of industry in Michigan, according to the Michigan Economic Development Department.

Wayne University of Detroit, the M and the Upsilon Foundation of Kalamazoo will also take part in the project which is expected to last several years.

Funds for the project are being supplied by the Detroit Edison Co., Michigan Bell Telephone Company and Michigan Consolidated Gas Company.

Students planning to attend any football games away from East Lansing next fall should file applications at Jenison ticket office before leaving the campus this spring.

MSU receives a limited supply of tickets and all applications received before June 14 will be drawn by lot to determine in what order the tickets will be distributed.

Applications received after that time will be filled as long as tickets are available.

$733 Budgeted to Helot

$1,083 Legislated by AUSG In Final Spring Term Meeting

By DAVID STROUD
Student Congress legislated $1,083 out of its coffers Monday night in the last meeting of the spring session, while Congress breezed through business in less than an hour.

Bill No. 4 (Rep. Olson-E.L.) transferred $733 to the "Helot" account for its publication expenses fall term. The "Helot" is a guidebook to student organizations and activities, revised and published annually.

Olson said this amount was about one-third of total cost, with the administration paying the remainder.

Bill No. 6 (Rep. Ingrahamfraternities), took $350 for coverage of Student Government's summer session expenses. These funds will be supplemented by tax monies collected at summer registration with unused funds reverting to AUSG in the fall.

President Marne Gleason introduced two associate justices of the All-University Judiciary for summer term. They are Connie Mapes, Pontiac sophomore, and Kris Kaestner, Bridgeport, Conn. Junior.

Gleason also presented Sue Leichter, AUSG personnel director. She explained the function and methods of her bureau.

Bill No. 5 (Olsson), granted a temporary charter to Club Dumbala, an international music interest group.

Resolution No. 9 (Ingraham), asked for establishment of an interim committee of Student Congress for summer session.

The resolution passed. Congress will meet monthly during the term on vital issues and do preparatory work for fall term projects.

Resolution No. 10 (Ginny Butts-W. Mayo), asked investigation of the possibility of Congress meeting once each term in the Senate chambers at the state capitol in Lansing. Miss Butts said she thought this would be of value to representatives.

Representative Olson moved from the floor a recommendation to the athletic department on sale of football tickets. Olson said no receipts were being offered upon surrender of money for reserved seats to next year's games. He asked that such receipts be given upon demand by customers.

Hannah Given Law Degree

President John A. Hannah was conferred with an honorary doctor of laws degree Monday at Albion College commencement.

Dr. Hannah, who addressed 197 graduates, spoke on education needs.

He said, "The American people are not yet ready to pay the cost of something as essential to their continued well-being and national security as higher education is, but have no hesitancy in spending for tobacco products alone one and one-half times what they invest in higher education, and two and three-quarters times as much for alcoholic beverages."

He suggested, "We could build the facilities needed to serve our bright young people, pay our faculty members salaries commensurate with the social value of the services they perform, and reduce the costs to students and their parents sufficiently to destroy most of the economic barrier to equality of educational opportunity which should be the bright of every American boy and girl."

"Women have a more complex job of driving than men do. Most men travel the same route day after day, and know the route and how the lights operate and so on. This makes the driving job much easier."

"On the other hand, women seldom go the same way twice. They have a lot of stops to make and their minds are full of shopping lists, which stores to go to, where to park, how long it will take, what the children are doing in the back seat, whether they'll get home in time to start dinner and a dozen other things."

"So what happens? All of a sudden the woman driver remembers she forgot the eggs and jumps from the center lane to the curb to start looking for a market. All the men drivers promptly mutter the usual things to themselves when by rights they ought to be sympathetic."

Miss Glennie thinks that women have a definite place in automotive styling.

"We can do a lot more than just add frills to a car," she says. "A car to a woman is a lot more of a social object than it is to a man because she so frequently has friends and children riding with her."

She feels that the present seating arrangement in cars is unsuitable and would like to design some in which the passenger seat in front would swivel around so that the person sitting in front could join in the back seat conversation.

The convertible designed by Miss Glennie was done in yellow and white throughout. She also did a two-door in two tones of lavender with a dusty rose sweepover stripe.

... still smiling ...

1955. Hagerty, asked if the doctors ruled out any connection with the intestinal disorder which forced the President to undergo surgery a year ago, replied:

"I would think so."

"The President is coming along very well," Hagerty told reporters at an early evening news conference.

Hagerty said Eisenhower took a serving of milk toast at 5 p.m. This was his first substantial food since he complained of stomach distress early Sunday evening, presumably because of eating blueberry pie or some other food that disagreed with him.

The President also got another helping of milk toast and some chicken broth during the evening.

Hagerty announced that no doctor would remain at the White House Monday night. The President's physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, lives about 10 minutes drive from the White House. His apartment is connected by a direct telephone line.

Eisenhower cancelled all his appointments for Monday and today but Hagerty said he did not think the chief executive would stay in bed throughout today.

Carnival Fees, Information Due

All organizations wishing to participate in the 1957 Activities Carnival must have all their information and fees in immediately, according to Carolyn Shattuck and Tom Kimen, co-chairmen of the event.

The theme of this year's carnival is Comic Wonderland. The participating organizations will carry out this theme by the use of a comic character in their booth.

The carnival is scheduled for the first week of classes — October 3 — from 7-10:30 p.m., in Macklin Stadium.

Anyone desiring information regarding booth specifications may contact Karl Kiefer, at ED 2-2371.

Education Does More Than Jets, Missiles

American Universities are giving a valuable "assist" to the United States Government in its global program of technical cooperation.

One doesn't hear much about it, or read much about it—for this "university contract" program is not the spectacular stuff that provides headlines. But in its way it is one of the best things the United States is doing abroad. Jet planes to Yugoslavia or guided missiles to Formosa may provide page one headlines, but an educational system for Nepal, or an agricultural school for Ethiopia, or a public administration institute for the Philippines just are not spectacular—and next to impossible to dramatize.

Yet for better or worse—and only the Soviets would say for worse—the United States, through American universities, is spreading education, medical and engineering skills, improved agricultural practices, and better public administration throughout the world. Under the supervision of ICA (International Cooperation Administration) this year 51 American universities and technical institutions are carrying out 81 contracts in 38 countries in a program costing something under $25,000,000.

For example, Oklahoma A&M has helped set up, and is helping to operate, an agricultural technical school in Ethiopia—with a student body of 210.

The University of Michigan is working in the Philippines via an institute of public administration to train thousands of government employees.

In Nepal, the University of Oregon is helping develop an educational system literally from scratch. Nepal is only two percent literate, has only one citizen with a professional degree in education, and less than 10 who have had any professional training in education. Today there is a normal school operating there, and elementary schools are being set up in many parts of the country.

The American universities, it should be noted, generally work in cooperation with a foreign educational institution, or a ministry of a foreign government. They send members of their own faculties abroad, and bring faculty members from foreign institutions to their own campuses.

There are today some 600 Americans abroad under these university contracts, and some 300 foreigners studying in this country under their provisions.

In many countries there are a series of university contracts in operation, and several institutions may be involved. For example, in India there are nine such operations in progress involving the University of Illinois, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, the University of Wisconsin, the University of Tennessee, Ohio State University and the Kansas State College of Agriculture and Applied Science. In Iran there are 6; in Pakistan, 6; in Thailand, 5; in Turkey, 5; in Indonesia, the Philippines, each 4; in Formosa.

These university contracts go into such out-of-the-way places as Uganda, Kenya, Liberia, and Libya. Even such educationally advanced countries as Italy and France have ICA-financed university contracts in operation.

Vietnam, whose President Ngo Dinh Diem recently visited the United States, participates in a university contract, thanks largely to President Ngo who in his exile days in the United States was at Michigan State University acting as consultant to the Governmental Research Bureau there.

After becoming President, one of his first acts was to ask Michigan State University to help develop a public administration program and institute for Vietnam. Today there are 207 enrollees in that school program. An evening school, opened a year ago January, became an overnight success. Fifteen hundred Vietnamese applied for entrance; only 650 could be enrolled.

Sometimes these university contracts are made with an area of the world, not a country. Thus Harvard University participates in a public health program for all Latin America; the University of Wisconsin, a land problems survey covering the Near East, South Asia, and Africa; Teachers College of Columbia University, an education program for Latin America, the Near East, South Asia and Africa.

For roughly $25,000,000 a year the United States is providing via this university technical cooperation program just the kind of outside help that so many countries want. It is not a spectacular operation, but it is invaluable; and there is reason to believe that its fruits will far outlast the more dramatic and costly military help that the United States is also extending to many of these same countries.

Interpreting Congress Again Eyes Ike's Health

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst
President Eisenhower's latest illness, though reportedly not serious, naturally revives the discussion about how the duties of the office should be carried on when a president is incapacitated.

A House subcommittee started studying the subject after the President's heart attack nearly two years ago. After some hearings, it closed up shop without any concrete decision.

The chief witness was Attorney General Brownell, who recommended, on behalf of Eisenhower himself, a constitutional amendment empowering the Cabinet to decide when the vice president should take over. As it stands now, the Constitution authorizes the vice president to take over in case of "removal of the President, or inability of the President, or resignation or inability of the President." Failure of the clause to specify any authority for determining disability has been interpreted by Constitutional lawyers as leaving it to the vice president.

Some people have expressed fear that some vice president might take advantage of such power to stage a coup during a brief illness and try to hold the presidency.

Rep. Keating (R-N.Y.) introduced a bill providing for creation of a commission, composed of the vice president and judicial and legislative representatives, to decide with the help of medical advice when a President becomes disabled and when he is able to resume his duties.

Nothing has happened, and nothing is likely to happen, at least for the foreseeable future. There are too many different ideas in Congress.

At present, any vice president who violated the conscience of the Congress or the nation in such a situation would be subject to impeachment.

State to Renew Large Summer Conferences

Kellogg Plans For 5,340 This Month

Michigan State will continue to live up to its title as having the "Nation's Biggest Resident Conference Program" during the summer. This month at Kellogg an estimated 5,340 will attend workshops, institutes and seminars.

Conferences will also be held in several dorms, the Union and Gull Lake. These are only a few of the meetings scheduled:

Michigan Mental Hospital Institute—Mental hospital superintendent and staff personnel will meet to discuss such topics as internal communications, records management, the budget, and the hospital community.

Food Equipment Sales Courses—These include a one-week course in sales management and a two-week course in product education and sales training through June 21.

Nation Workshop in Counseling and Vocational Rehabilitation of the Cerebral Palsied—Seminars and workshops will seek to increase understanding and proficiency in helping the cerebral palsied to become employed. Also through June 21.

Topical Fluoride Conference—Sponsored by the MSU department of microbiology and public health an dthe Michigan Health Department, this conference will offer training in preventive dental procedures, familial relations and psychology of handling children. Wednesday and Thursday.

Michigan Osteopathic Hospital Conference—Speakers from the MSU faculty include Harold Featon and John Fehr, College of Business and Public Service; S. Earl Thompson and Donald Pound, School of Hotel, Restaurant and Institutional Management.

Steel Distributors Conference—One hundred and fifty members of the National Association of Steel Distributors will meet for this four-day conference, Friday through the 17th.

Highway Finance Seminar—Sponsored by the MSU Highway Traffic Safety Center, this seminar will feature 15 national experts in the field of highway finance. June 17, 18.

Mobile Homes Conference—Speakers and sessions will concern the problems of management, sales merchandising and other problems of businesses dealing with mobile homes. June 18-20.

National Institute for Organization Management—This is the recognized "school" for leaders in chambers of commerce and trade associations across the nation. June 23-28.

Telephone Engineering Management Conference—This conference was designed to teach telephone engineers the "science of money." June 30-July 27.

Terrorist Awarded Decision

Execution Awaits Pending Review

WASHINGTON (AP)—Caryl Chessman, who has been fighting off death in San Quentin's gas chamber for nine years, Monday won still another lease on life from the supreme court.

Dividing 5-3, the court ruled that California must not execute the convicted sex terrorist who turned author in prison pending another review of the case.

Justice Harlan, speaking for the majority, said "we must be deaf to all suggestions that a valid appeal to the constitution, even by a guilty man, comes too late."

Harlan said the "proponent before the court is not the petitioner (Chessman) but the constitution of the United States."

Justice Douglas, in a dissenting opinion concurred in by Justice Clark, took vigorous exception.

Joining Harlan to constitute the majority were Justices Black, Frankfurter, Brennan and Whittaker. Chief Justice Warren took no part in the case.

The question before the court was whether Chessman was accorded due process of law in connection with proceedings concerning the accuracy and legality of a transcript of his 1948 trial.

Board Positions Open For '58 Spartacade

Interviews for positions on the 1958 Spartacade Board of Directors will be held today from 1-3 p.m. in Organizations Rm. 2, according to Chuck Walther, director of Spartacade.

Before the vote, Zoli said he would resign rather than remain in office with Fascist support.

Gronchi is expected to begin talks today to find a successor. Attention appeared to center on Giuseppe Pella, vice premier and foreign affairs minister in the Zoli cabinet.

Wings Make Trade, Bucyk for Sawchuk

BOSTON (AP)—Goalie Terry Sawchuk, who quit the Boston Bruins and was suspended in mid-season last January, Monday was sent back to the Detroit Red Wings with whom he started his National Hockey League career.

The 27-year-old Sawchuk, obtained by the Bruins in a nine-player deal with the Wings two years ago, went to Detroit for Johnny Bucyk, a 22-year-old left winger, and a "substantial amount of cash."

Sawchuk, who won the Vezina Trophy three times for allowing the fewest goals while with Detroit, quit the Bruins because of what he called shattered nerves.

A month earlier, he had been hospitalized for treatment of infectious mononucleosis—a blood stream disease which affects glands and causes a loss of energy.

In 34 games with the Bruins, he allowed 81 goals for 2.38 average per contest. Bucyk scored 10 goals and added 11 assists in 66 games for the Wings last season.

In Detroit, it was expected that the Red Wings, who now have two goalies, will announce before the summer's end a trade that will send goalie Glenn Hall to another team, possibly the Chicago Black Hawks.

Detroit General Manager Jack Adams said the club has had several "feelers" on other leads, including offers for Hall. "We have the ball now," he said, "and we'll wait to hear from the other clubs."

When Sawchuk announced his "retirement," he was leading goalie in the league and was selected to the first All-Star team during the season's first-half balloting.

Robinson, Basilio Fight Proposed

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Attorney Samuel Rose, a Philadelphia City Councilman, said Monday that Sugar Ray Robinson is coming here to talk over a proposed Robinson-Carmen Basilio Middleweight championship fight for this city in September.

Rose, an embryo fight promoter, has offered Robinson $200,000 against 42 1/2 per cent of the net gate, including television, motion pictures and other receipts to fight in Philadelphia.

The attorney said he received a telegram from Robinson Monday which said:

"Your offer for a Robinson-Basilio fight in Philadelphia under consideration. Will come to Philly to talk things over after you contact Basilio. We both will be there to talk matters over. Ray Robinson."

Rose said he has offered Basilio a guarantee of $125,000 against 25 per cent of the net gate, TV, movies, etc. He said he is awaiting word from Basilio and his manager as to when they could come here for talks.

Hall, 25, finished the season as the league's second-ranked goal-tender behind Jacques Plante, goalie for the Stanley Cup champion Montreal Canadiens.

Adams said Sawchuk already has agreed to terms for the 1957-58 campaign. Adams said he asked the Bruins' permission to talk with Sawchuk in April. After getting assurance that Sawchuk was in good physical condition, he began working on the trade.

Maxwell Collects 2 Homers

Frank Lary Gains 3rd Win of Season

DETROIT (AP)—Charlie Maxwell hit two prodigious wallops and Al Kaline and Harvey Kuenn added round trippers as home runs accounted for all but one of the Detroit Tiger runs Monday in a 9-4 triumph over the New York Yankees.

Frank Lary, although he passed Al Aber's help over the last two innings, picked up his first victory since May 5 and the Tigers' third success in the four game series that drew 129,372 spectators to Briggs Stadium.

The Tigers had 16 hits off three New York pitchers—starting Bob Turley and his successor, Don Larsen and Ralph Terry—and five of them were for extra bases.

Maxwell drove in five runs with his 9th and 10th home runs. Kaline's blow, only his third homer of the season, followed a sixth inning single by Ray Boone. Kuenn added a solo shot in the same inning.

A pair of Yankee errors/preluded Maxwell's first home run in the third inning, a drive into the upper right center field stands above the 270 foot mark.

Manager Elston Howard drew an interference error and Turley failed to handle Frank Bolling's roller to the mound. It was the first hit off Turley who gave the loss, but New York Manager Casey Stengel summoned Larsen from the bullpen.

Maxwell's second home run, the fourth in three days—came in the seventh behind Bolling's single. This one off rookie Ralph Terry shot into the sails and travelled well over 300 feet.

Mickey Mantle cracked his 15th home run for the first Yankee run in the sixth, Hank Bauer accounted for the other three, tripling and scoring on Tony Kubek's single in the eighth and hitting his seventh home run with a man on base in the ninth.

Maxwell's first home run in the third inning, a drive into the upper right center field stands above the 270 foot mark.

New York Yankee Pitcher Tom Sturdivant (47), wearing hat, lands a right to the eye of Detroit Tigers first baseman Ray Boone between the mound and the plate in third inning of game at Detroit Sunday. Boone rushed to mound, charging Sturdivant tried to bean him. Both were ejected after a general melee of players from both benches.

Gernert Hits 2 Homers, Boston Downs KC, 11-4

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Dick Gernert hit 2 home runs and a double to drive in 6 runs and scored a 7th run on Jackie Jensen's single as Boston defeated Kansas City 11-4 Monday in the windup of a 4-game series.

The Red Sox first baseman, who was batting 265 going into Monday's game, got on base each of the five times he went to bat. He was hit by a pitched ball in his fourth appearance and walked in his sixth.

Both Gernert's home runs came with one man on base, in the first and second innings. He hit a 2-run double in the fourth.

Boston collected 13 hits off three Kansas City pitchers, scoring seven of its 11 runs in the fourth on four singles, three doubles, a wild pitch and an intentional walk to Ted Williams.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The lowly Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the league-leading Cincinnati Redlegs for the first time in 16 games Monday night, copying a come-from-behind 8-2 victory as righthander Vernon Law pitched a neat four hitter.

The defeat left the Redlegs only one game ahead of the idle Philadelphia Phillies who moved into second place, Brooklyn and Milwaukee are tied for third place, 19 games behind.

Law was the last Pirate pitcher to beat the Redlegs before Monday night's contest as the Redlegs won 15 in a row. He pulled the feat July 22, 1956.

Monday night Law got off to a shaky start as he gave up a leadoff single to Johnny Temple and then Wally Post smashed his seventh homer of the season over the left field scoreboard.

But, except for the fourth inning, when the Redlegs got their other two hits Law was the complete master of the situation. He struck out three and didn't walk a man.

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—Righthander Bob Buhl put the whammy on Brooklyn bats again Monday night, permitting only four hits in a 3-1 Milwaukee victory that hoisted the Braves into a third place tie with the Dodgers, who fell from second with their third loss in a row.

Gil Hodges had three of the Dodger hits and scored their lone run in the fourth, when he led off with Brooklyn's first hit and moved around on an infield out and Gino Cimoli's single.

Buhl, who beat the Brooks eight times last season, had early trouble with his control, but settled down after the fourth with a 2-1 lead on Ed Mathews' two-run homer in the top of the fourth against loser Don Newcombe.

Michigan State middle distance runner Dave Lean, who hails from Australia, won the 440-yard title in the 1957 Big 10 indoor championship meet.

The Big 10 dominated the All-American collegiate swimming team for this year with 31 swimmers landing 60 places on the all-star squad in 14 individual events in each of the 10 top performers in each was given All-American rating.

Michigan placed seven men on the squad, Indiana and Ohio State six each with Michigan State landing five places.

For the Spartans Don Patterson, Jim Clemens, Paul Reinke, Roger Harmon and Wallace Dobler received recognition.

Patterson in the 50-yard freestyle, Clemens in the 100 and 400-yard freestyle and Reinke in the 200-yard breaststroke.

Harmon placed in the 100-yard butterfly while Dobler won berths in the 100-yard butterfly, 200-yard butterfly and the 200-yard individual medley.

Gil Hodges, Musial Battle for NL Lead

NEW YORK (AP)—Will Gil Hodges or Stan Musial draw the most votes for the Major League All-Star game among National League first basemen?

These two have turned in outstanding performances and as the 1957 campaign approaches the one-third mark, they are vying a spirited competition for their circuit's batting lead.

Brooklyn's Hodges, 32, moved up from seventh place in last week's games. His postsetting average is .363, representing a 27 point gain. Gil collected 13 hits in 25 times at bat.

Musial, 26 and a six-time batting champ with the St. Louis Cardinals, is in second place with .358. He lost one point.

The race is a close one with only 37 points separating the first 10 basemen. Dick Groat of Pittsburgh sidelined with a sprained ankle, is third with .352. He's followed by Doc Foydy of the Pirates with .349 and Ed Bailey of Cincinnati with .333. Foydy was the leader a week ago but he slumped 23 points from .372 with 6-for-23 showing.

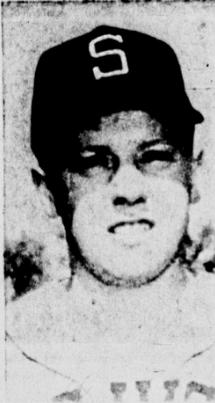

In the American League, Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox remained on top despite a 16 point drop to .341. The 38-year-old slugger had only four safeties in 16 tries.

Nellie Fox of the league-leading Chicago White Sox is in the runner-up position at .332. He climbed five points, Mickey Vernon of the New York Yankees increased his average 11 points to .334, good for third place. Then comes Bob Cerv of Kansas City, .324 and Bob Boyd of Baltimore with .329. Boyd picked up 22 points and zoomed up from 10th place.

Recently named to the Big 10 all star squad was Roscoe Davis, Michigan State first baseman. Davis was one of Coach John Kohn's top hitters during the past season. Another Spartan named to the team was catcher Al Luce. Luce, besides sporting a .300 plus batting average, clocked time home runs to give him the distinction of hitting more homers (16) than any other player under the direction of Coach Kohn since he took over the reins as mentor back in 1934. Named to the second team were pitcher Ron Perzowski and second baseman Frank Palamara. Both are juniors and will return next year to bolster Spartan hopes of a high finish in the Big 10 race.

The 26,800 ton British aircraft carrier HMS Ark Royal, enroute to the International Naval Review at Norfolk, Va. passes the Mayflower II on the high seas as the Mayflower heads toward Plymouth.

Ship Retracing Pilgrims' Voyage

Mayflower II Sits Becalmed Only 1 Day Away From Port

PROVINCETOWN, Mass. (AP)—The wind failed Monday just when Mayflower II was within a day's sail of 1601.

The effort was to make an exact arrival time of the 160-ton wooden hulk replicating the Pilgrims' voyage of 1620.

Monday was Mayflower II's final day out of Plymouth, Mass., and her proximity to her destination indicated she was only sailing her passenger in a cross-wind mark. The original Mayflower required 66 days for the voyage.

Ashore, both here at Mayflower's first stopping place and across Cape Cod Bay at Plymouth, where the voyage ends, the chance in weather was a sharp disappointment.

Provincetown, at the head of Cape Cod, has anchored the 92-foot craft by midday today.

But at noon Capt. Alan V. Britton announced he calmed in the west southeast of New-tucker light. Unable to estimate time of arrival.

Mayflower still would have about 150 miles to sail beyond the lights to arrive at Plymouth.

Job Carnival Plans Theme

"It's for You, So Interview"

The ninth Annual Career Carnival, sponsored by the Placement Bureau, has announced its theme, "It's for you, so interview."

It will be held in the Union next fall term.

The purpose of the annual event is to help undergraduates choose a vocation with particular attention. Roger Farbach, Rochester, junior, and general chairman, has announced that this will be the time for informal discussion between the students and the representatives.

The carnival, which represents a wide area of business opportunities, originated in 1949 and has grown until now there are approximately 80 of the nation's leading corporations represented.

Dr. Thomas Hamilton, vice president for academic affairs, will be the main speaker at the closing banquet. The Notables will provide the entertainment, according to Ann Mottinger, Westport, Conn., junior, banquet chairman.

Friends Plead Soldier's Case

Relatives Ask For U.S. Trial

WASHINGTON (AP)—A delegation from William S. Girard's home town went to the White House Monday to plead that he be given American justice when tried for the death of a Japanese woman.

Girard is the Army Specialist 3C accused of fatally shooting Mrs. Naka Sakai while she was scavenging for scrap metal on an American firing range in Japan Jan. 30.

His relatives and fellow townsmen in Ottawa, Ill., believe the 21-year-old soldier should have the benefit of a U.S. trial rather than a court-martial or in other legal proceedings in this country.

First to arrive in Washington Monday were Girard's older brother, Louis 27, and Louis' wife Shirley. They bore a petition signed by 6,800 mothers of Ottawa's.

Louis Girard said he just wanted to ask the President one question. The question was this:

"It is now the policy of the President of the United States to turn over to foreign courts for trial any American soldier on official guard duty, who shoots a foreign citizen while performing his duty to guard the property of the U. S. Government, or is the President making an exception in my brother's case?"

"I didn't get no answer," Girard repeated. "I don't know the next step."

The U. S. attorney's office took a step later in the day by filing a request in federal court.

Application blanks may be picked up in the Student Government office from 1.5. Sue Leichter, AUSG, personnel director, will interview applicants.

Miss Leichter said she was anxious for interested persons to make application immediately.

Japanese Promise 'Fair, Just' Trial

TOKYO (AP)—Justice Minister Umekichi Nakamura said Monday Japanese courts had solved smoothly and fairly a number of cases involving American servicemen and the trial of William S. Girard would also be "fair and just."

Nakamura issued a statement on the case of Army Sp. 3C Girard, Ottawa, Ill., who has been indicted by Japan on charges of inflicting bodily injury causing death in the shooting of a Japanese woman on a U.S. firing range last Jan. 30.
