Letters to the Editor Negro Challenges 'Equality Myth'

EDITOR'S NOTE: Last Thursday night there was a fight in the Union Grill. A Negro and three whites were involved. According to witnesses, the Negro was struck because he was talking to two white girls. Apparently two months ago people of the North—people of the world—have watched the integration crisis in the South. Some have shaken their heads, wondering if we are entering what our newsman recently termed "another South." Many have condemned the South for its behavior. Others have sympathized.

Where does this hatred between us begin? Or what is more important, where does it end? Is there any hope for racial understanding?

Many persons were horrified to hear that a Negro student had been attacked by several white students, apparently because the Negro student chose to speak with girls not of his own race.

Apparently the sight of black men being socially accepted by attractive white women was more than these mentally unwaterproofed minds could stomach. This was the age old fear which the white man has: that the Negro's only reason for desiring integration is to take the white woman and turn a money race. The black man does not seek to become white man's brother-in-law; he only wants acceptance into the family of mankind.

The blame for this original assault rests on the shoulders of all of us from the office of President Hannah down to the very freshmen.

The cause of our evil is our total indifference to the race problem here at Michigan State. We choose to think of hate and bigotry as existing only in Little Rock and other points south rather than in our own dorms and classrooms. Let us not be deceived. Present conditions are not entirely unconvincing to a race riot as was proven on the day after the mentioned attack. Keved up tempers were allowed to flare in the glass house of hatred and pretense. (Union Grill).

Still no one cares. This tense race situation was reported to Greater Lansing's "house of truth," the Lansing State Journal. Their response was one of not caring to mention the fact that this attack was an outgrowth of racial hatred, not only that, but "the victim had been asking for it for sometime."

Even our president did not display the concern which the situation warranted. He offered no suggestion for dealing with MSU's new relations other than reporting such attacks on individual rights after they have taken place.

Michigan State's black-white relationships demand immediate attention from the top level to the bottom. For the benefit of those of you who believe the myth of "equality" existing here, a detailed report is being prepared so that you may judge for yourself the seriousness of it all.

Questions Motives

I would like to take this opportunity to applaud the sound reasoning, the overwhelming moralism and courage that would have pushed through the veins of the few of our fellow undergraduates who took part in last Thursday night's "Solid Rock."

I applaud because I feel these characteristics in themselves are highly commendable. However, I do sincerely regret the fact that these fine qualities had to be so distorted, so as to nullify the actions of these "Solid Rock."

IF it was a personal grievance that caused the offense, a grievance against the person as a person and not because of his color, this too is perfectly all right.

IF it was either one of these reasons that caused the offense then the intelligent, educated, mature way to a solution was a man-to-man talk.

However since the "boys" did succumb to the "natural instincts" of the lower species of the animal kingdom, it leaves only one possible answer as a justification for their actions, that being racial prejudice.

Well "boys," all I can say is my sincerest sympathies go out to you. If you feel because a Negro talks to a white, that you have justification for making a public spectacle out of yourselves and MSU, then you shouldn't have bothered coming here in the first place. Remember, no one forced you to come, no one is forcing you to stay.

MSU is an institution for the educating of individuals; to broaden their thinking so as to improve man's understanding of the universe. Before we understand the universe we have to understand each other and thinking such as your's is an obstruction to this ideal, as Communism is to the ideal of democracy.

No Place to be Poking a Glass Jaw

Letters To The Editor 'Poor' Veteran States Case

I wish to publicly thank the administration of this university for its assistance and worthy advice. I am a veteran attending school under the GI Bill, and find it very difficult to make it. I am a poor man and have no money to keep my room and board payments up. I am a poor man and have no money to keep my room and board payments up.

I asked them recently, and they enlightened me greatly in some very fine new rules. One of these is that a student who is unemployed and owns an automobile is ineligible for a student loan.

It seems that this person is not classified as a student. This I do not know. The person who thought this one up deserves to be commended for being so far to left.

At course we can get a one week extension on the room and board payment, then after that it's another story. By the end of this month there will probably be one less student around here, but this doesn't worry them. There are 20,000 other students who have lots of money and will carry on the fine tradition of MSU.

An interesting side note to all this is that the money taken in for student traffic violations goes into the student loan fund. The people who own the cars and pay the stiff fines are the same people who cannot borrow on the fund. This really makes sense.

If we can afford to own a car, we don't need to borrow money. It takes a college education far above what I'm getting to figure that out.

I feel that if there is to be a student loan fund, it should be available to all. Let's not have any discrimination here! A 1947 Ford is not a sign of a wealthy man, but to the governing body of this place it is.

In actuality, owning a car here is the cause of some unnecessary expense. About $15 to store the wreck out in the pasture. But this is another story.

In conclusion, I would like to again express my thanks to the administration for helping me meet a temporary, but real problem.

Wet Wife's Worries

I don't ordinarily want my complaints broadcasted but this time I am really fed up with the parking and driving situation on campus.

Being married students living in the barracks are paying rent for a parking area in the Union Mural Room. Miss Sue Pearce will be the speaker.

A meeting of Alpha Phi Omega will be held at 7 p.m. in the Union Tower Room.

The 1947 Club will hold an election of officers at 7 p.m. at 214 Evergreen.

The Christian Science Organization will meet at 7:15 p.m. in the People's Church Chapel.

Some married students just across the tracks have commuted permits. Where can you draw a line? What's the difference between one and a half miles and one and three-fourths?

What's my point? I just wish that people would think before writing (posting in regulations) around here. Maybe more people could have bought bicycles with the $15 loan on the permits and ease your problem if you look our way too. Why pay three times as much and get less?

'Daily' Explains

I'm the Michigan Daily's editorial director and also its farm editor. I had the impossible job of writing a color story for Saturday's came which would have a new angle to it. With no malice in my heart, I conceived the pseudonymous reporter approach.

Aside from the fictitious byline and rural dialect both intended to provide a novel approach to a color story—nothing reflects on your university.

In fact, if I had any purpose in writing the content of the story it was to stir my own student body and self-proclaimed city slickers who get beat had by those city despisers as country boys. Thus my references to "hog callers," "Benny" and "shot pheasants" were intentional digs.

Sorry for my ambiguities and your misunderstanding. We on The Daily don't really take this football thing with your grapes' seriousness.

Newspaper Denounces Booklet

Written by Leader
Of Albanian Reds

BELGRADE (AP)—The Yugoslav Communist newspaper Borba denounced Sunday a booklet, published in Moscow, that was written by Albanian Communist leader Enver Hoxha.

One of President Tito's bitterest enemies, Hoxha resumed in the booklet the attacks on Yugoslavia which he left off only a few months ago.

When Soviet Communist chief Nikita Khrushchev met with Tito in Belgrade in August he supposedly gave assurances that such attacks by Hoxha and all other anti-Tito Communist parties in the Moscow wing would cease.

Borba called the Hoxha booklet "hostile and non-objective." The Yugoslav paper said it sometimes to follow a course parallel to the new spirit in the international workers movement.

Quotes From Booklet

Borba quoted extensively from the Hoxha work which deals with the influence of the Soviet revolution on Albania and on the subject of take-over of the Yugoslav. Its publication in Moscow, which seems to give it Soviet approval, came as a surprise here.

The incident has struck a sour note at a time when Yugoslavia and the Soviet Union seemed to be moving closer together. Yugoslavia has just resumed the Moscow-supported East German regime and as a result West Germany has broken diplomatic relations with Belgrade.

Furthermore, usually reliable sources report Tito, who fought as a comrade in the Soviet revolutionary movement, will personally lead a powerful Yugoslav delegation to Moscow to take part in the festivities on the 40th anniversary of the revolution Nov. 7.

Guards Redoubled in Budapest

Reds Fear Fresh Riot Wednesday

May Refire Revolt On Anniversary

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Budapest is a tensely nervous city under redoubled police and army guard and swarming with Communist informers, according to Western diplomats reaching Vienna Sunday from the Hungarian capital.

The Hungarian capital's two million inhabitants were pictured as anxiously wondering whether there would be a new outbreak or even the mildest kind of demonstration to mark Wednesday's first anniversary of the Hungarian anti-Russian revolution that stirred the world.

Premier Janos Kadar, installed by the Russian occupiers after they crushed the revolt with tanks, has warned that any new uprising would also be smothered. Other government spokesmen have warned that even attempts to mark the anniversary with demonstrations would be met with an iron fist.

Orders have been published and broadcast that Wednesday and Nov. 4, the anniversary of the day the Russians attacked to crush the victorious rebels, must be "normal days"—with everybody at work or at school.

In the past few days, diplomats said such articles as black neckties, scarfs and armbands have vanished from Budapest shops even though wearing such items has been forbidden Wednesday because such mourning that day will be considered a "counter-revolutionary demonstration."

People who actually are in mourning for recently deceased relatives, or who commonly wear black in their work, have been told to wear some other color Wednesday.

Even candles are reported difficult if not impossible to obtain in Budapest.

As tensions grow over charges that Turkey is planning to attack Syria, officials said arms have been issued to Syrian "resistance" organizations along the Turkish border. Syrian forces have also been bolstered by the arrival of Egyptian troops.

Fulbright Grants Aim at Scientists

The Board of Foreign Scholarships is interested in attracting students of science into the Fulbright program, particularly in the fields of chemistry, mathematics, physics and metallurgy, according to Thomas Osgood, dean of the School for Advanced Graduate Studies.

Special funds to help grantees meet the cost of travel and maintenance of their dependents have been made available to supplement regular grants.

These awards are for graduate study beyond the bachelor's degree, but before the doctorate level.

Family Foulup Caused by Error

ALB-LES-BAINS, France (AP)—An error by the town clerk here has made the father of four a bachelor, his wife his stepmother and his father a bachelor.

The foulup came to light when Louis Cloeckner tried to establish his right to an identity card. A check of the records showed there was no registration of Louis' marriage. But the records did show that Louis' father, Alphonse, was married in 1945 to Louis' wife.

Honoraries Offer Tutoring

Tutoring lists will be distributed this week by Tracy Glavin and Gerry Helmer, Union Barre tutoring chairman, announced Friday.

The two experienced staff honoraries again will provide free help to all freshmen and sophomore students.

As in past years, the lists contain names and addresses of all members, with the courses in which they are qualified to tutor. Students needing help are expected to make their own arrangements to meet tutors.

Lists will be posted in all libraries and women's dorms, fraternities, societies and groups.

Sparring Wide Open Race

By LARRY GUSTIN
 State News Sports Editor

ALL OF A SUDDEN there's a wide open race for the Big 10 title and Rose Bowl bid. Only Purdue, Northwestern and Indiana appear to be out of contention.

Very likely the honors will go to different teams. Iowa has the inside track on the championship, but is ineligible for a repeat journey to Pasadena. The Hawkeyes play Northwestern, Michigan, Minnesota and Ohio State.

Ohio State, momentarily at the top of the heap of Rose Bowl contenders, figures to lose at least a couple. The Hawkeyes meet Wisconsin, Northwestern, Purdue, Iowa and Michigan. If the Bucks go all the way, they will deserve every honor they get.

MINNESOTA LOOKED BAD in its last two starts, barely beating Purdue and being trampled by Illinois. The Gophers have yet to meet Michigan, Indiana, Iowa, MSU and Wisconsin.

The Wolverines have a full conference schedule ahead. Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana and OSU are still in store for Michigan.

Wisconsin, showing surprising power, cannot be counted out. The Badgers meet OSU, MSU, Northwestern, Purdue, Iowa and Michigan.

MICHIGAN STATE, despite Saturday's upset, still appears to have the manpower to win, or at least tie, for a Rose Bowl bid, and possibly the championship or co-championship. Next Saturday's Homecoming game is with Illinois, followed by Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Which team has the easiest schedule? It is still far too early to have any kind of prediction as to what will happen in the next five weeks. Unless one team suddenly stands out above all others, there are going to be quite a few squabs with two conference defeats.

Perhaps Purdue and Northwestern, with two beatings already, are not completely out.

A point in favor of the Spartans is that they play only three conference games. If they should win all three, it is likely that the rest of the league will eliminate itself.

It could be the most exciting season in years.

But Kaiser's wide conversion meant that State could only tie even if it scored again. It did not.

Twice it looked as if the Spartans would deadlock the game, but both time fumbles stopped the drives. Ninowski, brilliantly leading his team in the face of defeat, passed to Bob Jewett on the Purdue 30, but Jewett fumbled and Spoo recovered.

Ninowski looked like he still might be able to close the gap when he made two completions to Williams and Kowalezyk. But Kowalezyk's fumble on the next play was recovered by Purdue's Dick Brooks. Purdue was able to get off a few more plays before the final horn, but State was already beaten.

Injuries to the Spartans' Gerry Williams, Paritich and Kaiser were shaken up and Harding injured a knee which will probably keep him out for the season according to Daugherty.

Sarria Bags 3 Goals; Booters Top Purdue

By PETE WALTERS
State News Editor

Al Sarria scored three goals Saturday to lead the Spartans to a 3-2 victory over Purdue at the Soccer Field, before a record crowd estimated at more than 1,000.

The Spartans, rebounding from losing ties with Michigan and Ohio State, dominated play throughout the contest in stopping the highly-ranked Booters, who had previously won three lopsided victories against the Boilermakers.

Sarria opened the scoring early in the first period and notched another tally in the second period. Purdue could break the scoreless tie at his center forward position in the second half, before a recurrence of his leg ailment forced him to leave.

The Booters will play two more home games before facing their first road match of the season. They meet Illinois at 10 a.m. Saturday, then play Whigham at 3:30 the following Wednesday afternoon. After an away match with Ohio State they will face Kossow at home, then close the season with games at Indiana and Michigan.

Al Sarria, star Spartan forward, scores his third goal of the morning against Purdue Saturday. Guarding him is All-America fullback Paul Coward, while M. S. Siva Shabankariath defends the Boilermaker nets.

Wings Win

DETROIT (AP) Red Kelly, Billy Dea and Norm Ullman each scored their first goal of the season as the Detroit Red Wings defeated the Toronto Maple Leafs Sunday night, 3-1.

Kelly counted on a power play after seven minutes. Terry Sawchuk nursed this slender lead for almost 40 minutes in his finest performance since returning to a Detroit uniform. Sawchuk played despite a 4-stitch cut in his lip where he was hit by Toshi Sloan's rising shot early in the game.

Sarria narrowly missed scoring on at least two other occasions, both of which required commendable saves by Purdue goalie M. S. Siva Shabankariath. Van Vanderhorst, recently switched from fullback to a forward, also had a pair of goals taken from him by the rugged Boilermaker defense.

Wendy singled out All-American fullback Paul Coward as Purdue's outstanding player.

Despite an injury which had sidelined him during the pre-

Red Star Gives Hint Of Missile

West Speculates Statement Claims

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Army newspaper Red Star gave out a strong hint Sunday that the intercontinental ballistic missile is in production and ready for use by Soviet armed forces.

Since the Russians announced in August they had successfully tested an ICBM, they have been speculating in the West whether the missile was actually ready for use as a weapon or whether it is merely a first step device.

Red Star gave no flat answer but said creation of powerful intercontinental missiles has increased considerably the defense capacity of our motherland. It added.

Soviet Armed Forces now possess various atomic and thermonuclear weapons as well as long range and super long range rockets.

The article was a lengthy one on the Communist party's role as "inspector and organizer" of the Soviet Armed Forces.

Russian defense against air attack, the paper said, has been improved by the production of the most modern super-sonic fighters, high caliber anti-aircraft artillery, anti-aircraft missiles and other weapons.

Foreign Film Series to Give Life Story of Dr. Schweitzer

Albert Schweitzer is the title of a film to be presented at Fairchild Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday 7 and 9 p.m. The program, sponsored by the Foreign Film Series, will also be shown at 4 p.m. Wednesday.

Dr. Schweitzer was born on Jan. 14, 1875. By the age of 21 he had received degrees in philosophy, theology and music from the University of Strasbourg.

He decided to work as a missionary doctor and in 1913 established a hospital in an old French town at Lambaréne, French Equatorial Africa.

Schweitzer's grandsons portray the young Albert. Dr. Schweitzer himself appears in the second half of the film which records a typical day at Lambaréne as he makes his hospital rounds, welcomes new families and visits a leper village where he is supervising construction of new huts.

Fresh Candidates Need Special Permits

Pettingting has been completed for freshman class officers. Fresh Soph. Council and class officers. Candidates must have special permits from Herb Harman, campaign chairman, to carry campaign measures other than those stated in the campaign regulations. Posters will be allowed in living units, also with special permission.
