Volunteers to Give a Hand For Campus Chest

This motto will be the key to valuable prizes for donors to the drive.

Kick-off Day events Monday feature a drawing for three prizes and entertainment at the dormitories on campus by the Asbury Knights 5 p.m.

Any person contributing a minimum donation of 50 cents at the kick-off desk in the Union concourse from 9 a.m.-5 p.m. will qualify in the drawing of one of two LP record certificates contributed by local record stores or a discount certificate from a local photographer.

Throughout the remainder of the week a special contest will be run to win away a $10 gift certificate from a local clothing store.

The center of attention in this event is "The Stroller," an unidentified member of the MSU faculty, student body, or staff, who will race the campus through the day.

Contests to the location of this person will be publicized each day; the contestants then inquire and he locates the person.

The regular solicitations will be conducted by Campus Chest chairman in the following areas:

East Women's dorm, West Women's dorm, Shaw Hall, Brooks Group, Married Housing, Corps, sororities, Fraternities, and Off-Campus.

The only solicitors on campus during the week will be located at each door of the Union.

Each year Campus Chest, a division of the All-University Student Government, designates the specific organizations which will benefit from the drive.

Those listed this year are United Community Chest, World University Service, Spartan Nurses, National Scholarship Service, American Cancer Society, Muscular Dystrophy Assoc., Senior Touring Talent Show, and the College "Y" group.

Heading this division of AUSC is Sue Lechteman, Executive chairman.

Service Groups To Sell Balloons

The balloons will be released when MSU scores their first touchdown. They will be sold at several strategic points on campus including all the bridges to south campus and at the south end of the stadium.

Sellout Crowd Set for Eight-Minute Trip

Band Catches 'Around the World' Fever

In what it took Jules Verne and the inevitable Mike Todd 80 days to do, the MSU Marching Band will attempt to do in slightly over eight minutes of half-time at the Michigan State-Notre Dame football game Saturday.

The Academy Award-winning "Around the World in 80 Days" is the inspiration for the MSU Band's half-time show, "Around the World in Eight Minutes."

The show is one of the most extensive and spectacular half-time productions ever planned.

By Band Director Leonard Fain and his assistant Oscar Shaver. The extravaganza is most appropriate as a sellout crowd of 36,000, largest ever to see a football game in East Lansing, is expected.

Highlight of the entire show will be the music of the late Victor Young—especially adapted by arranger Norman Kimmel with permission of the publishers. Kimmel, currently in New York, has arranged and incorporated characteristic music of the various countries.

Speech Designed To Assure U. S.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower, acknowledging that surging Russian power could "damage us seriously" if war came, addressed the nation Thursday night in a half-hour television and radio broadcast.

He took a definite preventive step by naming a scientific chief of staff to each development of the weapons of the future.

He appeared in James E. Killian, president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, to take command.

His choice speaks well for America's interest in science and technology in the face of Russian scientific and missile progress, and Russia's desire and intent to catch up with America.

We firmly recognize, he said, "that the Soviets are building up types of power that could, if we were attacked, damage us seriously."

This is because our defensive system today can probably be defeated.

To offset this, the President added, he believes that we must increase the overall military strength of the free world, a measure greater than that of the conventional forces.

He firmly recognized, he said, "that the Soviets are building up types of power that could, if we were attacked, damage us seriously."

This is because our defensive system today can probably be defeated.

The defense must, and our allies must, be prepared to defend themselves. We must be prepared to defend ourselves against attack, and not every strong measure.

Our enemies know that we are well aware of the Soviets in the nuclear field, both in quantity and quality.

We intend to stay ahead.

Referring to the new defense setup, the President said,

"The purpose is to make it possible for me, personally, whenever there appears to be an unnecessary delay in our development system, to act promptly and decisively."

He selected Killian for the scientific adviser, as he said, with confidence, and the confidence of the Congress in the judgment and engineering of the president.

Throughout his statement, Eisenhower used the word "should" to be applied to the major programs. He went forward to clearly indicate his feelings, and that both things he intended were service, implementation of educational and economic measures, and the promotion of health and welfare.

The Naval Choir arrived Saturday to present a show with the Glee Club at Kellogg Center.

The two groups will present a varied show consisting of songs of "mood" including solo, duet, trio, and a few semi-chorus.

The curtain rises at 8:15 in the Big Room with the tickets being set at $1.20. Tickets can be bought at the ticket office in the Union Concourse, at Kellogg Center, before the performance. A limited supply will be sold at the door.

Everyone can get a preview of the group at the game in the stadium. The choir will sing the National Anthem at the game.

Letters for constructing the first building of the MSU branch of Oakland County are slated to be sent to the administration in January. President John A. Hannah said Thursday in Pontiac Dr. Hannah, addressing officials from the Pontiac area, stated that preliminary plans for the first structure will be presented to the Citizens Advisory Committee.

The building is to be erected on a site along Adams Road, on the east side of Meadow Brook Farms, Dr. Hannah said.

Preliminary plans call for a structure with a one-story section containing two lecture halls, library, and faculty and administrative offices, and a three-story section containing 30 classrooms, he said.

This first building will be constructed by the $7 million contingent levied by Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson at the time they gave their estate to MSU.

Dr. Hannah also mentioned a comprehensive study, conducted by the College of Education which supports original beliefs that the Oakland County site was ideal for a four-year public college.

He said that of 27,836 adults questioned in the survey, 1,200 indicated a marked certainty that they would take college work at the branch, and additionally 3,282 indicated that they probably would attend classes there.

A forecast based on the study estimates the freshman enrollment will range between 514 and 1,013 in 1959, when the branch opens.

The potential capacity of the branch, Dr. Hannah said, is a total of 10,000 full-time students enrollment.

The Meadow Brook college will offer a strong program in liberal arts, with opportunities to specialize in engineering, business, a "teaching" preparation, Dr. Hannah said.

On Germany

Dr. Ferdinand R. H. Friedensburg IV, German consul, visited the Army ROTC Detachment recently, and spoke to the Army Cadet Officers' Club on the new German Army and its relationship to NATO and the United States.

In his talk, Dr. Friedensburg emphasized that in our changing world, the free countries must stick together. He told the cadets of the friendship that is held by the German people for the United States, and also congratulated MSU on having such a fine military program.

Friedensburg, 40, arrested by the Gestapo and tried by a "People's Court" during the Hitler regime, has had over 15 years of diplomatic service for the German government.

His father, Ferdinand Friedensburg III, was Mayor of Berlin, and is a member of the Federal Parliament in Bonn. His son is Vice-President of the League of Citizens in Berlin.

Hayrides, Parties, Dances Spark MSU Social Agenda

Whether the weatherman brings snow or just low temperatures for the weekend, the Spartan social agenda will remain chock-full of activities fit for any climate.

Besides bundling up for the Notre Dame-MSU football game, many students will don the fun-filled jackets useful for November hayrides.

Sigma Kappa coeds and their dates will enjoy one of these hayrides at Hale Ranch Friday night from 8-10. Following the hayride, cider and doughnuts will be served at the Sigma Kappa house.

Present 3 of Rutherford Hall will also hold a hayride Friday night from 8-10 at Hale Ranch.

Block and Braille will venture outdoors too for a hot dog roast held at College Farm from 8-10 p.m. Friday.

Butterfield Hall will sponsor a dance at Brody Friday night from 8-12.

An eerie mood will prevail over the Delta Tau Delta's and their dates Friday night, as they participate in the "Grave Piggers Ball."

A Funeral procession will pass down Grand River prior to the dance which will last from 8-12 p.m.

The procession will be complete with casket, pall bearers, torch bearers and a live corpse in the form of Bill Young.

Before the mood breaks into a dance, the "last rites" will take place at the Delt house, where all guests will sign the guest register.

And what else would provide the musical background for this festive occasion, but an organ.

Alpha Omicron Pi will have a team dance at the house from 9-12 Friday night.

Following the game Saturday, Phillips Hall will hold an open house.

Alpha Epsilon Phi also will invite guests to an open house following the game.

An informal dinner following the game will be held at the Psi Upsilon house from 8-10 p.m. Saturday.

Coffee and doughnuts will be served at the Sigma Kappa open house following the game.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon will be the scene of a jam session following the game. The Kenny Davis Combo will provide the music. The SAE's will also hold a "bundle party" at the house Saturday night from 9-12.

Elsworth Co-op will have their semi-formal from 8-12 Saturday night at the house.

Mrs. Kowalewski claims her husband is a good sport because he enjoys football, especially the football game.

Ballot Box

Recent initiates of Alpha Epsilon Phi, a local chapter of Delta Gamma, have been riding horses since the winter about four years old, and have come along with a record of first place awards and high rankings at numerous horse shows, fairs and other contests.

Jan and her father own a string of about 25 quarter horses, and spend a good deal of the summer in riding and showing them throughout Michigan and Ohio. They have brought home numerous top prizes and first place ratings in both local and state fairs.

Coming to MSU as a freshman in 1946, Jan is majoring in mathematics. This fall she will be a member of Delta Gamma-sorority and active in Green Spike, coed swimming, too.

U of Illinois Coed Invades ROTC

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UPI)—A University of Illinois coed, awaiting for Women's Air Force commission, has invaded the benighted barracks, all in the name of Officer Training.

What's more, she's a Squadron adjutant and finds out merits and demerits to the men in her outfit.

Barbara A. Wilford, 20, of Oak Park, Ill., broke Illinois ROTC precedent last week when she enrolled in the college program, claiming there are no rules specifically barring women.

Wilford, military-brass-honed around a bar and finally decided there was nothing in the book that said Barbara couldn't take the military science course for academic credit.

Booters Face Kenyon In Season Home Finale

After 4 Straight Victories

'Best Physically' In Several Weeks

By PETE WALTERS
State News Edit Page Editor
Lead by a defense that has yielded but one goal in the last three games, the unbroken Spartan soccer team meets Kenyon College of Ohio in its 1957 home finale Saturday morning at 10 on the Soccer Field.

With four straight victories to its credit and a 4-0-2 record against top booters will be in fine physical shape in seven days, according to Coach Fred Geremia.

At Saginaw, the center forward since his leg hasn't kept him from scoring, Sorenson has goals to still bring, but expected to start. He has six this year, one more than Al Seraia.

Seraia, hurt in the Wheaton game, played less than two minutes against Ohio State last week, but is reportedly feeling better and should be back at his inside left position.

Don Asmuth, who missed the three games with the flu, bolstered the defensive corps. He either has returned playing back along with All-American Angelo Pintilie and All-Region selection Ray Burdette, backs Neil Butler and George Sepetys and goals Al who has picked up two in two weeks, round sturdy defense.

Kubek, Sanford Voted Rookies-of-the-Year

NEW YORK (UPI)—Tony Kubek, the New York Yankees' valuable pick of all trades, and Jack Sanford, a 19-game winning pitcher and strikeout ace of the Philadelphia Phillies, are the 1957 Major League Rookies of the Year.

A 10-man committee of the 1957 New York Asian.com panel of sportsmen chose each league's top rookie.

Kubek won by a 22-1 landslide. The other ballot named Ken Matzou, Boston Red Sox third baseman, who previously had been declared ineligible because he had 103 at bats in a 1956 trial.

Sanford had more competition from the Phils' 28-year-old right-hander, who impressively headed 17 saves. His closest rival was sophomore first baseman Eddie Kasko, who received 14 votes. Dick Drath, the Cardinals' ace, was third, spending right-hander, and bats.

At various times Stengel had Kubek at shortstop, second base, third base, left field and center field.

Sanford returned from Army service in time to appear in three games with the Phils in late 1956 but not enough to keep him out of the 1957 rookie class.

Nick Pietrosante is one of the best of the Irish fullbacks in recent years. Guard Al Euvier has been a terror in the Irish line along with tackle Charlie Pintillo.

Brennan and Daugherty have a personal trophy in the form of a shillelagh that is at stake with each game.

Brennan first won the shillelagh when the Irish edged the Spartans, 20-19. However, Daugherty has held the token the past two seasons registering victories by 21-7 and 17-14 scores.

Meanwhile, medical reports continue to be the main news from South Bend. Reports have it that three Irish players definitely were out of the Spartan contest and that a fourth, speedy halfback Aubrey Lewis, is a doubtful starter.

The three sidelined for certain include end Gary Myers, who has a slightly fractured wrist, guard Bob Gaydos, who has a bad ankle, and centerfielder Dave Hurd, recovering from an appendectomy.

The probable starting lineup:

Dan Currie	Cap Ed Sullivan
Ellison Kelly	Allen Euvier

Luchow, puntying director Bill (I Can Play Too), enough gave notice that Larry (I Got To Play More Than One Quarter-Gone) Gustin is back in the line this year. He slyly hints for Bob (I'll Be a Redhead) Warden may be the surprise of the year at bat.

Whatever resistance the pitchers offer is expected to come from Mattox (We Were Ready), Gleason and charging lineman Barrie (Point of Order) Alley. If they can true to form, AUSG is expected to pop up with a return appearance of longer lolly (H-E-P Can't Pitch).

Don Campbell Raises World Mark

CORSTON, England (UPI)—Out to regain its number one spot in national independent ratings, Luchow's SAC meets Student Government in the annual Shovel Bowl classic at 9:20 a.m. Saturday on Old College Field.

It was on this same gridiron a superior Luchow seven stomped an over-rated AUSG 24-11 last year due to the fleet-footedness of present Coach Dave (George) Strand. Strand, known for 21 points in the runaway, has been unable to hang on to even a pass from center this season.

Going into its game Wednesday night, confident LAC was tumbled by a rugged VPI squad 7-0.

Except for that one slip-up, LAC stands undefeated in its last eight scheduled games, two forfeits, five games rained out and last year's Shovel Bowl victory.

Unlucky AUSG has not yet played this season as the instant to field a team has been held up in Rules Committee.

Playing under Strand has re-vised LAC's broken-wing multi-pie-fracture offense to include a

Grad Council To Control Higher Study

A Graduate Council to coordinate advanced graduate programs at Michigan State University has been approved by the university's Academic Senate.

The new Council, which will include at least one elected representative of each MSU college with a teaching faculty, "has been delegated major responsibility for improving research facilities and opportunities for graduate programs," reported Dr. Lawrence W. Witt, chairman of the faculty committee which prepared the resolution.

"Our goal was the creation of a graduate council whose function is to establish minimum standards for graduate work and to create an intellectual atmosphere which stimulates research," Dr. Witt added. "This is the first such elective Graduate Council at the university."

Supplementary committees, to be established in the various colleges along with an all-university Graduate Forum, will provide for exchange of ideas between the Council and individual faculty members interested in graduate work, it was pointed out.

Korean POW, Red Army Equipment Top the 'Most Needed' List

Help Wanted! Term Play-'Time Limit'-Needs Technical Aid, Ah So Pronto

By SUZETTE RAMSEY

Wanted: two veterans for technical advisors, one a Korean POW and one familiar with the duties in an army post lawyer's office; a Chinese or Korean rifle and pistol; parkas, and Red uniforms.

If you have services or material to lend, you can help make the fall term play, "Time Limit," more authentic. The director, Don Buell, needs people and costumes.

The play concerns the possible court-martial of a U.S. Army officer who allegedly "went-over" to the Red Chinese side.

The main action of the play takes place in a Judge Advocate's office of an army post. Reports, testimony, files, and character investigations are involved.

Any veteran, whether student or staff members, who have had experience in that branch of the service, are needed to help with the details for these scenes.

Two scenes are located in Camp GeeGig—an imaginary prison camp in Korea.

A POW is needed mainly to impress the general atmosphere of the actors. He would be able to explain the relationship between the men and the guards, maltreatment and brainwashing, Buell hoped.

Anyone fitting these descriptions is asked to please contact Professor Buell in the speech department immediately.

Costumes are a bit difficult to find, too. Anyone with a Chinese or Korean rifle and/or pistol is asked to lend it. Parkas and heavy trenchcoats for the officers in the camp scenes are needed.

"Time Limit" will be presented on the Fairchild stage Nov. 21, 22, and 23. Al Aikin, Detroit junior, plays Lt. Col. Edwards, the Judge Advocate.

Cpl. Jean Evans is played by Thomasina Manikas Ypsilanti junior. The humor is supplied by Terry Sullivan Buffalo, N.Y., junior, as Sgt. Baker.

are requested to call Agnes David, costume designer. All will be returned.

"We're working for accuracy of detail," the director stated, "and we want some first hand advice on some of the trickier details. We're most anxious to contact any POWs who were before the barbed wire in Korea."

Are you qualified to help him? Though you may never see your name in lights, at least you'll be able to say that you once helped make a play a success!
