Full House Views The Merry Widow'

By MACK PERRY

Franz Lehár's operetta "The Merry Widow" received an appreciative ovation from a capacity house Tuesday night in the Aud with Beverly Bower as the Merry Widow and Robert Rounseville opposite her as Prince Danilo.

Since "The Merry Widow" is not great music, hardly even good music, it must be judged merely as entertainment and not art.

It is a tuneful work and its melodies have been popular since its first production in this country in 1907.

As the Merry Widow, Miss Bower left much to be desired. Her characterization failed to project beyond the first few rows and at that distance she appeared ill at ease. She is, however one of the finest singers to appear here with the New York Opera.

Despite some edge-high notes, she produced her voice with considerable ease and a variety good technique.

Jacqueline Moody in the role of Natalie Popoff proved herself to be up to date. Those of Miss Bower, Miss Moody never let her audience forget her presence and was always convincing in her portrayal. Despite her shade of voice, she carried her part well.

Prince Danilo, one of Robert Rounseville's better-known characters, he brought to the part a certain irresponsibility and easy charm. Though his voice is basically a lyric ballad tone, he managed the scenes with a minimum of difficulty.

Generally, one is confronted by his reputation as one of the country's leading performers.

As Camille de Jaldion, William Olvin revealed a beautiful but badly forced voice, good looks and generally acceptable portrayal of his part.

Among numbers most appreciated by the audience, the second ballet was perhaps the most spontaneously received.

The dancer seemed to be enjoying him self. What appeared to be new costumes removed the smile from his face.

Consequently there was speculation in some quarters here that leaders of other countries would prefer to go ahead in December with a cabinet level NATO session and arrange for the heads of government to confer several months later when they would expect the U.S. President to attend.

Secretary of State Dulles said recently he anticipated his participation in the conference.

President Unlikely To Attend NATO

Nations Question Whether To Hold Paris Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will not attend the NATO Summit Conference at Paris next month and there is a possibility the conference may be postponed.

The United States has put up to the other 14 Atlantic Treaty members the question whether they want to go ahead with a conference of heads of government and a decision is expected within the next day or so.

If the decision is to hold a summit session on schedule originally projected Tuesday night that Vice President Richard M. Nixon would be designated by Eisenhower to attend. If the decision is to postpone the top level meeting perhaps until next spring officials said that the regular session of foreign defense and finance ministers would certainly be held in place of the Summit Conference.

Shortly after the White House announced the medical diagnosis of the President's illness and said he would require several weeks of rest, the State Department made the following announcement:

It is to be assumed that President Eisenhower will not attend the NATO meeting in December.

Mr. Speake, the secretary general of NATO, has been asked by us to ascertain from the other members how they wish this meeting to be dealt with in the light of this announcement.

Sen. Harry Byrd (D-Va.) said Tuesday he has been informed the Eisenhower Administration expects to add two billion dollars to missile expenditures and cut the budget a billion elsewhere to avoid raising the debt ceiling.

Byrd, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, said in an interview he had been assured by Secretary of the Treasury Anderson the administration will make every effort to live within the present $25 billion dollar debt limitation.

It is to be assumed that President Eisenhower will not attend the NATO meeting in December.

Anderson, the secretary general of NATO, has been asked by us to ascertain from the other members how they wish this meeting to be dealt with in the light of this announcement.

Some diplomatic experts said the through the leaders of other countries would want to go ahead with a top level session.

The session had been arranged last month by Secretary General Paul Henri Spaak to launch a plan for modernizing NATO military forces, promote more close political consultation and obtain a greater pooling of scientific and other resources.

Another objective was to work out greater coordination with allies in other parts of the world such as the Baghdad Pact in the Middle East and the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

Some authorities here noted that Eisenhower was to be the central personality at the meeting. His trip to Europe and his conferences with heads of other anti-Communist states had been designed to dramatize the stepped up allied cooperation and to gain the full force of his prestige.

Library Problems Demand Solutions

They say that from books you can learn a lot. This adage is at a loss with the new system initiated at the MSU Library this term. The problem is how to get the books.

Since the library switched from the check-out system of assigned reading materials to shelving the books in the assigned reading room, many students have been at a loss in trying to find the material they need.

Contrary to heretofore mentioned statements by library officials, books are missing from the shelves.

Granted the disappearance of these books is the fault of several students who don't want to run to the library every time they have outside reading to do and would rather steal the book and use it at their leisure.

But under the old system of checking out a book and signing for it, the pilfering could be held at a minimum and the materials needed were in the library.

At present there is a person stationed at the door of the assigned reading room to check against students taking the books out, but this is apparently inadequate.

Another problem that exists with the present library system is that the honest students are not allowed to sign out any of the books to take to another section of the library to read, which becomes mandatory in the light of the noise and disturbance that exists in the crowded assigned reading room.

Library officials will not allow a check out unless the assigned reading room is filled and the crowded conditions that do exist are most assuredly not conducive to study.

In the light of these problems it would seem advisable to either return to the old system or remedy the new one.

Hats Off

Congratulations are in order for the 1957 MSU Spartan football aggregation on a hard job well done.

No they didn't win the Big 10 championship and they aren't going to the Rose Bowl. And the drop from first to third in the Associated Press Football Poll, although disheartening to some, is no reason for remorse.

The gridiron of Coach Duffy Daugherty compiled a season's record of eight wins and one loss which is way above average when playing in a conference considered by many as the strongest in the nation.

It took the final quarter of play against the last opponent of the season to really emphasize its greatness.

After trading 9-6 to an upset minded Kansas State team the Spartans came back with a flurry in the fourth quarter to win going away, 27-9.

Prime satisfaction can be derived by MSU fans in the smashing victories over two of the nation's perennial football powers—Michigan (35-6) and Notre Dame (34-6).

Our hats go off to Dan Currie, Pat Burke, Jim Nirowski and Walt Kowalewski who were honored recently with first team selections on the All-Big 10 team.

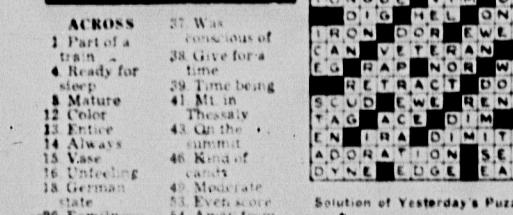

So before the Thanksgiving holidays arrive and the basketball season is ushered in we would like to take this opportunity to express our satisfaction and appreciation to Coach Daugherty and his 1957 team. You're still No. 1 with us.

Hunter's Find

Melville Gehm went out looking for squirrels on the first day of hunting season. Instead, he found a prehistoric mastodon.

Walking along the dry bed of Mercer (Ohio) County's Black Creek, he stumbled on some bones which experts identified as part of the remains of an elephant-like mastodon of the Pleistocene Age, some 9,000 years ago.

Air Base Future Center of Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—The King of Morocco and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles conferred for two hours Tuesday on problems in North Africa. Dulles said the talk went "very well."

The King, substituting for President Eisenhower, who had been held up by a blocked artery.

Spurred by his party's arrival at the White House in Washington shortly after 9 a.m. EST and were escorted to the Cabinet Room for the conference.

"It's not often that enough snow falls in this part of West Central Texas to build a snowman and the kids had a field day in San Angelo Sunday," Dulles reported afterwards. "He said one and possibly two more conferences will be held before the king leaves Washington Thursday."

The talks are expected to cover the future of U.S. air bases in Morocco, the need of the kingdom for American strategic help and the king's aspirations to settle the two-year-old dispute between France and the Algerian rebels.

Although Eisenhower was unable to be present, the Moroccan ruler was made at home in the White House. He was taken through the President's office and given some of the memorabilia.

Later donning a camel hair coat, Mohammed drove to the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington Cemetery to lay a wreath of red carnations and geraniums.

The king's next stop was at the AFL-CIO headquarters, where he was greeted by George Meany, president of the labor organization.

Many welcomed the monarch as the spirit of fraternal relationship with organized workers of Morocco.

The king, answering through interpreter, expressed pleasure in being in a building of workers' workers and said workers in his country "enjoy freedom and workers' rights." He and Meany toasted each other in orange juice.

Mohammed had lunch with Justice Warren in the Supreme Court Building. Most of the Supreme Court Justices were absent.

Following were an ankle-length walkabout in a huge color and was visited on his rounds by his son, Prince Moulay Abdallah, and his Foreign Minister, Ahmed Benflor.

*Premiers Progress On Tunisia

Still Some Friction In Arms Shipment

PARIS (AP)—Two solemn-faced premiers Tuesday wound up 13 hours of ponderous talks aimed at ironing out British-French difficulties over arms shipments to Tunisia. While some wrinkles remained, a high French source suggested France had scored at least a partial victory.

The conference between young Premier Pierre Gaillard and Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan produced a vaguely worded communiqué that did not go into black-and-white British promise to halt arms shipments to the neighbor of rebellious Algeria.

But the French informant said the talks went far beyond the wording in the communiqué. He said the French did not expect the British to ship any more arms to Tunisia in the near future, if at all.

"There is a difference between what the British can do and what they will do," he said.

Macmillan and Gaillard stood almost transfixed as the British leader read the communiqué after long talks. He had come to Paris Monday in the hope of concluding a琉璃 friendship.

The talks culminated around the afternoon of Nov. 14 and 15 of 100 men—men and materials—we certainly could have improved on the delivery dates we now have and certainly been ahead of the Russians."

Macmillan, as director of the National Space Administration, P.A.T., said:

"Doolittle and Hagen were the two of the greatest engineers in the second Bay of Naples or a Second World War. They are planning to put America's leading missile and satellite programme."

Asked for his opinion, Doolittle said: "Had we been given top priority and all the things that go with it, we could have beaten the Soviet Union into the air with an Earth satellite." Russia's first Sputnik was placed in orbit Oct. 4.

Questioned by Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.), Hagen said: "We have been given top priority and all the things that go with it, we could have beaten the Soviet Union into the air with an Earth satellite." Russia's first Sputnik was placed in orbit Oct. 4.

Called in for questioning, Hagen added: "We have been given top priority and all the things that go with it, we could have beaten the Soviet Union into the air with an Earth satellite." Russia's first Sputnik was placed in orbit Oct. 4.

Anderson Drills Starting Quintet

With Michigan State's cage season beginning Monday Coach Fordy Anderson has been working with his starting five in preparation for the 1957-58 campaign.

All members of the quintet had an important role in State's ascension to the top of the basketball world last year.

Bob Anderson (6'3") junior

gained a front-line berth as forward this season after dividing his play chores at guard and forward in 1956-57.

After a fine year on the freshman squad, Bob made the varsity team as a reserve. He rapidly gained the required poise and aided the Spartans in their surge to the conference co-championship.

Bob hails from Monroe, Wis., where he compiled a string of cage records.

He received All-Wisconsin honors and set a conference and

In his first year on the varsity Bob tallied 223 points, a 30.3 clip per game.

Dave Scott performed only as a substitute last year, but Anderson has designated he would do as the junior from Detroit as a starting guard.

Scott (6'2") has nurtured his eagle talent which carried him to all-city honors and honorable mention on all-state selections in 1955.

He holds the distinction of being the top scorer in the Detroit Metropolitan League in the 1954-55 season.

The lanky giant moves with better than average speed and uses his jump shot as his most potent offensive weapon.

Despite limited action last year Scott still managed to drop in 94 markers.

"Dave has obtained a great deal of confidence and he will contribute much to this season's title chances," Anderson stated.

State's scoring record as he sparked the Monroe outfit to third place in the state tournament in 1955.

Bob was our sixth man last year, but finished fourth in the scoring column. We are looking forward to his having another great year," Anderson remarked.

His mid-year arrival to the Spartan ranks provided the team with a new "strength" on the backboards.

John last year slumped in 238 points, a 13.2 average, and led the squad in snagging rebounds with a 262 total.

Veteran Larry Heden is at the other forward spot.

This is the third year the tall forward (6'5") has held down his regular position.

While at Muskegon High School in Muskegon, Ind., Heden compiled an outstanding record, earning all-state honors in his senior year.

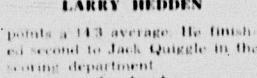

When Heden is hitting he rates with the best offensively in the league.

points a 14.3 average. He finished second to Jack Quiggle in the scoring department.

Jack Quiggle (6'3") guard, is recognized as one of the best guards in the nation.

Last year he slipped in 372. Heades leading the team in scoring with 384 points, he and Green were a claimed All-Big 10 performers last season.

He is an excellent ball handler, and a canny floor operator who maintains a consistent scoring punch.

John Green (6'5") needs no formal introduction to Spartan followers.

Since he became a member of the cagers in mid-season of last year, John's performance has caused quite a stir basketball-wise across the nation.

Having no real chance in his high school days to receive any basketball instruction, John took up the sport when he joined the Marine Corps.

State's "All-American" candidate has phenomenal jumping ability which has attracted praises from the working press and his opponents.

Auburn Ranked No. 1 in AP Poll

Ohio State
Picked 2nd;
MSU 3rd

Unbeaten Leader Has Top Defense

AUBURN, Ala. (UPI)—Unbeaten Auburn, a rugged team with the best defense in college football this year, was acclaimed the nation's No. 1 squad Tuesday—with power to spare.

The Tigers, victorious in all nine games this year and 13 in a row, climbed to the top in the Associated Press poll of unbeaten Ohio State, undefeated Michigan State, and Penn's leader.

The three bowl-bound Buckeyes slipped into second place after the Spartans dropped from third after their rugged performance against Kansas City last Saturday.

Auburn has held its nine opponents to 28 points and an average of only 125.9 yards a game despite the fact that the first string has spent more time on the bench than on the field.

Coch. Ralph Jordan, blessed with a depth of power unheard of a few short years ago, has been able to use his second and third teams about 60 per cent of the playing time, keeping the first string rested and ready.

Jordan disavowed any thought of next year, when a NCAA expansion might be a good idea, and Auburn would be eligible for a bowl game. But his tactics have given the second and third string players valuable experience which certainly won't weaken the Tigers next season. Only one of the 44 members of the first team seniors.

Jordan greeted the announcement that the Tigers lead moved to first place in the AP poll with the comment that it was "well-deserved honor" for the best football team he've had at Auburn.

The Tigers got 85 first place votes out of a total 227 and took last place with 1,350 votes. Ohio State with 65 first place ballots, had 1,169 points, and Michigan State got 1,113. Forty-one apolitical and sportswriters participating in the poll voted the Spartans and the country's second best.

The top 10 teams with points as 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis, and place votes and won-lost records in parentheses:

1. Auburn (85) (9-0)	1,850
2. Ohio State (85) (8-1)	1,769
3. Mich. State (41) (8-1)	1,713
4. Texas A & M (2) (8-1)	1,370
5. Oklahoma (8-1)	1,212
6. Iowa (7) (7-1-1)	1,130
7. Mississippi (6) (8-1)	967
8. Navy (7-1-1)	709
9. Rue (6-3)	381
10. Army (7-1)	349

Arizona State (11) (9-0) 181
5. Notre Dame (5-3) 141
6. Miss. State (6-2) 128
7. Wisconsin (6-1) 94
8. S. Carolina State (7-1-2) 85
9. Duke (6-7-2) 68
10. VMI (8-0-1) 45
11. Tennessee (6-3) 38
12. Oregon State (8-2) 37
13. Florida (5-2-2) 37

West Virginia and Penn each received one first place vote.

Oregon Optimistic About Rose Bowl

EUGENE, Ore. (UPI)—The University of Oregon football team and optimistic coach are taking a three-week vacation from the practice field before beginning to prepare for the Rose Bowl.

This team can beat Ohio State, Coach Len Casanova told Oregon students Monday, who rally after official announcement that Oregon will represent the Pacific Coast Conference in the New Year's Day game.

"The proudest of this team than any I've ever coached. They're an amazing team and they're tremendous fighters," he said. Casanova said practice will be resumed Dec. 16.

Governor to Close Schools

Texas Legislature Passes Bill Challenging Integration Orders

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—The Texas legislature Tuesday passed a bill permitting the governor to close any school where segregation trays will be used to enforce racial integration orders.

The House passed the bill overwhelmingly. It also passed another measure offering state-level aid to any school district involved in an integration suit.

The Senate had approved both bills earlier.

The measures were passed in a special session of the legislature called for the specific purpose of approving segregation laws.

A snag developed in efforts to pass a law requiring registration of members of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), and the session was unable to adjourn.

The two-chamber bill passed 113-26. Efforts to amend it were beaten down by large majorities in the solidly Democratic House.

Rep. Oscar Laurel spoke against the trap bill, saying it goes away with one of the fundamental principles of democracy—the equality of opportunity.
