

Spartan Cagers Battle With U of M Here Saturday

There is a great deal of difference between Michigan's two large universities—Michigan State and the University of Michigan.

But the two schools' basketball teams have plenty in common. Fans will have a chance to notice the similarities Saturday night when the teams clash at 8 in Jenison Fieldhouse.

Neither team has any size. John Green of MSU and M. C. Burton of Michigan are the tallest at 6'3"—hardly large for the modern game.

Both teams like to mix it up with a rugged, fast, driving style of play; Bob Anderson is State's version of the rugged hell-for-leather performer. Michigan's George Lee is a 6'4" fellow who is happiest when he's scrambling under the boards.

Both teams have a sensational sophomore player: Dave Fahs has been the Spartans No. 1 substitute, astounding fans with accurate shooting and precision passing. U of M's John Tidwell has poured in 15 points a game in a starting role, capping 37 in one outing.

Both teams have a star who thrives on spectacular play: Who else? Green and Burton. Wolverines' Burton currently leads Green in rebounding by a fraction in a race that has seen-sawed all season. Burton leads the league in scoring with a 24.1 average while Green is sixth at 20.2. Both are great favorites of spectators.

Both are in the race for the Big 10 crown: Michigan State leads with a 6-2 mark and Michigan is third at 4-3.

There are some differences in the two squads, however.

Pep Rally Scheduled Tonight

Spirit for the MSU-U of M basketball game will be off to a quick start tonight, as a pep rally will be held in Jenison Fieldhouse at 7:30. Included in the entertainment will be the Playboys band, and the crowning of "Miss Spartan Spirit."

Coach Fordy Anderson, his cagers and Athletic Director Biggie Munn will also lend their support. Two free autographed basketballs will be given away, and two Spartan mascots, pedigree Labrador dogs, will be present. An All-University dance at Braxley Hall will follow.

"We know there's much spirit at the games," said Ass't Spartan Spirit Director Jim Baber, "but the purpose of the rally is to show the team we're behind them every day."

While State has one of the best centers in the country in Green, Michigan has been forced to use 6'3" Lovel Farris in the pivot. Burton will certainly move into the pivot on defense.

State has far superior bench strength. With such players as Fahs and Art Gowers available for duty, the Spartans have the chance to rest their starters. Michigan has virtually no one to call on when its starters tire, outside of 6'6" center Gordon Rogers.

This is the first and only meeting between the two clubs this season—and the fans know it.

The game has been sold out for weeks, and probably would be if neither team had won a game this year.

In fact, Michigan State Athletic Director Biggie Munn felt obligated to issue a statement which warned fans to "be at the fieldhouse and in their seats by 7:45 p.m."

MSU won last season's encounter at Ann Arbor, 76 to 69, but Michigan still owns a 44-28 edge since the series began. State is 12-3 for the season and Michigan 11-4.

Coach Fordy Anderson of State and Michigan's Bill Perigo both want to win this game to enhance their chances for a Big 10 crown. The stage is set for one of the year's best basketball encounters.

MSU can't get by until mid-April under existing circumstances, unless it receives its December installment of $2.1 million from the State Treasury, it was revealed Thursday at the Michigan Legislature.

Power, War Not Bridge To Peace

By JIM HYPPA

"Cold co-operation instead of cold war," is the solution to Soviet-Western and world problems according to Harvard professor Pitirim Sorokin.

He told a near capacity audience at the Music Amphitheatre last night that it is time to abandon the recipe of never-ending armament and power. Sorokin believes that a bridge of peaceful co-existence and peaceful co-operation, which would turn to warmer and warmer co-operation, would eventually lead to peace and avoid the greatest catastrophe of all time—World War III.

The subject of the former Kerevsky cabinet member (1917) and expert on the Russian Revolution was "Russia and the United States."

Politically, Sorokin called himself a "conservative Christian anarchist," and he does not believe that peace can be achieved through the United Nations. He calls the UN the mouthpiece of the nations that compose it and little more.

While comparing the U.S. and Russia socially, politically and economically, Sorokin took a slap at the American idea of free enterprise.

He said that while 95 percent of the economic functions of Soviet Russia are controlled by the government, 60 to 70 percent of American industry is likewise controlled, with the control of America's 200 corporations in the hands of boards of directors who own less than two percent of the stock.

PITIRIM SOROKIN relaxes back stage after his talk to the Honors College Thursday night.

However, according to Governor G. Mennen Williams' appraisal, another monthly installment to MSU is in the cards. Democratic House Leader Joseph Kowalski cautioned that money on hand and in sight until April 15 will not permit payment in full of state school obligations.

But, as the governor stated, it appears that the University of Michigan and MSU will receive their respective allotments—at least to cover another month's payroll.

In order to meet future obligations of the state treasury, Gov. Williams offered Thursday an alternative to mortgaging the Veterans Trust Fund. He said the way was now open to raise the state's debt limit and borrow 50 million dollars to meet the cash emergency, thanks to pre-payment of spring taxes by business.

Williams, after summoning legislative leaders to explain the new prospect, did not necessarily endorse it. In any event, he told them, the package of rent fund mortgage bills pending in the House should be kept alive for the time being.

Raising the state debt limit from the present ceiling of $250,000 would require a constitutional amendment. If the legislature approves, it would be to a decisive statewide vote April 6.

The legislature would have to act by March 2, favoring the stiffer debt maximum in each chamber by a two-thirds favorable vote.

The governor said receipt of a $3.1 million check from the Ford Motor Co. Thursday boosted advance payment of taxes by business over the last 10 days to $31,500,000.

With this extra money in the treasury, Williams said it now appeared the state could meet essential obligations until about April 15 just nine days after the spring election. However, after April 15—state subsidized organizations will again be on their own until another solution is found.

Music Professor Publishes Works

Two recent compositions of Dr. H. Owen Reed, professor of music, have been published by Mills Music.

One is "Ripley Ferry" for women's chorus, baritone solo and woodwind septet, a composition commissioned by the Wayne State University women's glee club and first performed last year.

Next Week in Union

Winter Blood Drive Begins

After a week of signups, the annual winter term Blood Drive will begin Monday, and continue through Friday.

Sponsored by AWS and Men's Student Council, the drive has taken the slogan, "Don't be a pig—It's only blood."

The blood donations may be given in the Tower room of the Union, according to John Stiel, co-chairman of the drive. The Phi Delta Theta traveling group will be awarded to the first fraternity which reaches a 50 percent in donations. The plaques will be given to the highest dormitories, and a similar plaque will be presented to the top sorority.

Red Cross nurses and doctors from the Lansing chapter will assist the donations, and coffee and donuts will be served afterwards.

All students, faculty, staff and Lansing residents are urged and invited to contribute blood. Persons who wish to donate will first be given a physical examination. Total time for donations is less than 45 minutes.

Last year 1,968 persons registered with 408 being rejected due to health reasons.

Approximately 800 pints of blood are delivered to all local hospitals each month, including the Health Center on campus.

All MSU students are required as residents of Ingham County, they are entitled to have it if they need it, here or in their hometown.

"Never underestimate the power of a pint of blood," the Red Cross says. "Your blood contains serum albumin for heart, kidney and liver diseases, gamma globulin to fight measles, polio and hepatitis and whole blood for the day-in-and-out fight for life in accidents and illness."

Remember — someone must give before another can receive.

You Have a Split Personality! Old Hearts and Flowers Valentines Give Way to Modern Studio Cards

By JOYCE ROBB
It is the day before Valentine's Day and many students on campus are anxiously waiting for cupid to come out arch his bow and arrow and start a little love target practice. The question cards are asking is... will that man remember Valentine's Day, 1959?

There was a time when this day was extra special—parties, flowers, candy, jewelry or perfume from a favorite beau. Perhaps the thought that a date would arrive without a surprise bundle tucked under his arm.

This is hardly the trend today. Valentine's Day has come a long way since its origin in the fifth century by Bishop Valentine, the Patron Saint of Lovers, to the present day with its studio cards filled with satirical humor and modern art.

Although there are many stories about the origin of Valentine's Day, the general one follows a custom as ancient as history itself.

In the Third Century, the Roman Emperor Claudius established marriage for the Roman soldiers because he felt it made them less rugged to stand up under the rigors of warfare.

Bishop Valentine disagreed with this decree and continued to officiate at marriage ceremonies.

Student Enters Queen Contest

Ski enthusiast Maggie Pemberton, East Lansing junior, is a contestant in the Miss Michigan Winter Sports Contest, scheduled for Saturday in Potosky.

Maggie presently holds the titles "Queen of the Snows" and "Miss Missaukee Mountain," both of which she won Jan. 24 at Grayling and Lake City, respectively.

Judging in the contest Saturday will be based upon pose, looks and skiing ability.

nohies secretly. When this was discovered, he was sent to jail and died there, thus becoming known as a friend of lovers and martyrs.

Valentine's Day progressed from its original meaning to the "be my love" boys of the Eighteenth Century. These men would have been very much in the dog-house with their favorite girls if they had sent them the modern Valentine.

In early America, the boys would either buy the most ornate and showy card they could find or try their own artistic talents. The cards were filled with "romance as sweet as flowers" and went to the "one intended one."

During the first World War, valentines acquired the patriotic touch, while the roaring Twenties helped introduce the sarcastic card which the MSU campus now considers tops and appropriate.

Such sayings as "Valentine, you have a split personality" and "I'd ask you to be my Valentine but you'd have your pre-arranged and gaining more popularity each year."

Valentine giving and sentiment have changed through the centuries. It used to be "heart to heart" and now it has transformed into a "heart to the masses" idea.

But relax girls, you will not be forgotten. You may not be remembered in the old sentimental way in this age of Sputniks and rockets... but probably you will receive that much awaited studio card with a sarcastic overtone. However, deep within your favorite beau a sentimental feeling of that age old Valentine spirit... love... still exists.

This being the weekend of Valentine's Day, and since midterms are still keeping you closed up in the library, I thought you'd like to know that you're not alone in believing Cupid hasn't been grounded yet.

Jenison Seating Poses Big Problem

STUDENTS get there early! Doors open at 6 p.m. That's the realistic advice given by Warren Burt, MSU's ticket manager to those students who hope to get a seat for the MSU-U of M basketball classic Saturday night. At the Northwestern game many of the students were turned away when the fire marshal ordered the doors to be closed. This brought an advertisement from the student.

Some students, without knowing the facts, said they had a privilege to see the game and therefore were entitled to admittance. Some said that the ticket office only allowed the paying customer in without consideration for the students.

However, this is the circumstance which confuses the ticket office.

THE OFFICE has no authority to turn away students from the basketball game. The fire marshal, Robert Wirbel on campus, is the person who decides when the turn-tilts are closed.

The fire marshal is an official who directs the policy in dance halls, theaters and amusement places concerning fire and safety precautions.

"Students have the opportunity to gain entrance," Burt said. "We never deny them the privilege to watch the game. We certainly hope we can better accommodate them Saturday. We don't claim to be adverse to criticism of our operations. We have to learn also."

Jenison Fieldhouse supposedly can handle 12,500 fans. But what happened in 1957 at the Indiana game when 13,817 watched the title deciding game?

BURT SAID that this wasn't an exact approximation. When the capacity figure is given at the game it is only a rough estimate without any real accuracy.

For the paying customers, 2,800 seats are reserved. This season, with the good fortune of basketball, 1,700 season tickets were sold.

Certainly the life of a ticket manager isn't a happy one when everybody wants to see a winning team.

At MSU this seating problem only occurs when a basketball team is a title contender or leader in the standings.

Where are the students when the doors close for an average record?

"What Do You Mean, 'Where's The Space Ship?' You Trying To Spoil A Good Story?"

Letters to the Editor Fraternity System Rapped

To the Editor:

I am just the Greek letter organization have held what they refer to as a "convocation." They met to discuss certain problems that confront them.

Their organization are in a poor position here at MSU. They are hoping to gather all the "Greeks" together in a "show of strength" so to speak. By this means they hope to gain unity (which they lack) to present a strong, united front.

Thus they will help reinforce an institution which, in the present form, is degenerative. It is anti-Christian, anti-American, and anti-good taste.

I realize that fraternal organizations perform a useful function, especially in large and complex institutions as MSU. Their chief and only purpose is as a socialization agency.

"Brotherhood" Misleading

As one would expect, the means by which they achieve the socialization of the individual, the elaborate mythology erected to help further this goal, and the real harm they do to their members during this process, and also to the individual, are almost unmentioned in your issue.

Let us look at some of the myths in fraternalism. First we have the word itself "fraternity." Derived to you by a member as "brotherhood." But all the fraternal men will tell you, they mean "brotherhood within our organization."

Well now fellows, you either believe in brotherhood or you don't, and even if I accept your stand you will be the first to admit that it doesn't exist in your own group anyway.

Anyone who accepts the position of "white Christian" is intolerant and intolerant is one of the prerequisites of brotherhood. When one is both brotherhood, but in a fraternity one does, you choose him and he chooses you, on very superficial standards, and you hope you have made the right decision. It is inevitable that you make a wrong decision and you end up living the lie, calling them "brothers."

"Christian Ideals" Myth

Another obvious fallacy existing in the majority of fraternal organizations is the "We are founded on Christian ideals" myth. We have already treated one instance where they deny Christian principle in relation to the intolerance exercised in choosing members. It may be a revelation to some fraternal men that Christ, their supposed model, had nothing against Negroes or for that matter Jesus either. In fact this same man, Jesus Christ, if you are still with me, went around preaching that these people were human beings worthy of salvation.

The Fraternity man's Christianity seems to be loving Ne-

Film Fare 'Some Came Running' Gets Mixed Reactions

BY ED FLOURNOY

The film version of James Jones' novel, "Some Came Running," is currently featured at the Gladwin and seems to be doing quite well there financially. As a matter of fact the box office returns have been only good through out the country, but critical opinion has been so divided that the film occupies a rather dubious position on the film rating sheets.

On the West Coast, both critics and public have liked the film and are widely lauding it for its end honors. Their Eastern counterparts, however, have treated it rather indifferently and in some cases, have panned it.

The title is taken from St. Mark and supposedly means that some have come running to find the meaning of life but are attracted from doing so by obsession with materialism. There seems relatively little to indicate the value of this title as far as the story is concerned.

Leaves Situations Unresolved

Frank Sinatra, as an ex-convict and ex-convict, returns home to a small and ostensibly typical American town that is World War II and becomes involved with two girls of widely contrasting backgrounds among other things.

The main fault with "Some Came Running" is that it attempts to handle more situations than it intends to resolve, so to say conclude. At the close of the film, we are left in a state of confusion as to the course of action the characters will take next. Since they were never well defined in their future actions.

To begin with, director Vincente Minnelli is out of his element in handling a story of this nature. The delightful light-heartedness with which he directed such films as "Gigi" and "The Bandwagon" and "An American in Paris" is of no use here. Consequently "Some Came Running" lacks the dramatic impact it needs. The original story is somewhat melodramatic, but the chase sequences near the end of the film is ludicrous.

Maclaine Does Good Job

In spite of its many faults, "Some Came Running" provides some interesting moments and is probably succeeding because of its impressive cast. Shirley Maclaine, although beautiful, performs as a mediocre actress, the tollup who follows Sinatra, not only steals the show, but almost compensates for the deficiencies in the rest of the film. Though all her scenes are commendable, watch her in the scene during which she tells Martha Hoyer of her love for Sinatra. It will be a wonder if Hollywood can find another showcase role such as this for Maclaine and a pity if it does not.

Frank Sinatra gives an able but standardized performance, viz that of a wisecracking cynic. He is too versatile a performer to be continually confined to such characters. The rest of the well chosen cast includes Dean Martin, Nancy Gates, Leora Dana and Betty Lou King.

Verdict: Recommended, but limited appeal.

Brody Radio Back on Air After Repairs

After the Brody Radio Station was back on the air waves, resumed broadcasting Wednesday after a three-week lay-off for technical repairs. New improvements have been added to the station's set-up. New equipment has been installed which will provide for more and better amplification. The station will now be able to broadcast from locations other than the main building.

It further advance its service, the station has requested permission to broadcast intramural and "sell-out" variety events. This request is not with the approval of the public department and is being considered by the commission.

Several new record contracts have been obtained. The station will now feature the Paul Shaw. An adventure series and public service tapes for the Army, Navy and Air Force. Under the direction of the station is student operated with the living units in the MSU Group an average of 10 per day. Negotiations are being made to extend its service to the Shaw Hall and several of the women's dormitories.

In Travel Series

Chesapeake Featured

"Deep Roots in the Chesapeake" is the title of the lecture-film to be narrated by Mildred Capron Saturday in the Aud at 8 p.m.

The lecture-film, which is to be shown in color, is a feature of the World Travel Series.

One of the best lay-out women film-lecturers in the field, Miss Capron is a native of up-state New York, has traveled twice around the globe and spent almost ten months in South Africa where she made a travel film in that remote section of the world.

In "Deep Roots in the Chesapeake," Miss Capron presents the history, industry and scenic beauty of the Chesapeake Bay country.

The audience will visit the "home" of the Star Spangled Banner and the Eastern Shore with its romantic past.

'39 500 Queen Elimination Start

Sixty-four coeds have been invited Sunday at 1:30 p.m. to the first of three teas for the selection of the 1939 Lauder Chi Alpha Junior 500 Queen. This year's teas will be held on the next consecutive Sundays to narrow down the group. The court will be announced March 3 after the last tea. The queen will be made known at a banquet held in her honor during spring term.

Hostesses for the Sunday event will be Nancy Stevens, Lansing sponsor; last year's Junior 500 queen, Diane Tillotson, Arlington, Va., sophomore; Miss MSU, and Beverly Mike, Detroit, sophomore.

Are you Engaged?

In all your life together, no other place can mean so much to both of you as the one where you spend your honeymoon. To make it unforgettably your own, you can avoid crowds and a commercial atmosphere by taking advantage of the quiet informality of one of the lovely small resorts for honeymoons only.

At The Farm on the Hill, woodland home of the first and loveliest havens for newlyweds only, there are never more than twelve couples as guests. Best of all, there is a picturesque separate and secluded cottage for each couple . . . with wonderful meals at the old farmhouse. And there is an easy-going atmosphere which leaves you free to choose activities, or lazy loafing . . . just you two together, or with others when you wish.

The picture story of The Farm on the Hill answers many, many questions engaged couples wonder about. It shows how well the Farm understands your dreams of an ideal honeymoon . . . and provides so many little pleasures you would never realize can count so much toward making your wedding trip the happiest time you have ever known. To receive the Farm's picture story, please be sure to mention your wedding date.

Biscayne 4-Door Sedan shows the Fisher Body beauty of Chevrolet's lowest priced series for '59.

CHEVY'S NEW HI-THRIFT 6

More miles are back in a gallon of regular-grade gas—up to 10% more—and Chevy's new Hi-Thrift 6 engine puts them there. It also gives you more “git” in the speeds you drive the most.

Here's an engine that always seems able to coax extra miles out of a tank of regular-grade gas. In fact, if you're one of those drivers who keep tab on things like gas mileage, you'll soon see for yourself that this new Hi-Thrift 6 gets up to 10% more miles a gallon.

Another thing you'll like about this 135-h.p. 6 is the extra pep it gives you for passing and climbing hills. This is due to higher torque at normal speeds.

It may be hard to believe anything that looks and moves like this '59 Chevy can be such a stickler for economy. But—whether you pick the Hi-Thrift 6 or a vim-packed V8—this is just one more reason Chevy's the car that's wanted for all its worth. Stop by your dealer's and see.

The smart switch is to the '59 Chevy!

Swimmers Next Foe Unbeaten

By SUZETTE RAMSEY

The Spartan swimmers face an unbeaten team Saturday when they compete against Ohio State at Columbus.

The Buckeyes placed third in the Big 10 last year with a 4-3 record. One of their losses was to Michigan State. Coach Charles McCaffree is hoping that result will be repeated this year.

Art Maxwell and Bob Thomas will be meeting Chuck Stigman and Dick Dewey in the 200-yard butterfly. Stigman, though just a sophomore, has been breaking records for Ohio State during this season.

Don McPhee, whom Ohio State coach Mike Peppe calls the “outstanding sprinter in the nation today,” will swim against State's top sprinter Don Patterson in the 50 and 100-yard freestyle.

McPhee will be supported by letterman Bob Connell, and Patterson will join with Dave Diget and Larry Jones in the 50, and Diget and Denny Baker in the 100.

Another Buckeye contender is George Omeke who will have Billy Stewart to reckon with in the 250 and 400-yard freestyles. Jim Aemis and Eric Dowell will join Stewart.

Ohio State has some top divers in Sam Hall, Nat Smith and Tom Gompf. Jerry Chadwick and Tony Kaufman will defend State in this event.

Al Coxon and Jack Wickerling will compete in the 200-yard backstroke. Frank Modine, Dave McCaffree and Bill Singleton are scheduled for the 200-yard breaststroke.

Coxon, Modine, Maxwell and Baker should have a close race in the 400-yard medley relay.

Larry Pontius, Diget and Dee Edington have the 200-yard individual medley to work on.

The last event, the 400-yard freestyle relay, should be exciting one. MSU has a group in Diget, Baker, Stewart or Patterson to compete with Bill Van Horn, Coxon, Dewey and McPhee.

Dewey, Connell and Van are part of the quartet that the freestyle relay record in NCAA swimming finale year.

The 18-man squad leaves Columbus with the 100-yard squad on the bus after today. The Spartans are home Saturday night after 3 p.m. meet.

Swordsmen Want Win

MSU varsity fencers, who tasted victory last week against University of Chicago, will be out for more of the same Saturday. The swordsmen will face Iowa and Wisconsin in a triangular meet at Iowa City.

Coach Charles Schmitter has named Doug Jewell, Jim Clark and Art Dowd as the starting epee team. Jewell had a 5-9 record in last week's triangular meet.

Three regulars, Dick Lawless, Chuck Schmitter, Jr., and Terry Glimm, will make up the foil team. Schmitter has a 10-2 record to his credit.

Don Johnson will head the saber team, backed up by Captain Steve Arnest and Nell Brown.

The team will find stiff competition in Wisconsin, which boasts five returning lettermen. The Badgers finished second in the Big 10 last year.

“Iowa should be more in our league,” Schmitter said, “although you can never be sure from a team's record.”

The team has had some strenuous workouts this week. “I've been working them hard,” Schmitter said, “and I will be the rest of the season.”

After this week's competition, the Spartans can look forward to a tough meet with Ohio State and Notre Dame at South Bend

Unbeaten Gymnast Set for Showdown

By PETE WALTERS

Monday night's Michigan State-Michigan encounter at Jenison Fieldhouse shapes up as one of the encounters of the current Big 10 campaign.

Although the meet has nothing to do with the conference championship—the season-end Big 10 meet at Bloomington, Ind., will determine that—it will match two unbeaten squads and should give some idea of what to expect in the future.

The Spartans, coached by George Szypula, tied Illinois for the NCAA team title last year and almost spoiled 561-55½ squeaker over Iowa has shown good all-around strength and a special talent in the trampoline event.

Richard Montpetit, a French Canadian all-around performer, is billed by the Wolverine. Marion will provide depth in the apparatus events.

Trampolinist Ed Cole, a diver for the Michigan team, is ranked as one of the nation's best.

MSU's big guns are Clark and third in the 1958 all-around, and Stan, the defending Big 10 national champ.

Special Half-Time

A special half-time show, featuring Michigan State's unbeaten soccer team, ranked number two in the nation last year, and MSU's concert band, will be held at Saturday's MSU-Michigan basketball game, according to Gene Elliott, co-ordinator of basketball activities.

Pucksters Seeking 13th Victory

By DAVID BARRELL

The Michigan State Hockey team left Thursday for North Dakota to engage the North Dakota team in one of the most decisive two-game series of the year tonight and Saturday night.

State takes a 12-3-1 record into the series. Six of the victories were in tournament competition. North Dakota is 9-3 in the Western Collegiate Hockey Association.

Coach Arno Bessone said, "We need at least a split of the series to stay in contention for first place."

Leading the Spartans against North Dakota is the highest scoring line in the nation. The "power line," centered by Capt. Ben Polano and with Dick Hamilton and Terry Moroney at the wing positions, has accounted for 42 of the team's 84 goals.

Hamilton and Polano lead the scorers with 32 points apiece. Moroney is just a breath away with 31 points but leads in number of goals with 18.

State's offensive powerhouse is backed up by one of the steadiest defenses in college hockey. Ed Pollesel and Ed Norman have been mainstays in the Spartan defense for two years.

Butch Miller and Bob Armstrong have been skating as the second defensive unit. Miller is big and fast and has one of the hardest slap shots in the league.

Armstrong received praise in the East for his tough style of play. The Miller-Armstrong line played their best game against Michigan Saturday night.

The Spartans were handicapped by the loss of Ed Pollesel, but Bessone inserted Mel Christofferson and the little redhead combined with Norman and the second line to thwart the Wolverines.

State goalie Joe Selinger is continuing the best season of his college career with a 2.75 goals-per-game average.

At Columbus Cindermen Challenge Strong Buckeye Squad

Michigan State's youthful track team travels to Columbus, Ohio, to face the Buckeyes in the first dual meet of the indoor season, still smarting from claims that their performance in the MSU Relays was the worst in State's history.

With only seven returning members from last year's squad, which finished fifth in the Big 10 indoors and fourth outdoors, Coach Fran Dittrich tried to fill up gaps left by the team's veterans.

But there is more to this than meets the eye. Of those seven returning lettermen, Brian Castle had a pulled muscle and Bob Hughes was sick. This narrowed down the list of possible relay men to two or three veterans and various untested sophomores.

Taking a 19-man squad with him to Columbus, Coach Dittrich should find out more about his young team Saturday. Regardless of Saturday's results, the best test of the Spartans will be the Big 10 indoor championships in March.

Castle, who captured the team's 400 and won the 600-yard race in the Big 10 championships, graduated this fall and returned to Australia.

Atterberry, who set a world's record in the 600 in 1957, is ineligible this term and unable to compete.

Both of these men were middle distance men and could run the 220, 440, 600 and 880 events in ease not to mention their prowess in the relays.

Last year Atterberry evented a 1/2 mile against Notre Dame and this after he won the 220 yard in the meet.

The Spartans took fourth in the distance medley relay and Lowell copped fourth in the mile at the relays last Saturday.

Wrestling Team Wants Win Over OSU After First Defeat

MSU's wrestling team, which was stranded in Pittsburgh Sunday after losing a match to the Pitt Panthers, hopes a venture to Ohio State Saturday will be successful, both in and out of the ring.

Coach Fendley Collins' team engaged with a trio of faces from Pittsburgh.

Unconquered Nomi Young will be in line to the winning team, but it will be a tough task. The Lansing sophomore opposed 130-pounder Dave Casper, who has a state title last year.

John McCray (127) seeks to keep his streak alive. After two early season downfalls, the talented sophomore has three consecutive victories. Jim Ferguson (167) has three straight wins also.

For other positions will be done by grapplers who saw action in Pitt.

The State does not figure to have enough power to throw a punch in State's hopes to get back again. The Buckeyes have a successful 9-3 record in competition.

Cupid Sets Valentine Pace

By SUE PRICE

Cupid's arrows follow on the heels of unlucky Friday the 13th this year, a rare combination indeed. But parties are planned despite the fact that the weekend is starting out on the wrong foot.

Hearts and flowers will decorate many a house this evening, as Valentine's Day parties set the pace. Gamma Phi Beta, Delta Sigma Phi, Delta Chi and Alpha Phi Alpha will be Dan Cupid's admirers tonight. Saturday evening Chi Omega has planned a Valentine skating party.

Pi Kappa Phi's annual winter term party at the Civic Center will be preceded by a dinner for Pi Kaps and dates at the chapter house. The party is semi-formal.

Kappa Alpha Theta will enjoy a popular winter sport, skating, this evening. After skating Thetas and dates will have an informal dance at the house.

Short Course students will hold a mid-term party this evening from 8-12 in the Short Course cafeteria.

Flappers garbed in fringe and doing the Charleston will be in style this evening from 9-12 as Sigma Chi and dates pay a visit to the Roaring Twenties. "77 Sunset Strip" is the theme of the Zeta Tau Alpha informal term party tonight. Gangsters will also be welcome at the Alpha Tau Omega informal dance this evening, as both houses join in the popular costume party theme.

"Beat Blast" a take-off on the current Beat Generation, will be popular at the Zeta Beta house this evening.

Faith Groups Plan Activities

The Presbyterian Young Adult Conference sponsored by the United Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., meets this weekend at Kellogg Center for a three-day program. "You Are a Young Adult," the conference's theme, will be discussed at the seminars Saturday morning. The conference is under the guidance of Howard Bernson, MSU Conference Consultant for Continuing Education.

Sabbath services are scheduled at Hill House for 7:30 tonight. Following the service, a "fireside chat" will be held "On Being Jewish."

Wesley Foundation will discuss the "Inner City" at 7 p.m. Sunday in 21 Union.

Catholic Student Organization has planned a St. Valentine pizza party for Saturday evening at the Catholic Student Center.

Other houses and living units holding informal parties this evening are: Alpha Chi Sigma, Delta Gamma, Elsworth House and Alpha Sigma Phi.

Saturday evening Alpha Epsilon Phi, Evans Scholars, Alpha Kappa Psi, Alpha Kappa

Alpha, Van Hoesen Hall and Sigma Alpha Epsilon will be in party moods.

The men of Farmhouse and dates will celebrate Valentine's Day with a team party, including dinner and dancing, at the Civic Center, Saturday evening.
