Production Reaches Record Annual Rate

Government Reports GNP Rise Steeper Than First Estimated

WASHINGTON (AP)—The climb in national output in the first three months of 1959 was steeper than preliminary figures indicated, the government reported Sunday.

The Commerce Department said the gross national product for the first quarter of 1959 was $14 billion more than the official estimate for the same period last year.

Businessmen began building up inventories. Stocks were increased at an annual rate of $7,700,000,000 in the first quarter, after standing unchanged in the last three months of 1958.

Individual Americans bought more than ever before in history. Spending for personal consumption was up $4,600,000,000 to a record 30.9 billion.

Although no totals were given because data is incomplete, the report said national income climbed about $10 billion for the third straight quarter, also setting a new record.

The report emphasized that most of the increase in national output during the past year has been in the consumer goods field.

Output has risen $40 billion or close to 10 percent, from its level in the first quarter of last year. The report said that even after higher price tags are taken into account, the rise amounted to eight percent.

Reds Vote Revolution On Chinese Mainland

TAIPEI (AP)—The Central Committee of the Kuomintang, President Chiang Kai-Shek's party, said Sunday the Red Chinese regime is on the road to collapse and voted to promote a mainland revolution.

Bell Ringers To Present Program

Group to Play English Handbells

The Spartan Bell Ringers, directed by Wendell Westcott, university carillonneur, will present a musical program on English handbells at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday in the Music Aud.

Assisting in the program will be tenor William Beidler and dancer Diane Tylezak and William Fabner.

The Bell Ringers appeared in 20 Michigan communities during their annual spring tour completed recently. On May 24 the group will be the featured musical attraction at the National Cherry Blossom Festival at Traverse City.

English handbell ringing in recent years has undergone tremendous growth in popularity throughout the United States, Westcott pointed out. Formerly known as "Swiss Bell Ringing" when practiced by traveling professionals, it is now more accurately recognized as an English musical custom dating back three hundred years, he added.

The sole reliable source for handbells is the famed Whitechapel Bell Foundry of London, maker of the famous American Liberty Bell, London's Big Ben, east side Bow Bells and many others.

A. A. Hughes, proprietor of the Whitechapel foundry, heard a recording by the Spartan Bell Ringers and pronounced their playing superior to any existing in England.

Wednesday's program will consist of various styles of music designed to display the musical capabilities of this unique instrument. Ten players ring 49 bells to produce music of considerable complexity.

Grad Student Slates Recital

William Beidler, East Lansing tenor, will perform tonight at 8:15 p.m. in the Music Aud in a public graduate recital.

Beidler, an applied voice major, received his bachelors degree from the American Conservatory in 1951. He is a student of Gean Greenwell.

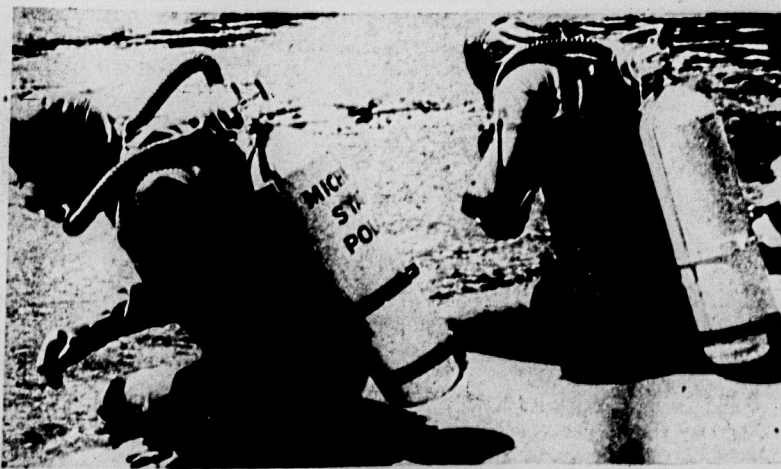

The program opens with Lute Songs from four countries, beginning with "Ferna, Dorinda Mia" by Calastani. The others are "Al Amor, Quiero Vencer" by Milan, "Eloigne de ce qui on Ayme" by De La Barre, and "Fine Knacks for Ladies" by Dowland.

"Dichterliege, one of Schumann's romantic song cycles, will be sung by Beidler. He also wrote the words and music of the following miniature cycle, "A Span".

The final group of songs are Bowles' "Blue Mountain Ballads".

Pentagon Questioned

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Melvin Price (D-Ill.) said Sunday he plans to try again to hold public hearings this year on whether the pentagon is guilty of foot-dragging and indecision in developing a nuclear powered plane.

a woman had lost her purse in the water. They retrieved the purse, a man's wallet and other assorted debris.

Big 4 Plan To Dicker On Berlin

Seek to Save Face With New Proposal

GENEVA (AP)—Western diplomats said Sunday night they may have to negotiate a separate stopgap Berlin settlement with Russia after thorough-going discussion of rival East-West German peace plans.

Word of the new Western position came after an American delegation spokesman called for thorough-going discussion in the Big Four foreign ministers meeting of the West's package plan. This envisaged a phased program toward settlement of the future of Berlin and Germany and the buildup of a European security system.

U.S. assistant Secretary of State Andrew Berding told newsmen:

"We are going into the next few days of the conference with the hope and expectation of getting into detailed discussion of the Western proposal."

"We also take it for granted that the Russians want us to do the same thing with their draft peace treaty."

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko offered Friday a five-month-old Soviet draft peace pact as the basis of his country's policy for a German settlement.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has stubbed the package approach, but said some parts—not specified—of the package are worth talking about.

As things stand now the West has allowed for an interim status to be negotiated for Berlin—but only as part of a general package settlement of the overall German and European security problems.

But American and British diplomats reported privately Sunday night that the Western foreign ministers see no chance at all of any early definite settlement of the German problem on the basis either of the Western or Soviet proposals.

Therefore, they have decided to invoke a decision secretly reached in Paris in April by the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and West Germany, to seek some sort of separate stopgap Berlin settlement with the Russians.

Any such interim arrangement would be made to hinge on the ultimate conclusion of a wider agreement reuniting Germany. Within that eventual unification accord Berlin could be restored to its proper place as the capital city of Germany.

CELEBRITIES FROM ALL walks of life come on "Rural Review" each Tuesday and Friday at 12:15 p.m. over WMSB television. Above Vern Frech interviews Mr. Buck Ram about his opinion on culling sheep.

Features Farm Show

WMSB Interviews Mr. Sheep

"Rural Review" is a television program featuring everything from how to cull sheep to interviews with Mr. Sheep himself.

It's a show where anything happens," said Vern Frech, director of the Channel 10 program which appears Tuesdays and Fridays at 12:15 p.m.

Imaginative mind of Frech introduced the filmed portion of the show.

One program opened with Frech dressed in the garb of an Arabian sheik while a slave girl (Jean Cary) waited upon him.

The film?—a feature on your servant, the automatic milking machine.

"This is typical of the imagination and planning Vern puts into these shows in an effort to make them more interesting and entertaining than they already are," said Dick Heuer, director of the program.

Tomorrow Frech's three year old son Bobby will be on the show dressed as Huckleberry Finn. The program will be based upon the film "A Boy Learns to Fish."

Bobby, by the way, is an MSU student too—MSU Cooperative Nursery School that is.

Frech is a graduate of North Dakota State and obtained his master's degree at MSU. He is now working toward a Ph.D. in Education.

Pro or Collegiate — It's Luplow's Choice

LAST THURSDAY an MSU football and baseball athlete, Al Luplow, signed a major league baseball contract with the Cleveland Indians for a sum reportedly to be more than $25,000.

Luplow was hitting .408 when he signed, and was the leading batter on MSU's baseball team.

We do not feel that it is ethical for a college athlete to leave his team in mid-season, especially when he's the most valuable player, but we do sympathize with those who do sign contracts during their college careers, and condone those who scream when they do.

It's easy to understand and sympathize with MSU baseball coach John Kobs in his fury over the Cleveland Indians' snatching of his star outfielder, Al Luplow. That is, it's easy if you're a college baseball coach.

BUT IF YOU'RE the man on the outside who has learned how hard it is to accumulate $25,000, you're more likely to take the point of view of the boy who grabbed that money when it was made available.

The argument becomes vague with talk about the wickedness of ending a young man's education.

Comments such as those which came from Kobs last Thursday are vague and meaningless. "The pitiful thing is that most of those who sign away their education for a few thousand dollars never come back to complete college," Kobs said. "They drift around on the fringes of big time baseball for awhile and then have to go out and scratch for a living."

If Mr. Luplow were a nuclear physicist who, but for the Indians' intervention might have invented the bomb that would blow up the universe we would say that he should stick to his studies and forget baseball. If he were intent on becoming a great physician or statesman we would say that baseball's filthy gold was a dirty shame.

BUT IF HE were just a kid who went to college in the anticipation that it would fit him better to earn a living in this competitive world, then we must say that he did the wise and proper thing in accepting the Indians' offer of employment.

To go further, if he were a kid who went to college to play baseball, then he would have been a chump to sell his talents at the low price of an athletic scholarship when the greater rewards of a professional career were made possible.

And finally, if he is a man with enough thirst for knowledge, a college education is still there for the picking. Dozens, scores, maybe hundreds of men have gone to professional sports and have continued their formal education.

ON THE MSU campus, there are many students in professional sports who have found time to come back to the university during the off-season to complete their education.

There are numerous examples of professional ballplayers—and major leaguers, too—who have completed their education only because their earnings allowed them to do so. The best case is that of Bobby Brown, who played third base for the New York Yankees in the early 1950's. Brown paid his way through medical school by playing for the Yankees, and is now making his living as a doctor, thanks to baseball.

We do not believe that Kobs' anger is rooted in his concern for Luplow's welfare, but in the knowledge that the Indians took from him a first-rate ballplayer.

Luplow, a sophomore, could have played another two seasons for MSU, both in baseball and football, where he was second-string left halfback and third leading ball carrier last fall.

He could have broken a leg in a slide or an ankle in a tackle and ended his career before it began. Then he'd have to spend long years scratching for that $25,000 the Indians paid for his signature, with little likelihood under the law of averages, that he'd ever get it.

Urges Change in Nat Sci Course

I was very pleased with the editorial in your issue of April 10, and also with the editorial in your issue of April 17, regarding the proposed change in the National Science 101 course. I am sure that the change will be made, and that the students who receive an A in the course will be well prepared for the future.

Changing Times
Society is changing, and our educational institutions are not always ready to change. Experience becomes valuable when it is logically related to the present and used in forming conclusions which fit the situation.

I believe that these conclusions must be logical to the people whose actions are controlled by them, and that another is a target for protest.

Should a university be an instrument of the present or a standard of the future? A university should try to be an ideal university.

W. J. Johnson
Ukrainian Assn.
Protests Error
In your May 8 issue, when reviewing the 5th International Festival, you misrepresented a Ukrainian notice by printing it as a Russian notice.

Since you received the correct information from Mr. Kirman, there is no doubt in our minds that someone on your staff intentionally falsified the facts to fit his personal liking.

Indeed, it is difficult to recognize an intelligent person being unaware of the differences between Russia and the non-Russian nations which are presently—and we are convinced temporarily—enslaved by the Russians.

Conscious of the utmost importance of the true and objective understanding of the world and Eastern Europe as a sound basis of the effectiveness of our foreign policies, we hereby strongly protest against such irresponsible reporting on the country, the people, and the culture of the Ukraine—our most potent and natural ally in the fight against communism, dictatorship and tyranny for the restoration of the dignity of men—as you have splendidly demonstrated in the past.

Since similar bias persisted in your reporting on some other areas, it seems to us that you need to refresh your knowledge not only in geography but also in the elementary journalistic ethics, which are based on truthful reporting and honesty throughout the world, except in the Soviet Union and other communist countries.

Reds Open Fire on Matsu Islands

Unleash Heaviest Attack Yet Formosa Strait Scene of Action

TAIPEI (AP)—Chinese Nationalists and Communists fought a 90-minute artillery duel at the northern end of Formosa Strait Sunday afternoon as Communist gunners unleashed their heaviest attack yet on the Matsu islands.

The Nationalist defense ministry claimed Communist guns on the mainland coast were silenced by effective counterfire. By national count, the Reds fired 14 shells, of which 162 hit Matsu island, 112 Peikantang Island and 170 landed in the sea.

A communiqué said a Nationalist officer and two soldiers were killed in the bombardment and an officer, three soldiers and 10 civilians wounded. Matsu was last shelled by six rounds on April 28, 1957.

'Ashes of Scarlet' Ends Run

By ED FLOURNOY

"Ashes of Scarlet" was a complete and unmitigated success for playwright and playgoer alike. It was a commendable effort for both sides.

Harry Oliver wrote the play as a part of the requirement for his master's degree in speech last year. He did not, perhaps, originally consider the award and the attendant problems he was playing on his director and the "stars."

"But we do know," he declared, "what the Communists have brought up better and bigger caliber guns in position opposite both Quemoy and Matsu.

which in itself presents a risky problem to an immature student. Or perhaps each generation might be shown on a progressive basis, the first generation first, etc., with one or possibly two changes as needed to put into perspective the current events, and one final piece from the distant past to close the show.

In any case, the present arrangement is sufficient. The play, as it is, is the best that has been done in this area, and the family's attempt to live down the sordid aspects of its past.

The local chapter of the theater honors Theta Alpha Phi undertook the production of "Ashes of Scarlet" and did remarkably well with all due considerations.

The Studio Theater is plainly too limited for a presentation of this genre, but it did offer a rare chance of intimacy between the audience and the viewers.

Under the limitations of the script, Allan Axen directed the show quite ably indeed, and Michael Weisen's lighting was particularly pleasing.

For the most part, the characterizations are vivid and well acted. The role of Emma, the grandmother, whose reputation as a former brothel house madame is shadowed, the family's existence was illustrated in many effective ways by the excellent performance of Patricia Hoke.

The rest of the cast members were forced to change their ages constantly and, in some cases, were not always effective, due again, one might suspect, to script difficulties.

How difficult it is to make an audience believe that a performer is nine, one, eight, seven, six, five, four, three, two, one, and zero is shown in the play. (Amazingly enough, Linda Kohlhof was a believable 12-year-old.)

Don Bumpgardner as the less robust son, Ted, was given some colorful dialogue, and he delivered it sagely. Janet Dixon and Joe Park as Mr. and Mrs. Beck gave generally fine characterizations with the rest of the cast adding in their respective ways.

In addition, the Communists threw 84 artillery shells at the Quemoy Islands.

In the view of some Nationalist quarters here these actions would mark the beginning of a new Communist attempt to create a crisis in Formosa Strait.

Rear Adm. Liu Hsiang-Tu, chief spokesman of the defense ministry, refused to say whether he considered the attack a curtain-raiser to major action.

"But we do know," he declared, "what the Communists have brought up better and bigger caliber guns in position opposite both Quemoy and Matsu.

Seminar Held For Photogs At Kellogg

Kenward Atkin, advertising instructor, will address the Color and Business seminar for professional photographers at Kellogg Center this morning. He will present some of the latest angles in advertising as it applies to color photography.

About 150 photographers from several states are attending the event, the first of its kind to be held here, according to Howard Bethout, MSU's seminar consultant for Continuing Education.

The seminar is sponsored by MSU's College of Communication Arts, the Professional Photographers of Michigan and the Professional Photographers of America, Inc.

Vet. Med. Awards Presented

Only $1,000 in awards were presented Thursday night at the annual Honors Convocation of the College of Veterinary Medicine.

William Armstrong, East Lansing graduate student, received the Dr. H. H. Schramm award of $500 for largest single award.

Stanley W. Ager, Indianapolis, received an award from the H. H. Schramm Trust for his thesis, "The Michigan Veterinary Medical Association award of $250 for best thesis in the Department of Pathology and Diagnostic Bacteriology, Three Rivers senior.

Philip Wolfe, Newton, Mass., senior, received a $50 award from the Women's Auxiliary of AVMA. The Auxiliary also presented an award to Jane McLean, Indianapolis, senior, N.P. for her thesis, "The Milk, Serology of the Milk."

Miss Mary Ellen Lemmon, Grand Rapids, senior, received a $50 award from the American Veterinary Medical Association for her thesis, "The Effect of the Milk, Serology of the Milk."

James Buchanan Jackson, senior, president of the student body, received the AVMA award of $500 for his thesis, "The Effect of the Milk, Serology of the Milk."

Gifts were awarded to John Hoke, Gaydon, Ind., junior, Major Auto Iron River senior, Thomas Cole, East Lansing junior, and David Howell, Detroit senior, for their academic records.

Charles Hall, instructor in veterinary pathology, received the outstanding teacher award.

Gift keys were presented to next year's coeditors and business managers of the MSU Veterinarian: George Gusterson, East Lansing junior; Ray Ramey, East Lansing junior; and James Stewart, East Lansing junior.

Silver keys were presented to the previous three students and Robert Pitkin, East Lansing senior, advertising manager, and Eric Patrick, East Lansing graduate student, assistant editor, for their work on the Veterinarian this past year.

Fifteen Awards Given At Music Convocation

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Red Sox broke out of a five-game losing string Sunday with a 10-1 decision over the last-place Detroit Tigers in a game delayed 30 minutes by rain.

The Red Sox, winning their first game of the current home stand, broke it open with a six-run uprising against starter and loser Paul Foytack in the second inning. A three-run triple by Pete Runnels was the key blow.

Harvey Kuenn, Detroit right fielder who entered the game as the American League's leading hitter with a .407 average, slightly injured his knee and was replaced in the third inning and later was replaced by Johnny Grubbs.

Spartan Varsity Defeats Alumni In Annual Old Timers Tilt, 34-

New Offense, Quarterbacks Pave Victory

By JIM WALLINGTON

Michigan State took the first step in its comeback trail Saturday.

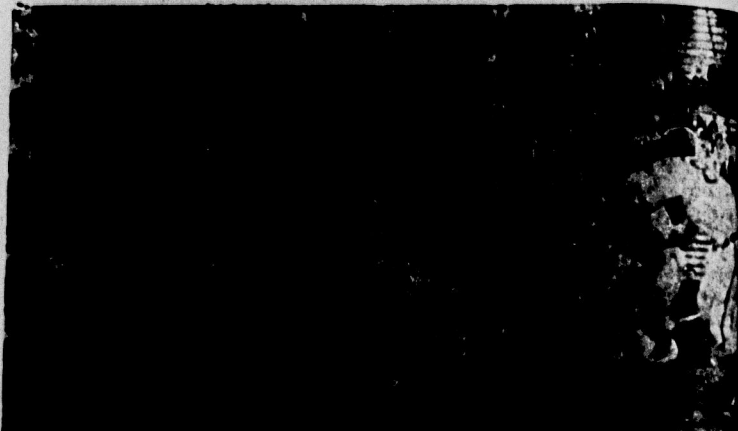

Sporting its new offense, the double wing "T," the Spartans completely outclassed the alumni, 34-7, in the third annual Old Timers game before 11,514 fans in Spartan Stadium.

Most of the credit goes to State's junior quarterback, Tommy Wilson who engineered four touchdowns, but the victory was a team effort with the forward wall keeping the Old Timers offense and defense in check.

State's defense held some of the best runners in the pro ranks to a meager 15 yards rushing total. Spartan backs rolled up 173 yards rushing.

Wilson, and his successor Larry Bielat, threw and played a better game than the pair of professional signal callers leading the Old Timers. State connected on 11 of 17 passes for 171 yards. Jim Ninowski and Earl Morrill completed only nine of 34 passing attempts for 93 yards.

Six men shared in the Spartan scoring. Wilson, Dave Northross, Don Stewart, Jon Marx and holds his end position. Identifiable Old Timers are Fran O'Brien, John Middleton and Dave Ser (89).

Jason Harness scored touchdowns and Art Branistatter booted four of five extra point attempts.

Jim Ninowski scored the Old Timers single marker in the fourth quarter. Slonek kicked the point after.

Though failing to score, Herb Adirley, Blanche Martin and Park Baker contributed much yardage to the varsity's offensive drives. Adirley totaled 77 yard, Martin 39 and Baker 36. An old Spartan nemesis, fumbling, struck Saturday, but it only hit the Old Timers. They bobbled seven times and lost the ball three times. The varsity recovered its only fumble.

The over-anxious Spartans rolled up more yardage in penalties. The officials called 11 penalties for 133 yards. The Old Timers were penalized only three times for 15 yards.

The pattern of the day was set in the first series with the ball. The Old Timers couldn't move and were forced to punt. Then Adirley made the new offense's introduction a sensational one as he took a short pass from Blanche Martin on the Old Timers 46 and scampered to the nine. Three plays later Wilson tossed to Northcross in the end zone.

The Old Timers didn't get a chance to roll after the kick off as Wayne Fontes fell on Kowalczyk's fumble. The Spartans then used 11 plays with Wilson sneaking in for the TD from the one.

Bob Berlich intercepted Ninowski's pass after the Old Timers made their initial first down. The period ended with State on the Old Timers' 19.

The change in quarters didn't slow down the Spartans as seven plays put them in the end zone again. Marx received Wilson's shovel pass behind the line and skipped three yards for the score.

Wilson returned and drove State to its final score. Keeping Vic Zucco's fumble, the Spartans rolled into the end zone with Don Stewart scoring the last six yards.

The rest of the play was confined between the 20-yard markers.

In the romp Coach Daugherty was able to get most of his bench. At least one of the game the entire team was made up of substitutes. All told, 36 second-year players.

Two defenders were particularly outstanding for the varsity. Ed McLucas, a junior, made a habit of being at the right place at the right time, making the key tackles and one fumble recovery.

Sophomore fullback Newman broke up two pass plays to Dorne Dike in the game to keep the Old Timers from a second score.

The promising victory after 20 days of spring football practice for the Spartans.

Spartan Nine Wins Twice

Take Two Of Three Big 10 Tilts

Beat Purdue Friday; Split DH With Illini

Michigan State took a determined hold on third place in the Big 10 baseball race this weekend as they defeated Purdue and split a double-header with Illinois.

Some excellent pitching by Dick Radatz and Craig Van-Sever and lusty hitting by the converted catchers helped the Spartans to a 6-3 victory Friday at Lafayette, Ind., and a 4-1 win in the second game at Illinois. The Illini took the first game, 8-2.

Wade Cartwright, Don Muncie and John Hendee, all ex-backstops, saw action in the field and looked good at the plate. Muncie led the 13 hit attack against Purdue with four singles and also collected one safety against Illinois. Cartwright was six-for-eleven over the weekend and Hendee got two hits against Purdue.

Muncie now boasts a .429 batting average and Cartwright has an enviable 10-for-20 record. Radatz fanned 14 Beller-makers while netting his fourth hit in the ninth, making his over-all record, 7-1. However, the big Muncie was treading on dangerous ground as the Spartans went into the final frame.

John Fleer finally split the game wide open with a bases loaded triple in the ninth. He scored seconds later on a single by Dean Look. Purdue came back for one run in their half of the inning, but it was too late. Van-Sever limited the Illini to four singles and one unearned run in the nightcap of Saturday's twin bill.

The Kobemen wrapped up the game in the early innings. They got all they needed in the second when John Russell walked, Cartwright singled to left, Bill Schudlich walked, Van-Sever walked to force in Russell and Muncie brought Cartwright across on an infield out.

Jack Delvaux relieved starter and loser Paul Arneson for the Illini in the second, but got into trouble in the third. With the bases loaded, he walked Van-Sever to force in another tally. Delvaux was relieved by Ernie Kumerow in the fourth after he hit both Dick Golden and Fleer with pitched balls and gave up a double to Look.

Terry Gellinger of Illinois allowed eight hits in the opener to get the win. Wild pitching and sloppy fielding plagued the Spartans. Don Sackett took the loss. He was followed to the mound by Mickey Blahs and Don Kures.

The Spartans now share third place with Wisconsin with a 7-5 record. Minnesota is still leading the pack and Illinois is second. According to assistant coach Frank Pellerin, the team still has a good chance of finishing second if they can take two-out-of-three in this weekend's home stand against Iowa and Minnesota.

Bleachers Collapse
MAYETTA, Kan., (P)—Bleachers holding an estimated 500 spectators collapsed at a rodeo here Sunday, and at least 150 persons were injured, some seriously.

JIM SINOWSKI of the Cleveland Browns (left) and Tom Wilson of MSU, both quarterbacks, beam over the honors they received in Saturday's Old Timers game. Wilson was the recipient of the Calhoun County Alumni Club award as the top varsity player. The "87 Club award went to Sinowski, voted the best Old Timer performer by the press and radio.

Finish With 11-1 Record

Golfers Sweep Quadrangular

A clean sweep of a quadrangular match Saturday against Michigan, Wisconsin and Detroit gave Michigan State its best regular season golf record ever. The Spartans, closing out their regular schedule with an 11-1 standing, defeated Michigan, 192-162; Wisconsin, 23-13; and Detroit, 32-4, at the Wolverine home course.

Tom Baldwin and Tim Baldwin were medalists for the match, ending the Spartans to have the low score in every match this season. Baldwin shot a pair of 75 for a 142, while Baldwin ranked a 75-77-152.

C. A. Smith, shooting in the number one position, tallied a 78 and 79 for a 158 and halved his match with Wolverine captain Ray Lovell, who had two 79's.

Smith downed Chuck Steino of Wisconsin, 4-2, and the Titans Bob Adams, 5-1-2. Steino was the only opposing golfer to come close to winning the Spartans sweep of medalist honors by tying Jack Reynolds for low score at 130 in Wisconsin's first match against Michigan State. Captain's 152 total swept six points from Wolverine Joe Brinson and Titan John Mulenda and took measure of Larry Wallden, 5-1, in the number two slot.

Reynolds, playing in the third position, carded an 81-77-161 to sweep all six points from Paul Fredhomme of Detroit. However, he lost, 11-12, to Chuck Blackett, Michigan's low scorer, and halved his match, 3-3, with Jim Remmert of Wisconsin.

In the number four position, Ted Schmidt downed Andy By, Michigan's Pat Keady, but the Spartans' records of 88 and 79 for a 163 total is good for a 4-2 victory over Mike Kinn of Wisconsin and a 3-3 split with Captain Tom Seaver of Detroit.

Garry Barrett, with an 82-84-166, tied Michigan's Dick Youngberg. Don Quinn of Wisconsin took 82 points from Barrett, but the Spartans' total score at 130 in Wisconsin's first match against Michigan State. Captain's 152 total swept six points from Wolverine Joe Brinson and Titan John Mulenda and took measure of Larry Wallden, 5-1, in the number two slot.

Coach Ben Van Arman was highly elated with the Spartans' play. The course is being prepared for the Big 10 championships this week by setting the tees back to championship distances and narrowing the fairways by letting the rough go uncut. A very cold and windy day didn't help any either, according to the Spartan manager.

The Spartans hope to make their best showing ever at the conference meet. Last year's sixth place finish and the highest placement of any Spartan team before, as the 1956 and 1956 squads also placed sixth.

Scheiner, who quit school this term to box, plans to resume studies at State summer term. His pro debut was on the preliminary card for the state lightweight championship bout, in which Gene Gresham retained his title by outpointing Chuck Taylor.

Spartan Rowers Defeat Tartars, Boilermakers

The MSU rowing team took first place in a regatta held on Purdue's Wabash River over the weekend.

The Spartan team edged host team Purdue by 2 1/2 lengths and Wayne State by one length by finishing the 200 meter run in a time of 1:03, a record time for an MSU rowing team.

In a close race, Wayne opened a small lead at the beginning, but fell even with Purdue and the Spartans at the half-mile mark. Toward the end of the regatta, the Tartars and Boilermakers both faded to give MSU its victory.

This Friday at 4 p.m. the first home regatta of the season will be held on the Grand River. The finish line for the affair will be at the Lansing Boat Club on the eastern end of Mt. Hope Avenue.

Former MSU Boxer Wins Motor City Fight

Warren Scheiner of Milford, former MSU boxer, won his first professional fight last week in Detroit, scoring a technical knockout over Hal Green at 2:18 of the first round.

Scheiner, who quit school this term to box, plans to resume studies at State summer term. His pro debut was on the preliminary card for the state lightweight championship bout, in which Gene Gresham retained his title by outpointing Chuck Taylor.

Thinclads Take 6 Firsts But Lose to Irish, 74-57

Although they racked up six firsts as well as a first place tie, Coach Fran Dittrich's thinclads lost their final dual meet of the season Friday night to Notre Dame, 74-57.

Losses in the javelin and shot events enabled the Irish to take good Michigan State honors in the other events.

In the shot put, Spartan Al Neumann won his first contest of the season with a heave of 147 1/2 pounds in the mile, Bob Hill and Tony Smith finished in a tie with a new dual meet record.

The star of the meet was Irish sprinter Jerry Fitzpatrick who was a triple winner.

In the 100-yard dash and 220,

Fitzpatrick downed MSU's John Sharp, with times of 16.1 and 22.9. Brian Castle placed third in the 220. A leap of 22.9 gave Fitzpatrick first place in the broad jump as he beat teammate Dick Monahan and State's Jason Hachness.

Harness also took first place honors in the high jump as he tied with Monahan and Notre Dame's Jack Reilly. All three jumped 5-11 1/2.

Notre Dame Capt. Steve Dornbach, won both of his specialties, the 120-yard high hurdles (15.0) and the 220 yard hurdles (24.6). Dornbach defeated Mike Kleinbans in both events as Harness placed third in the high.

Capt. Ferdie Koeny took the 100-mile (9:21.8) and Jim Hogan placed third. Jim Carr finished third in the 800 yard Ron Gregory and Dan Burke of the Irish. In the 440 Castle (1:46) and Don Marsh placed one-1:50.

The other Notre Dame winners were Mike Morando, javelin, 209 feet, one inch, and Ken Seaton, discus, (134-2). The Irish swept both events.

Mike Kleinbans won the pole vault (13-4) as Frank Monowald finished third in the event. Completing the events was a victory by MSU's mile relay team of Margo, Bob Higgins, Max Wellenroeder and Castle as they covered the distance in 3:24.7.

State Netters Lose 2 of 3 in Madison

After having split a dual meet with Wisconsin and Iowa on Friday, the MSU tennis team lost its final weekend match to Minnesota on Saturday.

All three meets were held on the Camp Randall courts in Madison, Wis., and marked the last away meet this spring for Coach Stan Drobac's squad.

State had no trouble in downing weak Wisconsin, 8-1, in Friday's first match. The local netters took all six of the singles decisions and two of the three doubles sets.

The victory marked the return to winning ways of Bill Hotchkiss, No. 1 singles man.

'S' Club Salutes Varsity Players

Outstanding players representing every major varsity sport were singled out at the "S" club chicken fry Thursday night for outstanding service.

Glenn Mue, club president, presented awards to:

Crawford Kennedy, track and cross country; George Sepety, soccer; Jim Ferguson, wrestling; Elwood Miller, hockey; Sam Williams, football; Bob Anderson, basketball; and Terrence Lemm, fencing.

All except Sepety are seniors.

He defeated the Badgers' Keith Anderson, 7-5, 6-0.

The Spartans were not so fortunate in Friday's second match as they were defeated by Iowa, 6-3.

Capt. Foster Hoffman and Roger Plagenhoef were the lone singles winners for MSU. Hoffman beat Iowa's Don Middlebrook, 6-4, 6-2, while Plagenhoef bested the Hawkeyes' John Madig by the same score.

Tom Mescall, No. 6 singles player, was defeated in the Iowa fray for the first time this year. He had previously won eight straight singles sets.

Minnesota also took the Spartans' measure on Saturday, 6-3.

The Gophers took four of the six singles matches and two of the three doubles decisions to win. Doug Smith and Ben Merrill scored victories for State in singles and the Smith-Hotchkiss combination teamed up to defeat Minnesota's No. 1 duo, 6-4, 5-6, 6-4, in doubles.

The netters close their regular season Tuesday by playing Indiana on the MSU courts south of the Stadium.

This weekend the Big 10 championships will be held here.

SCHULTZ IS A MANY SPLENDORED THING

Beppo Schultz, boulevardier, raconteur, connoisseur, sportsman, bon vivant, had fellow well met—in short, typical American college man—smokes today's new Marlboro.

Why do you smoke today's new Marlboro, hey?" a friend recently asked Beppo Schultz.

"I smoke today's new Marlboro," replied Beppo, looking up from his 29 litre L-head Hotchkiss drive double overhead camshaft British sports car, "because they are new."

"New?" said the friend. "What do you mean—new?"

"I mean the flavor's great, the filter's improved, the cigarette is designed for today's easier, breezier living," said Beppo.

"Like this 29 litre L-head Hotchkiss drive double overhead camshaft British sports car?" asked the friend.

"Exactly," said Beppo.

"She's a beauty," said the friend, looking admiringly at the car. "How long have you had her?"

"It's a male," said Beppo.

"Sorry," said the friend. "How long have you had him?"

"About a year," said Beppo.

"Have you done a lot of work on him?" asked the friend.

"Oh, have I not?" cried Beppo. "I have replaced the carburetor with a Roots type supercharger. I have replaced the torque with a synchromesh. I have replaced the tachometer with a double side draft carburetor."

"Gracious!" exclaimed the friend.

"I have replaced the hood with a bonnet," said Beppo.

"Land o' Goshen!" exclaimed the friend.

"And I have put gloves in the glove compartment," said Beppo.

"My, you have been the busy one," said the friend. "You must be exhausted."

"Maybe a trifle," said Beppo, with a brave little smile.

"Know what I do when I'm tired?" said the friend.

"Light a Marlboro?" ventured Beppo.

"Oh, pshaw, you guessed!" said the friend, pointing.

"But it was easy," said Beppo, chuckling kindly. "When the eyelids droop and the musculature sags and the psyche is depleted, what is more natural than to perk up with today's new Marlboro?"

"A great new smoke with better 'makin's and a great new filter!" proclaimed the friend, his young eyes glistening.

"Changed to keep pace with today's changing world?" declared Beppo, whirling his arms in concentric circles. "A cigarette for a sunnier age, an age of greater leisure and more horizonal horizons!"

Now, tired but happy, Beppo and his friend lit Marlboro's and smoked for a time in deep, silent contentment. At length the friend spoke. "He certainly is a beauty," he said.

"You mean my 29 litre L-head Hotchkiss drive double overhead camshaft British sports car?" asked Beppo.

"Yes," said the friend. "How fast will he go?"

"Well, I don't rightly know," said Beppo. "I can't find the starter."

If you're sticking with the good old non-After cigarette, you can't do better than Philip Morris—a mild, rich, tasty smoke, made by the people who make Marlboro's.

Broiled Chicken Climaxes Week at Greek Feast

A CAPACITY CROWD jammed the lawn of Delta Sigma Phi Saturday evening as Greek Feast climaxed a week-long list of activities during Greek Week.

The traditional week set aside to the Greeks started with Sorority Sing on Sunday, May 10, and ended with an IFC-PanHellenic banquet at the Lansing Civic Center Sunday.

Old College Field was the arena for Athena's Holiday Saturday morning as the Pi Beta Phi's corpeus first place in the intersorority sports competition. Alpha Xi Delta finished in the runnerup spot, and ribbons were awarded to the individual winner of each event.

DR. CORNELIUS LOEW, head of the department of philosophy and religion at Western Michigan University, conducted a religious convocation at the Bandshell Sunday morning.

Greek Week chairmen, chapter presidents, IFC-PanHellenic representatives and MSU administration guests then attended a banquet at the Civic Center. Dr. Paul Miller, vice-president for off-campus affairs, addressed the gathering and entertainment was provided by the MSU Glee Club.

Alpha Gamma Delta harmonized with "Mick McGiligan's Ball" to win first place in the Sorority Sing, and Kappa Alpha Theta's arrangement of "Looking for the Lost Chord - A Medley" took second place.

SORORITY WORKSHOPS, a sorority convocation and Interfraternity leadership conference and exchange dinners dotted the week's schedule of activities.

Thursday night Theta Chi won the Fraternity Sing with its rendition of "Let Thy Holy Presence"

Rosemary Meyer, Lansing junior and Sigma Kappa, and Don McClish, Bronson senior and Alpha Gamma Rho, served as co-chairmen during Greek Week.
