HUAC Twisting the Truth

In ‘Operation Abolition’ Film

By Roy Williams, Editor, East Lansing, Michigan

The film "Operation Abolition" is an attempt to create an atmosphere of contempt in the minds of the American people toward the struggle of the black people for freedom and justice.

The film is designed to create a climate of fear and hatred against the black people, and to pave the way for the continuation of the law of segregation.

The film is sponsored by the House Un-American Activities Committee (HUAC) and is being used as a tool to influence public opinion and to influence the decision of the Supreme Court.

The film is intended to create a climate of fear and hatred against the black people, and to pave the way for the continuation of the law of segregation.

The film is intended to create a climate of fear and hatred against the black people, and to pave the way for the continuation of the law of segregation.

Letters to the Editor

Social Antiquity

To the Editor:

I was very interested in your recent article on the history of social amity. It is evident that the period of social amity has been a time of great change and progress in the field of social studies. The writers have done an excellent job of presenting the various aspects of social amity.

Yours sincerely,

U. S. Poland Talk

On ‘Peace Project’

WASHINGTON, D.C. – President Harry S. Truman and Prime Minister Jozef Stalin today exchanged greetings over the telephone, and agreed to work toward a peaceful solution of the Korean War.

President Truman said in a telephone conversation with Mr. Stalin: "I am glad to see you are getting along so well with the Chinese. I think it’s a great beginning to the end of the Korean War."

Mr. Stalin said: "We are glad to see you are getting along so well with the Chinese. I think it’s a great beginning to the end of the Korean War."

The President added: "I think it’s a great beginning to the end of the Korean War."

Mr. Stalin replied: "I think it’s a great beginning to the end of the Korean War."

Hijacked Passengers Resume Trip on Guarded Vera Cruz

By DAVID BUSMAN (ehr.)

A strong Portuguese guard was on the watch today as the Santa Maria, a passenger steamer, left here for Spain. The vessel was hijacked on its voyage last week and was captured by the Portuguese at portugal.

The Santa Maria, with 220 passengers on board, was attacked on its way to Spain and was forced to put into port. The Portuguese, who have assumed control of the ship, are guarding it against any further trouble.
