Campus Marriages Increase

Married students are born to the campus this May, according to an annual survey conducted by campus organizations. A study revealed that a total of 300 married students are currently enrolled at MSU, compared to 250 last year. The survey showed that the majority of these students are involved in social organizations and extracurricular activities. The increase in marriages is expected to continue as the number of married students grows each year.

Under 1871 Civil Rights Law

The 1960s civil rights movement gained momentum as a result of the enactment of the Civil Rights Act of 1871. The law, also known as the Ku Klux Klan Act, was passed to prevent the use of violence and intimidation to prevent African Americans from voting and holding office. The law has been interpreted to cover a wide range of civil rights issues, including discrimination in housing, employment, and education. The law has been challenged as a violation of the Constitution, but has been upheld in recent years.
