State Colleges Face Financial Crisis Due to Budget Cuts

Letters Ask for 'Help'

A cry for "Help!" echoed from the speakers at the Michigan State University Student Government meeting Thursday evening. The four resolutions proposed by Campus United for the pres-1808 LETTERS — Classes were challenged as students produced 1808 letters to the Student Government. The letters urge each professor or principal to telephone their legislators for an ask for a war against the proposed budget cuts.

Cut MSU Request 88 Million

By DAVE PRICE
State News Editor

Michigan State University and the eight other state supported higher institutions are awaiting approval of their budgets from the legislature in their interests. The legislature recommends several million dollar increases to the university's budget. It is estimated that the Legislature could be in session by the end of the year.

MSU's Educational Needs
Ignored by State Committee

It is paradoxical that in this age of discovery, of scientific and cultural outreach, of the possible, farmers fail to appreciate adequate funds for operation and expansion.

The Senate Appropriations Committee, Friday, recommended $1,812,971 for Michigan State University, which he terms absolutely necessary. As an example, it is shown that if the state had been willing to give MSU the funds it so badly needs, the school's facilities would have been expanded, and many of the problems would be lessened.

The main argument against increased aid to MSU is that it will not increase the state's revenue, outstanding, and therefore the state should not give aid to the state agency of •money, and once the school's financial situation is alleviated, the agency must be proportionally cut.

We encourage students, faculty and Michiganders to demand proper educational assistance on the legislators' importance of the school, and to pressure representatives who are not on the committee to call for more adequate funds for the state of Michigan and America cannot afford this.

Kennedy Speaks Against Discrimination

WASHINGTON-John F. Kennedy, having launched a drive to remove "separate but equal' discrimination' from the filing of federal jobs or hiring, by contractors with the government, ended his drive yesterday with a warning against discrimination.

The president, speaking at the annual session of the National Negro Business League in Detroit, said discrimination is "a cancer on American society" and said that "the basic American creed is that all men are created equal and deserve equal opportunity."

Letters to the Editor

On HUAC, Communist Methods

Opportunity!

To the Editor:

This is to assert that the recent attacks made against communists and/or communistic organizations are not only unjustified but entirely unwarranted.

In the first place, the communists do not serve Goals or marvels in the immediate sense of the word. In the second place, the communists are not the enemies of democracy or the United States government. They are simply the enemies of the capitalist system that is responsible for the depression and other social ills.

William T. McGarrigle

Not Reactionary

To the Editor:

The reason of Chuck Birtle is not at fault. His article about the Russian method of making grades in this school, however, is not at fault. It shows that the Russian method of making grades is not a greater one than the American method.

If you are a member of the group of people still in the school, you are entitled to express your opinion on it. And, if you are a member of the group of people who are not in the school, you are entitled to express your opinion on it.

Why Inspired?

To the Editor:

This controversy concerning the HUAC hearings has not yet swept the State of Michigan. My impression of the film was that it is a propaganda film. It is an attempt to make us think that the HUAC is a bad organization and that the communists are a bad group.

I hope that those who are watching this film will remember that the HUAC is a bad organization and that the communists are a bad group.

Look Harder

To the Editor:

Concerning Mr. Pattee's rash free speech article appearing in the April 9th issue. I want to point out that the approving group of people still in the school, you are entitled to express your opinion on it. And, if you are a member of the group of people who are not in the school, you are entitled to express your opinion on it.

"Dwellers" Premiere Tonight

By NANN JAYNE

The Daily.

"The Care Dwellers" by William Saroyan will open at 8 p.m. tonight in the University Theatre. This is the third in the University Theatre's first spring season.

It is not easy to describe the characters who make this play, for each and every face has been blended with any conventional patterns, and they are truly in a sense the Dwellers. The term described three characters in a Saroyan group following the play's opening in New York City.

John Chapman of the Daily News said in his review that the Saroyan group has prided itself as indeed shabby but has certain edges that hold throughout the play.

"The characters that Saroyan has grouped together are without Aim or reason. They are a group of people who are living here and understanding to the delight of the audience. The Queen," the matriarch of the Saroyan group, is a once famous clown who now leads her two partners in the act of 'The Cave Dwellers.'

The play will run through the opening of the play's opening in New York City. The play will run through the opening of the play's opening in New York City.

Green Helmet Will Hold Open Meeting This Term

Green Helmet announced that it will hold open meetings allowing the public to hear speakers who will talk in the group this term.

The group has been active for several years and annually the permanent president of art history will speak tonight at 8:30 in room 33, Union. He will speak and show slides on contemporary American painting.

Dr. Linn received degrees from the University and his works have been published by the Baltimore Museum of Art and the California Water Color Society.

Dave Foster, president of Green Helmet, said the group will always welcome new members because it was felt the public would be interested in hearing the speakers.

It was explained that all of these will be limited to President John Hannah at 100 W. Union. He will speak tonight at 8:30 in room 33, Union. He will speak tonight at 8:30 in room 33, Union.

Technical Aids Close Gap
TV May Help Teacher Shortage

By HELEN COATY

State News Managing Editor

One of the major causes of the education gap between high and low achieving students is the number of teachers. Adding to the problem is the fact that the number of college level classrooms were maintained for teaching was below minimum level standards.

This problem is being addressed by the teaching machine factory. Since 1927, when the Federal Communications Commission reserved approximately 25 channels for non-commercial educational use, television has been growing up. Television is spreading. Television is growing up.

One of the major causes of this growth is the Midwest Program on Television in Education (MPATI), run by the University of Michigan, which has been expanding. The program was started in 1956 in the Midwest. Program on Television in Education (MPATI) was founded by the University of Michigan.

One layer is reasonable, but effect will be needed to pull them through.

For a long time, AUSG has been addressing itself to the administration rather than the students. It hasn't done much good. However, Student Government must play a more active role. First, the ASU administration has not even merited consideration.

The history of AUSG shows that students have not received anything they have not actively expressed as a class. If apathy continues, my expectation is that the students have not re­ seriously thought of education and a myriad of problems of university life. Now is the time for action! We must work together to help solve these problems. -This can be done. The way to do this is through a student government and efficient cabinet.

The history of MSU shows that students have not been left to themselves but have been involved in important decisions. A student government and efficient cabinet can serve as a check on the administration and be responsible for the students' interests. A student government should have the right to select the teachers and instructors of their courses.

Campbell

The present University administration has an impression of the student body. It is the president's job to listen to the students. Unfortunately, the president has not done his job. The president should have the right to select the teachers and instructors of his courses.

The president should support a central check-out system in the library to prevent loss of books by theft. He should establish a course evaluation system for all students.

3. The president should seek the advice of some of the student body, it is the president's job to listen to the students. Unfortunately, the president has not done his job. The president should have the right to select the teachers and instructors of his courses.

The president should support a central check-out system in the library to prevent loss of books by theft. He should establish a course evaluation system for all students.

4. University-wide problems should be handled by the student government. The president should lead the student government in the same way he leads the faculty body.

5. Students should be represented on more faculty committees. The use of paper­ books for courses should be prevented because of the difficulty of securing assigned readings and the great cost of printing.
