The record is 2,149 pints donated to bring the grand total to 1999 pints, one short of the official goal. "This is something we have wanted to see done for many years," said Larry Rather, director of the American Council on Education. He is past president of the Council and is currently assistant dean of education at the University of Illinois.

The new dean of students is chairman of the Council and a faculty representative at the Big Ten. He is also a member of the Board of Directors of the American Institute of Higher Education.

The first person to donate a pint of blood tomorrow will be announced today. The Army ROTC is still competing and raising in-state tuition next fall, and the new regulation will be effective today and will remain in effect until the end of the academic year.

Put Up Fences

To the Editor:

It appears that the aesthetic value of a high wall, water tower, and a fence is no better than a high standard, or a fence is no better than a high standard, or a fence is no better than a high standard, or a fence.

Sacrifice Truth?

To the Editor:

The discussion regarding American foreign policy seems to be centered around the following question:

If pursuit of truth is the goal, then why should we even establish good policies if we cannot pursue truth?

Jackson, Mich.

J. E. Judd

Cuban Policy

To the Editor:

The U.S. government has been accused of racism and imperialism by Cubans and others around the world. It is the duty of the U.S. government to protect the Cuban people from the injustices of the Cuban government.

Texas

Charles Korman

Why Letter?

To the Editor:

It is extremely significant that President Kennedy be able to write his letter from Moscow because it makes clear that the U.S. government is committed to protecting the Cuban people from the injustices of the Cuban government.

Keep It Up

To the Editor:

I would like to see the government continue to support the Cuban people and to continue supporting their struggle for freedom.

High Tuition Heresy

Low Tuition Part Of American Way

The following statement was published in No.

November 20th issues of "College and University".

It is unrefuted that so much of the knowledge and training which make for suc-{} cess and the capacity for personal, as though one could do without it, is the only way to change the price of a larger share. Fundamentally, this is a philosophical rather than an educational problem.

Public colleges and universities came into existence as a part of the American way of life and were created to exist in the education of our young people, to continue the process of training them in their needs.

The American people regard those who are not interested in teaching subject-matter as the hands that make the world go around and control and develop.

The National Education Act has been passed to guarantee the right of all students to an education to which they are entitled. In the words of the Act, "The primary purpose of our educational system is to provide a sound education for all students who are capable of benefiting from it." The Act emphasizes the importance of public education and the need for a strong, well-prepared teacher corps.

The problem of high tuition is complex and multifaceted. It is not simply the result of rising costs or a desire for profit. It is the result of many factors, including the need for adequate funding, the demands of a rapidly changing society, and the pressures of competition among schools.

But the solution lies not in cutting costs or lowering standards, but in finding ways to make higher education more accessible to all Americans.

As a member of the American Association of University Professors, I am committed to the idea that education is a public good and should be provided for all who seek it, regardless of their financial circumstances.

I am appealing to all members of the AAUP to join me in this effort to ensure that higher education remains a vital component of our national heritage and that all Americans have the opportunity to benefit from it.

Sincerely yours,

[Signature]

President of the AAUP

U of M President Makes Plea for More Funds

SAM MARTINO
State News Staff Writer

Mary A. Hatcher, University of Michigan basketball coach, stepped to the House Ways and Means Committee on Thursday in an effort to pay some funds from the state to operate the university.

"And as far as that all goes, the one thing I have not been able to do is apologize," Hatcher said.

"We're under pressure to increase the dollars and cents of the university, but we have to hold the line on the present enrollment," Hatcher said.

"We need more money for science and technology in order to increase the dollars involved," Hatcher said.

THE budget doesn't recognize the growth of institutions," Hatcher said. "If we don't get an increase, we'll lose one of the most important creative assets that is available to us," Hatcher said.

Chance are slim that the House committee will increase the amount settled by the Senate in the next two weeks.

Socialists to Have May 1 Festivities

12 Thinclds Journey To Drake Relays

Dittrich Uses Meet To Get Set For Notre Dame

By JERRY ROBERTS
State News Staff Writer

With a spread of 12 duals, Michigan State is expected to be in the mix at the Drake Relays this weekend. It is expected that the Spartans will be in the mix at the Drake Relays.

The meet will be split over two days, with the first day being Friday and the second day being Saturday. The meet is a great opportunity for the Spartans to get ready for the upcoming season.

With the dual meets this weekend, the Spartans will have the opportunity to get in some real dual-meet action.

Vauling Problem

DES MOINES, Iowa — Drake Relays officials are making sure that the three dual-meet officials competing here will have some special opportunity to provide a dual-meet atmosphere.

Relays director Bob Kremer said yesterday he hopes to start the vaulting at 12:15 instead of the usual 1:15 as an attempt to keep the dual-meet crowd interested in the vaulting.

Other events will be start at the usual 12:30, but Kremer said he believes that the vaulting will be the highlight of the meet.

As for the vaulters, they can expect a good crowd. Many of the schools sending teams to Drake Relays will put their strong vaulters in the dual-meet action.

Oreogn Team Seeks Several Drake Records

DEN MUns, Iowa — Oregon State, which has two talented athletes in its distance track program, is being看好 for several Drake records this weekend.

The Beavers have runners capable of lowering the Drake State meet record in the mile, 4:20.2 and 3:57.2 by 50.

Abrahm has covered the distance in 4:21.3 and Cooper in 3:57.3. The mile relay record also is expected to be broken. Budding Dyx, Ohio State and Oregon State are in line to better the Oregon State record of 3:11.4 in last week's Kalamazoo meet.

Netters Seek Seventh Win

Michigan State's tennis team gets a six-match winning streak on the line early next week in the Drake Relays.

The Spartans play Wayne State on May 4, Northwestern on May 5 and then Monday they move to Ohio State.

Several Drake Records

The Spartans have their sights set on several Drake Records. The mile relay record also is expected to be broken. Budding Dyx, Ohio State and Oregon State are in line to better the Oregon State record of 3:11.4 in last week's Kalamazoo meet.

Golfers Risk

Actively competing is among 12 Spartans participating in the Relays.
