Astronaut Awaits Clearing 1st Manned Space Shot Stalled by Bad Weather

CAPE CANAVERAL — A decision to postpone the firing of the Saturn rocket carrying astronaut Alan Shepard to orbit the earth was announced Thursday as a result of bad weather in the vicinity of the launch site.

STAFF REPORT

This is the second time this week the mission has been delayed. Shepard was to have been launched last Sunday in an attempt to break the world record of a Kazakh cosmonaut for the longest spaceflight.

The decision to fire the rocket was made by NASA officials Thursday afternoon in consultation with weather forecasters. Shepard will not be launched until Friday. (AP Wirephoto)

Change in Liquor Regulations Encourages Student Maturity

The recent change in the automatic suspension regulations for students who pose or cause liquor law violations on campus has resulted in an exponential rise in the number of students who have had their licenses revoked. In response, the University Senate approved a new set of regulations which will allow students to appeal in cases where the incident involved an alcohol-related crime.

In order to address this growing problem, the University Senate has implemented a new policy that will allow students to appeal in cases where the incident involved an alcohol-related crime. The policy will go into effect on October 1st.

Full Equality and Freedom in Law

The following excerpts are from a speech by Justice Potter Stewart, associate justice of the United States Supreme Court. He spoke about the importance of justice and equality in our legal system.

"It is my firm belief that our legal system is designed to provide equal treatment for all persons, but that this goal can only be achieved through a commitment to equality before the law. We must strive to ensure that every person has an equal opportunity to have their voices heard in our courts, regardless of their background, wealth, or social status. Only by ensuring that all people are treated fairly and equally can we hope to achieve true justice in our society."

On Blood Drive, Correctives

Directed?

To the Editor:

Dear Sir or Madam:

I don't object to your editorial's asking for criticism of blood drives. This is, in part, your function. I do, however, question your statement: "There is no reason why the blood drive can't treat its audience right.

If you recognized your audience properly to direct into a state legislator and charging our audience improperly, your statement would be: "He didn't go through appropriate secret channels and carried your objections to a state legislator."

In our U.S. as well as in Holland, we must entice audience to beliefs in order for our society to survive.

If we strive too high for equality and sincerity in your response, we will harm individual and the possibility for a criminal to show his audience properly to direct into a state legislator and charging our audience improperly. But I do like that he didn't go through appropriate secret channels and carried your objections to a state legislator.

Yours sincerely,

Bill Small

Science Editor.

You Too Can Beat City Hall If You Try

Publishing in LAGUARDIEN, N.Y.

You can, too. Beat City Hall.

Try it. It works. Just follow the steps outlined below:

1. First, identify the problem, the city's inaction on a project or service on your street.

2. Next, organize a neighborhood meeting to discuss the problem and possible solutions.

3. Then, write a letter to your local representative, whether it be a state senator or city council member.

4. Finally, attend a city council meeting. Speak up and make your concerns known.

It may take time and effort, but it is possible to make changes in city government. Just try it and see what happens.

You, me, us... us...

MSU's new campus master plan, "Looking Toward 2000," is being reviewed by the Board of Trustees. The plan outlines a vision for the university's future, including new construction projects and improvements to existing facilities.

The board has approved the plan, which includes a new student center, a new science building, and a new library. The plan also calls for the addition of additional dormitories and housing facilities to accommodate the growing student population.

The plan is a significant step forward for MSU, and it will help the university maintain its status as a leading research institution. We look forward to seeing the implementation of the plan in the near future.

Summer Festival Stresses Fine Arts

The university's 1961 summer festival began last week with the coming of Fine Arts Fest-fest. The festival will continue through July 8.

Robert Shaw, director of the 1961 festival, spoke of the festival's signifinance. "It's the first time that we have had a festival of this magnitude and nature in the history of the university. It is the first time that we have had a festival of this magnitude and nature in the history of the university. It is the first time that we have had a festival of this magnitude and nature in the history of the university.

The festival will include a variety of events, including concerts, lectures, and workshops. Of particular note will be the National Park Service's annual music festival, which will feature a variety of musical performances by local and national artists.

Politics Linked to Social Environment

By W. H. W. T. News Staff Writer

Relationships between political attitudes and social behavior are being studied at the University of Illinois and other institutions.

A group of law students, chosen because of their tradition of intense political activity, were selected to fill out questionnaires on their attitudes toward government, political, military, and other institutions. The questionnaires were distributed among students who had been involved in political activity in high school, college, and other institutions.

The students were asked about their attitudes toward government, political, and other institutions, and their answers were recorded. The data were then analyzed to determine the relationships between political attitudes and social behavior.

Politics to That Leads a Campus Life

WASHINGTON — The government, through its political agencies, is becoming increasingly involved in the education of the younger generation. The government is using its power to influence the political attitudes of the young through various means, including the distribution of pamphlets, the sponsorship of political organizations, and the provision of financial support for political groups.

The government's influence on the political attitudes of the young is not limited to the distribution of pamphlets and the sponsorship of political organizations. The government is also providing financial support for political groups, including the sponsorship of political conferences and the provision of financial assistance to political groups.

Astronaut Disappointed

CAPE CANAVERAL—For more than three hours, astroman Alan B. Shepard Jr., 29, in his space suit, waiting patiently for the signal to come to him so he could try to become the first American to walk in space. What a letdown! The coach didn't limit. In fact, to wait, to wonder, to hope. The young New Englander had a story off the end-of-the-season read and start thinking about a new toy, perhaps Thursday.

IT MUST have been a great disappointment to the man who grew terrestrial habits to do with the pale, brown-haired New England boy. It certainly was the first hour or so, his thoughts turned sequently, the low flying, light plane island. The dashboard lights were dim and the tiny crowd watching was heartened for a mo­ moments by the news that the prime astronaut had taken ill.

MEANWHILE, Shepard and his crewmen were untergo­ing phys­ial examination. Dr. William E. Douglas, the Air Force's astronaut personal phys­i­ ician, relayed word that they were in "superb health."

Medical sensors were attachable to Shepard's body, design­ing him for his mission the next day.

Now, the astronaut was helping into the pressure suit and the portable air conditioner was backed up to it to keep him cool comfortably until he could set tle down and break with the press for the flight. At 3:29 a.m., a space agency spokesman announced that the prime astronaut's condi­tion was good and he was due to enter the space capsule with his own cooling system.

Next, the astronaut was helping into the space capsule, where Medical sensors were attached to the prime astronaut's face, body, hands and feet, along with the tiny crowd watching the launch.
Eichmann's Lawyer Seeks Summons of Four Ex-Nazis

JERUSALEM, May 30 — Adolf Eichmann's defense counsel told the court today that he would seek to summon four ex-Nazis to testify that Eichmann was in prison at the time of the war crimes, according to an official, who said Mr. Eichmann was in prison at the time.

The defense counsel argued that the witnesses would be able to testify about the conditions of the prison and the relationship between Eichmann and other prisoners. The court agreed to consider the request for the witnesses.

Johnson Pledges Action On Racial Biased Hiring

WASHINGTON, May 30 — President Lyndon B. Johnson has pledged to take action on racial biased hiring in defense contractors, according to a statement from the White House. Johnson said that the Department of Defense had been notified of potential discrimination in hiring practices.

The statement said that the White House would work with the Department of Defense to ensure that hiring practices are fair and equal for all qualified candidates. The statement also noted that the President would be closely monitoring the situation to ensure that action is taken.

Appeal Likely To Be Rejected

The Defense Contractors Association has filed an appeal of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission's decision to investigate claims of discrimination in hiring practices.

The association argued that the commission lacked the authority to investigate such matters and that the claims were meritless. The commission disagreed, stating that it had jurisdiction over the claims and that the allegations were supported by evidence.

Johnson said that the Department of Defense would cooperate fully with the commission and that it would review the allegations to ensure that fair and equal hiring practices are maintained.

Game Dedicated to Two Men Retiring From Staff

VanAlstyn
And Burtt
Honored

Two important figures in Spartan sports, Van Van Alstyn and Warren Burtt will be honored at the 15th Annual Sports banquet on May 12.

Van Alstyn, basketball and golf coach during a 25-year span, and Bert, track coach who also served with the staff for 23 years, will enjoy the evening as guest of honor.

Van Alstyn, a 1917 Colgate graduate, coached Spartan basketball teams during the period from 1926 through 1946.

Burtt’s track coaching record showed 333 wins to 82 losses for a 393 percent winning percentage.

The anniversaries of the two men’s clubs was the 1897 Van Alstyn which was $5 and $2 a year and the 1917 Burtt’s which made $20. Burtt’s career in track started in 1926 and the Van Alstyn’s was 1917.

Jim Durkee
To Captain Gym Team

The gymnastics team elected Jim Durkee, Katharine junior, captain of the 1957-58 team in its annual banquet last week.

Durkee was a consistent winner this season, with a perfect 10 given by the judges.

The team is wound up for the remainder of the year.

Poetry??

There was an old woman
Who lived in a shoe.
She had so many children
She didn't know what to do.
She gave them all broth
Without any bread.
Kissed them all soundly
And sent them to bed.

Now here are students
Who wear their shoes
With lots of prudence
And little polish.
But shoes are quite neat
For warming the feet.
Ain't that just sweet?

Feet, feet, feet — sweet.
Shoes, shoes, shoes — whew.
Feet — sweet; shoes — whew.
