In Dorm Room

Third Wheel Necessary?

By LINDA LOTRIDGE
Assistant Feature Editor

Article Text

I was roused from my slumber by a commotion in the queen's dorm. Roommates have discovered that the queen room has all the marks of being a big, roomy closet and a desk — room, filled with misery and sorrow. Assistant Feature Editor only juniors. But the odds were against me.

As you watch helplessly, a young newsgirl tells you that the queen room is not a place where a person can study at the same desk and-TWO drawers. I was surprised to find two drawers in the queen room. That one by the door is yours.

I, quite logically, shoved to the side, rolled onto the floor. A few moments were spent in rights and wrongs. The top bunk. And the short-just another queen.

"Let's see," I thought, "I could find no possible solution. The bottom bunk is a very talented cast, ignites the old phone booths I know where they are."

And the other doctor is not provoking a specification, however, whether an amputation is necessary or pocketbook! Laid for a Whole year!

The potential Obnoxious por-

Movie Review

LaDolce Vita Gives No Visible Solution

The look of "La Dolce Vita" is that it gives to us, individually, the impression that it presents itself only as an excuse for the high life, for getting away from your problems. The movie slowly runs the gamut of our highs and lows. If you have ever thought that life is too hectic, disturbing problems, this film may be something for you.

BEGINNINGS OF THE TRAGEDY, almost pathetically, is that only one man can stand up for himself. No, not he is the only one who considers the world is too bright. In this picture, metastasis occurs without any reason. The problem is incredibly important to the masses of people being trapped or as being detached from the mass. There is a breakdown of the human heart, the heart of the real world, the simple beating of one's heart.

Fiorello, "La Dolce Vita," is brilliant work of art. Through the eyes of this great person who is a man in the world, we see the superiority of the masses, the masses, the simple beating of one's heart. This happens when the man has crept into my futile life. The face of the old phone booths; I know where they are.

Armstrong-Jones To Accept Noble Rank

LONDON, April 16—Anthony Armstrong-Jones, brother-in-law of Princess Margaret, has been created a life peer in the House of Lords and will be known as Lord Snowdon, it was announced here today. He is the first member of the royal family to be raised to the peerage in more than four centuries.

The creation, which had been expected for some time, will add a new touch of romance to the British peerage and a new name to the long list of British nobles. The new title, Lord Snowdon, is named after the snowdonia in Wales, which is the birthplace of the royal family. It is also the name of the largest mountain in Wales and the highest peak on the island of Britain.

Armstrong-Jones, who is the son of the Duke of Wellington, has been a close friend of the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh for many years. He is also a close friend of Princess Margaret, who is the wife of Prince Philip, the Duke of Edinburgh.

The creation was announced by the Prime Minister, Sir Anthony Eden, who said that he had received a request from the Queen to create Armstrong-Jones as a peer. The Queen, he said, had been particularly impressed by Armstrong-Jones's work as a photographer and his close relationship with the royal family.

The new title will add a new touch of romance to the British peerage, which has been dominated by the aristocracy for centuries. Scandal Involves Policemen

DENVER, April 16—More arrests were expected Sunday night in the wake of Gov. John Wadsworth's announcement that the Colorado State Patrol was being investigated by the FBI. The arrests were made by the state investigators, who said that the patrol was involved in a widespread, multi-million dollar scheme.

In one of the most serious cases, a patrolman was arrested on Saturday night for the alleged involvement in a scheme to manipulate the state's highway patrol system. The patrolman, who was a member of the patrol's highway patrol division, was charged with altering records to make it look as though he had been on duty.

Sunlight Allergy Cured

EAGLESBURGH, Scotland—Thanks to treatment by a British doctor, a young woman has been freed of the "driggs" which had plagued her since birth.

The married lady, aged 17, was born in a rural district of Scotland. She was described as a "drigg" since birth, and was thought to be allergic to sunlight. She was unable to leave her home for hours at a time unless she was protected by a large umbrella or a heavy coat. She had to wear special clothing to protect her skin from sunlight.

The lady was treated by Dr. H. G. Brown, a Chasian American doctor from Pennsylvania. He prescribed a special diet and medication to help the lady during the current season. In addition, he prescribed a special diet to help her regain her strength after months of treatment. He also prescribed a special diet and medication to help her recover her appetite and energy.

The lady, who was unable to eat Dr. Brown's diet and medication, became very weak and began to lose weight. Her legs became weak and she could not walk. She was unable to eat and lost interest in her work. She became very weak and began to lose weight. Her legs became weak and she could not walk. She was unable to eat and lost interest in her work. She became very weak and began to lose weight. Her legs became weak and she could not walk. She was unable to eat and lost interest in her work.

"It was heartbreaking to watch this year," said a friend. "She was so sick. She was unable to eat, and she had to be fed by forcefeeding.

Dr. Brown prescribed a diet and medication to help her recover her appetite and energy. The lady was able to eat and her strength began to improve. She became able to walk again and her appetite returned.

"I am extremely happy," said Dr. Brown. "She is able to eat and her strength is returning."

Iowa, Mississippi Top Poll

It will be another month yet before Iowa and Mississippi, sturdy members of both college football's West Division, will face the music of the polls for the West Division titles.

In the Midwest, the Big Ten and West Division races are wide-open.

The Hawkeyes are here today to face the music of the polls.

HAWKES—The Hawkeyes, who made a 3rd straight victory, are not a West Division team. The Big Ten has no mid-season poll, but it is in Iowa City today.

Hawkeyes will have to play tight end against the Iowa State defense.

Mississippi State is in the West Division and is rated a definite contender for the West Division title.

The Bulldogs will be in bloom against the Iowa State defense.

University students and faculty.

It is our hope that the Hawkeyes, the sportsman, in a successful hunting season.

U. S. Supreme In World Science

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's chief science adviser has boldly predicted that the United States is supreme in science among all the nations of the Earth. "The time has come," James E. Webb, former chief of the American space program, told the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science and Transportation today. "The time has come for the United States to show the world the strength and ability of American scientific progress."

British Vow To Defend South Africa

JOHANNESBURG (AP) — South Africa's defense minister, James Fouchet, said South Africa's people Tuesday promised British politicians they should not expect to intervene militarily to halt any South African initiative. "In South Africa," Fouchet said, "we do not know whether we are going to win or lose. We know, however, that we are going to fight."

Arabs Found By Israel

Language Study Hits Suez

More than 1,300 students are being taught foreign languages this year, increasing enrollment by 20 percent over the last year, the Department of Education reported Tuesday. "The increase is a reflection of the growing international interest in language study," said Dr. Stanley Trowbridge, head of the department.  "There has been a noticeable increase in the past few years in the number of students enrolled in foreign language courses."
