Civil Rights Board Demands End to Housing Discrimination

AUSG Criticizes Legislators

Reports of U. Needs Ignored

Either the Michigan State legislators are giving watered-down answers or taking their time answering questions, or both. Bryan Johnson, AUSG vice president, said in a recent meeting of AUSG leaders that this was the case. Johnson said that the legislators’ answers were often vague and not to the point, and that they seemed to be avoiding the issues.

Campus UN Will Debate Russian Resolution Tonight

The University of Michigan will debate a resolution today that calls for the United States to recognize the Soviet Union. The resolution was introduced by students and is expected to receive a lot of attention from the public.

Weather

Friday—fair and warm. High, low 72.

For Students

A Reminder

The U. S. Civil Rights Commission announced that it would hold hearings to investigate charges of housing discrimination in the United States. The hearings are expected to be held in various cities across the country.

Report Points Finger At U.S. As Offender

"Private financial institutions, even those whose affairs are in part already regulated by the Federal Reserve System, are not subject to the kind of regulation that banking institutions and out-of-state banks are in many states," said Counselor to the President, John A. Hannah. "The federal government, in the form of the Federal Reserve System, is not subject to the same kind of regulation as the banks and other financial institutions."
Scholarships for Creative Needed to Balance Science

Science has been the sacred field in American schools since that famed October 7 in 1967 when the Russians launched the first Sputnik. Even then, Science was an emphasized area in our practical society. The hard day's work of the frontier taught Americans to shift for themselves, to develop the practical skills which literally meant the difference between life and death.

The struggle continues today and consequently the quest for science is necessary.

HOWEVER, with the entire nation concentrating on the military, it seems that the individuals interested in the arts are apt to be left behind.

The National Defense Education Act procided for future scientists and teachers but failed to foster the building artist and writer.
Some scholarship examinations are over

Beanie Record Next?

"This evidently is the season for break-ning records. Not only has Granger taken the lead in the cress stunts but also in the beanies.

The trend from the 50's is to have a beanie record each year. Seniors are always trying to set a record that they can live up to and next year's seniors try to better it. The best record so far is 1966 with 26 hours. This trend is increasing each year.

Career Carnival

The Career Carnival, sponsored annually by the career services of the university, is ideally suited for those students who do not plan to pursue a career in one of the fine arts or music. The Carnival has been a popular event for the past few years and is sponsored by the American Bar Association, the Engineering Society, the Medical Society, and the Phi Beta Kappa Society. The Career Carnival is designed to provide students with an opportunity to learn about the various professions and industries that are available to them. The event features representatives from a wide range of fields and industries, allowing students to explore their interests and learn about the opportunities available in each area.

Red China's Admission

At a time in the United States when admission figures are being released, and the American press is focusing on the arts and entertainment, the admission of Red China to the United Nations has caused a stir.

The United States has had its share of Luciferian figures, but none quite as obvious as the admission of Red China to the United Nations. The admission of Red China has been a matter of great concern for the American public, and has sparked a controversy that has lasted for many years.

We're Suckers For Beauty Queens

The nation's top beauty queens take their places this week for what promises to be the biggest beauty pageants since 1945. While the nation's eyes will be on Washington as President Johnson is sworn in as the 36th President of the United States, millions of Americans will be tuning in to watch the beauty queens compete for the title of Miss America.

On Monday evening, the reigning Miss America will be crowned in a ceremony that is broadcast live on national television. The new Miss America will then begin a year-long reign, during which she will travel across the country, appearing at events and participating in various social and charitable activities.

The Miss America pageant is one of the oldest and most prestigious pageants in the world, and it has been a source of national pride for many years. The pageant is known for its strict standards and the high level of competition among the contestants.

The pageant is held in Atlantic City, New Jersey, and thousands of spectators come from all over the country to watch the event. The pageant has become a major tourist attraction, bringing millions of dollars into the local economy each year.

The Miss America pageant is not just a beauty contest, but also a celebration of American values and culture. It is a symbol of the nation's commitment to embracing diversity and celebrating the achievements of young women from all walks of life.

Despite the pageant's popularity, there is ongoing debate about the role of beauty pageants in society. Some critics argue that the pageant perpetuates unrealistic beauty standards and objectifies women.

Nevertheless, the Miss America pageant remains a beloved event for many Americans, and it continues to attract a large audience each year.

Groom Foils Britain

Wedding Takes 23 Years Off Life

LONDON—There was only one thing wrong with 20-year-old Miss Patricia Mirobat of Croydon, England, yesterday when she married her 73-year-old fiance, Sir Alexander J. Mirobat, British Minister to Spain. The thing wrong was that he was 50 years too old.

"I'm sorry I married the man," he said today. "You can't put a price on love." as he received the no-bobble, two-piece suit of his dreams from his new bride.

Archives, in a wide smile, announced that she was under a spell of the spell-bound kind, and that she would do anything to keep him that way.

"Never mind. It's the best wedding present I could have," he added, and kissed her once more.

"He's a lucky man," said a neighbor, who was married at the age of 18.

"Yes, but I'm the lucky one," replied the bride.

"I'm sure," agreed Sir Alexander. "That's what I pay for the ring."

‘Dizzy Blonde’ Found

Following trials last Thursday and Friday, the University Theatre announced the cast for the first two productions. Each play will be presented within the first two weeks of next year.

”Born Yesterday” played Thursday, November 19th in the University Theatre. If you think you’re being pillow-talked, you better take life more seriously, because the woman you are being seen with is not the Mollie Frigga from To Paint, she is the new Mollie Frigga, from Right You Are.” Each night, audiences were amazed by this new Mollie Frigga, as they were amazed by all the new Mollie Friggas. The changes in the character were so great that many people were unable to recognize her. However, everyone agreed that the new Mollie Frigga was a great improvement over the old one.

Saturday’s Big One

By The Associated Press

The selection of Jack Benny as the last of the four Federal Reserve Board officials to adopt a policy against discrimination in housing activities has been assigned the role of the meeting spread, the man who maintains that there is an easy answer to the problem, or not one to any situation. This position, referred to by many as the head of the Federal Reserve, is a position of great importance, and it is one that requires a great deal of knowledge and experience. It is a position that will be filled by a man who is well qualified for the job.

The changes in the character were so great that many people were unable to recognize her. However, everyone agreed that the new Mollie Frigga was a great improvement over the old one.

The new council “will be fast becoming well-known across the state, the Mollie Frigga phenomenon production of a William Shakespeare’s ‘The Merchant of Venice,” performed at Michigan State University, Lansing, on Thursday, November 8th.
