Fund Lacks Hurts
MSU Hampered In Science Program

Failure by the state legislature to grant adequate funds is hampering the university's ability to set up a top science program and may eventually affect Michigan industry, according to two top school officials.

Philip J. Mac, MSU treasurer, said salaries, facilities and equipment are the factors in attracting a top science staff to any institution. He said that while other Big Ten schools received large grants from the state legislature, MSU received only $100,000.

"WE ARE competing with industry and other institutions," Mr. Mac pointed out that the extension work that is being conducted in the state will not be expanded to the extent that would serve the needs of the state and the university.

"The state has let us down," he added.

Kennedy OK's New Test

WASHINGTON, D.C. — President Kennedy has approved the AEC's plan to conduct a small atomic explosion early next year.

The explosion, about which the President will be informed immediately, will probably take place during the Atomic Energy Commis-

J. Hickam, senior vice president of the University of Chicago press service, said, "We have been informed that the test is about at the mid-point com- pared to other Big Ten schools.

"The test will be conducted in the southwestern United States, and will be the second of the Big Ten schools to conduct such a test.

Bicycle License Bill Offered by Dems

LANSING, Dec. — Democratic legislators Wednesday introduced a legislative bill to permit bicycle licensing in the state.

The sponsor of the bill, Rep. James J. McGowan, D-Lansing, said, "The bicycle is one of the most popular forms of transportation in the United States, and it should be regulated as such.

"The bill, which is supported by the Michigan Bicycle Manufacturers Association, will be an instructor from the Department of Transportation, will require the purchase of a bicycle license at the time of purchase. The license will be valid for one year and will cost the owner 25 cents.

Student Congress Wednesday night passed a resolution urging the University to change its present age limit of 21 for male students.

The motion, which was seconded by Terry J. Stewart, D-Ann Arbor, and approved by a vote of 61 to 37, called for the University to lower the age limit to 18 or 19 for male students.

The motion was introduced by Rep. Robert H. Eagleson, D-Detroit, who said, "The present age limit of 21 is unfair and unreasonable. Male students should be allowed to vote and participate in campus activities as early as possible.

What makes Artcarved Diamonds the favorite of America's College Queens?

Actually there are many reasons. Artcarved diamond rings are made traditionally high standards for color, clarity and exact weight. Their award-winning styles are a delight to the eye. And, they take all of the guesswork out of buying. They have built-in permanent value that's recognized and respected by fine jewelers from coast to coast. We think you'll agree with America's lovely College Queens.

The results of Friday's great country meet at Notre Dame were predictably dominated by some of the top teams in the nation, with the Notre Dame team winning by a large margin.

Notre Dame finished third in the country meet at Notre Dame, with Michigan State finishing fourth. The results were announced by the Associated Press back of the week.

The first half of the game saw Ballman and Ron Rush lead the Spartans to a 17-0 lead over Notre Dame.

In the second half, however, the Spartans were able to score 26 yards to lead the game. The final score was 26-10.

Fullback George Saimes of the Michigan State team—217 pounds—Coach Dave Behrman has described Saimes as the best conditioned athlete on the team. Saimes has been working on his leg muscle, which has been important in his 318 yards in four games.

Saimes was also named No. 1 by United Press International and was picked as "Player of the Week." "He's the best all-around fullback I've ever had," said Behrman. "He's the outstanding back of the week."

United Press International back of the week.

"He won't play Saturday," said Behrman of Ballman. "But he wants to have him ready for the next game."

Saimes has also been featured in several other national magazines this week.

The Spartans have received a lot of attention, and Saimes has been featured in various publications.

RAINFALLS ANOMALOUS

Have you ever walked off with a strange raincoat? Worse still, has someone ever walked off with yours? Few things are more annoying on a wet day when every boot on the hat rack is wet.

How can a man indemnify his own? He can feel for the gloves in the left hand pocket, but can not easily be indemnified. He can try it on for fit, but can that be even more embarrassing in a case of a mistake?

We have a solution. Every raincoat we sell now has a little name-and-address tag buttoned inside. It's a sort of miniature version of the tag that the wise traveler uses to keep his suitcase.

This little tag has been so successful in bringing about London Fogs and Alligator home to rest that it wouldn't be fair to deprive all other raincoats of it. Just because they didn't come from SMALL'S at two dollars a piece.

Professor Displays Paintings In Flint

A one-man show of recent paintings of Dr. Henry F. Miller, a professor of English, will be held at the Historical Society of Genesee County. The show will run until Oct. 26.

Three examples of Miller's work can be seen in the exhibit: "Flint Reflections," "Flint Impressions," and "Flint Images." Each is a painting of a particular Flint landmark.

Miller also has a show of recent paintings of his new home in the works. The exhibit will run until Oct. 26.

Improvement For Indiana

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. --

Every Indiana artist is aware that Indiana is the home of art. But Indiana artist Helen P. Miller, who is known for her impressionistic landscapes and portraits, is one of the few art teachers in Indiana who is also an artist. She has been teaching at Indiana University for 25 years and is also the founder of the Indiana Art League.

"My painting is not an abstraction of landscape," she said. "It is a reflection of the beauty of nature. I try to capture the essence of a moment in time." Miller will exhibit her work at the Historical Society of Genesee County until Oct. 26.

Wagner Chorale a Hit Despite Late Audience

By JACKIE KOSSA

A recent performance of the Wagner Chorale was a huge success. The audience was so enthusiastic that the chorale decided to hold a second performance.

The chorale, which is comprised of many of the talented musicians from the University of Michigan, performed a wide variety of music, including classical, operatic, and choral works. The audience was so pleased with the performance that they demanded an encore.

Wagner, the founder of the chorale, stated, "I am so pleased with the response of the audience. It is a testament to the talent of our performers." Wagner plans to continue holding performances throughout the year.
